

Frederick Glaysher

Update Info

View Activity Log 10+

Timeline

About

Friends 3,932

Photos

More

Life Event

What's on your mind?

Status

Frederick Glaysher

Photo / Video

4 hrs

Once Upon a Time, a middle-school boy, reading Robinson Crusoe under his covers with a flashlight...

The door flies open, "Frederick! Turn off that light and get to sleep! You have school tomorrow!!"

A message in a bottle...

Like · Comment · Share · 15 6

Kerri Buckley, Peggy Whalen, Tina Benson and 12 others like this.

Stephen Morrissey Do you still have your copy of the book? Like • Reply • 3 hrs

Tina Benson And so it began...yes my friend? Like • Reply • 2 hrs

Frederick Glaysher Haahaa! Yeah, in retrospect, by then, even earlier... many memories of being drawn into the imaginative world of books.

 $\textbf{Like} \cdot \textbf{Reply} \cdot \quad \textbf{1} \cdot \textbf{2} \ \textbf{hrs} \cdot \textbf{Edited}$

Tina Benson I suspect you were born that way dear friend... Like • Reply • 1 hr

Frederick Glaysher I suppose so... vivid memories of story hour in kindergarten and reading Dick and Jane in first grade.

Like · Reply · 1 · 1 hr

Tina Benson Yep; me too...underpaid kindergarten teachers who will go forever underappreciated for the legacy they left us

Like • Reply • 1 hr

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

Back in stock on Amazon.

"A great epic poem of startling originality and universal significance."

-Dr. Hans-George Ruprecht, CKCU Literary News, Carleton University, Ottawa, Canada... See More

Frederick Glaysher, books, poems, essays, reviews, interviews, blog

Gazing from the moon, we see one earth, without borders, Mother Earth, her embrace encircling one people, humankind.

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

Erick Garcia likes this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher shared Evolver Social Movement's photo.

5 hrs · Edited ·

Unless you're Zeami...

(n.) an awareness of the universe that triggers emotional responses too deep and mysterious for words

Like · Comment · Share · 10 7

Janet Fraser, Molly M. Ulmen, Pat Springer and 7 others like this.

Dinah Bradford oohh. That's what they call it... Unlike · Reply · 1 · 4 hrs

Frederick Glaysher From the aesthetics of the Japanese No plays... Zeami being the "Shakespeare" of the genre. Like · Reply · 4 hrs · Edited

Dinah Bradford I am trying to imagine that expression.. Like · Reply · 4 hrs

Frederick Glaysher Zeami's plays are widely available in translation. "Atsumori" is one of my favorites...

Like · Reply · 4 hrs

Frederick Glaysher An aesthetic that I often had in mind... especially in my canto set in Japan.

Like · Reply · 4 hrs

Dinah Bradford Now your just speakin' Japanese. Like • Reply • 4 hrs

1

Frederick Glaysher Been a long time since I could muster some crude Gaijin phrases in that tongue to get by....

Like · Reply · 1 · 4 hrs

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

5 hrs ·

...i.e., both the traditional religions and nihilism are ironically sinking in the same boat.

Quantum Physics and Poetry -Reflections - The Globe

Quantum physics intimates a whole new way of understanding "religion" that can help heal the psychic wounds of modernity.

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

Kelly Joyce Neff likes this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

Yesterday at 10:54am · Edited ·

- "A great epic poem of startling originality and universal significance."
- $-\!\!\!$  Dr. Hans-George Ruprecht, CKCU Literary News, Carleton University, Ottawa, Canada
- "And a fine major work it is."
- —Arthur McMaster, Contributing Editor, Poets' Quarterly; Converse College, Department of English. ... See More

Frederick Glaysher, books, poems, essays, reviews, interviews, blog

Gazing from the moon, we see one earth, without borders, Mother Earth, her embrace encircling one people, humankind.

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

Teresa Iturriaga Osa likes this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher Yesterday at 10:23am •

Today marks the 70th anniversary of the signing of the UN Charter in San Francisco.

I mark this historic day by reaffirming my determination to work and write for peace.

 $\textbf{Like} \cdot \textbf{Comment} \cdot \textbf{Share} \cdot \quad \textbf{29} \quad \textbf{2}$

Rajyeshwari Ghosh, Vidya Kamat, William Yates and 26 others like this.

Tina Benson Me too !
Unlike • Reply • 2 • Yesterday at 10:39am

Oscar Bellevue Time for a global awakening. Let's forget about imaginary lines drawn by dead men and see the reality: we are one people, a global family separated by cosmetic differences only. And the UN is a wonderful symbol of the unity that ought to be. Cheers brother!

Unlike · Reply · 3 · Yesterday at 10:54am

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher updated his cover photo.
June 25 at 10:53pm •

Vikki Kath, William Yates, Teresa Iturriaga Osa and 18 others like this.

2 shares

Mimi Gauthier stunning.

Unlike • Reply • 1 • Yesterday at 12:11am

Frederick Glaysher Don Quixote... Poet of the Moon.

Like · Reply · Yesterday at 10:24am

William Yates Wow...how cool is this..stunning..great word for this..l must share this..

Like • Reply • 14 hrs

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
June 25 at 10:31pm •

Broadly, much of the university, especially the humanities... to the extent that its vision of life entails nihilism, cynicism, endless formalisms, frivolity, which cannot be questioned, but are held in sacrosanct exclusive possession of the truth, usually justified with vague to perfunctory, knee-jerk allusions to the Enlightenment, as though that settled all of the profound human questions that people have asked throughout the ages for the rest of eternity... constitutes and represents the dehumanization of our time, i.e., both the traditional religions and nihilism are ironically sinking in the same boat.

Quantum Physics and Poetry -Reflections - The Globe

Quantum physics intimates a whole new way of understanding "religion" that can help heal the psychic wounds of modernity.

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

Edric Pederson, Agatha Daskalakis Sarafianos and 2 others like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher shared Livia Garcia Roza's photo.

June 25 at 9:05pm ·

Livia Garcia Roza

Don Quixote - O personagem!

Gustave Doré

See Translation

Like · Comment · Share · 6

Teresa Iturriaga Osa, Cristina Voss, Mark Ritchey Donato and 3 others like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher shared Cynthia Sue Larson's post. June 25 at 7:21pm ·

Cynthia Sue Larson

"Wisdom outweighs any wealth." -- Sophocles

Like · Comment · Share · 2 1

Karen Bourgeois and Sherran Bainbridge like this.

Marie Ann Laucher A truly wise person will be wealthy if that is preferred because they can manipulate the universal purse strings. June 25 at 8:51pm • Like

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
June 25 at 2:32pm · Edited ·

"The heart has its reasons of which reason knows nothing."

--Blaise Pascal

Like · Comment · Share · 38 2 2

William Yates, Hilary Heriz-smith, Linwe Celebrindl and 35 others like this.

2 shares

Frederick Glaysher To me, Pascal's emphasis is that of the mystics on *experience,* intuitive knowing, a form of epistemology that modernity has endeavored to discredit at every turn... much to our wee.

June 25 at 2:34pm · Edited · Like · 5

Anna L'Atelier Beautiful x

June 25 at 3:07pm · Unlike ·

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

June 25 at 9:27am • Edited •

"But possibly even the ambition of these [Odysseus Elytis and Derek Walcott] is dwarfed by what is attempted here."

—Graham Mummery, Amazon UK Review

Frederick Glaysher, books, poems, essays, reviews, interviews, blog

Gazing from the moon, we see one earth, without borders, Mother Earth, her embrace encircling one people, humankind.

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share

Frederick Glaysher June 24 at 10:12pm •

Quantum Physics and Poetry - Reflections

The traditional conception of religion, grounded in exclusivism, has become much of the problem, East and West, while the value of the way we actually live, mixed and poured together, especially in democratic pluralism, too often receives insufficient recognition by what purports to be "religion." Quantum physics intimates a whole new way of... The great Sufi poets realized there were things which can be said best only with the tongue of poetry...

Quantum Physics and Poetry -Reflections - The Globe

Quantum physics intimates a whole new way of understanding "religion" that can help heal the psychic wounds of modernity.

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share · 14

Teresa Iturriaga Osa, Billy Moore, Ghg Mitte and 11 others like this.

2 shares

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
June 24 at 11:51am •

Modernity has swept away all the old doctrines and dogmas...

Quantum Physics provides the groundwork for a new conception of the Divine.

Like · Comment · Share · 21

Peggy Whalen, Kelly Joyce Neff, Tracey Smith and 18 others like this.

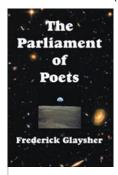

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
June 24 at 11:07am • Edited •

FYI - Amazon USA is saying now "In stock on June 28, 2015."

Earthrise Press Ships in 24 hours with Free Shipping. (Amazon charges $4.98)... See More

The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem

Earthrise Press books evoke a new global, universal vision of life on this planet.

EARTHRISEPRESS.NET

Like · Comment · Share · 9

Karen Bourgeois, Aymee Elizabeth, Agatha Daskalakis Sarafianos and 6 others like this.

2 shares

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

June 24 at 9:57am ·

In a world of Quantum science, Apollo calls all poets to the Moon to consult on the meaning of modernity.

Frederick Glaysher, books, poems, essays, reviews, interviews, blog

Gazing from the moon, we see one earth, without borders, Mother Earth, her embrace encircling one people, humankind.

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

Karen Bourgeois, Agatha Daskalakis Sarafianos and Unse La Mayelo like this.

1 share

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
June 24 at 9:34am •

Quantum Physics returns the spiritual dimension to humanity in a profoundly new way that reinterprets all of the traditional religions and opens the way forward to a new era.

Like · Comment · Share · 12

Theresa Dawn, Michele Ficano, Mark Philip and 9 others like this.

1 share

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

June 24 at 8:04am ·

Quantum Physics returns the spiritual dimension to humanity.

I respect Western religions, as I do all of the religious and wisdom traditions. I have spent much of my life studying not only the Christian New and Old Testaments but also the Hindu Upanishads, some of the Buddhist classics, Taoism, Confucianism, and other scriptures, since as early as my last year or two in high school in a class in world religions.

Not long after that I became aware for the first time of Quantum ... See More

Like · Comment · Share · 27

Suzanne Taylor, Joann Glover, Billy Moore and 24 others like this.

4 shares

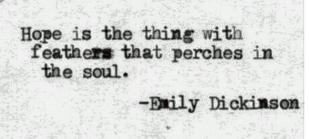

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher shared Lani Fox's photo.

June 23 at 10:50pm ·

Lani Fox

Emily Dickinson

Like · Comment · Share ·

Karen Bourgeois, Laurence Colette and 2 others like this.

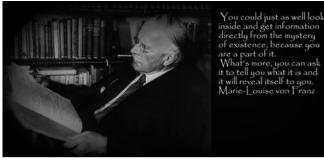

Write a comment..

Frederick Glaysher shared Craig Nelson's photo.

June 23 at 10:44pm

Unlike · Comment · Share · 14

You, Mark Lewis, Anna L'Atelier, Cheryl Brodie Duttweiler and 10 others like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

June 23 at 9:46pm ·

In a world of Quantum science, Apollo calls all poets to the Moon to consult on the meaning of modernity.

Frederick Glaysher, books, poems, essays, reviews, interviews, blog

Gazing from the moon, we see one earth, without borders, Mother Earth, her embrace encircling one people, humankind.

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

Rex Boone, Adam Potkay, Cheryl Brodie Duttweiler and 12 others like this.

1 share

Write a comment...

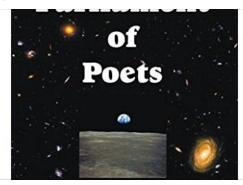

Frederick Glaysher

June 23 at 7:35pm ·

Quantum Physics returns the spiritual dimension to humanity.

I respect Western religions, as I do all of the religious and wisdom traditions. I have spent much of my life studying not only the Christian New and Old Testaments but also the Hindu Upanishads, some of the Buddhist classics, Taoism, Confucianism, and other scriptures, since as early as my last year or two in high school in a class in world religions.

Not long after that I became aware for the first time of Quantu... See More

The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem

Thirty years in the making, The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem, by Frederick Glaysher, takes place partly on the moon, at the Apollo 11 landing site, the Sea of Tranquility.Apollo, the Greek god of poetry,...

AMAZON.COM

Like · Comment · Share · 10 4

Agatha Daskalakis Sarafianos, Rex Boone, Taoli-Ambika Talwar and 7 others like this.

Frederick Glaysher Hans G. Ruprecht, Peter Y Paik, Phillip Richards, Zachary Bos, Julie Clayton, Arthur McMaster, Taoli-Ambika Talwar, John Médaille, Alan Jacobs, Alex Shoumatoff, Beverly Allen, Chrys Salt, Deborah Morrison, Leigh Melander, Miriam Knight Like · Reply 1 · June 24 at 8:45am

Frederick Glaysher Cynthia Sue Larson, Frederick Courtright, Christi Moon, Marv Borgman, Luana Hartman, Carmel Mawle, Robert W. Fuller

Like · Reply · June 24 at 8:58am

Frederick Glaysher Leah Cohen London, Thanks for commenting on my other post, Quantum Physics and Poetry – Reflections. This one expands a little more on it. I hope you find it helpful.

My epic poem, I'd like to think, is the best language with which to speak about the quantum universe...

Like · Reply · 1 · June 24 at 3:28pm

Leah Cohen London got it! thanks! Give me a bit of time to read it before I get back to you. I have some important emails to write and need to revise some work I'm doing, x

Unlike · Reply · 1 · June 24 at 3:50pm

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher June 23 at 6:58pm ·

"Of course you become utterly desensitized to tending nuclear weapons."

Are We on the Verge of a Nuclear Breakdown?

'The route down America's underground WMD silos begins with five months of training at Vandenberg Air Force Base in California. There, the first requirement is signing a document committing to end the world if...

READERSUPPORTEDNEWS.ORG | BY NINA BURLEIGH, ROLLING STONE

Like · Comment · Share · 2

Jane Austen likes this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher June 23 at 9:06am

A rhapsode's kithara on a Macedonian coin.

Like · Comment · Share · 13

Tony Chiovaro, Stephanie Smallwood Zajchowski, Marie Ann Laucher and 10 others like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher shared a link. June 22 at 9:31pm ·

Epic Poet at On the Moon, for Apollo 1982 to present

Studied American Literature at The University of Michigan Graduated in 1981

Lives in Rochester, Michigan

Married

From Rochester, Michigan Born on February 9, 1954 (61 years old)

Followed by 558 people

FRIENDS · 3,932

Nick Kondax

Laurence Overmire

PHOTOS · 5

BOOKS • 38

Don Quixote

ADISE LOST, BOC

GROUPS · 208

Carl Jung Discussion Group 4,646 members This Group is designed for those...

The Tibetan Lotus Sutra
3,793 members
http://tibetanlotussutra.net/ The...

Tolkien Forever 2,629 members This group is for all lovers of...

Gnosis, Esoterica and Inner Alchemy 5,221 members This group is for having an...

NOTES · 5

From Into the Ruins (1999)

By Frederick Glaysher · about 3 weeks ago

II Fire and smoke and another street in another time. The Black Sea and the blackness of Trebizond. Churches burning. Houses seized.

4

FROM The Invocation, The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem

By Frederick Glaysher • about 9 months ago

FROM The Invocation, The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem "O Muse, O Maid of Heaven, O Circling Moon, O lunar glory of the midnight sky, I call on thee to bless thy servant's tongue, descend upon t

24 10

English (US) • Privacy • Terms • Cookies • Advertising • Ad Choices • More Facebook © 2015

Longest Thou To Go On Summer Pilgrimage? Chaucer Hath Advice

Our favorite medieval advice columnist returns, dispensing knowledge on everything from avoiding sunburn to glamping to road trip etiquette....

NPR.ORG

Like · Comment · Share ·

Gillian Davis, Caroline Black, Dianne Tchir and 3 others like this.

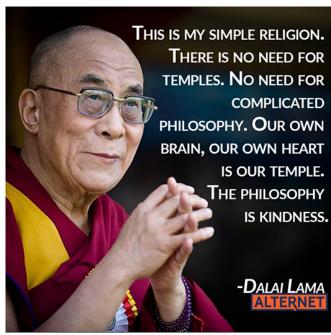

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher shared AlterNet's photo.

June 22 at 8:37pm -

AlterNet

Yes.

Like · Comment · Share · 44

Karen Bourgeois, Cliff Connell, Oscar Bellevue and 41 others like this.

Write a comment...

June

Frederick Glaysher

4 hrs ·

Once Upon a Time, a middle-school boy, reading Robinson Crusoe under his covers with a flashlight...

The door flies open, "Frederick! Turn off that light and get to sleep! You have school tomorrow!!"

A message in a bottle...

Like · Comment · Share · 15

Frederick Glaysher

4 hrs •

Back in stock on Amazon.

"A great epic poem of startling originality and universal significance."

—Dr. Hans-George Ruprecht, CKCU Literary News, Carleton University, Ottawa, Canada... See  $\underline{\mathsf{More}}$

Frederick Glaysher, books, poems, essays, reviews, interviews, blog

Gazing from the moon, we see one earth, without borders, Mother Earth, her embrace encircling one people, humankind.

FGLAYSHER.COM

 $\textbf{Like} \cdot \textbf{Comment} \cdot \textbf{Share} \cdot \$

Frederick Glaysher shared Evolver Social Movement's photo.

5 hrs · Edited ·

Unless you're Zeami...

yugen

(n.) an awareness of the universe that triggers emotional responses too deep and mysterious for words

Like · Comment · Share · 10 7

Frederick Glaysher

...i.e., both the traditional religions and nihilism are ironically sinking in the same boat.

Quantum Physics and Poetry -Reflections - The Globe

Quantum physics intimates a whole new way of understanding "religion" that can help heal the psychic wounds of modernity.

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

Frederick Glaysher

Yesterday at 10:54am · Edited ·

- "A great epic poem of startling originality and universal significance."
- -Dr. Hans-George Ruprecht, CKCU Literary News, Carleton University, Ottawa, Canada
- "And a fine major work it is."
- —Arthur McMaster, Contributing Editor, Poets' Quarterly; Converse College, Department of English. ... See More

Frederick Glaysher, books, poems, essays, reviews, interviews, blog

Gazing from the moon, we see one earth, without borders, Mother Earth, her embrace encircling one people, humankind.

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

Frederick Glaysher Yesterday at 10:23am ·

Today marks the 70th anniversary of the signing of the UN Charter in San Francisco.

I mark this historic day by reaffirming my determination to work and write for peace.

Like · Comment · Share ·

Rajyeshwari Ghosh, Vidya Kamat, William Yates and 26 others like this.

Tina Benson Me too ! Unlike · Reply · 2 · Yesterday at 10:39am

Oscar Bellevue Time for a global awakening. Let's forget about imaginary lines drawn by dead men and see the reality: we are one people, a global family separated by cosmetic differences only. And the UN is a wonderful symbol of the unity that ought to be. Cheers brother!

Unlike · Reply · 3 · Yesterday at 10:54am

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher updated his cover photo. June 25 at 10:53pm ·

Frederick Glaysher June 25 at 10:31pm ·

Like · Comment · Share ·

Broadly, much of the university, especially the humanities... to the extent that its vision of life entails nihilism, cynicism, endless formalisms, frivolity, which cannot be questioned, but are held in sacrosanct exclusive possession of the truth, usually justified with vague to perfunctory, knee-jerk allusions to the Enlightenment, as though that settled all of the profound human questions that people have asked throughout the ages for the rest of eternity... constitutes and represents the dehumanization of our time, i.e., both the traditional religions and nihilism are ironically sinking in the same boat.

Quantum Physics and Poetry -Reflections - The Globe

Quantum physics intimates a whole new way of understanding "religion" that can help heal the psychic wounds of modernity.

FGLAYSHER.COM

 $\textbf{Like} \cdot \textbf{Comment} \cdot \textbf{Share} \cdot \$

Frederick Glaysher shared Livia Garcia Roza's photo. June 25 at 9:05pm ·

Livia Garcia Roza

Don Quixote - O personagem!

Gustave Doré

See Translation

Like · Comment · Share ·

Frederick Glaysher shared Cynthia Sue Larson's post. June 25 at 7:21pm ·

Cynthia Sue Larson

"Wisdom outweighs any wealth." -- Sophocles

Like · Comment · Share · 2

Frederick Glaysher

June 25 at 2:32pm · Edited ·

"The heart has its reasons of which reason knows nothing."

--Blaise Pascal

Like · Comment · Share · 38 2 2

Frederick Glaysher

June 25 at 9:27am · Edited ·

"But possibly even the ambition of these [Odysseus Elytis and Derek Walcott] is dwarfed by what is attempted here."

-Graham Mummery, Amazon UK Review

Frederick Glaysher, books, poems, essays, reviews, interviews, blog

Gazing from the moon, we see one earth, without borders, Mother Earth, her embrace encircling one people, humankind.

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share

Frederick Glaysher

June 24 at 10:12pm ·

Quantum Physics and Poetry - Reflections

The traditional conception of religion, grounded in exclusivism, has become much of the problem, East and West, while the value of the way we actually live, mixed and poured together, especially in democratic pluralism, too often receives insufficient recognition by what purports to be "religion." Quantum physics intimates a whole new way of... The great Sufi poets realized there were things which can be said best only with the tongue of poetry...

Quantum Physics and Poetry - Reflections - The Globe

Quantum physics intimates a whole new way of understanding "religion" that can help heal the psychic wounds of modernity.

FGLAYSHER.COM

 $\textbf{Like} \boldsymbol{\cdot} \textbf{Comment} \boldsymbol{\cdot} \textbf{Share} \boldsymbol{\cdot}$

4.4

Frederick Glaysher

June 24 at 11:51am ·

Modernity has swept away all the old doctrines and dogmas... Quantum Physics provides the groundwork for a new conception of the Divine.

Like · Comment · Share · 21

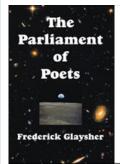

Frederick Glaysher

June 24 at 11:07am · Edited ·

FYI - Amazon USA is saying now "In stock on June 28, 2015."

Earthrise Press Ships in 24 hours with Free Shipping. (Amazon charges $4.98)... See More

The Parliament of Poets: An Epic

Earthrise Press books evoke a new global, universal vision of life on this planet.

EARTHRISEPRESS.NET

 $\textbf{Like} \boldsymbol{\cdot} \textbf{Comment} \boldsymbol{\cdot} \textbf{Share} \boldsymbol{\cdot}$

9

Frederick Glaysher
June 24 at 9:57am •

to consult on the meaning of modernity.

In a world of Quantum science, Apollo calls all poets to the Moon

Frederick Glaysher, books, poems, essays, reviews, interviews, blog

Gazing from the moon, we see one earth, without borders, Mother Earth, her embrace encircling one people, humankind.

FGLAYSHER.COM

 $\mathbf{Like} \cdot \mathbf{Comment} \cdot \mathbf{Share} \cdot \$

Frederick Glaysher

June 24 at 9:34am -

Quantum Physics returns the spiritual dimension to humanity in a profoundly new way that reinterprets all of the traditional religions and opens the way forward to a new era.

Like · Comment · Share · 12 1

Frederick Glaysher

June 24 at 8:04am ·

Quantum Physics returns the spiritual dimension to humanity.

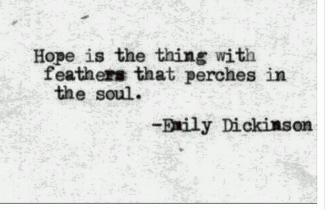

I respect Western religions, as I do all of the religious and wisdom traditions. I have spent much of my life studying not only the Christian New and Old Testaments but also the Hindu Upanishads, some of the Buddhist classics, Taoism, Confucianism, and other scriptures, since as early as my last year or two in high school in a class in world religions.

Not long after that I became aware for the first time of Quantum ... See More

Like · Comment · Share · 27

Frederick Glaysher shared Lani Fox's photo. June 23 at 10:50pm ·

Lani Fox

Emily Dickinson

Like · Comment · Share · 4

Frederick Glaysher shared Craig Nelson's photo. June 23 at 10:44pm ·

Unlike · Comment · Share · 1

Frederick Glaysher June 23 at 9:46pm •

In a world of Quantum science, Apollo calls all poets to the Moon to consult on the meaning of modernity.

Frederick Glaysher, books, poems, essays, reviews, interviews, blog

You could just as well look

What's more, you can ask t to tell you what it is and t will reveal itself to you.

Gazing from the moon, we see one earth, without borders, Mother Earth, her embrace encircling one people, humankind.

FGLAYSHER.COM

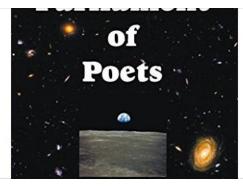

Like · Comment · Share ·

Quantum Physics returns the spiritual dimension to humanity.

I respect Western religions, as I do all of the religious and wisdom traditions. I have spent much of my life studying not only the Christian New and Old Testaments but also the Hindu Upanishads, some of the Buddhist classics, Taoism, Confucianism, and other scriptures, since as early as my last year or two in high school in a class in world religions.

Not long after that I became aware for the first time of Quantu... See  $\operatorname{\mathsf{More}}$

The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem

Thirty years in the making, The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem, by Frederick Glaysher, takes place partly on the moon, at the Apollo 11 landing site, the Sea of Tranquility.Apollo, the Greek god of poetry,...

AMAZON.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

Frederick Glaysher June 23 at 6:58pm ·

"Of course you become utterly desensitized to tending nuclear weapons."

Are We on the Verge of a Nuclear Breakdown?

'The route down America's underground WMD silos begins with five months of training at Vandenberg Air Force Base in California. There, the first requirement is signing a document committing to end the world if...

READERSUPPORTEDNEWS.ORG | BY NINA BURLEIGH, ROLLING STONE

Like · Comment · Share · 2

Frederick Glaysher June 23 at 9:06am

A rhapsode's kithara on a Macedonian coin.

Like · Comment · Share · 13

Frederick Glaysher shared a link.
June 22 at 9:31pm

Longest Thou To Go On Summer Pilgrimage? Chaucer Hath Advice

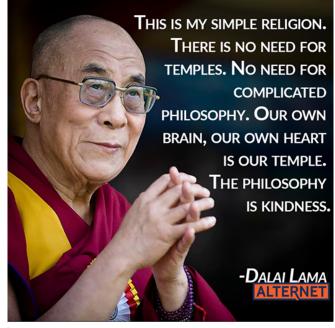

Our favorite medieval advice columnist returns, dispensing knowledge on everything from avoiding sunburn to glamping to road trip etiquette....

NPR.ORG

Like · Comment · Share ·

Frederick Glaysher shared AlterNet's photo. June 22 at 8:37pm •

AlterNet

Yes.

Like · Comment · Share · 4

Frederick Glaysher
June 22 at 7:48pm •

Quantum Physics is the Monism of our Age...

Like · Comment · Share · 4

Marie Ann Laucher, Ashley Dawn Edwards and 2 others like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

June 22 at 6:29pm · Edited ·

Good for the Governor! "...change the public symbol, change the culture." At least a step in the right direction.

WATCH LIVE: Nikki Haley and Lindsey Graham call for South Carolina to remove Confederate flag

South Carolina governor Nikki Haley and Senator Lindsey Graham, both Republicans, are expected to call for the Confederate flag to be...

RAWSTORY.COM

 $\textbf{Like} \cdot \textbf{Comment} \cdot \textbf{Share} \cdot \quad 9$

9 5

Wes Bishop, Nathan Katz, Peter Donaldson and 6 others like this.

Kendra Hamilton Hmmm. This is the second headline where Nikki Haley had to share credit with a man. She was the ONLY ONE WHO SPOKE a her press conference, people.

Like · Reply · June 22 at 6:54pm

Frederick Glaysher What do you make of it? Like • Reply • June 22 at 6:54pm

Kendra Hamilton Frederick Glaysher, these headline writers don't seem to be able to grasp that a woman came up with this plan, masterfully orchestrated guys on both sides of the aisle to cover her flanks, and turned herself into the savior of the Republican party all in one fell swoop. At least, that's what it looks like to me!

Like · Reply · June 22 at 6:59pm

Frederick Glaysher Kendra, Although I missed the report, my wife told me that Governor Haley was deeply distressed in public about the murders and was in tears at some point in the last few days. I think she was sincerely disturbed by the obvious connection between the b... See More

Like · Reply · June 22 at 7:16pm · Edited

Peter Donaldson "Like" but we are still in the realm of individual emotional reactions and symbols. Now sweeping reforms have to happen so that black people have as much protection as others.

Unlike • Reply • 1 • June 23 at 7:15am

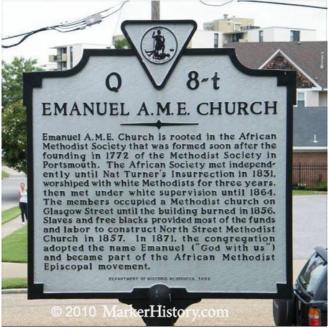

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher shared Frank X Walker's photo.
June 22 at 11:34am · Edited ·

The blood spilled at Emanuel AME Church partly covers the hands of the Republican Party that has spent decades defending the Confederate flag as code or symbol for the racism of the South, our Nation at its worst, and some within its own ranks.

Like · Comment · Share · 7

Vikki Kath, Hans G. Ruprecht, Amy M. Alvarez and 4 others like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

June 22 at 11:09am · Edited ·

Quantum Physics and Poetry - Reflections

The traditional conception of religion, grounded in exclusivism, has become much of the problem, East and West, while the value of the way we actually live, mixed and poured together, especially in democratic pluralism, too often receives insufficient recognition by what purports to be "religion." Quantum physics intimates a whole new way of... The great Sufi poets realized there were things which can be said best only with the tongue of poetry...

Quantum Physics and Poetry -Reflections - The Globe

Quantum physics intimates a whole new way of understanding "religion" that can help heal the psychic wounds of modernity.

FGLAYSHER.COM

 $\textbf{Like} \cdot \textbf{Comment} \cdot \textbf{Share} \cdot \$

Kaye Thompson, Dianne Tchir, Carmelo Militano and 2 others like this.

1 share

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
June 22 at 9:42am •

Carl Jung's emphasis is that of the mystics, Christian or otherwise, on *experience,* intuitive knowing, a form of epistemology that modernity has endeavored to discredit at every turn... much to our woe. I argue, in my epic poem and elsewhere, that Quantum Physics returns that dimension to us...

Quantum Physics and Poetry - Reflections - The Globe

Quantum physics intimates a whole new way of understanding "religion" that can help heal the psychic wounds of modernity.

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

Cliff Connell, Marie Ann Laucher, Dianne Tchir and 4 others like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

June 21 at 11:25am · Edited ·

A global, universal vision of human unity and peace...

In a world of Quantum Physics, Apollo calls all poets to the Moon to consult on the meaning of modernity.

The Parliament of Poets: An Epic

Earthrise Press books evoke a new global, universal vision of life on this planet.

EARTHRISEPRESS.NET

Like · Comment · Share ·

John Poolieli Matthew, Louisa Calio and Jane Austen like this.

Frederick Glaysher John, thanks. I want to let you know that the price in India has just been changed to 600 rupees, if you'd like to read it, on Amazon India.

http://www.amazon.in/Parliament-Poets-Epic.../dp/B00AAQCCU0

The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem

AMAZON.IN

Like · Reply · Remove Preview · June 22 at 9:54am

John Poolieli Matthew Ok Fredrick will have a look.

Unlike · Reply · 1 · June 22 at 10:46am

Frederick Glaysher Just found your post, Dianne, sorry. I suppose I should leave that definition to within my book itself. Best wishes. Like · Reply · Yesterday at 10:52am

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher June 21 at 11:03am ·

"It just makes no sense to keep our nuclear weapons online 24 hours a day," Cartwright concluded. Sooner or later, something terrible will happen.

What happens when our nuclear arsenal is hacked?

Retired Marine Gen. James Cartwright used to have his fingers on all the nuclear buttons. [...] when he told almost 200 Bay Area business, civic and philanthropic leaders gathered last week for the annual...

SFCHRONICLE.COM

Like · Comment · Share · 3

Sean Walsh, Cel Paim and Jane Austen like this.

1 share

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher shared Fight For Equality's photo. June 21 at 10:56am  $\cdot$  Edited  $\cdot$

That war was supposed to have ended a hundred and fifty years ago... Let's get rid of its symbols of hate.

Like · Comment · Share · 19

Mark Lewis, Karen Bourgeois, Caroline Black and 16 others like this.

Frederick Glaysher All the Republican hatred poured out for decades about the Confederate flag needs to be held to account and thrown out along with it!!

Like · Reply · June 21 at 12:40pm · Edited

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

June 21 at 10:51am · Edited ·

Such a terribly sick crime... We need to keep waking up in this country to what a horrible poison racism is... and find ways to heal from and end it...

Black America is Under Terror and I Want to Be Part of the Solution

Today's terrible news of the shooting in Charleston, SC, reveals that innocent African Americans, yet again, have fallen victim to...

TABLETMAG.COM

Like · Comment · Share · 4

Anna Maranta, Julia Stein and 2 others like this.

Frederick Glaysher All the Republican hatred poured out for decades about the Confederate flag needs to be held to account and thrown out along with it!!

Like · Reply · June 21 at 12:41pm

Cliff Connell Moving photo

Unlike · Reply · 1 · June 25 at 10:37am

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

June 21 at 10:21am ·

Carl Jung >

"I could not say I believe. I know! I have had the experience of being gripped by something that is stronger than myself, something that people call God."

"Difficult to answer. I know. I needn't, I don't need to believe. I know." ... See More

Carl Jung's knowledge of God

In a BBC interview which aired during October 1959, Carl Jung told John Freeman about growing up as a pastor's son in the Swiss Reformed Church, a boy who went to Sunday services and believed in G...

UNCERTAINTIST.WORDPRESS.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

Suzanne Taylor, Joann Glover, Billy Moore and 69 others like this.

14 shares

Beatrice Cassina the segment when he answers and says "I know"... it's such a wonderful little piece... "Difficult to answer. I know. I needn't, I don't need to believe. I know.". ... WOW! Unlike · Reply · 4 · June 22 at 7:07am

Frederick Glaysher To me, it's the emphasis of the mystics on *experience,* intuitive knowing, a form of epistemology that modernity has endeavored to discredit at every turn... much to our woe.

Like · Reply · 6 · June 22 at 9:38am · Edited

Mark E. Hoelter The question took Carl Jung by surprise, and he hadn't done that many media interviews, especially not on film. So he later nuanced his reply (I think you can google it). Still, there is something to the reality that many people if not all do have this intuitive connection, this feeling of the Mystery, sometimes not directly, sometimes more in the pull they feel toward the good, the beautiful, the truth. I truly think Nancy Nancy Ellen Abrams gives us a new way forward about this in her book, "A God That Could Be Real," which I am re-reading and re-reading. I urge all to join me in http://www.amazon.com/God.../dp/B00N6PB6CM/ref=sr_1_1...

A God That Could Be Real: Spirituality, Science, and the Future of Our Planet

A paradigm-shifting blend of science, religion,... AMAZON.COM

Like · Reply · Remove Preview · 2 · June 22 at 10:31am

Frederick Glaysher Thanks, Mark, for commenting and sharing the

I invite you and others to read my short piece on

Quantum Physics and Poetry - Reflections

http://fglaysher.com/.../quantum-physics-and-poetry.../

Quantum Physics and Poetry - Reflections -The Globe

Quantum physics intimates a whole new way of... FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Reply · Remove Preview · 4 · June 22 at 10:37am · Edited View 1 more reply

Frederick Glaysher Thanks, Mark, for saying so. I think so, too, in many ways. Since reading Emerson as a very young man in the early 1970s, I've always thought well of Unitarian Universalism, and attended a church in my area for about three years. I feel, though, the te... See More

The Myth of the Enlightenment:

The Myth of the Enlightenment is... AMAZON.COM

Like · Remove Preview · June 22 at 11:03am · Edited

Mark E. Hoelter I understand about the "atheistic turn." There actually are far fewer of those congregations and ministers than sometimes it may seem. But we have so few congregations really, with only 200,000 total members (actually a good deal fewer than that) of them, although some 725,000 or so people identify themselves to pollsters as UU. A result of that lack of numbers, and then lack of congregations, is that we have less overt theological diversity in many smaller cities. If there's only one congregation, and either its members or its minister or both are strongly humanistic (or anything else for that matter). then that's the color of UU in that location. I do agree totally that we have not emphasized spirituality and spiritual practice enough, and have not developed much of any of our own. But I have stout-hearted colleagues who are working on that. But if we have a default position, it comes down on social action

Unlike • 1 · June 22 at 4:40pm

Mary E. Martin Hello

When I first began to read about quantum physics on a very lay level as I have no real science background to speak of, one of my first thoughts was that the eastern religions...philosophy came quite close to an understanding of the quantum world. And so, I certainly think your connection between poetry and physics is right. http://maryemartintrilogies.com\

Suspense novels of The Osgoode Trilogy and Trilogy of Remembrance

Osgoode Trilogy-murder, fraud, love and... MARYEMARTINTRILOGIES.COM

Like · Remove Preview · June 24 at 10:30am

Frederick Glavsher Thanks Mary, for commenting, I think you're right that it is in spiritual realm of consciousness in "eastern religions" and philosophy that the startling implications of Quantum Philosphy seem to dovetail so well. I think though, and perhaps you'd agree, that the mysticism of Western Christianity and others, the indigenous wisdom traditions, and so forth, many have said, all have the sense of mystery and awe before creation, of the numinous. That to me is what "religion" is about.

I think from there we human beings can build a whole new understanding of the value of life on this planet, reconnecting with the ancient traditions, but appropriately new for our modern experience and scientific knowledge.

Like · 1 · June 24 at 10:58am

Write a reply...

Frederick Glaysher Mark, I know you're right on all counts. Although the church I attended had a lot of people who were interested in Rabbi Sherwin T. Wine's humanistic Judaism, or atheism, there were many from a wide range of views, liberal Christian, some Buddhist, and so on, with, as you say, emphasis on social action. I try to acknowledge all that in my essay, from a historical perspective, in various ways. To the extent that that is modernity's story, I believe it represents much of our continuing, if not worsening, problems of meaning and purpose. I feel that's too bad for UU, because it has a lot right in my view, more open and universal, accepting of all the religious and wisdom traditions, well beyond exclusivisms that are undermining most of the mainline churches of Protestantism, graying out and so forth.

I think quantum science can help reconnect to a more spiritual and transcendent tradition of the mystery of life, both in terms of science and religion, as well as culture in general. The problem I have seems sometimes that people are so accustomed to fragmentation that the very idea of unity is very difficult to consider, even in terms other than exclusivism. Many people in religious, literary, and general walks of life know very little about quantum physics.

Like · Reply · 2 · June 22 at 7:41pm

Mary Ann Bencivengo I have always loved that quote.

Unlike · Reply · 1 · June 23 at 3:19pm

Agatha Daskalakis Sarafianos What I said since I was eleven years old and before I knew who Carl Jung was....."I know."

Unlike · Reply · 2 · June 25 at 12:45pm

Frederick Glaysher "The heart has its reasons of which reason knows nothing." - Blaise Pascal

Like · 1 · June 25 at 2:32pm

Marie Ann Laucher There are a few paths that lead to this "knowing".Nada yoga ( silencing the mind to connect with universal resonance or sounds) is one. Obviously Jungian work to eventually arrive at 'Self' or Great Mother is another.

Unlike · Reply · 1 · June 25 at 3:01pm

Marie Ann Laucher A mystery to some Larry Rowe but not if you ask a Brahman, a Sufi or the occasional physicist.

Unlike · Reply · 1 · June 25 at 3:18pm

William Yates there it is.....know is fact..believe is idea..what did the lady say to me on the phone a wk or so ago...???

Like · Reply · June 25 at 5:17pm

William Yates ..." ya wanna have a really good day..."..of course I replied...she said..." don't make the idea more important that the fact"..then she hung up...

Like · Reply · June 25 at 5:20pm

Suzanne Taylor I want to revisit this post. I have many thoughts and I'm curious as to what is presented here. Thanks

Unlike • Reply • 1 • Yesterday at 10:09am

Write a comment...

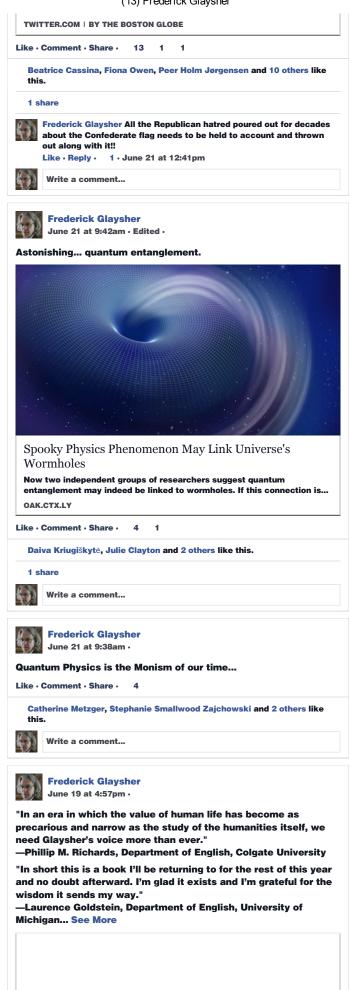

Frederick Glaysher
June 21 at 10:03am ·

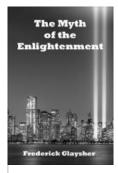

Such a terribly sick crime... We need to keep waking up in this country to what a horrible poison racism is... and find ways to heal from it and end it...

The Boston Globe on Twitter

"Editorial cartoon by @GlobeWasserman on #CharlestonShooting: http://t.co/QqhAGWCMGp"

Frederick Glaysher, books, poems, essays, reviews, interviews, blog

Gazing from the moon, we see one earth, without borders, Mother Earth, her embrace encircling one people, humankind.

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

Richard Whitecross, Jongbok Yi and Jane Austen like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

June 17 at 6:17pm ·

In a world of Quantum Physics, Apollo calls all poets to the Moon to...  $% \label{eq:call_power} % \label{eq:call_power}$

Like · Comment · Share · 3

Frederick Glaysher shared a link.

June 16 at 9:50pm ·

Robert Reich: Elites Are Waging a War on Public Education

 ${\bf ^{'}}{\bf ^$

ALTERNET.ORG

Like · Comment · Share · 2

Rodger Cunningham and Elisa Mendonça like this.

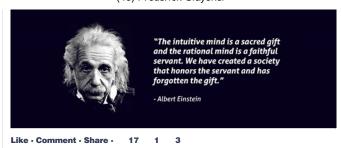

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

June 16 at 9:22pm

Karen Bourgeois, Cliff Connell, Dale Jacobson and 14 others like this.

3 shares

Sean Walsh Think about it... I'm thinking!
Unlike • Reply • 1 • June 17 at 3:30am

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher shared William Shakespeare's photo.

William Shakespeare

"We know what we are, but know not what we may be."
--Ophelia from "Hamlet" (Act 4, Scene 5)

 $\textbf{Like} \cdot \textbf{Comment} \cdot \textbf{Share} \cdot \quad 8$

8 1

Peer Holm Jørgensen, Judy Yates Shearer and 4 others like this.

Peer Holm Jørgensen Well put on the day when the Danes elect a new Parliament  $\,$

Like · Reply · June 18 at 12:05am

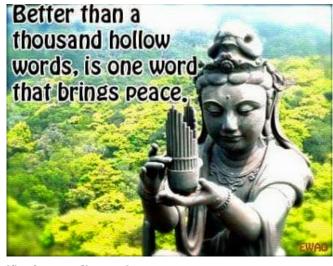

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher shared Nancy Selwyn Ramsey Cht's photo.

June 16 at 7:45pm ·

 $\textbf{Like} \boldsymbol{\cdot} \textbf{Comment} \boldsymbol{\cdot} \textbf{Share} \boldsymbol{\cdot}$

•

Tex J. G. Albert and Nancy Selwyn Ramsey Cht like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
June 16 at 3:07pm •

"The purpose of the spiritual journey of the Poet of the Moon is to seek deliverance of the modern human from the captivity of nothingness, nihilism and atheism, and from the resulting chaos and chasm of soul. ...Bravo to the Poet for this toilsome but brilliant endeavour." —Umme Salma in Transnational Literature, Flinders University, Adelaide, Australia

Frederick Glaysher

Visit Amazon.com's Frederick Glaysher Page and shop for all Frederick Glaysher books and other Frederick Glaysher related products (DVD, CDs, Apparel). Check out pictures, bibliography, biography and community discussions about

AMAZON.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

Steve Roberts and Jude Rogers like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

June 15 at 9:05pm ·

"In an era in which the value of human life has become as precarious and narrow as the study of the humanities itself, we need Glaysher's voice more than ever."

-Phillip M. Richards, Department of English, Colgate University

"In short this is a book I'll be returning to for the rest of this year and no doubt afterward. I'm glad it exists and I'm grateful for the wisdom it sends my way."

—Laurence Goldstein, Department of English, University of Michigan... See More

Frederick Glaysher, books, poems, essays, reviews, interviews, blog

Gazing from the moon, we see one earth, without borders, Mother Earth, her embrace encircling one people, humankind.

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

Nathan Katz Congratulations!

Like · Reply · June 16 at 8:32am

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
June 15 at 5:19pm • Edited •

Thanks to Hans G. Ruprecht > "What a day it was then in 1982; I only wish I had been there too. But one year later I saw and heard Jorge Luis BORGES at the Collège de France just like that> http://m.ina.fr/video/DVC8308015901# "

Bloomsday 1982: when Jorge Luis Borges and Anthony Burgess came to pay homage

Anthony Cronin, begetter of the first Bloomsday celebration in 1954, organised one of Dublin's greatest literary events to mark the...

WWW.IRISHTIMES.COM

Like · Comment · Share · 5 1

Jonathan Karp, Mariela Griffor and 2 others like this.

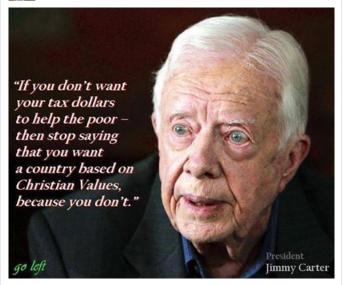

1 share

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher shared Vahe Berberian's photo. June 15 at 3:18pm ·

Like · Comment · Share ·

Donna Surles I recently asked who we had in the US that was on a spiritual/intellectual level as world greats like the Dalai Lama and the Pope. The answer I got was Jimmy Carter.

Cliff Connell, Mahealani Ahia, Carmelo Militano and 74 others like this.

Unlike · Reply · 2 · June 15 at 6:43pm

Frederick Glaysher I respect him, too, for speaking about things in the Baptist Church that he grew up in. That's o not easy to do. There's a human tendency to just keep quite. I feel Carter has been the best President of my life time but often been done wrong by the media and conservatives.

2 · June 15 at 7:16pm

Nathan Katz Donna, you must have asked some seriously stupid people.

Like · Reply · 2 · June 15 at 7:34pm

Donna Surles what would your answer have been? Like · June 15 at 7:35pm

Nathan Katz To be honest, I am not sure the Pope is on that level. Probably no one.

Like · June 15 at 7:38pm

Donna Surles In a humanitarian sense, I think it's correct. Leave out the spirit/intellect.

Like · June 15 at 7:39pm

Nathan Katz Good question. If we are talking about living people, I can't think of anyone. If we go back 50 years, MLK of course, and the Lubavitcher Rebbe.

Like · June 15 at 7:39pm

Frederick Glaysher I think Desmond Tutu merits comparison to the Dalai Lama... His book God is Not a Christian speaks quite eloquently to many crises of our time, in Africa and otherwise.

Like • 1 • June 15 at 7:41pm

Write a reply...

Frederick Glaysher I'm not claiming Carter is comparable to the Dalai Lama... in that sense.

Like · Reply · June 15 at 7:36pm

Nathan Katz replied • 1 Reply

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

June 15 at 12:47pm ·

- "A great epic poem of startling originality and universal significance."
- -Dr. Hans-George Ruprecht, CKCU Literary News, Carleton University, Ottawa, Canada
- "And a fine major work it is."
- -Arthur McMaster, Converse College, Department of English, Spartanburg, South Carolina; Contributing Editor, Poets' Quarterly.

Frederick Glaysher, books, poems, essays, reviews, interviews, blog

Gazing from the moon, we see one earth, without borders, Mother Earth, her embrace encircling one people, humankind.

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share

Frederick Glaysher

June 14 at 9:07pm ·

Quantum Physics and Poetry - Reflections

The traditional conception of religion, grounded in exclusivism, has become much of the problem, East and West, while the value of the way we actually live, mixed and poured together, especially in democratic pluralism, too often receives insufficient recognition by what purports to be "religion." Quantum physics intimates a whole new way of...

Quantum Physics and Poetry -Reflections - The Globe

Quantum physics intimates a whole new way of understanding "religion" that can help heal the psychic wounds of modernity.

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

1 share

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

June 14 at 6:13pm ·

The world has the chance of eradicating the scourge of #Polio--We mustn't let it slip away, only 24 cases since January in Pakistan.

Pakistan sees huge drop in polio cases

Vaccinators reach more people after military operation against militants, leading to 70% fewer cases of disease in a year

THEGUARDIAN.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

John Yeo, Celia Barnes, Julia Stein and 2 others like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

June 14 at 1:41pm •

- "A great epic poem of startling originality and universal significance."
- —Dr. Hans-George Ruprecht, CKCU Literary News, Carleton University, Ottawa, Canada
- "And a fine major work it is."
- —Arthur McMaster, Converse College, Department of English, Spartanburg, South Carolina; Contributing Editor, Poets' Quarterly. ... See More

Frederick Glaysher, books, poems, essays, reviews, interviews, blog

Gazing from the moon, we see one earth, without borders, Mother Earth, her embrace encircling one people, humankind.

FGLAYSHER.COM

 $\mathbf{Like} \cdot \mathbf{Comment} \cdot \mathbf{Share} \cdot$

Mechel Gallaway Daniels likes this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
June 14 at 11:30am •

"In an era in which the value of human life has become as precarious and narrow as the study of the humanities itself, we need Glaysher's voice more than ever."

- -Phillip M. Richards, Department of English, Colgate University
- "In short this is a book I'll be returning to for the rest of this year and no doubt afterward. I'm glad it exists and I'm grateful for the wisdom it sends my way."
- —Laurence Goldstein, Department of English, University of Michigan... See More

Frederick Glaysher, books, poems, essays, reviews, interviews, blog

Gazing from the moon, we see one earth, without borders, Mother Earth, her embrace encircling one people, humankind.

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share

Frederick Glaysher

June 14 at 9:07am · Edited ·

- "A great epic poem of startling originality and universal significance."
- —Dr. Hans-George Ruprecht, CKCU Literary News, Carleton University, Ottawa, Canada
- "And a fine major work it is."
- —Arthur McMaster, Converse College, Department of English, Spartanburg, South Carolina; Contributing Editor, Poets' Quarterly.

Frederick Glaysher, books, poems, essays, reviews, interviews, blog

Gazing from the moon, we see one earth, without borders, Mother Earth, her embrace encircling one people, humankind.

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

Ted Folke and David Price like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

June 14 at 8:44am ·

Quantum Physics and Poetry - Reflections

The traditional conception of religion, grounded in exclusivism, has become much of the problem, East and West, while the value of the way we actually live, mixed and poured together, especially in democratic pluralism, too often receives insufficient recognition by what purports to be "religion." Quantum physics intimates a whole new way of...

Quantum Physics and Poetry - Reflections - The Globe

Quantum physics intimates a whole new way of understanding "religion" that can help heal the psychic wounds of modernity.

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

Carmelo Militano, Elaine Stevens and Michael Carrino like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

June 11 at 9:36pm ·

- "A great epic poem of startling originality and universal significance."
- —Dr. Hans-George Ruprecht, CKCU Literary News, Carleton University, Ottawa, Canada
- "And a fine major work it is."
- —Arthur McMaster, Converse College, Department of English, Spartanburg, South Carolina; Contributing Editor, Poets' Quarterly. ... See More

Frederick Glaysher

Visit Amazon.com's Frederick Glaysher Page and shop for all Frederick Glaysher books and other Frederick Glaysher related products (DVD, CDs, Apparel). Check out pictures, bibliography, biography and community discussions about

AMAZON.COM

 $\textbf{Like} \cdot \textbf{Comment} \cdot \textbf{Share} \cdot \$

1 1

John E. Chadwick likes this.

1 share

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

June 11 at 4:18pm •

"We had hoped that Borges would speak of his interest in the Kabbalah, and he did not disappoint us. We thought of Borges as a literary mystic. Among the questions addressed to him were: Did he see affinities between his speculative, questioning stories and the tales of the Hasidism? Did he feel a kinship with Kafka? Were his ficciones influenced by the mystical tales of the Jewish tradition? He answered these queries in the affirmative. He said that Kabbalah formed a "technique" in his art, an idea at which he had hinted in his 1931 essay "Vindication of the Cabala."

Jorge Luis Borges, Zionist

In 1969 I was living in Jerusalem, waiting to be inducted into the Israeli army, for which I had volunteered a few months earlier. From friends at the Hebrew University I learned that Jorge Luis Borges was visiting...

TABLETMAG.COM

Like · Comment · Share · 5

Emina Melonic, Carol Sill, Robert Lee Haycock and 2 others like this.

Harry Zeitlin I first encountered Borges in the period of time between my childhood and adult involvement in Judaism. In a very real way, his writing helped prepare the ground for who I've become. His writing, like most truths, is characterized by a deceptive simplicity.

Unlike · Reply · 1 · June 11 at 4:28pm

Frederick Glaysher Thanks, Harry, for commenting. I like your expression, "deceptive simplicity." I'm surprised by it, a little, because I think of Borges as labyrinthine... as with the spiritual nuances of the Kabbalah and Sufism, the Simorgh, etc., for instance. Like · Reply · June 11 at 4:34pm

View 1 more reply

Frederick Glaysher Nice way of putting it, too. "simple in not being made up of components, but rather transcending plurality and even duality."

Incidentally, Borges is a character in my epic poem, along themes out of Kabbalah and the Simorgh. It was reviewed in The Jewish Post and News of Winnipeg, Canada:

"It only takes the first few paragraphs of this modern epic poem to feel the mental gush of ideas, fascinating juxtapositionings, and unique symbolism for our time." -Dave http://www.iewishpostandnews.ca/.../1749-modern-epicpoem...

Modern epic poem reaches for the moon

JEWISHPOSTANDNEWS.CA | BY BERNIE BEL...

Like · Remove Preview · 1 · June 11 at 4:58pm

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

June 11 at 3:06pm ·

Quantum Physics and Poetry - Reflections

The traditional conception of religion, grounded in exclusivism, has become much of the problem, East and West, while the value of the way we actually live, mixed and poured together, especially in democratic pluralism, too often receives insufficient recognition by what purports to be "religion." Quantum physics intimates a whole new way of...

Quantum Physics and Poetry -Reflections - The Globe

Quantum physics intimates a whole new way of understanding "religion" that can help heal the psychic wounds of modernity.

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share · 7 5

Hans G. Ruprecht, Rodger Cunningham, Hawk Durham and 4 others like this.

Frederick Glaysher Hans G. Ruprecht, Arthur McMaster, Phillip Richards, Peter Y Paik, Carmel Mawle, Christian de Quincey, John Médaille, Rodger Cunningham

Like · Reply · 1 · June 11 at 3:14pm

Frederick Glaysher Jonathan Karp, Jeffrey C. C. Ruff, Lucinda Franks Morgenthau, Mike Schwager, Michael Gaio, Alan Jacobs, Carl Bloom, Hune Margulies

Like · Reply · 1 · June 11 at 3:40pm · Edited

Frederick Glaysher Joshua Grasso, Jay Kernis, Taoli-Ambika Talwar, Robert Lee Haycock, Katherine McNamara, Frederick Courtright, Marv Borgman Nathan Bupp

Like · Reply · 2 · June 11 at 9:16pm · Edited

Kaaren Kitchell Agree!

Like · Reply · June 11 at 3:55pm

Frederick Glaysher Kaaren, Nice to hear from you... Hope you got my note the other day.

To my mind, I think the global confrontation with, let's say, the mode of thinking in the old forms, impels our Age to come to terms with resolving the negative baggage of modernity, of the Enlightenment, in a way that is both intellectually and spiritually satisfying and acceptable to people, broadly speaking, ideally, from all walks of life, and points of view, traditional and secular. I believe Quantum Physics now makes that possible.

(I think I'll add that to my piece as the last paragraph! Haahhaha! Thanks for inspiring me to it.)

Like · Reply · June 11 at 4:11pm · Edited

View 1 more reply

Frederick Glaysher Yes, happy birthday! ...

Though not formulaic. I think it's the imaginative and artistic exploration of what the meaning and implications of quantum might be that can help us understand the problematic dimensions of the traditional claims to exclusivism in a more universal, moderate, and scientific framework. Equally, the problematic dimension of science become Scientism needs to confront the spiritual implications of its own research in the fullness of the cultural perspective with which only the humanities and traditional religions can suffuse and enliven it, with a new understanding of our common humanity, still largely implicit in quantum physics, which can only be fully brought to fruition and the attention of the general populace by the cooperative efforts of both humanists and scientists, understanding now the seriousness and necessity of finally resolving the conflict between the "two cultures."

Like · 1 · June 11 at 4:51pm

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher via Tablet Magazine

June 10 at 7:57pm · Edited ·

I agree with David Mikics that Saul Bellow is the greatest American novelist since Faulkner and have written three essays on Bellow that also make that argument.

See my blog post criticizing SAM TANENHAUS's review, APRIL 27,

"Saul Bellow - A "Useless Old Gentleman,": ... See More

In Praise of Saul Bellow, on the 100th Anniversary of His Birth

The time is ripe to make the case that Bellow is an essential writer. TABLETMAG.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

Vikki Kath likes this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

June 10 at 7:08pm ·

Quantum Physics and Poetry - Reflections

The traditional conception of religion, grounded in exclusivism, has become much of the problem, East and West, while the value of the way we actually live, mixed and poured together, especially in democratic pluralism, too often receives insufficient recognition by what purports to be "religion." Quantum physics intimates a whole new way of...

Quantum Physics and Poetry - Reflections - The Globe Quantum physics intimates a whole new way of understanding "religion" that can help heal the psychic wounds of modernity.

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

Vikki Kath, Luana Hartman, David Price and 2 others like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

June 9 at 7:25pm · Edited ·

Lu Xun >

"I have always felt that art and politics are often in mutual conflict," he wrote. "At first, art and revolution were not opposed to each other; they shared the same discontent with the status quo. Yet politics attempts to maintain the status quo, so it naturally stands in the opposite direction of art, which is discontented with reality."

If you're unfamiliar with the stories mentioned in the article, they're all masterpieces... worth reading and works of art that still speak to the modern problems of China. Maybe that's why he's being edged out of the curriculum.

Two or Three Things about Mr. Lu Xun -

The remarkable re-emergence of Confucius in China has been quietly paralleled by the slow diminishment of the status of Lu Xun  $\,$

ENGLISH.CAIXIN.COM

Like · Comment · Share · 6 1

Andre Yang, Benj Teo, David Auerbach and 3 others like this.

1 share

Frederick Glaysher It occurs to me today that I've written on a few of the stories by Lu Xun in an essay titled "The Dialectic of Chinese Literature," in my book The Grove of the Eumenides: Essays on Literature, Criticism, and Culture. New Preface and Cover (April 2015).

http://www.amazon.com/gp/product/0967042186

The Grove of the Eumenides: Essays on Literature, Criticism, and Culture

AMAZON.COM

Like · Reply · Remove Preview · June 10 at 7:07pm

Write a comment...

Frederick Glavsher

June 8 at 9:56pm ·

Joseph Campbell, Myths to Live By >

"You don't ask what a dance means, you enjoy it. You don't ask what the world means, you enjoy it. You don't ask what you mean, you enjoy yourself; or at least, so you do when you are up to snuff.

"But to enjoy the world requires something more than mere good health and good spirits; for this world, as we all now surely know, is horrendous. 'All life,' said the Buddha, 'is sorrowful'; and so, indeed, it is. Life consuming life: that is the essence of its being. which is forever a becoming. 'The world,' said the Buddha, 'is an ever-burning fire.' And so it is. And that is what one has to affirm, with a yea! a dance! a knowing, solemn, stately dance of the mystic bliss beyond pain that is at the heart of every mythic rite."

Joseph Campbell

You don't ask what a dance means, you enjoy it. You don't ask what the world means, you enjoy it. You don't ask what you mean, you enjoy yourself; or at least,...

See More

Like . Comment . Share .

Heather Mendel, Rosemary Ceravolo, Vikki Kath and 16 others like this.

Benj Teo Buddha also said to shy away from life in order to realize it - hard to understand for those living action-packed lives.

Unlike · Reply · 1 · June 8 at 10:57pm

19

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

June 8 at 2:00pm · Edited ·

Quantum Physics and Poetry - Reflections

The traditional conception of religion, grounded in exclusivism, has become much of the problem, East and West, while the value of the way we actually live, mixed and poured together, especially in democratic pluralism, too often receives insufficient recognition by what purports to be "religion." Quantum physics intimates a whole new way of understanding "religion" that can help heal the psychic wounds of modernity...

Quantum Physics and Poetry -Reflections - The Globe

Quantum physics intimates a whole new way of understanding "religion" that can help heal the psychic wounds of modernity.

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

Benj Teo, Julie Clayton, Rosemary Ceravolo and 2 others like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

June 8 at 9:11am •

The traditional conception of religion, grounded in exclusivism, has become much of the problem, East and West, while the value of the way we actually live, mixed and poured together, especially in democratic pluralism, too often receives insufficient recognition by what purports to be "religion." Quantum physics intimates a whole new way of understanding "religion" that can help heal the psychic wounds of modernity.

Part of our current problem, of our cultural moment, given ... See More

Like · Comment · Share · 3

Kendra Hamilton, Benj Teo and Fernando Velasquez Pomar like this.

From Into the Ruins (1999)

Ш

Fire and smoke and another street in another time. The Black Sea and the blackness of Trebizond.

See More

Like · Comment · Share · 4

Agatha Daskalakis Sarafianos, Julie Clayton and Monika Kosich like this.

Frederick Glaysher Download in your choice of three formats or ships in 24 hours in paperback or hardcover. https://earthrisepress.net/into_the_ruins.html

Into the Ruins: Poems

EARTHRISEPRESS.NET

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

June 7 at 1:17pm ·

The Greeks and other ancients wrote and recorded scientific discoveries in poetry because they believed it was the best language in which to convey the implications, often of unity and oneness, in terms of an atomistic universe, which is also partly my thinking behind writing my epic poem, because it is the best language with which to grapple with the implications of quantum physics. Similarly, I'd argue, the great Sufi poets realized there were things which could only be said best with the tongue of poetry...

Like · Comment · Share · 13 1

Benj Teo, Hans G. Ruprecht, Peter Y Paik and 10 others like this.

Rebecca Bratten Weiss Poetry unifies the disciplines.
Unlike · Reply · 1 · June 7 at 1:29pm

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

June 7 at 12:19pm ·

Traditionally, "real religion" was always defined in terms of exclusivism, the challenge now is to realize that in a world of quantum physics "real religion," ipso facto, can only be defined in terms of universality, which is why the proponents of exclusivism who still cling to the old forms, whether "religion" or "secular," continue to lose ground... while the torch has passed to other hands, seeking what's open, universal, beyond the old limitations that have created all the trouble in the first place.

Like · Comment · Share · 6 1

Anna Novikov, Rebecca Bratten Weiss, Christopher McNeese and 3 others like this.

1 share

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

June 7 at 11:47am · Edited ·

Broadly, much of the university, especially the humanities... to the extent that its vision of life entails nihilism, cynicism, endless formalisms, which cannot be questioned, but are held in sacrosanct exclusive possession of the truth, usually justified with vague to perfunctory, knee-jerk allusions to the Enlightenment, as though that settled all of the profound human questions that people have asked throughout the ages for the rest of eternity... constitutes the dehumanization of our time, i.e., both the traditional religions and nihilism are ironically sinking in the same boat.

Like · Comment · Share ·

Benj Teo likes this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

June 7 at 10:54am ·

"My Odyssey as an Epic Poet: Interview with Frederick Glaysher,"
"a fine major work it is." -- Poets' Quarterly

Frederick Glaysher, books, poems, essays, reviews, interviews, blog

Gazing from the moon, we see one earth, without borders, Mother Earth, her embrace encircling one people, humankind.

FGLAYSHER.COM

 $\mathbf{Like} \cdot \mathbf{Comment} \cdot \mathbf{Share} \cdot$

Benj Teo and Tex J. G. Albert like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

June 7 at 10:01am · Edited ·

Part of our current problem, of our cultural moment, given the extreme degree to which we've become so fragmented, is that much of the culture, especially the academy, insufficiently understands its own claim of exclusive truth, its own metanarrative, so locked in has the time become to various forms of exclusivism based in nihilism, if not atheism, that they're closed off to any type of spirituality, including even what quantum physics suggests... and so nihilism has not only Western civilization in a death grip but much of the world.

Like · Comment · Share · 4

Richard Whitecross, Kendra Hamilton and 2 others like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

June 7 at 8:41am ·

"24 cases since 1 January, a decline of more than 70% from the same period last year, when there were 84 cases."

"Pakistan is one of three countries worldwide where polio remains endemic, and last year saw a total of 306 cases of the highly infectious, debilitating disease – a 14-year record."

"Militants have fought attempts to eradicate polio, saying the programme is a cover to spy on their operations. Attacks on immunisation teams have killed 78 people since December 2012.

Pakistan sees huge drop in polio cases

Vaccinators reach more people after military operation against militants, leading to 70% fewer cases of disease in a year

THEGUARDIAN.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

2 people like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher June 2 at 7:01pm •

"A great epic poem of startling originality and universal significance, ingeniously enriching the canon of 'literary epics' while in every way partaking of the nature of world literature." -Dr. Hans-George Ruprecht, CKCU Literary News, Carleton University, Ottawa, Canada

"And a fine major work it is." —Arthur McMaster, Converse College, Department of English, Spartanburg, South Carolina; Contributing Editor, Poets' Quarterly.

"Don't be intimidated by an epic poem. It's really... See More

Frederick Glaysher, books, poems, essays, reviews, interviews, blog Gazing from the moon, we see one earth, without borders, Mother Earth, her embrace

FRIENDS · June

G. M. Palmer

Dave Gordon

Kelly Colwell

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

Julie Clayton and 2 others like this.

Millicent Accardi There's also the Interview in PQ~ http://www.poetsquarterly.com/.../my-odyssey-as-epic-poet...

Poets' Quarterly: My Odyssey as an Epic Poet: Interview with Frederick Glaysher

POETSQUARTERLY.COM | BY LESLIE L. NIELSEN

Like · Reply · Remove Preview · June 2 at 7:05pm

Write a comment...

May

Frederick Glaysher May 31 at 7:59pm • Edited •

In 1994, I had the privilege of attending two lectures by Anthony Yu on Wu Chung'en's Journey to the West, as background study for a Fulbright-Hays Group Project to China. I eventually read his translation of Journey to the West, and it became central to a chapter of my epic poem, The Parliament of Poets, in which Sun Wukong, the Monkey King, appears as a guide to the persona. My epic poem would not be the same without having read Professor Yu's fine translation of what is a ... See More

Anthony C. Yu, Translator of the Saga of a Chinese Pilgrimage, Dies at 76

Professor Yu's four-volume tale of a monk and his entourage, including the Monkey King, is based on a work from 1592.

WWW.NYTIMES.COM | BY SAM ROBERTS

Like · Comment · Share · 12

Erland Anderson, Kenneth Surin, Julian De Wette and 9 others like this.

Gawain de Leeuw I knew him at Chicago. Wonderful man.
Unlike · Reply · 2 · May 31 at 8:06pm

Frederick Glaysher Thanks for commenting, Gawain. I can't say I knew him, but feel fortunate to have been a briefly passing student who followed up by reading and studying his translation of A Journey to the West... I had previously lived in Japan for a year and a half and had course work in other classic Japanese and Chinese literature, so I was well prepared for Yu's work.

Like · Reply · 1 · May 31 at 8:12pm · Edited

Michael Cobb He was my first professor/advisor in graduate school. I really respected him. Such a loss.

Unlike · Reply · 2 · May 31 at 8:12pm

Frederick Glaysher Michael, I respected him, too, though I only had the benefit of two lectures, but he impressed me with the importance of Journey to the West. I recall, too, tracking down a few articles by him or on the book. It's a very profound work that modern China, I hope, has somehow recovered more, if it was lost under the worst years of Marxism.

Like · Reply · May 31 at 8:18pm · Edited

Tony Carnes I studied with CT Hsia who admired Yu.
Unlike • Reply • 1 • May 31 at 10:18pm

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
May 31 at 6:19pm • Edited •

During the last few days I've watched again Michael Wood's fourhour video "In Search of Shakespeare" (2003), for the first time in more than several years. In his swashbuckling way, it offers a really very fine introduction to Shakespeare. It's probably the best program ever produced on Shakespeare.

I was especially struck again by Wood's treatment of the Catholic heritage of Shakespeare's family and perhaps his own life. His maternal grandfather Arden, for instance, had been imprisoned unjustly after a cousin had spoken too loosely about the king being a heretic, leading to his own execution and that of the grandfather. Such personal experience of betrayal, treachery, and tragedy certainly found resonance in Shakespeare's plays.

Includes many excerpts from various plays performed by the Royal Shakespeare Company. It might be on PBS org or somewhere online.

Like · Comment · Share · 12 2 1

Frederick Glaysher

May 31 at 4:38pm ·

The traditional conception of religion, grounded in exclusivism, has become much of the problem, East and West, while the value of the way we actually live, mixed and poured together, especially in democratic pluralism, too often receives insufficient recognition by what purports to be "religion." Quantum physics intimates a whole new way of understanding "religion" that can help heal the psychic wounds of modernity...

Like · Comment · Share · 2 9

Lynn Hennelly likes this.

Frederick Glaysher Thanks, Lynn. Part of our current problem, given the extreme degree to which we've become so fragmented, is that much of the culture, especially the academy, insufficiently understands this, so locked in are both to various forms of exclusivism based in nihilism, if not atheism, that they're closed off to any type of spirituality, including even what quantum physics suggests... and so nihilism has not only Western civilization in a death grip but much of the world.

Like · Reply · 1 · May 31 at 5:02pm · Edited

Lynn Hennelly To what are you referring when you mention 'the academy'?

Like · Reply · May 31 at 5:08pm

Frederick Glaysher Broadly, much of the university, especially the humanities... to the extent that its vision of life entails nihilism, cynicism, endless formalisms, etc., which cannot be questioned, but are held in sacrosanct exclusive possession of the truth, usually justified with vague to perfunctory, knee-jerk allusions to the Enlightenment, as though that settled all of the profound human questions that people have asked throughout the ages for the rest of eternity...

Like · Reply · May 31 at 5:18pm

Frederick Glaysher I.e., both the traditional religions and nihilism are ironically sinking in the same boat...

Like · Reply · May 31 at 5:20pm

Lynn Hennelly I have to agree. Was just typing something about how religions are also closing doors to (real) spirituality... when I saw your next (last) comment!

Like · Reply · May 31 at 5:24pm · Edited

Frederick Glaysher Traditionally "real religion" was always defined in terms of exclusivism, the challenge now is to realize that in a world of quantum physics "real religion" ipso facto can only be defined in terms of universality, which is why the proponents of exclusivism who still cling to the old forms, whether "religion" or "secular" continue to lose ground... while the torch has passed to other hands, seeking what's open, universal, beyond the old limitations that have created all the trouble in the first place.

Like · Reply · 1 · May 31 at 5:30pm

Lynn Hennelly Nicely said.
Unlike • Reply • 1 • May 31 at 5:32pm

Frederick Glaysher The Greeks and other ancients wrote and recorded scientific discoveries in poetry because they believed it was the best language in which to convey the implications, often of unity, oneness, which is also partly my thinking behind writing my epic poem, because it is the best language with which to grapple with the implications of quantum physics. Similarly, I'd argue, the great Sufi poets realized there were things which could only be said best in the tongue of poetry...

Like · Reply · 1 · May 31 at 5:39pm

Lynn Hennelly Oh yes! And the older I get, the more I gravitate to poetic expression.

Unlike · Reply · 1 · May 31 at 6:08pm · Edited

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
May 31 at 4:14pm •

The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem - available again on Amazon.

- "A great epic poem of startling originality and universal significance." —Dr. Hans-George Ruprecht, CKCU Literary News, Carleton University, Ottawa, Canada
- "And a fine major work it is." —Arthur McMaster, Converse College, Department of English, Spartanburg, South Carolina;

Contributing Editor, Poets' Quarterly.... See More

Frederick Glaysher, books, poems, essays, reviews, interviews, blog Gazing from the moon, we see one earth, without borders, Mother Earth, her embrace encircling one people, humankind.

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share

Frederick Glaysher shared Leonard Bernstein's photo.

"The gift of the imagination is by no means an exclusive property of an artist; it is a gift we all share; to some degree or other all of us, all of you, are endowed with the powers of fantasy. The dullest of dullards among us has the gift of dreams at night – visions and yearnings and hopes. Everyone can also think; it is the quality of thought that makes the difference – not just the quality of logical thinking, but of imaginative thinking."

-Leonard Bernstein, Commencement Speech at Johns Hopkins University, May 30, 1980

Leonard Bernstein

"The gift of the imagination is by no means an exclusive property of an artist; it is a gift we all share; to some degree or other all of us, all of you, are en...

See More

Like · Comment · Share · 2

Karen Bourgeois, Tiger Wiese Jones, Josefina Padilla-Martinez and 20 others like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
May 30 at 4:00pm •

East and West meet in a new synthesis of a global vision of humankind ranging over classic literature, ancient and modern, both Western and non-Western, from the dilemmas of modernity in Yeats, Eliot, Milosz, Bellow, Dostoevsky, to Lu Xun, Ryuichi Tamura, Kenzaburo Oe, Naguib Mahfouz, R. K. Narayan, among others, from mimesis and deconstruction to the United Nations, with extensive essays on Chinese, Japanese, and South-Asian literature....

Acutely perceptive of the spiritual and moral nuances of literature, criticism, and culture, Glaysher confronts the loss of religious faith in the modern world and breaks through to a vision of the unity of the human longing for transcendence.

The Grove of the Eumenides: Essays on Literature, Criticism, and Culture

Frederick Glaysher invokes a global vision beyond the prevailing postmodern conceptions of life and literature that have become firmly... AMAZON.COM

Like · Comment · Share · 2 1

Elaine Stevens and Beth Levin like this.

Frederick Glaysher NEW > Preface (April 4, 2015) and cover for The Grove of the Eumenides, now since I've completed the writing of my epic poem, the background study for which constitutes much of the back.

"All the essays in The Grove of the Eumenides were written after 1982 when I wrote my first draft of a plot outline for my epic poem The Parliament of Poets. These essays constitute and record my background study, as it were, over a period of more than twenty years, leading up to their publication in 2007...."

Like · Reply · May 30 at 4:02pm

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

May 30 at 2:38pm ·

Saul Bellow >

"The writer's role is to provide the best books he can for people who read, and like to read, and I think that's about it. I don't know what else he can do."

Saul Bellow Reads from "Humboldt's Gift" and "Henderson the Rain King," October 10,

SOUNDCLOUD.COM | BY THE-PARIS-REVIEW

Like · Comment · Share · 2 2

Rupert Chapman and Beth Levin like this.

Docteur Lou I teach Saul Bellow every semester in my English composition class. Thanks for sharing.

Like · Reply · May 30 at 2:44pm

Frederick Glaysher Glad to hear you're teaching him... I have, too, in the past, and written three essays on him, most recently about Ravelstein.

Like · Reply · 1 · May 30 at 2:48pm

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

May 30 at 2:06pm · Edited ·

The traditional conception of religion, grounded in exclusivism, has become much of the problem, East and West, while the value of the way we actually live, mixed and poured together, especially in democratic pluralism, too often receives insufficient recognition by what purports to be "religion." Quantum physics intimates a whole new way of understanding "religion" that can help heal the psychic wounds of modernity...

Teens are fleeing religion like never before: Massive new study exposes religion's decline

America's rising generation of adults are the least religiously observant of any generation in six decades, determined an expansive study led by... RAWSTORY.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

Dianna Henning, Mark DuCharme, Erland Anderson and 8 others like this.

3 shares

Alan Golding Thank God.

Like · Reply · 1 · May 31 at 6:43pm

Frederick Glaysher?

Like · Reply · May 31 at 6:44pm

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher May 28 at 9:14pm · Edited ·

"It always seems impossible until it's done." --Nelson Mandela

Like · Comment · Share · 26 Carmel Mawle, Amansuka Ubud-Bali Tour, Josefina Padilla-Martinez and 23 others like this.

4 shares

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
May 28 at 2:32pm •

Summer reading...

The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem and The Grove of the Eumenides: Essays on Literature, Criticism, and Culture are back in stock on Amazon...

Frederick Glaysher

Visit Amazon.com's Frederick Glaysher Page and shop for all Frederick Glaysher books and other Frederick Glaysher related products (DVD, CDs, Apparel). Check out pictures, bibliography, biography and community discussions about

AMAZON.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

4 :

4 people like this.

Frederick Glaysher NEW > Preface (April 4, 2015) and cover for The Grove of the Eumenides, now since I've completed the writing of my epic poem, the background study for which constitutes much of the book.

Like · Reply · May 28 at 2:35pm · Edited

Frederick Glaysher "All the essays in The Grove of the Eumenides were written after 1982 when I wrote my first draft of a plot outline for my epic poem The Parliament of Poets. These essays constitute and record my background study, as it were, over a period of more than twenty years, leading up to their publication in 2007...."

Like · Reply · May 28 at 2:37pm

Frederick Glaysher May 28 at 12:55pm ·

Write a comment...

Saul Bellow, "Writers, Intellectuals, Politics" 1993 >

"My case against the intellectuals can be easily summarized: Science has postulated a nature with no soul in it; commerce does not deal in souls and higher aspirations-matters like love and beauty are non of its business; for his part. Marx too assigned art etcetera to the 'superstructure.' So, artists are 'stuck' with what is left of the soul and its mysteries. Romantic enthusiasm (resistance to bourgeois existence) was largely discredited by the end of the Nineteenth Century. The Twentieth inverted Romanticism by substituting hate for love and nihilism for selfrealization. Intellectuals seem to me to have turned away from those elements in life unaccounted for in modern science and which in modern experience have come to seem devoid of substance. The powers of soul which were Shakespeare's subject (to be simple about it) and are heard incessantly in Handel or Mozart, have no footing at present in modern life and are held to be subjective. Writers here and there still stake their lives on the existence of these forces. About this, intellectuals have little or nothing to say."

Like · Comment · Share · 17 2 2

Amansuka Ubud-Bali Tour, Peter Nicholson, Andy Willoughby and 14 others like this.

2 shares

Frederick Glaysher Yeah, Bellow had an incredible gift of insight into modernity... though, of course, it was the result, too, of many long years of study and reflection.

Like · Reply · 1 · May 28 at 2:28pm · Edited

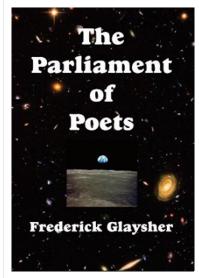

Write a comment...

Evelyn Underhill, Mysticism, p. 239. >

"It is in these descriptions of the joy of illumination--in the outpourings of love and rapture belonging to this state--that we find the most lyrical passages of mystical literature. Here poet, mystic, and musician are on common ground: for it is only by the oblique methods of the artist, by the use of aesthetic suggestion and musical rhythm, that the wonder of that vision can be expressed. When essential goodness, truth, and beauty--Light, Life, and Love--are apprehended by the heart, whether the heart be that of poet, painter, lover, or saint, that apprehension can only be communicated in a living, that is to say, artistic form."

Like · Comment · Share ·

Narendra Kumar Acharya, Mary Ann Bencivengo, Wael Moreicheh and 5 others like this.

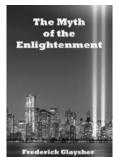

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

May 26 ·

Nihilism is not capable of a sufficient response to Islamic fanaticism.

Frederick Glaysher, books, poems, essays, reviews, interviews, blog

Gazing from the moon, we see one earth, without borders, Mother Earth, her embrace encircling one people, humankind.

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
May 25 •

"Theologians may quarrel, but the mystics of the world speak the same language."

- Meister Eckhart

Like · Comment · Share · 59 6

Wael Moreicheh, Olivia Hope Morgaine, Carmel Mawle and 56 others like this.

6 shares

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

May 25 · Edited ·

Given the pervasive materialism that can't respect and honor anything that can't be eaten or put in the bank, why would anyone be surprised? The academy itself has contributed to its own decline by predominantly respecting only dehumanizing nihilism, scientism, Marxism (Terry Eagleton himself), formalisms of endless variety, etc.

The Slow Death of the University

Bean counters, bureaucrats, and barbarians are to blame.

CHRONICLE.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

13

Mark Philip, Erland Anderson, Ratul Pal and 17 others like this.

4 shares

Frederick Glaysher Entirely predictable given Terry Eagleton's own Marxist materialism:

"If the humanities in Britain are withering on the branch, it is largely because they are being driven by capitalist forces while being simultaneously starved of resources."

Like · Reply · May 25 at 6:29pm · Edited

Rebecca Bratten Weiss And capitalism.
Unlike • Reply • 1 • May 25 at 6:49pm

Frederick Glaysher Rebecca, Yes, a plague on both their houses... neither of which can respect any spiritual and moral conception of human nature, knee-jerking always to the usual, vacuous secular pieties. The academy virtually always defaults to preserving this disconnect, seeking to protect itself from any serious critique of what its real flaws and problems are...

Like • Reply • May 25 at 9:11pm • Edited

Rebecca Bratten Weiss Of course: because ideologies must be marketable. And once we question them, we no longer wish to purchase them. By "we" meaning "they" I guess. Like · Reply · May 25 at 8:31pm

Frederick Glaysher My point is all the categories of thought in the university have long been cliched and held as though they're beyond question, while they are in fact at the root of much of the troubles afflicting modernity... The usual knee-jerk, closed-minded reaction by the academy to such criticism is a mindless assumption of "return" or "recovery" of some imaginary fundamentalist path, as though that were the only possibility...

Like · Reply · May 25 at 9:12pm · Edited

Sam Zervitz Frederick, as a teacher for over forty years at half a dozen colleges and universities, I've watched the evolution over the struggle between course offerings that were knowledge-heavy and courses that were meant to guarantee an income alone. And sadly,... See More

Like · Reply · May 25 at 9:00pm

Frederick Glaysher Sam, For a decade I taught rhetoric, American and Non-Western literature, and other courses in the humanities, so I understand quite well, from experience, what you're saying... My criticism is that the usual platitudes used to justify the importance of the humanities are utterly flawed, philosophically and spiritually. My book The Myth of the Enlightenment is a sustained discussion in detail along these lines... if interested:

http://www.barnesandnoble.com/.../the-myth.../1120346479...

The Myth of the Enlightenment: Essays

Available in: Hardcover. The Myth of the Enlightenment is Frederick Glaysher's first...

BARNESANDNOBLE.COM

Like · Reply · Remove Preview · May 25 at 9:07pm · Edited

Rebecca Bratten Weiss I usually begin my courses on epic, drama, etc by reminding my students that what we're doing is perfectly useless but of inestimable value. The structure of the classroom itself, unfortunately, reinforces a mindset of authority and closedness.

Like · Reply · May 25 at 9:12pm

Frederick Glaysher Rebecca, For me that's going too far with modernity's shoddy bill of goods... The entire notion that "utility" and the "material" are the loci of value skews any attempt from the beginning in its favor, conceding far too much before a real debate and engagement even begins. I would argue that the development of the mind and soul through the study of the most intellectually challenging cultural works of the past, literary, philosophical, religious, etc., is of inestimable value--for it is only by grappling with them that we ourselves can come to know and understand what it means to be human in our time.

If there is no authority in the classroom, education cannot possibly take place... defined as a soul who has been seeking knowledge and truth longer than anyone else in the room, demonstrating, in fact, openness, not closure...

Much of the current pedagogical thinking, reflected in Terry Eagleton's article, too, is entirely corrupt and decadent in my view. There's a long essay titled "Decadence, East and West," in my book cited above, which discusses such problems with extensive reference to Plato, Vico, Jacques Barzon, etc., if interested. Like • Reply • May 25 at 9:31 pm • Edited

Rebecca Bratten Weiss I'm very dubious about the presence of authority in the classroom, unless we think of it more as authorship. I'm not even comfortable with the idea of a psychopomp because it suggests the student's handing herself over to the master/guide.

As for utility: my students ask on occasion what "use" Homer or Dante will be to them. My point is that such questions miss the point.

Like · Reply · May 25 at 9:44pm

Rebecca Bratten Weiss The essay sounds interesting. Decadence / decay can be fertile topics.

Like · Reply · May 25 at 9:45pm

Sam Zervitz Frederick, I'm very interested in your book. Perhaps the saddest academic experiences I've come across in recent memory was my last teaching job at a brand new college with all kinds of wonderful possibilities. Small classes, terrific department head, ... See More

Like · Reply · May 25 at 11:58pm · Edited

Frederick Glaysher Rebecca, What's the "use" Homer or Dante? ...perfect.

Sam, I resigned from teaching rhetoric at Oakland University in 1996, after much the same experience of decline and decadence... It's not easy to build from the ground up, but I decided a long time ago what's the alternative? I invite you to look at a free chapter of my epic poem online, on my website and Barnes and Noble, too.

Like • Reply • May 26 at 11:18am • Edited

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher May 25 ·

What you change inwardly will change outer reality. Plutarch

LIFEASYOUMAKEIT.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

Luana Hartman, Astrid Bergie, Judy Yates Shearer and 4 others like this.

1 share

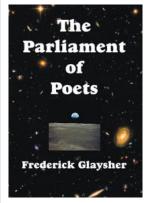

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher May 25 ·

Apollo, the Greek god of poetry, calls all the poets of the nations, ancient and modern, East and West, to assemble on the moon to consult on the meaning of modernity. The Parliament of Poets sends the Persona, the Poet of the Moon, on a Journey to the seven continents to learn from all of the spiritual and wisdom traditions of humankind. On Earth and on the moon, the poets teach him a new global, universal vision of life.

https://earthrisepress.net/parliament_of_poets.html

Like - Comment - Share - 4

Liv Evensen, Alvin Lau and Monika Kosich like this.

1 share

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

May 24 · Edited ·

Saul Bellow >

"If there's anything that gives a writer despair, he knows he can't go to the supermarket and get some tincture to put in. And he doesn't. He only holds before him the great writers and the masterpieces that they wrote, and hopes, that, perhaps, he'll be remembered. But he can't be sure of that either, and it's a terrific gamble, and there's absolutely no insurance you can take out against this."

Saul Bellow Reads from "Humboldt's Gift" and "Henderson the Rain King," October 10,

SOUNDCLOUD.COM | BY THE-PARIS-REVIEW

Like · Comment · Share · 5

Jay Kauffmann, Hans G. Ruprecht and 2 others like this.

Peter Nicholson Yes, but don't leave out great music, or art. I get much more pleasure from music than I ever get from literature. Where would life be without Wagner, Mahler and Bruckner et al? Like • Reply • May 24 at 8:53pm

Frederick Glaysher While I love music, especially Bach, Beethoven, and Chopin, I could never say that... Literature to me is even a higher form of music, more articulate and hence profound.

Like · Reply · 1 · May 24 at 8:57pm

Jonathan Karp Fortunately, no need to choose between them.

Unlike · Reply · 1 · May 24 at 9:11pm

Frederick Glaysher I definitely want and need them both! Like • Reply • 2 • May 24 at 9:17pm

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

May 23 ·

"The first gulp from the glass of natural sciences will turn you into an atheist, but at the bottom of the glass, God is waiting for you."

-Werner Heisenberg. 1932 Nobel Prize for Quantum Physics

Like · Comment · Share · 23 2

Erica Hurwitz Andrus, Liv Evensen, Greg Laughery and 20 others like this.

2 shares

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher updated his cover photo.

May 22 ·

Like · Comment · Share · 1 1 1

Monika Kosich likes this.

1 share

Frederick Glaysher Earthrise Press http://earthrisepress.net

Earthrise Press. A new global, universal vision of life on this planet.

EARTHRISEPRESS.NET

Like · Reply · Remove Preview · May 22 at 2:11pm

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

May 22 · Edited ·

I'm proud to have three poems published in the current issue of DoveTales.

Copies are available through the Writing for Peace website: "DoveTales, An International Journal of the Arts, 2014 "Nature" edition features poetry, essays, and short stories..."... See More

Like · Comment · Share ·

15

Julie Clayton, Mariko Shimizu, Julian De Wette and 12 others like this.

Tina Benson Congrats Fred!

Writing for Peace Thank you so much for sharing your work with us, Frederick. We're honored!

Like · Reply · May 22 at 12:21pm

Frederick Glaysher Writing for Peace, The honor's all mine. Thanks for accepting my poems! Like · Reply · May 22 at 3:44pm · Edited

Deborah Morrison Congrats!

Like • Reply • May 22 at 5:46pm

Surabhi Bhattacharjee Congrats Like · Reply · May 22 at 8:56pm

Frederick Glaysher Thanks, friends, for the goodwill!

Like · Reply · May 23 at 2:55pm

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

May 22 · Edited ·

CKCU-FM93.1/Literary News is now airing podcasts in partnership with POETRY Magazine. (Poetry Foundation USA)

Radio CKCU/Literary News_PROGRAMS

CKCU-FM93.1/Literary News is airing podcasts in partnership with the POETRY Magazine> http://poetryfoundation.org PLEASE SCROLL DOWN TO THE PROGRAM DE

CARLETON.CA

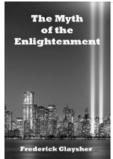

Like · Comment · Share

Frederick Glaysher

May 21 •

One of the signs of cultural decadence is that it cannot conceive of life as ever being any other way.

Frederick Glaysher, books, poems, essays, reviews, interviews, blog

Gazing from the moon, we see one earth, without borders, Mother Earth, her embrace encircling one people, humankind.

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

Luana Hartman and Julian De Wette like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

May 21 · Edited ·

Rabindranath Tagore (his own translation) >

"The world is wild with the delirium of hatred, the conflicts are cruel and unceasing in anguish, crooked are its paths, tangled its bonds of greed.... See More

 $\textbf{Like} \cdot \textbf{Comment} \cdot \textbf{Share} \cdot \quad \textbf{13} \quad \textbf{2} \quad \textbf{2}$

Jeffrey C. C. Ruff, Roger Pooley, Hans G. Ruprecht and 10 others like this.

2 shares

Prema Nihan Beautiful.

Unlike · Reply · 1 · May 21 at 3:18pm

Frederick Glaysher Mmmm... yeah. Like • Reply • May 21 at 3:19pm

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

May 20 ·

Walt Whitman >

"No one can know Leaves of Grass, who judges it piecemeal." Most critics "do not take the trouble to examine what they start out to criticize--to judge a man from his own standpoint, to even find out what that standpoint is."

Like · Comment · Share · 19

Hans G. Ruprecht, Norvie Bullock, Mariko Shimizu and 16 others like this.

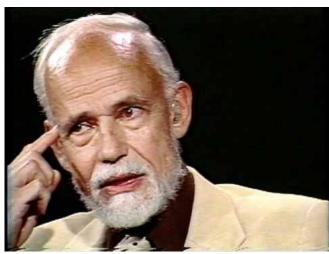

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher shared Huston Smith's photo.

May 19 • Edited •

Huston Smith is a practicing Christian who credits his faith to his missionary parents who had "instilled in me a Christianity that was able to withstand the dominating secular culture of modernity."

Huston Smith

Smith is a practicing Christian who credits his faith to his missionary parents who had "instilled in me a Christianity that was able to withstand the dominating secular culture of modernity."

Like · Comment · Share · 5 2

Tina Benson and 3 others like this.

Nathan Katz Very fine man.
Unlike • Reply • 2 • May 20 at 8:06am

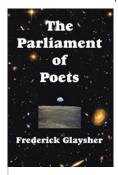

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
May 18 •

"And a fine major work it is." --Arthur McMaster, PQ Contributing Editor, Converse College, Department of English.

"Part of all that is the struggle of traditional conceptions of life and religion with modernity, ranging over the last five hundred years, and longer, with what Czeslaw Milosz insightfully called "the fad of nihilism," and Bellow scathingly referred to as "kneejerk nihilism," my opponent throughout all my books. In The Parliament of Poets and The Myth of the Enlightenment, I believe I have slain that Beast, and hope, in time, word will spread, and my books will find more readers who can recognize and understand the importance of that victory."

Poets' Quarterly: My Odyssey as an Epic Poet: Interview with Frederick Glaysher

Part of all that is the struggle of traditional conceptions of life and religion with modernity, ranging over the last five hundred years, and longer, with what Czeslaw Milosz insightfully called "the fad of nihilism," and Bellow scathingly referred

POETSQUARTERLY.COM | BY LESLIE L. NIELSEN

Like · Comment · Share ·

Deirdre Hines, Julie Clayton and Judy Meibach like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

May 15 · Edited ·

One of my dreams... that opera might find an aria or two in my epic.

Frederick Glaysher, books, poems, essays, reviews, interviews, blog

Gazing from the moon, we see one earth, without borders, Mother Earth, her embrace encircling one people, humankind.

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

Luana Hartman and 3 others like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher May 13 •

"The historical record demonstrates that all recorded civilizations have been capable of major transformation in the past when essential to save themselves. Those that were incapable of such epochal shifts destroyed themselves and passed into oblivion. World civilization now stands in the balance...."

"My Odyssey as an Epic Poet: Interview with Frederick Glaysher." Poets' Quarterly. ... See More

Poets' Quarterly: My Odyssey as an Epic Poet: Interview with Frederick Glaysher

"The historical record demonstrates that all recorded civilizations have been capable of major transformation in the past when essential to save themselves. Those that were incapable of such epochal shifts destroyed themselves and passed into...

POETSQUARTERLY.COM | BY LESLIE L. NIELSEN

Like · Comment · Share ·

Deborah Burch likes this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
May 10 •

"The Palestinian problem is deep and seemingly endless. The fact that so many Palestinians live in camps and remain stateless and vulnerable is a huge tragedy, and it is unacceptable. This reality does not contradict the Jewish love for Israel, and it is not caused by it. In fact, we created the Palestinian tragedy by trying to deny the rights of Jews."

For the love of Israel

We Arabs claim that Israel is a western imperialist enterprise, the small Satan to the U.S.'s big Satan. The.....

BLOGS.TIMESOFISRAEL.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

Gawain de Leeuw, Julian De Wette, Fred Maroun and 4 others like this.

Harry Zeitlin Attitudes like Fred Maroun's can go a long way towards healing, but until they become widespread in the Arab world, rather than lone voices, they're merely nice sentiments. I believe that Arab governments, including a potential future Palestinian one, must welcome Jews as citizens just as Israel welcomes its 20% non-Jewish, largely Moslem, citizenry.

Nonetheless, this is a very welcome step.

Unlike · Reply · 3 · May 10 at 9:59pm

Frederick Glaysher I share all your views too... no easy solution. Yet I respect Fred Maroun's conclusion and think there is much wisdom in it:

"It is often said that the Israel / Arab conflict is intractable, but it is not. Those of us who chose love over hate have made peace with Israel, and Jews consider us friends and equals. All issues in this conflict are solvable if we start by making that choice. Despite all the deaths and tragedies on both sides, this choice can still be made. Peace is not a betrayal of the dead. Peace is a gift to the living and to future generations."

Like · Reply · 2 · May 10 at 10:03pm

Sam Zervitz My understanding is that the Palestinian camps would have been shut down years ago if the Arabs didn't need to have them as a necessary evil to prove their lie that this is Israel's fault. Israel had pledged to build cities in place of the camps but the Arab leaders warned those in them that anyone attempting to leave would be shot. Israel doesn't want those camps but the Arabs do.

Unlike • Reply • 1 • May 11 at 1:50am

Ken Robin Interesting, thanks for your post.
Unlike • Reply • 1 • May 11 at 12:27pm

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
May 10 •

"If this is what the humanities have become, should they continue to exist?"

The Conference Manifesto

The time has come to ask: If this is what the humanities have become, should they continue to exist?

OPINIONATOR.BLOGS.NYTIMES.COM | BY CHRISTY WAMPOLE

Like · Comment · Share · 5

Beverly Allen, Kenneth Surin, Julie Clayton and 2 others like this.

David Cope This again? Conferences I attend are nothing like this. Teach the canon and how to write about it--otherwise we'll have generations of "poets" who know nothing but whatever they heard at the latest open mic.

Unlike · Reply · 1 · May 11 at 6:35am

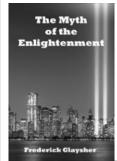

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
May 10 •

"In an era in which the value of human life has become as precarious and narrow as the study of the humanities itself, we need Glaysher's voice more than ever."

-Phillip M. Richards, Colgate University, Department of English

Frederick Glaysher, books, poems, essays, reviews, interviews, blog

Gazing from the moon, we see one earth, without borders, Mother Earth, her embrace encircling one people, humankind.

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

Michael Nwagbegbe and John E. Chadwick like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

May 8 •

"And a fine major work it is." —Arthur McMaster, Converse College, Department of English; Contributing Editor, Poets' Quarterly.

Frederick Glaysher, books, poems, essays, reviews, interviews, blog

Gazing from the moon, we see one earth, without borders, Mother Earth, her embrace encircling one people, humankind.

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share · 3

Sheenagh Pietrobruno, James Oliver Smith Jr. and Viscount Kit Kelen like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
May 8 •

"Despite all these qualifications, it is true without a doubt that the "jihad of the sword" is very strong today, and it is frightening to non-believers, heretics, secular liberals, social democrats, and liberated women in much of the Muslim world. And the fear is entirely rational."

SARAH JAFFE ESIMIST FUNKS
DANIEL IMMERWAHR GROVTH
VS. THE CLIMATE JOANNE BARKAN
EBUCATION WARS MICHELLE CHEN
GUERNICS IN AMERICA MIKE KONCZAL
LIBERAL PUNSIMENI FRANCESCA
MARI PEISONAL ASSISTANTS ATOSSA
ARAXIA ABRAHAMIAN TANKERS
WITHOUT BORDERS MAX FRASER
CLASS ENCOUNTERS DANIELLE
ALLEN LINCOLAYS POTITICAL
RELIGION MARK TUSHNET MEREIAL
PRESIDENTS VALERIA LUISELLI THE STORY OF MY TEEN HANGUS BURGIN
THE DISCOURSE OF MAN MOLLY
CRABAPPLEIN ABB UHBAB VILLIAM
HURST CHNIESE LABOR DIVIDEL

Islamism and the Left | Dissent Magazine

Islamism and the Left Michael Walzer ▪ Winter 2015 Charlie Hebdo memorial, Berlin, January 11, 2015

(protestphotography.wordpress.com) This article is followed by a response by Andrew F.

DISSENTMAGAZINE.ORG

Like · Comment · Share ·

Anton Mikhailovich, Jonathan Karp and 2 others like this.

Frederick Glaysher "But there is another reason for the reluctance to condemn Islamist crimes, and that is the great eagerness to condemn the crimes of the West. The root cause of religious zealotry is not religion, many leftist writers insist, but Western imperialism and the oppression and poverty it has bred..."

Like · Reply · 2 · May 8 at 5:20pm

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher May 8 •

Symptomatic of what it abhors... in some ways. Worth reading, but for a deeper cultural assessment that includes Plato, Vico, Ibn Khaldun, Julian Benda, Jacques Barzun, and others of that intellectual stature, read my essay "Decadence, East and West" in my book The Myth of the Enlightenment: Essays (2014), on Amazon and Barnes & Noble.

Anti-Intellectualism and the "Dumbing Down" of America
There is a growing anti-intellectual dumbing down of our culture

PSYCHOLOGYTODAY.COM

Like · Comment · Share · 10

Gabriel Hemingway, Cristina Antoinette Madrigal and 6 others like this.

Frederick Glaysher Hi Nathan, Sure, I'd be happy to speak with you and your audience. I'll send you a FB message you in a moment...

Danute Kuncas It's going to be quite a threat to the status quo, to the scientific, intellectual, and cultural "elites," when people stop relying on scientific, intellectual, or dismissive authority (yes, authority that dismisses your point of view, dismisses "gut knowing," and implies you should feel badly about yourself if you can't substantiate your sense that "something is amiss" with what's being shoved down your throat) as a source of trustworthy information. Oops, too late. That time has come, and I don't think it's altogether a bad thing.

Ken Wilbur (and I don't think this is a decontextualization of his meaning) makes a distinction between stages of knowing truth ( level of knowledge -arithmetic or calculus- from which we are considering a problem), and states of awareness about truth (what we are capable of being conscious about in our present state of awareness):

"Your state of consciousness is more about your level of inner awakening than mere correct information..."

"You can be a high level thinker and be quite astute about psychology, theology, history, or philosophy (a high stage), but you do it all from a perspective of individualism and arrogance about that very information (a low state)-because it is still all about "you." (i.e., non-dualism) Conversely, you could be quite unified within and with others, in a high state of loving consciousness, but be poorly informed, lacking in education or exposure to helpful and informative knowledge.

I think this distinction is useful for this discussion.

Like · Reply · May 8 at 2:35pm · Edited

Danute Kuncas We can well talk about non-dualism, but then ignore how we've lost touch with the greater perspective when we takes sides. Taking sides (attacking the other side) and defensiveness are sure-fire clues to the loss of non-dualistic thinking.

Like · Reply · May 8 at 2:28pm · Edited

Danute Kuncas Part of the reason for the rising anti-intellectualism can be found in the declining state of integrity prevalent among those in positions of authority and responsibility. Anti-intellectualism is none other than a distrust of the supposed "more substantiated information" that is often used to manipulate the less informed.

Like · Reply · 1 · May 8 at 2:44pm

Frederick Glaysher Danute, Non-dualism as an exclusivism? I'd call it universality... Ken Wilbur is one voice and not beyond criticism, evincing human shortcomings in his own way. The mind/body split is something I address in a number of my books, in various ways. I do feel, with many, that an inevitably deeper understanding of quantum physics will help heal, over time, that cultural dislocation.

I do agree with you regarding "the decline of integrity." It can and does create at times a justifiable backlash that unfortunately often serves only to undermine things all the more.

Like · Reply · 2 · May 8 at 2:59pm · Edited

Danute Kuncas Fred, do the following ideas fit anywhere among the discussions of Western Philosphers about the reliability of what we take for "facts" or "knowledge"?

... the ultimate reality that is revealed by emptiness (sunyata) and absence of self exists, does not exist, both exists and does not exist, and neither exists nor does not exist. It demolishes the processes of thought and language and is neither the same as dharmas, nor different from them, etc. It is the true principle of dharmas, hence it is called the "true nature of dharmas." It is called "space' because it is free of all impediments. It is called "cessation resulting from discrimination" because through the power of discrimination it ends various impurities and one understands thoroughly. Or, as a result of being revealed by the absence of conditions, it called "cessation resulting from the absence of conditions." Feelings of pleasure and pain are removed, so it is called "immovable." It is called "cessation of thought and feeling" (samjna-veditabecause thought and feeling are not active. These five dharmas are provisionally established on the basis of ultimate reality.

But "ultimate reality" itself is merely a provisionally granted name.

To refute the idea that it does not exist, it is said to exist. To refute the idea that it does exist, it is said to be empty. But it must not be thought to be empty and illusory, so it is said to be real. Because this principle is not false or erroneous, it said to be the ultimate nature of everything. It is also called the "ultimate nature of everything" because it is not the same as the real, eternal dharma called "ultimate nature of everything" apart from form, mind, etc., of other schools. Thus none of the above unconditioned dharmas really exists.

Dharmas grasped by non-Buddhist schools and other schools of Buddhism do not really exist apart from mind and mental activities, because they are grasped in the same way that mind and mental activities are grasped by mind itself. The apprehension that grasps them does not have them as objects, because it like the apprehension that takes as an object this same intellect. Also, because mind and its activities arise in mutual dependence, they do not really exist, just as magical illusions do not. In order refute the false attachment to a really existing realm exterior to mind and its activities, we teach that there is nothing but consciousness (vijñaptimātratā). But if one believes that only really exists, this is no different from attachment to external objects, and it remains attachment to dharmas.

From: Chapter 1: Demonstration of Consciousness Only, In Three Texts on Consciousness Only. Commentary on Vasubandhu's Thirty Verses on Consciousness

by Hsuantsang, Translated by Francis H. Cook.Fred

Like · May 14 at 10:53am

Danute Kuncas Ultimate truth cannot exist--because the context of each individual perspective cannot be the same until all individual perspectives merge back into unity

Language (its accuracy) is a provisional tool that is dependent on context -- and that's why even science, scientific "facts" and so-called "knowledge" (alone-without sufficiently developed consciousness) can't reliably point to "ultimate reality."

Unlike · 1 · May 14 at 10:55am

Frederick Glaysher I seem to have missed your comments earlier, sorry. From the Moon, there's a way to bring the disparate points of view into Unity...

Like - 55 mins

Write a reply...

Write a comment...

"In an era in which the value of human life has become as precarious and narrow as the study of the humanities itself, we need Glaysher's voice more than ever."

-Phillip M. Richards, Colgate University, Department of English

Frederick Glaysher, books, poems, essays, reviews, interviews, blog

Gazing from the moon, we see one earth, without borders, Mother Earth, her embrace encircling one people, humankind.

FGLAYSHER.COM

 $\mathbf{Like} \cdot \mathbf{Comment} \cdot \mathbf{Share} \cdot \$

.

Frederick Glaysher via Fukushima Response Campaign

"The forest fire near Chernobyl that broke out a week ago has spread radionuclides, notably plutonium, over eastern Europe, Asia, Alaska, and is now moving in over the west coast of the US.

"This image from the downloaded Windows HYSPLIT atmospheric dispersion model shows the spread of this plume, as of 2 PM Eastern time on May 7."

Chernobyl forest fire plume now on the US west coast.

The forest fire near Chernobyl that broke out a week ago has spread radionuclides, notably plutonium, over eastern Europe, Asia, Alaska, and is now moving in

OPTIMALPREDICTION.COM

Like · Comment · Share · 1

1 share

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
May 8 •

"Mitsuhiko Tanaka, a former nuclear plant designer, describes what occurred on 11th March 2011 as a loss-of-coolant accident. "The data that Tepco has made public shows a huge loss of coolant within the first few hours of the earthquake. It can't be accounted for by the loss of electrical power. There was already so much damage to the cooling system that a meltdown was inevitable long before the tsunami came."

The Three Fukushima Nuclear Reactor Core Meltdowns and Widespread Contamination - Indymedia Ireland

It was three years on March 11th since the triple nuclear meltdown at the Fukushima plant in Japan in 2011. This article attempts to try and give an picture of the situation today and to show that the accident is still an active event that will take many decades to cleanup and it is anything but ove...

INDYMEDIA.IE

Like · Comment · Share ·

Fernando Velasquez Pomar likes this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher shared John Siddique's photo.

John Siddique

Racism is all in the mind

Like · Comment · Share · 13

Beverly Allen, Danute Kuncas, Julie Clayton and 10 others like this.

Christopher McNeese Neither are there dotted lines.

Unlike · Reply · 1 · May 7 at 11:52pm

Frederick Glaysher That still hasn't sunk in enough...

Like · Reply · 1 · May 8 at 11:04am

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

May 6 ·

"Being shocked is part of democratic debate," said Mr. Biard, who accepted the award with the magazine's film critic, Jean-Baptiste Thoret. "Being shot is not."

"It is very important we do not kill those who died a second time by raising a polemic like this," he said, referring to charges that the magazine was racist. "Remember that Charlie Hebdo stands for anti-hatred."

Andrew Solomon, the president of PEN > "The defense of people murdered for their exercise of free speech i... See More

After Protests, Charlie Hebdo Members Receive Standing Ovation at PEN Gala

Members of the French satirical magazine accepted the award for "freedom of expression courage," capping a debate over free speech...

NYTIMES.COM | BY JENNIFER SCHUESSLER

Like · Comment · Share · 8

82

Peter Y Paik, Rose Solari, Jonathan Karp and 5 others like this.

Aline Tayar How many of the PEN protesters actually know that all mumbo jumbo is and always has been Charlie's target?

Frederick Glaysher Apparently, not enough... in the world of sanctimonious PC rhetoric.

Like · Reply · 1 · May 6 at 8:50am · Edited

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
May 5 · Edited ·

"A great epic poem of startling originality and universal significance." —Dr. Hans-George Ruprecht, CKCU Literary News, Carleton University, Ottawa, Canada

"And a fine major work it is." —Arthur McMaster, Converse College, Department of English; Contributing Editor, Poets' Quarterly.

"Don't be intimidated by an epic poem. It's really coming back to that image of the storyteller sitting around the campfires of the world, dipping into and weaving the story of humanity, in the ... See More

Frederick Glaysher, books, poems, essays, reviews, interviews, blog

Gazing from the moon, we see one earth, without borders, Mother Earth, her embrace encircling one people, humankind.

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share

Frederick Glaysher May 5 ·

Jeffrey Goldberg >

"...it is an act of bravery to write in opposition to religious fundamentalism in the face of fatal violence. And I'm glad that the PEN American Center has not capitulated under pressure."

What Critics Get Wrong About 'Charlie Hebdo'
The magazine specializes in attacking ideas, not people.
THEATLANTIC.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

Benjamin Yarmolinsky and 5 others like this.

Write a comment...

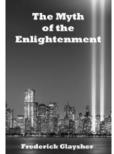

Frederick Glaysher May 5 •

"In an era in which the value of human life has become as precarious and narrow as the study of the humanities itself, we need Glaysher's voice more than ever."

-Phillip M. Richards, Colgate University, Department of English

"In short this is a book I'll be returning to for the rest of this year and no doubt afterward. I'm glad it exists and I'm grateful for the wisdom it sends my way."

—Laurence Goldstein, University of Michigan, Department of English  $\dots$  See More

Frederick Glaysher, books, poems, essays, reviews, interviews, blog

Gazing from the moon, we see one earth, without borders, Mother Earth, her embrace encircling one people, humankind.

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

Pascale Prive CIs likes this.

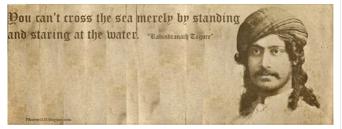

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher shared Ayesha Pande's photo.

May 4 ·

Like · Comment · Share · 2

Marie Curran likes this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher May 4 •

"My Odyssey as an Epic Poet: Interview with Frederick Glaysher." Poets' Quarterly / Spring 2015 w/ Arthur McMaster, PQ Contributing Editor.

"Looking back now from over sixty years old, the writing of my epic poem finally behind me, I think another major threshold occurred in 1977 in a theater class that I took in Interpretative Reading. It was there I learned that the Greek rhapsodes would travel throughout Greece reciting Homer..."

Poets' Quarterly. My Odyssey as an Epic Poet: Interview with Frederick Glaysher - The Globe

Poets' Quarterly - My Odyssey as an Epic Poet. Spring 2015. Interview with Frederick Glaysher: My Odyssey as an Epic Poet. Poets' Quarterly / Spring 2015 w/ Arthur McMaster, PQ Contributing Editor.

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

6

Julian De Wette, Jeffrey C. C. Ruff, Norvie Bullock and 3 others like this.

Kathryn Jeffcoat Absolutely lovely interview.

Frederick Glaysher Thanks, Kathryn. Glad you liked it. Long journey, for me...

Like · Reply · May 5 at 2:07pm · Edited

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
May 4 •

THE THREE FUNDAMENTAL PRINCIPLES OF PUBLIC MORALITY. I'm glad Bernie Sanders is describing America's surging inequality as "a profound moral issue." He's right. For too many years, Democratic candidates have provided lists of policies while Republicans talk about morality. But Republican morality is about private personal decisions – to marry a gay partner, to have an abortion, to pray or seek redemption.

Democrats must talk about three fundamental principles of public morali... See  $\operatorname{\mathsf{More}}$

Robert Reich

THE THREE FUNDAMENTAL PRINCIPLES OF PUBLIC MORALITY. I'm glad Bernie Sanders is describing America's surging inequality as "a profound moral issue." He's right....

See More

Like · Comment · Share · 21 14

Julie Clayton, Kenneth Surin, Julia Stein and 18 others like this.

Nathan Katz Believe me, you don't want to know what I think.But thanks for asking.

Unlike · Reply · 1 · May 4 at 11:48am

Frederick Glaysher Nathan, Sure I do... Or did you mean to reply to my tagging you in the review of Saul Bellow, on my timeline? Either way, the more opinions the better...

Like · Reply · May 4 at 12:03pm

Nathan Katz Simply, I disagree strongly with all three of Reich's principles.

Like · Reply · May 4 at 12:05pm · Edited

Frederick Glaysher I'm more interested in Robert Reich. To my mind, Bernie Sanders has some goods ideas, but socialism isn't one of them, and he has no chance of ever getting elected.

Like · Reply · May 4 at 12:05pm

Nathan Katz I meant Reich. Like • Reply • May 4 at 12:06pm

Frederick Glaysher Okay. Fair enough. Do you think the extreme concentration of wealth in the hands of so few is good for the country and individuals?

Like · Reply · May 4 at 12:11pm · Edited

Nathan Katz No, it is not a good thing for the country. It may be dandy for those who have it, as well as an inspiration for those who aspire to wealth. We need an environment in which everyone can pursue wealth (or whatever it is they want to pursue). But by definition, it could never be the case that very many accumulate "extreme" wealth.

Like · Reply · May 4 at 12:13pm

Nathan Katz To continue: it simply is not fair to tax someone twice for the same money. I am referring to inheritance taxes.

Like · Reply · May 4 at 12:14pm

Nathan Katz The minimum wage was never intended for jobs of primary earners in a family. My son, who is in college, earns the minimum and is very happy to learn from the experience.

Like · Reply · May 4 at 12:15pm · Edited

Nathan Katz I just retired from 40 years as an educator in the public sector, and no one believes in the importance of education and training more than I. But let's be very honest: in far too many cases, our public schools have failed their students. I won't go into the reasons. What is crucial is choice in education, something the rich have always enjoyed. The not-rich should also have choices.

Like · Reply · May 4 at 12:17pm

Frederick Glaysher I'd start with a return to a real graduated tax system beginning at 70% for the ultra wealth. In my opinion, an elected democatic Government has every right tax inherited wealth as well to prevent its concentration from destroying much of the civilization, as is now happening. Minimum wage and such issues are all small potatoes to me...

Like · Reply · May 4 at 12:17pm

Nathan Katz I am sure you would and I pray that never happens. Like • Reply • May 4 at 12:17pm

Frederick Glaysher I respect your conscience. I think our Nation's economic history since WWII demonstrates 70% works... What we have now is the path to ruin and destruction on the order of fascism and plutocracy. Best wishes.

Like · Reply · May 4 at 4:33pm · Edited

Tiger Wiese Jones Agreed!!! Shared!
Unlike • Reply • 1 • May 4 at 1:04pm

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher May 4 ·

"In short this is a book I'll be returning to for the rest of this year and no doubt afterward. I'm glad it exists and I'm grateful for the wisdom it sends my way."

—Laurence Goldstein, University of Michigan, Department of English

"In an era in which the value of human life has become as precarious and narrow as the study of the humanities itself, we need Glavsher's voice more than ever."

—Phillip M. Richards, Colgate University, Department of English ... See More

Frederick Glaysher, books, poems, essays, reviews, interviews, blog

Gazing from the moon, we see one earth, without borders, Mother Earth, her embrace encircling one people, humankind.

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share

Frederick Glaysher

May 3 · Edited

It appears that The NY Times Book Review is shamelessly dumbing down for shallow readers in their "20s and 30s," who are in fact at times symptoms of the modern malaise, not trendsetters who ought to be encouraged. Instead of accommodating PC drivel, the NY Times should be advising them to strive to read and understand Saul Bellow.

Lowering literary standards further, though, ought to help corrupt corporate publishers, who have no standards but the bottom-line, using their i... See More

'The Life of Saul Bellow: To Fame and Fortune, 1915-1964,' by Zachary Leader

The first volume of Zachary Leader's biography of Saul Bellow ends in 1964, with the publication of "Herzog."

NYTIMES.COM | BY SAM TANENHAUS

Like · Comment · Share · 3 6

Rosamonde Ikshvàku Miller, Zachary Braiterman and Hune Margulies like this.

Frederick Glaysher See my essay "Saul Bellow's Ravelstein--The Closing of the American Soul" in my book The Myth of the Enlightenment: Essays (2014) for a deeper reading of the importance of Bellow and my further comments about Bellow castigating the corrupt media. "Saul Bellow's Soul" is in my book The Grove of the Eumenides (2007) and in Saul Bellow and the Struggle at the Center (AMS Press, 1996).

http://www.amazon.com/gp/product/0982677839

The Myth of the Enlightenment: Essays

The Myth of the Enlightenment is Frederick Glaysher's first collection of literary essays...

AMAZON.COM

Like · Reply · Remove Preview · 3 · May 4 at 9:21am · Edited

Frederick Glaysher Jonathan Karp, Larry Rothfield, Davis Schneiderman, Ian Bremmer, Nathan Katz, Michael Dickel, Judith Shulevitz

Like · Reply · May 4 at 8:08am

Frederick Glaysher Gabriel Noah Brahm, Mimi Feigelson, Robbi Nester, Karen Auerbach, Ellen Kushner, Michael Steinlauf, Noah Sachs, Alec Burko, Francisco Goldman

Like · Reply · May 4 at 8:19am

Frederick Glaysher Harvey Freedenberg, Eileen Pardini, Caroline Lawrence, Julia Stein, Hune Margulies, Lee Weissman, Elizabeth Cohen, Rosamonde Ikshvàku Miller

Like · Reply · May 4 at 8:33am

Frederick Glaysher Aaron Hughes, J.J. Goldberg, Jeffrey Herf, Julian Rubinstein, Larry Hoffman, Paula Friedman, Elazar Larry Freifeld, Betsy Israel

Like · Reply · May 4 at 9:04am

Frederick Glaysher John Freeman, Marc Brettler, Zachary Braiterman, Theodore Ross, Sabine Schmidtke, Sam Zervitz Like · Reply · May 4 at 9:11am

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

May 3 · Edited ·

"And a fine major work it is." —Arthur McMaster, Converse College, Department of English, Spartanburg, South Carolina; Contributing Editor, Poets' Quarterly.

"A great epic poem of startling originality and universal significance." —Dr. Hans-George Ruprecht, CKCU Literary News, Carleton University, Ottawa, Canada

Frederick Glaysher, books, poems, essays, reviews, interviews, blog Gazing from the moon, we see one earth, without borders, Mother Earth, her embrace encircling one people, humankind.

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

Luana Hartman likes this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher May 2 •

 ${\bf A}$  new story and vision of life that can help bring people together around the world in peace...

Frederick Glaysher, books, poems, essays, reviews, interviews, blog
Gazing from the moon, we see one earth, without borders, Mother Earth, her embrace encircling one people, humankind.

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

Luana Hartman, Jonathan Karp and Monika Kosich like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

"But what most Americans just don't get is that such horrors happen here in the United States of America—and not just in faraway countries like Afghanistan or Somalia."

How Honor Killings Affect Americans

Violence against women is not just a problem in countries like Afghanistan and Somalia. It's happening in the U.S. too.

THEATLANTIC.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

Luana Hartman, Ralf Georg Czapla and 3 others like this.

Frederick Glaysher Very sad to me... One of the themes in my epic is the abuse of women around the world, Africa, India, East and West, etc... I think it all has to be raised to a higher plane to touch the hearts and minds deep enough to help to change thinking and behavior.

Like · Reply · 1 · May 3 at 4:45pm · Edited

Write a comment...

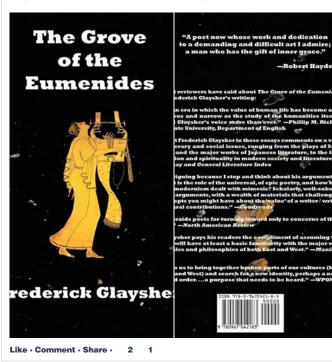

Frederick Glaysher added 2 new photos.

NEW > Preface (April 4, 2015) and cover for The Grove of the Eumenides. For a hardcover copy with the new preface and cover, buy through Barnes & Noble or Earthrise Press.

From New Preface

"All the essays in The Grove of the Eumenides were written after 1982 when I wrote my first draft of a plot outline for my epic poem The Parliament of Poets. These essays constitute and record my background study, as it were, over a period of more than twenty years, leading up to their publication in 2007...."

http://www.barnesandnoble.com/w/the-grove-of-th.../1111509382...

Frederick Glaysher The Grove of the Eumenides ends with my long essay "Epopee" looking forward to then my writing my own epic poem. "Epopee" surveys Homer, Virgil, Dante, Milton, Langland, with many asides on other epics and poets, ancient and modern.

Eden Wales

Freedman

Randy Smith

FRIENDS · May

Anton

LIKES · May

Rachel Sabath Beit-Halachmi

Tom Pace

Kathryn

Gessner

April

Luana Hartman likes this.

Write a comment...

Like · Reply · May 2 at 11:48am · Edited

From Katha Pollitt in The Nation: "Charlie doesn't mock Muslim people—the shopkeeper who runs the corner store, the woman working in a call center, the boys hanging out in the street. It mocks fundamentalism—the narrow, bigoted, superstitious version of Islam that lies behind actually rather a lot of violence against writers."

Charlie Hebdo Deserves Its Award for Courage in Free Expression. Here's Why.

The French satirical publication takes aim at fundamentalism—in all its forms.

THENATION.COM

Like · Comment · Share · 5 7

Frederick M. Dolan, Ewa Hryniewicz-Yarbrough, Timothy Cooper and 2 others like this.

1 share

Frederick M. Dolan Spotted recently at California College of the Arts

April 30 at 11:01pm · Like ·

Frederick Glaysher Frederick, I'd ask both the opponent's of PEN and the students, What is it about dhimmitude you don't understand?

May 2 at 11:12am • Like • 1

Frederick M. Dolan I was struck mainly by the diction. May 2 at 11:42am • Like Frederick Glaysher All very abstract, dehumanizing, and horrifing to me... not to mention politicized with all the usual jargon. Or am I missing something? What do you mean?

Frederick M. Dolan I meant what you meant! I wonder how those imprisoned in such jargon will ever learn to think. Let's hope it's just a phase.

May 2 at 12:14pm · Like

Frederick Glaysher Unfortunately, it's been a long phase... with a long cultural slide into it, inside and out of the academy, which makes it all the harder to address, oppose, and correct. That's what I do, though, in my book of essays The Myth of the Enlightenment, and, however unlikely it might seem, in my epic poem...

May 2 at 12:19pm · Like · 1

Frederick Glaysher Much of the academy, in my experience, has such blinders on that it makes virtually impossible for someone with a seriously alternative vision to the prevailing one, however that might be defined, to receive a hearing... One syllable, and hearts and minds close off instead of a genuine exchange of opinion and debate taking place. To my mind, that's extremely detrimental for the whole culture, allowing the vacuum to be filled by the worst elements, as in these cases, and leaving the whole culture, is the irony, all more vulnerable...

May 2 at 12:30pm · Edited · Like

Write a comment...

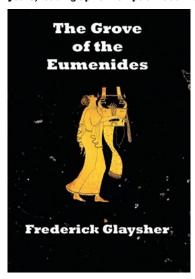

Frederick Glaysher
April 30 · Edited ·

NEW > Preface (April 4, 2015) and cover for The Grove of the Eumenides. For a hardcover copy with the new preface and cover, buy through Barnes & Noble or Earthrise Press.

From New Preface:

"All the essays in The Grove of the Eumenides were written after 1982 when I wrote my first draft of a plot outline for my epic poem The Parliament of Poets. These essays constitute and record my background study, as it were, over a period of more than twenty years, leading up to their pub... See More

Like · Comment · Share ·

Julie Clayton and Khaloud Al-Muttalibi like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
April 30 •

Adam Gopnik >

"The whole end of liberal civilization is to substitute the criticism of ideas for assaults on people. The idea that we should be free to do our work and offer our views without extending a frightened veto to those who threaten to harm us isn't just part of what we mean by free expression. It's what free expression is. The Charlie Hebdo staff kept working in the face of death threats, and scorning an effort to honor that courage gives too much authority to thos... See More

PEN Has Every Right to Honor Charlie Hebdo - The New Yorker

If literature has any social function, it is premised on the belief that, in the long run, the most comfortable community is going to be the one...  ${\tt NEWYORKER.COM \mid BY ADAM GOPNIK}$

Like · Comment · Share · 5 2

James Cronin, Frederick M. Dolan, Carmelo Militano and 2 others like this.

Vince Levent Orman This kind of rhetoric is not very helpful. It basically says: "we are right; our enemies are wrong; our enemies should learn to be civilized like us." I assume our enemies also have similar writings along these lines. How does this solve problems, and ... See More

May 1 at 3:31pm · Edited · Like

Frederick Glaysher Vince Levent Orman, What's the solution for Surah 6:29? ...dhimmitude? Please study it and report back. May 5 at 2:08pm · Edited · Like

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher April 30 •

Salman Rushdie >

"'Fellow travellers', yes. No question of that. As for 'fine distinctions', here's what I see. Our fellow artists were murdered for their ideas and you won't stand up for them. I'm very sorry to see that. I think you'll find the vast majority of the PEN membership will be sorry, too."

"But he made it clear he wasn't backing down on another allegation, made in a letter to PEN earlier this week, in which he described Prose and the five other authors to have wi... See More

Charlie Hebdo row leads to Facebook fallout between Salman Rushdie and Francine Prose

Satanic Verses author refuses to back down after being accused of using 'McCarthy era' language in attack on six writers who withdrew from...

THEGUARDIAN.COM | BY ALISON FLOOD

Like · Comment · Share · 2

Erel Shalit and Timothy Cooper like this.

Write a comment...

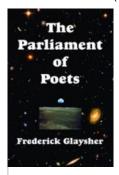

Frederick Glaysher April 30 ·

 ${\bf A}$  new story and vision of life that can help bring people together around the world in peace...

"Thirty years in the making, set partly on the moon, at the Apollo 11 landing site, the Sea of Tranquility.

"Apollo, the Greek god of poetry, calls all the poets of the nations, ancient and modern, East and West, to assemble on the moon to consult on the meaning of modernity. The Parliament of Poets sends the Persona, the Poet of the Moon, on a Journey to the seven continents to le... See More

Frederick Glaysher, books, poems, essays, reviews, interviews, blog

Gazing from the moon, we see one earth, without borders, Mother Earth, her embrace encircling one people, humankind.

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

Wael Moreicheh and Hune Margulies like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
April 30 •

Ex-U.S., Russian brass: 'De-alert' nukes or risk disaster"

"Amid all the talk about a new Cold War, here's one hard, cold fact: Nearly 25 years after the collapse of the Soviet Union, Washington and Moscow still have nearly 2,000 atomic bombs ready to fly at a moment's notice to destroy each other. "And that so-called hair-trigger alert is now sparking new concerns that deepening distrust between the former foes significantly raises the risk of a miscalculation and nuclear di... See More

Ex-U.S., Russian brass: 'De-alert' nukes or risk disaster

Amid all the talk about a new Cold War, here's one hard, cold fact: Nearly 25 years after the collapse of the Soviet Union, Washington and Moscow still have nearly 2,000 atomic bombs ready to fly at a moment's notice...

POLITICO.COM | BY BRYAN BENDER
Like · Comment · Share · 1 5

Kevin Hall likes this.

Kevin Hall http://www.foxnews.com/.../former-us-commander-calls-for.../

Former US commander calls for nuclear missiles to be taken off high alert

A former commander of U.S. nuclear forces says... FOXNEWS.COM

April 30 at 11:31am · Unlike · 1 · Remove Preview

Frederick Glaysher Thanks, Kevin, for both!

April 30 at 11:49am · Like

Frederick Glavsher "Retired Gen. James Cartwright said in an interview that "de-alerting" nuclear arsenals could foil hackers by reducing the chance of firing a weapon in response to a false warning of an attack...

April 30 at 11:51am · Like

Frederick Glaysher "The sophistication of the cyberthreat has increased exponentially" over the past decade, he said Tuesday. "It is reasonable to believe that that threat has extended itself" into nuclear command and control systems. "Have they been penetrated? I don't know. Is it reasonable technically to assume they could be? Yes.'

April 30 at 11:52am · Like

Frederick Glaysher "Keeping missiles on hair-trigger alert makes them more vulnerable to an unauthorized launch, including one resulting from a cyberattack,"

April 30 at 11:54am · Like

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

April 29 ·

The Grove of the Eumenides. NEW Preface (April 4, 2015) and cover.

From the last essay, "Epopee":

The disappearance of epic poetry and the rise of modern times go hand in hand. To look back over the last three hundred years is to observe the steady decline of the epic spirit and the everincreasing substitution of subjective, personal modes of literary composition..... See More

Like · Comment · Share ·

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

April 29 ·

"A good epic would grace our history." -Robert Frost

Like · Comment · Share · 6 11

Amansuka Ubud-Bali Tour, Tina Benson, Alvin Lau and 3 others like this.

Tina Benson And yours certainly has, Fred!

Tina Benson Most definitely Fred...most definitely! April 29 at 8:10pm · Like

Frederick Glaysher Of course, such judgments do not reside with the poet, but with readers of a culture in general, and angels like

April 29 at 8:15pm · Like ·

Tina Benson Yours is one of the greatest epics of all times, in my opinion Fred...it's just beginning to gain some momentum! April 29 at 8:19pm · Like Frederick Glaysher Tina, You are an angel... With all propriety intended, I love you! What writer wouldn't!!

Now here's a true story > Yesterday I picked up dinner at a Chinese restaurant. My fortune cookie read "Don't Stop Now!" Haahhaaaha!! Laughable, I know... but I enjoyed it.

April 29 at 8:28pm · Like ·

Tina Benson Propriety is overrated, Fred...and with all propriety fully understood here, it's nice to hear those words, so thank you...I believe in your book so much, Fred, and continue to support you by gifting it to friends! I agree with your fortune cookie...don't ever stop!

April 29 at 8:31pm · Like

Frederick Glaysher Well, you are a sweet soul, and I thank you so much for the encouragement. I really mean it. Fear not, I've been in the harness so long, these forty years... I'll keep going 'til I drop. ...the usual experience for many writers. Haahaa!

April 29 at 8:50pm · Edited · Like · 1

Tina Benson I'm beginning to understand that with my own book

April 29 at 9:09pm • Unlike • 1

Frederick Glaysher Sorry to hear it.... Now it's my turn to say, Don't Give Up! Your story is a human one that many might enjoy and learn from, in various ways. Maybe you're ready to read my essay on the Post-Gutenberg Revolution, in The Myth. I stopped believing in editors and publishers more than a decade and a half ago, after long experience. They're always tied into their own mindsets and biases, whatever the subject matter.

April 29 at 9:17pm · Like · 1

Tina Benson Yes...learning that truth...not discouraged...ever more resolute actually!

Frederick Glaysher shared C. H. Gorrie's photo. April 29 ·

Harold Bloom, via Chris Gorrie

"It is a banal truism that the cultural present both derives from and reacts against anteriority. Twenty-first-century America is in a state of decline. It is scary to reread the final volume of Gibbon these days because the fate of the Roman Empire seems an outline that the imperial presidency of George W. Bush retraced and that continues even now. We have approached bankruptcy, fought wars we cannot pay for, and defrauded our urban and rural p... See More

C. H. Gorrie

See More

Like · Comment · Share · 2

Rodger Cunningham likes this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
April 29 · Edited ·

We need a new vision of life, East and West, so, in the deepest channels of the past and present, we can find the ambrosia for today.

Frederick Glaysher

The Grove of the Eumenides. NEW > Preface (April 4, 2015) and

From the last essay, "Epopee":

"A good epic would grace our history." —Robert Frost... See More

Like · Comment · Share · 1 2

Frederick Glaysher Barnes & Noble http://www.barnesandnoble.com/.../the-grove.../1111509382...

The Grove of the Eumenides: Essays on Literature, Criticism, and Culture

BARNESANDNOBLE.COM

April 29 at 11:46am · Like · Remove Preview

Frederick Glaysher New Preface only available in this hardcover. April 29 at 11:47am · Like

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher April 29 ·

NEW > Preface (April 4, 2015) and cover for The Grove of the

For a hardcover copy with the new preface and cover, buy through Barnes & Noble or Earthrise Press.

https://fglaysher.com/

Caroline Black, Frederick Burwick, Narendra Kumar Acharya and 4 others like this.

Frederick Glaysher Barnes & Noble http://www.barnesandnoble.com/.../the-grove.../1111509382...

The Grove of the Eumenides: Essays on Literature, Criticism, and Culture

BARNESANDNOBLE.COM

April 29 at 11:14am · Like · Remove Preview

Frederick Glaysher Earthrise Press https://earthrisepress.net/grove_of_the_eumenides.html April 29 at 11:15am • Edited • Like

Frederick Glaysher From New Preface, (April 2015):

"All the essays in The Grove of the Eumenides were written after 1982 when I wrote my first draft of a plot outline for my epic poem The Parliament of Poets. These essays constitute and record my background study, as it were, over a period of more than twenty years, leading up to their publication in 2007...."

April 29 at 11:33am · Like

Frederick Glaysher Only the hardcover copy on Barnes & Noble has the new cover and preface.

April 29 at 12:47pm · Like

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

April 28

"If they don't allow you to exist, then to a certain extent, the authorities are not... prepared to go down this road [of political reform] – and this would have an impact on China or even the world."

Publisher of China's leading pro-reform magazine vows to carry on despite growing pressure from...

Respected publication of reform-minded party elders says is under renewed pressure to toe the official line and abandon its critical stance SCMP.COM

Like · Comment · Share

Frederick Glaysher

April 28 · Edited ·

Sam Tanenhaus concedes too much to shallow readers in their "20s and 30s" who are in fact at times symptoms of the modern malaise, not trendsetters who ought to be encouraged. Saul Bellow's material isn't a matter of fashion; it's much of the foundation of anything worth calling civilization:

"For many he now belongs among the useless old gentlemen. Bellow admirers in their 20s and 30s are increasingly harder to find. "Humboldt wanted to drape the world in radiance, but he didn't have enough material," he wrote of one of his battered characters. Bellow had the material, in abundance, but it's gone out of fashion. The great midcentury emancipator is now in danger of slipping into a forgotten past."

'The Life of Saul Bellow: To Fame and Fortune, 1915-1964,' by Zachary Leader

The first volume of Zachary Leader's biography of Saul Bellow ends in 1964, with the publication of "Herzog."

NYTIMES.COM | BY SAM TANENHAUS

Like · Comment · Share · 4 1 1

Kathryn Olney, Carmelo Militano and 2 others like this.

1 share

Frederick Glaysher See my essay "Saul Bellow's Ravelstein--The Closing of the American Soul" in my book The Myth of the Enlightenment: Essays (2014) for a deeper reading of the importance of Bellow.

http://www.amazon.com/gp/product/0982677839

The Myth of the Enlightenment: Essays

AMAZON.COM

April 28 at 8:43am · Like · 1 · Remove Preview

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
April 28 •

"Salman Rushdie, a former PEN president who lived in hiding for years after a fatwa in response to his novel "The Satanic Verses," said the issues were perfectly clear. Mr. Ondaatje and Mr. Carey were old friends of his, he said, but they are "horribly wrong."

"If PEN as a free speech organization can't defend and celebrate people who have been murdered for drawing pictures, then frankly the organization is not worth the name," Mr. Rushdie said. "What I would say to both Peter and Michael and the others is, I hope nobody ever comes after them."

Six PEN Members Decline Gala After Award for Charlie Hebdo

The novelists withdrew out of discomfort with the magazine's perceived cultural intolerance, and what some saw as a particular glee in beating...

NYTIMES.COM | BY JENNIFER SCHUESSLER

Like · Comment · Share · 12 21 1

Julian De Wette, Rose Solari, Narendra Kumar Acharya and 9 others like this.

1 share

Frederick Glavsher Have the six PEN members ever read the Quran? Surah 9:29, which along with several similar passages are the source of much of the trouble that now encircles the world?

"Fight those who believe not in Allah, nor the Last Day, nor hold that forbidden which hath been forbidden by Allah and His Messenger, nor acknowledge the Religion of Truth, from among the People of the Book, until they pay the Jizya [penalty tax] with willing submission and feel themselves subdued.

That's Islam for the fanatics, right out of the Quran, which is the problem. The artists of Charlie Hebdo were not interested in being among the "subdued." I respect them for that. Culture worthy of the name is right to defend and honor them in death, as well as the principles for which they died, and for which real artists and writers

April 28 at 8:31am · Edited · Like

Andrew Sweeny I think there is a naivety here from both the cultural left and the religious right as to what 'subdued' means here. Each side chosen their own favoured, instrumental definition. To be subdued in a mystical/erotic sense is something else, and has nothing to do with power or domination.

April 28 at 8:59am · Edited · Like ·

Frederick Glaysher It is true that "subdued" can be interpreted to have the meaning you mention; "Fight" and Jizya" make clear the more common meaning, the one that Islamic fanatics *act* on. It is naive in the extreme for American and Western "liberals" to neglect that ... See More

April 28 at 9:20am · Edited · Like

Andrew Sweeny Well, the fight metaphor is used on both sides isn't it. We 'fight' Islamism, they fight secularism.

April 28 at 9:22am - Like

Andrew Sweeny Secular atheists and religious fundamentalist both have this commonality. Symbolic illiteracy, and a literal reading of sacred scripture.

April 28 at 9:24am · Like ·

Frederick Glaysher Which one you want to live in? I know which one I prefer... though I do not consider myself "secular," but respect my fellow citizens who are and their right to their own conscience.

Andrew Sweeny Neither

M April 28 at 9:28am · Edited · Like

April 28 at 9:24am · Edited · Like ·

Frederick Glaysher In this world, sitting on the fence doesn't work. One chooses or someone else will choose for us, over the barrel of a gun, or an airliner used as a missile... speaking historically. I may only wield a PEN, but it's for civilization... in dialogue with my fellow citizens, in struggle, to define it. That's significantly more than what Surah 9: 26 allows...

April 28 at 9:31am · Edited · Like

Andrew Sweeny I do live in Paris and did light a candle for Charlie, 🚮 by the way. But I wonder at how everything in the literary world is polarised and politicised. It was not a choice based on intrinsic worth for example. Because the literary secular establishment is intolerant to primordial traditions.

April 28 at 9:36am · Edited · Like ·

Andrew Sweeny I don't sit on a fense. I know where I stand. I just don't accept your either/or propositions.

April 28 at 9:34am · Like

Frederick Glavsher I would say it depends on the "primordial tradition" and what it advocates, what is its "intrinsic worth." Surah 9: 29? The French have as much right to affirm their civilization as anyone else and shouldn't be expected by immigrants to concede it just because they show up on the porch... Nothing could be intended to polarize a society more than that surah... into religion as politics, not mysticism.

April 28 at 9:37am · Like

Andrew Sweeny One could argue that popular fiction, Hollywood movies, have as much to do with terrorism, as the Koran. Are you advocating removing all violent imagery from literature. Without mythopoetic or communal poetry the world has no depth.

April 28 at 9:42am · Like ·

Andrew Sweeny Hey let's ban Homer, because it advocates war April 28 at 9:43am · Like

Frederick Glaysher All non sequiturs... and evasions of Surah 9:29. Are you Muslim? If not, go back and read that passage, if you want to understand what motivate the fanatics to murder mere

April 28 at 9:46am · Edited · Like

Andrew Sweeny In popular novels film and Tv people contemplate murder and perversion almost daily. Are we really so free?

April 28 at 9:45am · Like

Andrew Sweeny No, I'm not. I have a great love of the Sufi tradition however.

April 28 at 9:46am · Like

Frederick Glaysher I love the Sufi tradition, too, since most of it was not built on the fanaticism of the worst interpretations in Islam, such as Surah 9:29...

April 28 at 9:49am · Like

April 28 at 9:50am · Like

Andrew Sweeny Yes, non sequiturs that's true. You win.

Andrew Sweeny Thank you for this discussion. I have more to say, but I need to get back to work. Maybe we can flesh it out another time. Best to you.

April 28 at 9:53am · Like · 1

Frederick Glaysher It's about "we" winning.... Best wishes. April 28 at 9:54am • Like • 1

Frederick Glaysher Incidentally, "we" don't win under dhimmitude... April 28 at 8:25pm · Edited · Like

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

April 28 ·

"There Is Simply Too Much to Think About" is a slightly pruned, and then greatly expanded, version of "It All Adds Up," Bellow's nonfiction compendium of 1994."

'There Is Simply Too Much to Think About,' Saul Bellow's Nonfiction

Martin Amis reviews a new collection of Saul Bellow's nonfiction, including criticism, interviews and speeches.

NYTIMES.COM | BY MARTIN AMIS

Like · Comment · Share ·

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

April 27 ·

We human beings are still locked up, closed off in our exclusivisms, threatening everything we are and have ever been... unable to see beyond our exhausted stages of human evolution, unable to come together to save ourselves from self-destruction. Before it is too late, consider a global tale of Imagination might help restore the saving balance...

Like · Comment · Share · 12

Jack Harte, Anthony Lenaghan, K Cummings Pipes and 9 others like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

April 27 ·

As usual, I prayed daily throughout the years of writing my epic, often turning to God, asking for help and guidance, meditating on how to proceed, resolving many literary problems through prayer. Prayer and meditation have been and are still important parts of my life as a man and a poet. There is a Mystery in consciousness, and in prayer, we can experience it...

Poets' Quarterly: My Odyssey as an Epic Poet: Interview with Frederick Glaysher

As usual, I prayed daily throughout the years of writing my epic, often turning to God, asking for help and guidance, meditating on how to proceed, resolving many literary problems through prayer. Prayer and meditation have

POETSQUARTERLY.COM | BY LESLIE L. NIELSEN

Like · Comment · Share ·

....

Java Kamlani and 3 others like this.

Milton Lee Norris It's quite refreshing to come across someone that feels the same about prayer and meditation in writing. Namasté, love and many blessings

April 27 at 10:55am · Like

Frederick Glaysher Thanks, Milton. I'm glad we share that in common. Hope you can read my review, and make a Journey to the Moon... There's a free chapter of epic poem on Amazon. Best wishes.

April 27 at 12:15pm · Like · 1

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
April 27 · Edited ·

I've always had the highest respect for Christina Hoff Sommers. Yet I think Plato's critique in The Republic runs even deeper into our current problems... I attempt to discuss them in a thirty-page essay "Decadence, East and West," drawing also from Plato, Vico, Ibn Khaldun, Philip Rieff, and others, in my book The Myth of the Enlightenment. To my mind the failed liberal paradigms aren't the only problem.

http://www.amazon.com/Myth-Enlightenment-Essays-Frederic.../.../

What Plato Said About Trigger Warnings

So the anti-feminist feminist got heckled again by the PC kids. We can disdain them. But instead let's turn to Plato, who can explain them.

THEDAILYBEAST.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher shared Reporter Ernesto Arce's photo.

April 26

"A crowd estimated at 30,000 to 50,000 marched through Hollywood on its way to the Turkish Consulate as part of the Centennial Commemoration of the Armenian Genocide."

Reporter Ernesto Arce

A crowd estimated at 30,000 to 50,000 marched through Hollywood on its way to the Turkish Consulate as part of the Centennial Commemoration of the Armenian Geno...

See More

Like · Comment · Share · 3

Andre Yang, Beatrice Cassina and Lone Mørch like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher shared BBC News's video.

"Vast replica recreates prehistoric Chauvet cave"

1,561,822 Views

BBC News uploaded a new video.

The beautiful cave paintings in southern France sealed off from the world for 20,000 years http://bbc.in/1d8a5pC

Like · Comment · Share · 6

Pamela Sutton, Richard Whitecross, Thomas Rickert and 3 others like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

April 26 ·

"Frederick Glaysher, your discipline and vision are extraordinary and inspiring. Enjoyed reading about your dedication to prayer and meditation. I will use you as a role model in prayer and in dedication to my visions. Thank You."

--LeVan D. Hawkins, in a comment on Poets' Quarterly, "My Odyssey as an Epic Poet: Interview with Frederick Glaysher."

Frederick Glaysher, books, poems, essays, reviews, interviews, blog Gazing from the moon, we see one earth, without borders, Mother Earth, her embrace encircling one people, humankind.

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

Len Wallace, Kevin Hall, Norvie Bullock and 3 others like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

April 26 • The Telegraph •

I had two university courses in Shakespeare, one as an undergraduate and one as a graduate student, and have read and studied Shakespeare all my adult life. I can't imagine what life would have been like without him. Since 1998 I have been able to visit almost every year the Stratford Shakespeare Festival in Canada, attending usually three plays, a few times five, predominantly by Shakespeare. My poetry and essays are scattered with allusions and reflections inspired by Shakespeare. I can't imagine what poetry, literature, and culture could be without him, other than exceedingly impoverished... like American poetry and culture today.

Shake speare not required reading for most literature grads in  $\ensuremath{\mathsf{US}}$

Report finds less than 10 per cent of American colleges study the bard WWW.TELEGRAPH.CO.UK

Like · Comment · Share · Read more · 24 3 1

Len Wallace, Winfield Myers, Carmelo Militano and 21 others like this.

1 share

Viga Vammen Petersen

April 26 at 9:44am · Unlike · 1

Donna Reczek This horrifies me almost as much as not teaching cursive anymore....

April 26 at 12:28pm · Like · 1

Chris Gorrie Shakespeare, the Founder, our Homer...bring him back! April 26 at 1:27pm · 1

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher shared Paul Pulaski's photo.

April 25 ·

"Prayers and Blessings for the people of Nepal."

Paul Pulaski

Prayers and Blessings for the people of Nepal.

Like · Comment · Share · 42

Fiona Mcilreavy, Anna Maranta, Julie Clayton and 39 others like this.

Frederick Glaysher And let's hope an outpouring of international help and sustenance.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

April 25 at 3:51pm · Like · 3

April 25 ·

We need a new global, universal vision of life on this planet... It won't come from those who have given and dedicated their lives to Nihilism...

Like · Comment · Share · 12 1

Kevin Hall, Amansuka Ubud-Bali Tour, RevTricia Mathews-Lightfoot and 9 others like this.

Frederick Glaysher ...nor from the cultural institutions, publishers, and universities that accept that dehumanizing vision as the Truth of the 200,000-year history of Homo sapiens.

April 25 at 6:34pm · Edited · Like · 1

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher April 25 •

Pathetic how literary studies have collapsed into banality in the universities...

Shakespeare not required reading for most literature grads in US

Report finds less than 10 per cent of American colleges study the bard TELEGRAPH.CO.UK

Like · Comment · Share · 35 18 1

Len Wallace, Ted Folke, Kevin Hall and 32 others like this.

12 shares

Joshua Grasso Frederick Glaysher, I've fought a losing battle at my university for years to have a standard Shakespeare course. Now, don't get me wrong: I teach him every year in my Brit survey course, and often have a special upper-level seminar that I also teach. But our regular, required Shakespeare course was taken off the books before I got here. The reason? He is culturally irrelevant and promotes the 'canon' at the expense of other, non-canonical writers. Unfortunately all literature in English (and often elsewhere) is predicated on him, and all our teaching graduates go on to teach him in high school-some without having taken a single class in Shakespeare (which they can avoid if they're cunning). It's a tragedy. But cultural studies have made him seem like an imperialistic icon of the 'dead white males' and when he's taught in grad school, it's always from a 'gendered' approach. Which is fine but what's wrong with simply studying him from all possible angles? April 25 at 1:36pm · Edited · Unlike ·

Ralf Georg Czapla And what do they read instead of Shakespeare? The memories of George W. Bush? I cannot believe it! April 25 at 1:39pm • Unlike • 1

Jonathan Karp Joshua says it perfectly. And they wonder why enrollments are down and the Humanities are in deep trouble. April 25 at 1:39pm  $\cdot$  Unlike  $\cdot$  3

Joshua Grasso Not surprisingly, the majority of our majors (the ones not scared of learning) are anxious to study Shakespeare and disappointed that the course doesn't exist. But a few faculty have become very angry with me, since they see a Shakespeare course as competing with "their" courses (a pissing contest), and more and more, classes are focusing on pop culture rather than our literary heritage. Again, why can't we do both or mix the two? But academic culture, for all its wisdom, is obsessed by fads and cliques, and a professor at Columbia once told me. "this generation has no background for Shakespeare and it would take me several semesters to prepare them to read him properly, so it's not worth the effort. It's something reserved for specialists alone." I think pop culture studies have taken over the university because they seem relevant, students have no problem talking about themselves, and happy students = good evaluations, which have become the benchmark for being a good or a bad teacher (or keeping one's job). April 25 at 1:43pm · Like · 4

Frederick Glaysher All my books are about setting a new course from modernism and postmodernism, from which much of the problem derives. The old regime has been rejecting my writing for decades. I invite you to consider them.

Shakespeare is one of the characters in my epic poem, set partly on the moon..... See More

Frederick Glaysher, books, poems, essays, reviews, interviews, blog

Gazing from the moon, we see one earth, without...
FGLAYSHER.COM

April 25 at 1:48pm · Like · 5 · Remove Preview

Kate Crupi This is just depressing. Furthermore, when I teach Shakespeare in my high school classes, we talk about race, gender, class, and sexuality. I am so frustrated that people continue to see dumbing down the curriculum in high school and college as a good thing. I find that my students love Shakespeare, as well as Crime and Punishment, Eliot's Prufrock, and more.

April 25 at 4:00pm · Unlike · 5

Frederick Glaysher I had two university courses in Shakespeare, one as an undergraduate and one as a graduate student, and have read and studied Shakespeare all my adult life. I can't imagine what life would have been like without him. Since 1998 I have been able to visi... See More

April 26 at 10:59am · Edited · Like · 1

Jonathan Freedman This is a completely misleading article. Most American universities-including ours-offer large Shakespeare lecture courses, which are very well attended not only by English majors, but non-majors as well. What's being reflected here is a move away from requirements at large; this may or may not be a good thing, but it has little or no effect on the aggregate number of students studying Shakespeare.

April 26 at 9:06am · Like · 3

David Cope I had a great Shakespeare prof (Knott) at Michigan, and my grad studies at WMU were focused on Shakespeare and Dante, both taught by two of the greatest profs I've ever known (Gianakaris and Seiler). I taught Shakespeare at the college sophomore level for two decades, and while it was not required, the class invariably attracted the most gifted students, and they were HUNGRY for it, having been denied it elsewhere. Some high schools still prioritize it, especially those with fine theatre programs. Responsibility lies in the binge in criticism as a priority at universities (not to diss critical thinking, but at some schools it has replaced actual grasp of literature for theories about it). At two year schools, the focus on English as a job skill has replaced literature as the actual subject matter of the discipline; one wag, a Dr. Daggett, spoke to our faculty at GRCC in the 90s, telling us all that English profs should teach "better ways to teach VCR manuals" and "throw Shakespeare out the window." Obviously, the first quote here shows how quickly he became dated, but that attitude is still infecting administrations, and as a result, students are being denied the cultural bedrock, complexity, eloquence and genius of those who came before.

April 26 at 9:19am · Edited · Unlike · 2

Frederick Glaysher Jonathan, The two courses that I had in Shakespeare were taken by me as you describe, out of choice, not as a result of a requirement. Yet I feel the situation has become worse as so much ideology has replaced literary study... David Cope, I think, des... See More

April 26 at 9:58am · Edited · Like · 1

Jonathan Freedman There are problems with enrollments in the English major, but they don't have to do with rampant political correctness, which is exaggerated as an issue. Rather, they have to do with the increasing utilitarian cast of undergraduates, who are told that they will never get jobs as liberal arts majors (untrue) and that the surer bet is to go into business programs (probably true). Our majors had declined in numbers, but really took a precipitous drop when the business school started offering an undergraduate program. The overall effect has been to depress enrollments across the board in the humanities; English, as the largest major by far in the humanities, has seen the greatest drop in numbers. That being said, as proportion of those smaller numbers, enrollments in Shakespeare courses remain steady. The scare scenario in this article couldn't be more misguided. The real headline here is, despite a panic run to the exits by undergraduates who formerly took humnities courses and majored in humanistic disciplines, the study of Shakespeare remains constant.

April 26 at 9:59am · Unlike · 3

Frederick Glaysher Thanks, Jonathan, for explaining the current situation at U of M. I hope you don't mind my saying that I'm not reassured by a "proportion" of the numbers still favoring the bard... I feel the tenor of the culture is running all in the wrong direction into banality and simplistic ideology and thinking. Shakespeare, Ben Jonson, and other poets, allow for and affirm a much more complex vision of life than what has become predominant. I feel one of the things needed to rebalance that is more serious reading of Shakespeare and those writers worthy of classic stature, and the honoring of it. Money be damned. "Man does not live by bread alone."

Frederick M. Dolan The Berkeley English major attracts healthy numbers, and requires Shakespeare. According to this article, the "decline" actually reflects a return to the norm after unusual growth that peaked around 1970.http://ucberkeleyenglish.com/.../the-englishmajor.../

The English Major, Secretly Resilient: The Case of UC-Berkeley | UC Berkeley English...

UCBERKELEYENGLISH.COM

April 26 at 10:18am · Like · Remove Preview

Frederick Glaysher Frederick M. Dolan, Thanks for sharing. Glad to hear the news is good somewhere, or are the numbers tweaked to put a good face on a bad situation? Human to seek solace in dire times...

April 26 at 10:26am · Like

Frederick M. Dolan I don't THINK the article is misleading. Over the long run, the number of English grads has consistently been 3.5-4.5%, which is better than e.g. history and economics. Saul does suggest that there's a difference between elite universities and the rest: the "decline" seems more pronounced in the former. But then, they educate a far smaller proportion of students than the latter.

April 26 at 10:34am • Like • 2

Frederick Glaysher Okay. Just checking... makes sense.

April 26 at 10:35am • Like

David Cope Fred, I found simplified introductions to lit crit to be most valuable while teaching Shakespeare. We got the "new critics" approach to the bard in fall 1968, and when I returned to finish up at WMU, I found that approaching the bard with feminist, new historicist, and cultural materialist tools could actually enhance my knowledge of just how complicated and essential he was. Some of the other postmodern criticism is useful in smalll doses, too-semiotics is perfect for the multimedia experience of Shakespeare in the theatre, and my freshman students once approached Macbeth via the many signs of mental illness that Shakespeare gives usreally finding wonderful things there. The key is to not allow these critical approaches to supplant the work itself, but to use them as tools when they seem appropriate. A note on John Knott--he taught the 300 level Shakespeare class (15 plays in 16 weeks in the fall of 1968), and when I later took the Milton, it was taught by a professor named Blau, who really brought the text alive. My then-girlfriend Suzanne took that class on my recommendation, yet Blau bowed out for personal reasons. Knott took his place, and he was distinctly uneasy in the role (this was 1970)--so it's good to know that when you took the class with him, he had become the passionate Milton expert I knew he could become.

April 26 at 11:58am · Unlike · 1

Deborah DeNicola Just taught Othello, way relevant!April 27 at 11:35pm • Like

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

April 25 ·

LeVan D. Hawkins, in a comment on Poets' Quarterly, "My Odyssey as an Epic Poet: Interview with Frederick Glaysher." April 6, 2015:

"Frederick Glaysher, your discipline and vision are extraordinary and inspiring. Enjoyed reading about your dedication to prayer and meditation. I will use you as a role model in prayer and in dedication to my visions. Thank You."

Frederick Glaysher, books, poems, essays, reviews, interviews, blog Gazing from the moon, we see one earth, without borders, Mother Earth, her embrace encircling one people, humankind.

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share

Frederick Glaysher April 25 •

The Chauvet Cave's Hyperreal Wonders, Replicated

"Inevitably, the replica does not reproduce the original cave's air of mystery and grandeur or the sense of a profound encounter with the past. But the copied paintings capture the spirit of the originals, bringing the animals to life as they pace gracefully and powerfully across the rock, a tribute to the eternal drive of artists to capture life."

The Chauvet Cave's Hyperreal Wonders, Replicated A $59 million replica of the original cave, renowned for its prehistoric paintings, opens to the public on Saturday.

NYTIMES.COM | BY ALISSA J. RUBIN

Like · Comment · Share · 6

Frederick Glaysher shared a memory from April 25, 2012. April 25 ·

3 Years Ago Today

See Your Memories

Frederick Glaysher April 25, 2012 ·

My reading from the fifth draft of my epic poem The Parliament of Poets at the Albany Word Fest, Saturday, April 21, 2012, in Albany, New York, at the Albany Pu...

See More

Like · Comment · Share · 1

Frederick Glaysher April 24 ·

Fire and smoke and another street in another time. The Black Sea and the blackness of Trebizond.

Churches burning. Houses seized. Women married to their children's murderers. And the marching of hundreds of thousands to their death in the desert. Stabbed along the road. Shot in the back. Dragged into the hills and raped to death.

Kicked from a bridge into the Euphrates, none finding it good to cross over, all dying of hunger and thirst in Aleppo.

From the shadows we watch the efficiency of the formidable modern state, of the Committee of Union and Progress.

From Into the Ruins: Poems, Copyright (c) 1999 by Frederick Glaysher

Like · Comment · Share · 4

Erland Anderson, Narendra Kumar Acharya and 2 others like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher April 24 ·

Modern culture is like a piece of plate glass dropped on a cement sidewalk-shattered into thousands of pieces, sharp and jagged, seemingly incapable of ever being put back together... so inured are we human beings to fragmentation.

Like the cosmic furnaces, melt the pieces down, reconstitute a new piece of glass, as it were, with which to view the wholeness of Mother Earth, from a wider perspective, the Moon...

Like - Comment - Share - 7

Laurie McMillan, Norvie Bullock, RevTricia Mathews-Lightfoot and 4 others like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

April 24 ·

This whole planet is spiraling out of control... We human beings need to look at it in a new way, from a new perspective, from the Moon... where we can see the whole thing at once, the whole sweep of human history, suffering and pain, joy and bliss, floating across the endless field of cosmic stars.

Frederick Glaysher, books, poems, essays, reviews, interviews, blog

Gazing from the moon, we see one earth, without borders, Mother Earth, her embrace encircling one people, humankind.

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

RevTricia Mathews-Lightfoot and 3 others like this.

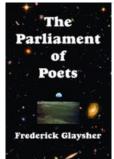

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
April 24 ·

"My Odyssey as an Epic Poet: Interview with Frederick Glaysher." Poets' Quarterly. April 6, 2015.

"And a fine major work it is." --Arthur McMaster, PQ Contributing Editor, Converse College.... See More

Frederick Glaysher, books, poems, essays, reviews, interviews, blog

Gazing from the moon, we see one earth, without borders, Mother Earth, her embrace encircling one people, humankind.

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

Raul Alberto Mc Namara likes this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
April 24 •

"Writing a biography of Saul Bellow must be like taking a test you're doomed to flunk: Describe the life of a great self-describer. Bellow didn't write autobiography, but he pulled the best details in his novels and stories out of his prodigious memory...."

http://www.theatlantic.com/.../2.../05/mr-bellows-planet/389522/

Mr. Bellows's Planet

Manic portraitist of the inner life, Saul Bellow never ceases to give biographers a hard time.

THEATLANTIC.COM

Like · Comment · Share · 2

Ramaswami Subramony and Rodger Cunningham like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

April 24 ·

The greatest photograph ever taken:

"Trained on a patch of sky known as the Hubble Ultra Deep Field in 2010, the telescope's keen eye discerned swarms of baby galaxies crawling out of the primordial darkness as early as only 600 million years after the Big Bang."

25 Years Later, Hubble Sees Beyond Troubled Start

The telescope began as a "technoturkey" that did not work properly. It has endured to become an icon of space exploration and science.

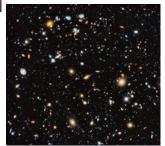

NYTIMES.COM | BY DENNIS OVERBYE

Like · Comment · Share · 6 1

Kenneth Surin, Peter Y Paik, Raul Alberto Mc Namara and 3 others like this.

Frederick Glaysher Ultra Deep Field 2010

April 24 at 3:18pm · Edited · Like · 3

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher shared Mind Pod Network's photo.

April 22 -

"Cultivate the habit of being grateful for every good thing that comes to you, and to give thanks continuously. And because all things have contributed to your advancement, you should include all things in your gratitude."

~Ralph Waldo Emerson

Mind Pod Network

"Cultivate the habit of being grateful for every good thing that comes to you, and to give thanks continuously. And because all things have contributed to your advancement, you should include all things in your gratitude."

~Ralph Waldo Emerson

Like · Comment · Share · 6

Tania Moore, Tex J. G. Albert, Regina A Walker and 3 others like this.

Brad Grydzyn and with actions, 'good and bad, are all woven into the tapestry

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher shared Medved Michael's photo. April 22 ·

The only world we got... Why not take better care of it?

Medved Michael

from Seattle,...across Canada,...over So. Greenland,...thru Iceland,....down to Heathrow,...9 hrs and 15 minutes a new hemisphere, a new adventure, a new people and language,.... I am blessed to be so crazy  ${\tt !!!}$

Like · Comment · Share · 2

Monika Kosich likes this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher April 22 •

Mother Earth...

Like · Comment · Share · 19 3 3

Sinhmar Ajeet, Ralf Georg Czapla, Vikki Kath and 16 others like this.

3 shares

Julia Stein Beautiful photo. April 22 at 8:36pm · Like Frederick Glaysher It really is... just floating through the universe of FB, so I passed it on, to keep it going...

April 22 at 8:38pm · Like · 2

Karen Braucher Tobin sharing... April 22 at 11:24pm · Unlike · 1

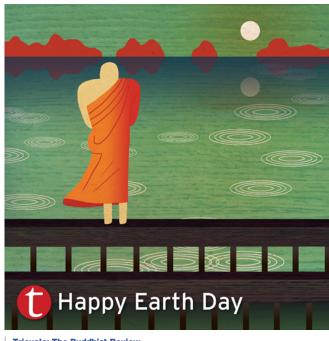

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher shared Tricycle: The Buddhist Review's photo.

April 22 ·

Happy Earth Day to all! May all beings wake up to the beauty of our planet!

Tricycle: The Buddhist Review

Happy Earth Day to all! May all beings wake up to the beauty of our planet!

Like · Comment · Share · 26

Anna Maranta, Carmel Mawle, Tania Moore and 23 others like this.

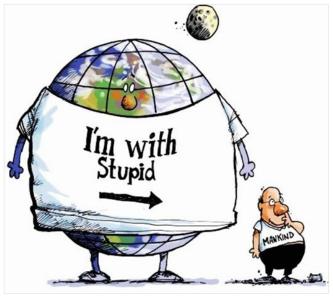

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher shared Linda Colletti's photo.

Happy Earth Day. May our "leaders" wise up before it is too late.

Linda Colletti

Happy Earth Day. May our "leaders" wise up before it is too late.

Like · Comment · Share · 7

Jerrilyn Zavada, Natalie Lyalin, Rodger Cunningham and 4 others like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

April 22 ·

As the Hubble space telescope gets ready to celebrate 25 years since its launch, we look back at some of the iconic images it has produced

Twenty-five years on: Hubble's unsung heroes

Hubble at 25: the best images from the space telescope - in pictures

As the Hubble space telescope gets ready to celebrate 25 years since its launch, we look back at some of the most iconic images it has produced THEGUARDIAN.COM  $\mid$  BY ERIC HILAIRE

Like · Comment · Share · 4 2

Vikki Kath, Jerrilyn Zavada and 2 others like this.

2 shares

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher shared Thich Nhat Hanh's photo. April 22 ·

Thich Nhat Hanh

There's a revolution that needs to happen and it starts from inside each one of us. We need to wake up and fall in love with Earth. Our love and admiration for the Earth has the power to unite us and remove all boundaries, separation and discrimination. We need to re-establish true communication-true communion-with ourselves, with the Earth, and with one another as children of the same mother.

Thich Nhat Hanh

There's a revolution that needs to happen and it starts from inside each one of us. We need to wake up and fall in love with Earth. Our love and admiration for  $\dots$

See More

Like · Comment · Share · 1

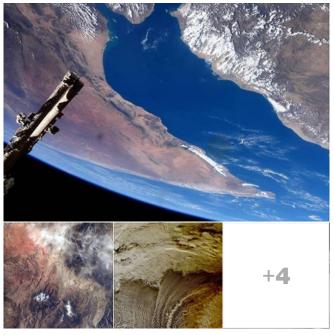

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher shared BBC News's album. April 22 •

Nasa is marking Earth Day by releasing some of its best images of our planet taken from space http://bbc.in/1IHPWk3

BBC News added 7 new photos to the album: Earth's beauty.

Nasa is marking Earth Day by releasing some of its best images of our planet taken from space http://bbc.in/1IHPWk3

Like · Comment · Share · 13

Judy Yates Shearer, Julie Clayton, Tania Moore and 10 others like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
April 21 •

"So, in an age of Balkanization and fragmentation, I have always sought unity, what might bring the disparate parts together, harmonize what divides and threatens humanity, through the Supreme Power of the Imagination, our most distinctively human capacity. I still cling to my life-long hope that a global, universal epic tale might help heal the wounds of modernity sufficiently to make the difference, before it is too late."

Like · Comment · Share · 4

Timothy Cooper, Jonathan Karp and 2 others like this.

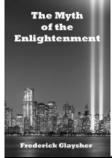

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher April 20 •

"In short this is a book I'll be returning to for the rest of this year and no doubt afterward. I'm glad it exists and I'm grateful for the wisdom it sends my way." —Laurence Goldstein, University of Michigan, Department of English

Frederick Glaysher, books, poems, essays, reviews, interviews, blog

Gazing from the moon, we see one earth, without borders, Mother Earth, her embrace encircling one people, humankind.

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

Monika Kosich likes this.

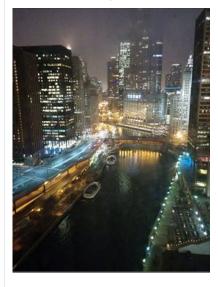

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
April 20 · Edited ·

In Chicago a few weeks ago, looking south up the Chicago River, from near the Tribune Building, on the 30th floor. Michigan Avenue, on the bridge.

27 5 1 Like · Comment · Share ·

Celia Barnes, Shah Syed Tahoor Chishty, LeVan D. Hawkins and 24 others like this

1 share

Frederick Glaysher Second honeymoon with my sweetheart... after over 35 years. We wanted to go back to the same Sheraton Inn, but were surprised to find out they built a new one two blocks closer, and right on the river, in 1992! Talk about never going back! Anyway, a better view.

April 20 at 8:28pm · Edited · Like

Dow Harris Wow! April 20 at 9:03pm · Unlike · 1

Catherine Metzger Fabulous shot! I miss Chicago so much though that I need to return often-- or as often as I can, usually about once a vear since I left in 1982.

April 20 at 9:43pm · Like ·

Frederick Glaysher Yeah, it's a beautiful city. I've been in Chicago about a dozen times throughout my life. This was the first time in about a decade. A tremendous amount of change... April 20 at 9:50pm · Like ·

Gabrielle Milanich Home!

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

April 20 ·

We all have these dirges for poetry... for decades. I've read so many of them in the USA over the years, they're beyond numbering. How will anyone be able to recognize a poet who might have something *positive* to say?

Like · Comment · Share · 3

Rebecca Bratten Weiss, Joshua Grasso and Alistair P D Bain like this.

1 share

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

April 20 ·

"Part of all that is the struggle of traditional conceptions of life and religion with modernity, ranging over the last five hundred years, and longer, with what Czeslaw Milosz insightfully called "the fad of nihilism," and Bellow scathingly referred to as "kneejerk nihilism," my opponent throughout all my books."

"And a fine major work it is." -- Arthur McMaster, PQ Contributing Editor, Converse College, Department of English.

Poets' Quarterly: My Odyssey as an Epic Poet: Interview with Frederick Glaysher

Glaysher, in an electronic conversation with me, insisted that John Gardner's epic poem shouldn't be considered such -- and then he gave the title (which I hadn't previously mentioned) as "Grendel", which is a novel, of

POETSQUARTERLY.COM | BY LESLIE L. NIELSEN

Like · Comment · Share ·

LeVan D. Hawkins and Gerard Navarro like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher April 20 ·

"My Odyssey as an Epic Poet: Interview with Frederick Glaysher."

Poets' Quarterly. April 6, 2015.

"And a fine major work it is." --Arthur McMaster, PQ Contributing Editor, Converse College.... See More

Frederick Glaysher, books, poems, essays, reviews, interviews, blog

Gazing from the moon, we see one earth, without borders, Mother Earth, her embrace encircling one people, humankind.

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

4

Louisa Calio likes this.

Billy Mason Thanks, Frederick Glaysher

April 20 at 2:18pm · Like

Frederick Glaysher Thank you, Billy, for the invitation to be friends... look forward to getting to know you.

April 20 at 2:19pm · Like

Billy Mason A most pleasant connecting with you Frederick, on this most beautiful day of Spring... Muses abounding!

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

April 17 •

"I hope this conveys somewhat how I grappled with actually writing my epic."

"My Odyssey as an Epic Poet: Interview with Frederick Glaysher." Poets' Quarterly. April 6, 2015.... See More

Frederick Glaysher, books, poems, essays, reviews, interviews, blog

Gazing from the moon, we see one earth, without borders, Mother Earth, her embrace encircling one people, humankind.

FGLAYSHER.COM

 $\textbf{Like} \cdot \textbf{Comment} \cdot \textbf{Share} \cdot \$

Carole Young and Randy Davis like this.

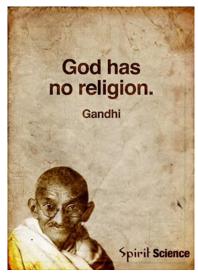

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher shared Spirit Science's photo.

April 17 ·

Like · Comment · Share · 57 3

Andrea Bucci, Peter Donaldson, Erland Anderson and 54 others like this.

Frederick Glaysher Hard for some people to understand... sounds like blasphemy!

April 20 at 1:42pm · Like

Nathan Katz How about this? "Gd may have no religion, but is at the same time the source of all religions."

April 20 at 1:51pm · Unlike · 1

Frederick Glaysher Not bad. I think Gandhi's point is that it's sort of self-evident, isn't it? Every prophet and sage has been saying it throughout recorded history... In the parlance of youth, Duh! It's the organizations that corrupt God's universality into *exclusivism.* Everything goes to hell after that... in a perpetual loop back to Gandhi's insight.

April 20 at 1:56pm · Edited · Like

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

April 17 •

"And a fine major work it is."

--Arthur McMaster, PQ Contributing Editor, Converse College, Department of English.

Like · Comment · Share

Frederick Glaysher

April 17 •

"And a fine major work it is."

--Arthur McMaster, PQ Contributing Editor, Converse College, Department of English.

Like · Comment · Share · 3

Sinhmar Ajeet, Jon Tribble and Johnny Stork like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

April 17 ·

"Maintaining good relations with Turkey is important, but at the least the United States should join Europe and Pope Francis in making clear to Mr. Erdogan that the greatest danger to Turkey lies not in anyone's use of the word "genocide," but in refusing to acknowledge what took place 100 years ago."

Turkey's Willful Amnesia

Turkey will only damage its international standing by refusing to acknowledge the genocide of Armenians 100 years ago.

NYTIMES.COM | BY THE EDITORIAL BOARD

Like · Comment · Share · 5

Kenneth Surin, Paula Joan Caplan, Cristina Antoinette Madrigal and 2 others like this.

Write a comment...

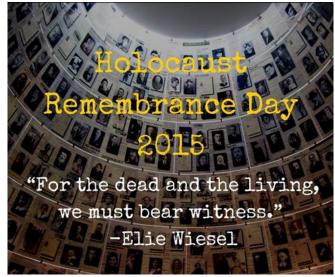

Frederick Glaysher shared Israel Ministry of Foreign Affairs's photo.

April 16 ·

***Never Forget***

Tonight the streets in Israel will be empty. Shops and coffee houses will be closed. Survivors will tell their stories of the horrors they witnessed 70 years ago. We will listen with a heavy heart and remember those who perished.

Tonight we remember 6.000.000 Jews who died in the Holocaust. May their souls be bound in the bundle of life.

Israel Ministry of Foreign Affairs

***Never Forget***

Tonight the streets in Israel will be empty. Shops and coffee houses will be closed. Survivors will tell their stories of the horrors they wi...

See More

Like · Comment · Share · 20

Margaret Mackinnon, Anthea Haupt, Kenneth Longden and 17 others like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

April 16 ·

"Part of all that is the struggle of traditional conceptions of life and religion with modernity, ranging over the last five hundred years, and longer, with what Czeslaw Milosz insightfully called "the fad of nihilism," and Saul Bellow scathingly referred to as "knee-jerk nihilism," my opponent throughout all my books. In The Parliament of Poets and The Myth of the Enlightenment, I believe I have slain that Beast, and hope, in time, word will spread, and my books will find mo... See More

Poets' Quarterly: My Odyssey as an Epic Poet: Interview with Frederick Glaysher

POETSQUARTERLY.COM | BY LESLIE L. NIELSEN

Like · Comment · Share

Frederick Glaysher April 16 •

"My Odyssey as an Epic Poet: Interview with Frederick Glaysher." Poets' Quarterly. April 6, 2015.

"And a fine major work it is." -- Arthur McMaster, PQ Contributing Editor, Converse College.... See More

Frederick Glaysher, books, poems, essays, reviews, interviews, blog

Gazing from the moon, we see one earth, without borders, Mother Earth, her embrace encircling one people, humankind.

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

Elaine Stevens and Johnny Stork like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher April 16 · Edited ·

"Anarchy in the UK: 35 years of fanatics and firebrands at Speakers' Corner "

"Seventy years ago, George Orwell wrote about the gatherings that took place at a particularly iconic area of Hyde Park. "I have listened there to Indian nationalists," he said, "temperance reformers, communists ... freethinkers, vegetarians, Mormons, the Salvation Army ... and a large variety of plain lunatics, all taking their turn at the rostrum in an orderly way and receiving a fairly good-humoured hearing from the crowd." There were, he reminded his readers, "very few countries in the world where you can see a similar spectacle".

http://www.theguardian.com/.../16/speakers-corner-philip-wolm...

Like · Comment · Share ·

Annie Orv likes this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher April 16 ·

"In "The Odyssey," the beautiful nymph Calypso offers immortality to Odysseus if he will stay on her island. After a fling with her, Odysseus ultimately rejects the offer because he misses his wife, Penelope. He turns down godlike immortality to embrace suffering and death that are essential to the human condition."

Starving for Wisdom

The humanities enrich our souls, and sometimes even our pocketbooks.

NYTIMES.COM | BY NICHOLAS KRISTOF

Like · Comment · Share ·

Wayne Moreland, Jon Tribble, Surabhi Bhattacharjee and 2 others like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
April 15 •

"Nihilism is an extremely dangerous, dehumanizing reduction of the fullness of life, of the 200,000 years of Homo sapiens on this planet. I consider it more of a threat than even fanatical Islam. We must not fail to understand and remember that dis-eased, nihilistic rationalism, along with its companion materialism, has produced the most oppressive, bloodiest episodes of the last hundred years."

"My Odyssey as an Epic Poet: Interview with Frederick Glaysher." Poets' Quarterly. April 6, 2015.

"And a fine major work it is." --Arthur McMaster, PQ Contributing Editor, Converse College.

Like · Comment · Share · 3

Frederick Glaysher

April 15 · Edited ·

"And then on a shorter time-scale, I still hope to live out that rhapsode dream, mentioned earlier, at least a little, maybe for a few years, if I'm lucky, somehow, though in this world, at my age, I know many dreams never come true, but nevertheless serve to inspire us toward our better angels. No matter what happens, I am grateful that I have been allowed to finish my epic. I feel fulfilled as a man that that dream has come true."

"My Odyssey as an Epic Poet: Interview with... See More

Like · Comment · Share · 3

Tina Benson, Tex J. G. Albert and Brad Grydzyn like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

April 15 ·

Carolyn Forché on Why American Poetry Still Matters and How 9/11 Changed It >

"However if you look at [the anthology] Poetry of Witness: The Tradition in English, 1500-2001, I think we're arguing that poetry in English, including poetry in the United States, has never been an isolated enterprise. The poet in the ivory tower is a kind of myth, and English language poets have always been deeply engaged. Many of the poems we imagine as having been written in tranquility and soli... See More

Local Poet Carolyn Forché on Why American Poetry Still Matters and How 9/11 Changed It

Think all the best poems were written in tranquility? Many were written days before the poet's execution.

WASHINGTONCITYPAPER.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

10 4

Julia Stein, Judy Yates Shearer, Dianna Henning and 7 others like this.

1 share

Peter Nicholson http://3quarksdaily.blogs.com/.../09/poetry_and_cult.html

3quarksdaily: Poetry and Culture

3QUARKSDAILY.COM

April 17 at 4:50am · Like · Remove Preview

Frederick Glaysher Peter, Thanks for reposting a link to your essay. I'm sorry I haven't read it earlier, though I truly intended to, but have been long overwhelmed... too long. I saved it on my desktop, then in my ereader, where I fear it got buried... Anyway, I *have* ... See More

3quarksdaily: Poetry and Culture

3QUARKSDAILY.COM

April 17 at 10:37am • Edited • Like • Remove Preview

Peter Nicholson Frederick, thanks for your comments. I am really no commentator about poetry, but felt I had to say something at the time of the 9/11 crisis. It is poetry that must do the hard work of reinterpreting the world, not poetics.

April 17 at 4:39pm · Unlike · 1

Frederick Glaysher Sorry it took me so long to see your post, Peter. Missed it somehow. Yeah, I respect that, 9/11 was just the beginning of the wake up for many... for all of us.

April 26 at 9:55pm · Like

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher April 15 ·

"My experience in that Reading class, performing a passage from William Wordsworth's "Michael," clinched it for me. Though overwhelmed and intimidated by the prospect, I began to consider writing an epic poem and then traveling around the world to recite it, reviving the ancient art of the rhapsodes and Homer. By 1982 I had written my first draft of a plot outline."

"My Odyssey as an Epic Poet: Interview with Frederick Glaysher." Poets' Quarterly. April 6, 2015.... See More

Like · Comment · Share · 3 1

Ewa Hryniewicz-Yarbrough, Tex J. G. Albert and Tina Benson like this.

Tex J. G. Albert http://www.poetsquarterly.com/.../my-odyssey-asepic-poet...

Poets' Quarterly: My Odyssey as an Epic Poet: Interview with Frederick Glaysher

POETSQUARTERLY.COM | BY LESLIE L. NIELSEN

April 15 at 7:37pm · Like · Remove Preview

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

April 15 ·

NEW > "My Odyssey as an Epic Poet: Interview with Frederick Glaysher."

Poets' Quarterly. April 6, 2015.

"And a fine major work it is." --Arthur McMaster, PQ Contributing Editor, Converse College.... See More

Frederick Glaysher, books, poems, essays, reviews, interviews, blog

Gazing from the moon, we see one earth, without borders, Mother Earth, her embrace encircling one people, humankind.

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

Ralf Georg Czapla and Alexander John Popa like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
April 15 •

"By the early to mid-Eighties I became aware that I was training my mind to the task of writing an epic poem. As Virgil had written three books, I paced myself from there on, deciding I would follow his example, writing a book of lyric poems and dramatic monologues, then a book-length narrative poem telling a longer story, working up to and leading to my ability to write an epic poem, with many personae...."

"My Odyssey as an Epic Poet: Interview with Frederick Glaysher."
Po... See More

Like · Comment · Share · 4

Mark Ebner, Gordon Hilgers and Alexander John Popa like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
April 14 •

"And a fine major work it is." --Arthur McMaster, PQ Contributing Editor, Converse College, Department of English.

"My Odyssey as an Epic Poet: Interview with Frederick Glaysher." Poets' Quarterly. April 6, 2015.... See More

Poets' Quarterly: My Odyssey as an Epic Poet: Interview with Frederick Glaysher

POETSQUARTERLY.COM | BY LESLIE L. NIELSEN

Like · Comment · Share · 1

Tex J. G. Albert likes this.

1 share

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher April 13 ·

"So, in an age of Balkanization and fragmentation, I have always sought unity, what might bring the disparate parts together, harmonize what divides and threatens humanity, through the Supreme Power of the Imagination, our most distinctively human capacity. I still cling to my life-long hope that a global, universal epic tale might help heal the wounds of modernity sufficiently to make the difference, before it is too late."

"My Odyssey as an Epic Poet: Interview with Frederi... See More

Poets' Quarterly: My Odyssey as an Epic Poet: Interview with Frederick Glaysher

POETSQUARTERLY.COM | BY LESLIE L. NIELSEN

Like · Comment · Share ·

Tex J. G. Albert, Eli Kittim and 2 others like this.

Candice James What a terrific interview Frederick Glaysher. I found it very interesting and informative, and now after reading it I am compelled to purchase the books......Thanks for posting this Frederick......proof that great treasures come in ways and forms least expected!

April 14 at 5:23pm · Like

Frederick Glaysher Candice, Well, thank you so much for liking it and saying so. I'm glad you enjoyed it. I'd love to have you read my books. There are some easy links to booksellers in Canada on my homepage, if that would help. Chapters Indigo and Amazon Canada. Best wishes.

https://fglaysher.com

Frederick Glaysher, books, poems, essays, reviews, interviews, blog

FGLAYSHER.COM

April 14 at 5:28pm · Like · 1 · Remove Preview

Candice James Thanks Frederick, I shall check out Chapters Indigo when next I stop in.

April 14 at 5:39pm · Unlike ·

Write a comment...

Hans G. Ruprecht April 12 •

Fascinating intetview by Frederick Glaysher

Poets' Quarterly: My Odyssey as an Epic Poet: Interview with Frederick Glaysher

POETSQUARTERLY.COM | BY LESLIE L. NIELSEN

Like · Comment · Share

Ralf Georg Czapla likes this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
April 12 •

NEW > "My Odyssey as an Epic Poet: Interview with Frederick Glaysher."

Poets' Quarterly. April 6, 2015.

"And a fine major work it is." --Arthur McMaster, PQ Contributing Editor, Converse College.... See More

Frederick Glaysher, books, poems, essays, reviews, interviews, blog

Gazing from the moon, we see one earth, without borders, Mother Earth, her embrace encircling one people, humankind.

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

Eli Kittim and Ralf Georg Czapla like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

April 12 ·

"All of this, of course, was aside from the necessity of finding and achieving a Vision of our historical, global moment. Some of the great historians and scholars of religion and myth proved to be the most helpful, such as Arnold Toynbee's many works, many of which I've read, especially Mankind and Mother Earth and his

Gifford Lecture on religion. Most of the books by Huston Smith, too, beginning even in the early Seventies, were very important, as was Joseph Campbell and Ca... See More

Poets' Quarterly: My Odyssey as an Epic Poet: Interview with Frederick Glaysher

POETSQUARTERLY.COM | BY LESLIE L. NIELSEN

Like · Comment · Share ·

Ralf Georg Czapla likes this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

"My Odyssey as an Epic Poet: Interview with Frederick Glaysher." Poets' Quarterly. April 6, 2015.

"And a fine major work it is." --Arthur McMaster, PQ Contributing Editor, Converse College, Department of English.... See More

Poets' Quarterly: My Odyssey as an Epic Poet: Interview with Frederick Glaysher

POETSQUARTERLY.COM | BY LESLIE L. NIELSEN

 $\textbf{Like} \cdot \textbf{Comment} \cdot \textbf{Share} \cdot \$

Ralf Georg Czapla and Surabhi Bhattacharjee like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
April 12 ·

"My Odyssey as an Epic Poet: Interview with Frederick Glaysher." Poets' Quarterly. April 6, 2015.

"So, while all my friends stepped off to college, I chose to go off to an old farm in Oakland Township, Michigan, adjacent to where I grew up in Rochester. I spent a couple of years there reading and writing, trying to find my own voice. There I read deeply into Walt Whitman and Emerson, and other poets that have remained essential to me throughout my life. Eventually, I felt I ... See More

Poets' Quarterly: My Odyssey as an Epic Poet: Interview with Frederick Glaysher

POETSQUARTERLY.COM | BY LESLIE L. NIELSEN

Like · Comment · Share

Frederick Glaysher

April 12 ·

"My Odyssey as an Epic Poet: Interview with Frederick Glaysher." Poets' Quarterly. April 6, 2015.

"By the end of high school, I was already thinking of myself as a poet and regularly keeping a journal. I was drawn to Robert Frost, including his prose, and other writers whose lives were marked by an independence of spirit, shall we say. When it came time to think about college, my intuition spoke emphatically that I had to take the road less traveled by. It wasn't rational, r... See More

Poets' Quarterly: My Odyssey as an Epic Poet: Interview with Frederick Glaysher

POETSQUARTERLY.COM | BY LESLIE L. NIELSEN

Like · Comment · Share ·

Annette Dunlea likes this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
April 11 •

"My Odyssey as an Epic Poet: Interview with Frederick Glaysher." Poets' Quarterly. April 6, 2015.

My life-long reading of Jung informs my epic throughout, which evokes an archetypal Journey to the Moon... and around the world to major civilizations and religious and sacred sites. ... See More

Poets' Quarterly: My Odyssey as an Epic Poet: Interview with Frederick Glaysher

POETSQUARTERLY.COM | BY LESLIE L. NIELSEN

 $\textbf{Like} \cdot \textbf{Comment} \cdot \textbf{Share} \cdot \$

Dow Harris likes this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
April 11 · Edited ·

"My Odyssey as an Epic Poet: Interview with Frederick Glaysher." Poets' Quarterly. April 6, 2015.

"And a fine major work it is." --Arthur McMaster, PQ Contributing Editor, Converse College, Department of English.... See More

POETSQUARTERLY.COM | BY LESLIE L. NIELSEN

Like · Comment · Share

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

NEW > "My Odyssey as an Epic Poet: Interview with Frederick Glaysher."

Poets' Quarterly. April 6, 2015.

"And a fine major work it is." --Arthur McMaster, PQ Contributing Editor, Converse College.... See More

Frederick Glaysher, books, poems, essays, reviews, interviews, blog
Gazing from the moon, we see one earth, without borders, Mother Earth, her embrace encircling one people, humankind.

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

Ewa Hryniewicz-Yarbrough, Ami Kaye, Moyra Irving and 4 others like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
April 10 •

NEW > "My Odyssey as an Epic Poet: Interview with Frederick Glaysher."

Poets' Quarterly. April 6, 2015.

"And a fine major work it is." --Arthur McMaster, PQ Contributing Editor, Converse College.... See More

POETSQUARTERLY.COM | BY LESLIE L. NIELSEN

Like · Comment · Share · 1

Charles A. Hunt likes this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
April 7 •

"My Odyssey as an Epic Poet: Interview with Frederick Glaysher." Poets' Quarterly. April 6, 2015.

"And a fine major work it is." --Arthur McMaster, PQ Contributing Editor, Converse College.... See More

Poets' Quarterly: My Odyssey as an Epic Poet: Interview with Frederick Glaysher

POETSQUARTERLY.COM | BY LESLIE L. NIELSEN

 $\textbf{Like} \cdot \textbf{Comment} \cdot \textbf{Share} \cdot \$

Greg Laughery and Charles A. Hunt like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

"My Odyssey as an Epic Poet: Interview with Frederick Glaysher." Poets' Quarterly. April 6, 2015.

"And a fine major work it is." --Arthur McMaster, PQ Contributing Editor.... See More

POETSQUARTERLY.COM | BY LESLIE L. NIELSEN

Like · Comment · Share · 2

Konrad Tademar and Charles A. Hunt like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
April 7 •

"My Odyssey as an Epic Poet: Interview with Frederick Glaysher." Poets' Quarterly. April 6, 2015.

"And a fine major work it is." --Arthur McMaster, PQ Contributing Editor.

"In all honesty I was overwhelmed by the notion, taking on such a challenge, but, unbidden, the shaman call kept coming, the undeniable demand, that I, as Emerson wrote, which I once quoted to Robert Hayden, visibly shocking him, "Say, 'it is in me, and shall out." Looking back, I believe it was the ind... See More

Poets' Quarterly: My Odyssey as an Epic Poet: Interview with Frederick Glaysher

POETSQUARTERLY.COM | BY LESLIE L. NIELSEN

Like · Comment · Share

Frederick Glaysher April 7 •

"All of this, of course, was aside from the necessity of finding and achieving a Vision of our historical, global moment. Some of the great historians and scholars of religion and myth proved to be the most helpful, such as Arnold Toynbee's many works, many of which I've read, especially Mankind and Mother Earth and his Gifford Lecture on religion. Most of the books by Huston Smith, too, beginning even in the early Seventies, were very important, as was Joseph Campbell and Ca... See More

POETSQUARTERLY.COM | BY LESLIE L. NIELSEN

Like · Comment · Share · 1

Charles A. Hunt likes this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
April 6 •

"Looking back now, from over sixty years, and with the writing of my epic poem finally behind me, I bring to mind another threshold that occurred in 1977. This was a theater class in Interpretative Reading. There I learned that the Greek poets known as "rhapsodes" would travel throughout Greece reciting Homer. I was thrilled by the idea, and it set me thinking."

Poets' Quarterly > My Odyssey as an Epic Poet: Interview with Frederick Glaysher.

Poets' Quarterly: My Odyssey as an Epic Poet: Interview with Frederick Glaysher

POETSQUARTERLY.COM | BY LESLIE L. NIELSEN

 $\mathbf{Like} \cdot \mathbf{Comment} \cdot \mathbf{Share} \cdot \$

Sylvia Nichols-Nelson likes this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
April 6 • Edited •

Poets' Quarterly > "My Odyssey as an Epic Poet: Interview with Frederick Glaysher."

"And a fine major work it is." --Arthur McMaster, PQ Contributing Editor.

POETSQUARTERLY.COM | BY LESLIE L. NIELSEN

Like · Comment · Share · 2

R.m. Engelhardt and Hawk Durham like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

April 6 •

New Interview > My Odyssey as an Epic Poet: Interview with Frederick Glaysher.

"And a fine major work it is, Frederick." --Arthur McMaster, PQ Contributing Editor, Poets' Quarterly. ... See More

Poets' Quarterly: My Odyssey as an Epic Poet: Interview with Frederick Glaysher

POETSQUARTERLY.COM | BY LESLIE L. NIELSEN

Like . Comment . Share .

5

Konrad Tademar, Steven Alvarez, Joanna Ballard Louisiana Storyteller and 2 others like this.

Joanna Ballard Louisiana Storyteller yaaaaaaaaaaaaaa

Frederick Glaysher Joanna, I love that cheer!! Hope you can check it out.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
April 6 • Edited •

New Interview >>> My Odyssey as an Epic Poet: Interview with Frederick Glaysher, with Arthur McMaster, PQ Contributing Editor, Poets' Quarterly

POETSQUARTERLY.COM | BY LESLIE L. NIELSEN

Like · Comment · Share ·

Konrad Tademar, Hans G. Ruprecht, Frederic Tuten and 4 others like this.

View 1 more comment

Frederick Glaysher Hey, thanks, Hans... Nice to have your interview here too. Together they cover a lot of ground... (I tried a couple of times to call you last week. We'll connect soon!)

April 6 at 4:47pm · Edited · Like · 1

Arthur McMaster The interview came out well. Thanks, Frederick. and good luck.

April 6 at 4:48pm · Like

Frederick Glaysher Arthur, I really appreciate your interviewing me... It allowed me to get the weight of a lot of things off my mind, a record to some extent of what I've been through, some of the major landmarks, at least, in my struggle to write an epic poem. I'm deeply grateful for that, Arthur. I mean it.

April 6 at 4:53pm · Like · 1

Arthur McMaster You are welcome, Frederick.

April 6 at 5:05pm • Unlike • 1

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
April 6 •

Thirty years in the making, set partly on the moon, at the Apollo 11 landing site, the Sea of Tranquility.

Apollo, the Greek god of poetry, calls all the poets of the nations, ancient and modern, East and West, to assemble on the moon to consult on the meaning of modernity. The Parliament of Poets sends the Persona, the Poet of the Moon, on a Journey to the seven continents to learn from all of the spiritual and wisdom traditions of humankind. On Earth and on the moon, the poets teach him a new global, universal vision of life.

Frederick Glaysher, books, poems, essays, reviews, interviews, blog

Gazing from the moon, we see one earth, without borders, Mother Earth, her embrace encircling one people, humankind.

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share

Frederick Glaysher

April 6 ·

"If..." A lot of awfully BIG IFs... It would be wiser not to risk deceiving ourselves about Iran.

Having studied and read the Quran as early as the 1970s, Farsi as long ago as 1980s, Islamic history and culture with professors from the Middle East at the University of Michigan, including with one from the thousand-year-old Al-Azhar University in Cairo, and having known and observed many Iranians, following Iranian events very closely for decades, my question is what is it ab...

Iran and the Obama Doctrine

In an interview with Thomas L. Friedman, President Obama discussed the calculations that informed the Iran nuclear framework and what they say about his overall approach to foreign policy.

NYTIMES.COM | BY THOMAS L. FRIEDMAN

Like · Comment · Share ·

Konrad Tademar likes this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
April 6 •

Fourteen years in the making, The Myth of the Enlightenment is Frederick Glaysher's first collection of literary essays since The Grove of the Eumenides in 2007. Divided into three sections, these essays and reviews were all written during the 21st Century, with many of them central to his evolving intellectual and spiritual struggle to write his epic poem, The Parliament of Poets, which he completed and published in late 2012.

Frederick Glaysher, books, poems, essays, reviews, interviews, blog

Gazing from the moon, we see one earth, without borders, Mother Earth, her embrace encircling one people, humankind.

FGLAYSHER.COM

 $\textbf{Like} \cdot \textbf{Comment} \cdot \textbf{Share} \cdot \$

Konrad Tademar, Travis Wernet and Pia Alicia-pilar Mogollon like this.

Travis Wernet Look forward to checking this out - the topic is "right up my alley"!

Thanks for your work Frederick.

April 6 at 4:22pm · Unlike · 1

_____

Frederick Glaysher Thank you, Travis. I'd love to have you read it. I think you might be surprised to the degree that we're on the same "wave-length" in a lot of ways, especially perhaps in the long essays on Tolstoy and Rabindranath Tagore...

April 6 at 4:24pm · Like

Frederick Glavsher Travis Wernet Actually, it occurs to me, too, that in my new interview, just out today in Poets Quarterly, I mentiond Carl Jung, among other scholars and writers, as someone who has always been important to me, in terms of my epic poem, and otherwise.

My Odyssey as an Epic Poet: Interview with Frederick Glaysher, with Arthur McMaster, PQ Contributing Editor, Poets' Quarterly http://www.poetsquarterly.com/.../my-odyssey-as-epic-poet...

Poets' Quarterly: My Odyssey as an Epic Poet: Interview with Frederick Glaysher

POETSQUARTERLY.COM | BY LESLIE L. NIELSEN

April 6 at 4:32pm · Edited · Like · 1 · Remove Preview

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

April 6 .

Having studied and read the Quran as early as the 1970s, Farsi as long ago as 1980s, Islamic history and culture with professors from the Middle East at the University of Michigan, including with one from the thousand year-old Al-Azhar University in Cairo, having known many Iranians, following intently the news from Iran for decades, my question is what is it about taqiyya and Surah 9:29 of the Quran that Americans and others don't understand?

The sooner Israel bombs Iran's n... See More

Defeatist Obama's deal with the devil

What was needed, and what was possible, was a better deal, but the US president lacked the resolve to insist upon it

TIMESOFISRAEL.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

Christopher Lupke How about if we just bomb everyone and start from scratch? Except Latvia, of course.

April 6 at 3:07pm · Edited · Like

Frederick Glaysher I realize you apparently think your hyperbole is witty, but like most knee-jerk reactions out of the American academy, it fails to take the issues of allowing Iran to acquire nuclear weapons seriously.

April 6 at 3:14pm · Like ·

Christopher Lupke I wholeheartedly agree ... It was witty! Good luck bombing the world!

April 6 at 3:25pm · Like

Allen Learst Peace is hard won. War is easy.

April 6 at 3:25pm · Like ·

Frederick Glaysher Historically speaking, there have been and are times when only war can lead to peace. That reality of life in this world is codified in the UN Charter.

April 6 at 3:27pm · Like · 1

Allen Learst There is more than one reality...

April 6 at 3:27pm · Like · 1

Frederick Glaysher That would precisely be my point when it comes to Iran... Theirs is not ours... and it would be foolish and imprudent of our leaders to fail to realize it.

April 6 at 3:29pm · Like ·

Allen Learst I suppose if Iran makes the mistake of trying to wipe Israel off the map, we would be left with no choice but to use our more than 7.000 nuclear warheads to settle the dispute. We did it before. We are the threat.

April 6 at 3:32pm · Edited · Like

Frederick Glaysher I respect your response. I'd hope, though, that we wouldn't wait that long, to the point where 7,000 warheads are in danger of getting involved. We and Israel both have the capacity to end Iranian taqiyya right now... and should do it by taking out t...

April 6 at 3:34pm · Like · 1

Ken Robin Let Saudi Arabia, Egypt, and Turkey do the job if they see fit. It's their ass more than the U.S.

April 6 at 3:38pm · Like ·

Allen Learst Iran's political figures, like many small countries of their ilk, like to rattle their sabers. I agree they shouldn't have the bomb, but who should? The fear factor is running high now against Islam, but I am just as worried about the fundamentalist in... See More April 6 at 3:39pm · Edited · Like · 1

Allen Learst I agree. This is an Arab problem. We already made the mistake of involving ourselves in a variety of wars in that region. Enough.

April 6 at 3:48pm · Edited · Like · 1

Ken Robin If we make this deal and the 22 Arab nation coalition that has now formed against them, decides to take them out, I wouldn't be against it.

April 6 at 3:47pm · Like

Frederick Glaysher Are you aware of the extent to which Iran is doing far more than "rattling their sabers"? They're funding proxy wars all over the Middle East, Gaza's Hamas ,Lebanon's powerful Shiite Hezbollah, Iraq, Syria, now in Yemen. It's much more ... See More

April 6 at 3:49pm · Like · 1

Allen Learst The people in that region don't seem to know who the enemy is--they need to figure out how to make all these factions work, which looks to me to be essentially impossible.

April 6 at 3:50pm · Like

Allen Learst I'm aware of their worldwide influence of terrorism, but that isn't going away. That is a reality. But it's called terrorism for a reason. Impossible to wage war against and know specifically who the enemy is... In the 1960s and 70s we had lots of home-grown terrorism and the only recourse is to go after the individual perpetrators. I suspect fundamentalist Islamic terrorism is here to stay...

April 6 at 3:54pm · Like

Frederick Glaysher Well, yes, Arabs need to use their own "boots on the ground." I definitely agree with that and think recent developments in that way are encouraging, but it still doesn't address the problem of Iran, about which most of the other countries are indeed worried about have had a long history of dealing with it.

The one enemy they all agree on, in the most vituperative of terms, is Israel... We can't abandon Israel to that...

April 6 at 3:54pm · Like ·

Allen Learst I don't think so, either, Israel is an ally and we need them as much as they need us. If it came to the point where Israel couldn't defend itself. I'm 100 percent sure we would come to their defense.

April 6 at 4:00pm · Unlike · 1

Ken Robin Frederick. I don't see how you can agree that Arabs need to have their own boots in the ground but that the U.S. shouldn't do what they can to limit the extent of the fallout. Most people would agree the deal does that, and that's all. It is not an end all agreement.

April 6 at 4:13pm · Like

Frederick Glaysher Yeah, I agree so much with you, too, Allen, about Israel. No matter what, we must never abandon it to local animosities, or otherwise. I worry that if we do stick with this bad agreement, allowing ourselves to be deceived by the Iranians, we'll end up with a situation in which we might not be able to defend Israel... leading to even worse tragedy for a people who have known too much of it, and which we wouldn't be able to escape ourselves in

April 6 at 4:18pm · Edited · Like · 1

Ken Robin The deal leaves Israel with nukes and Iran not. That's all it does.

April 6 at 4:14pm · Like

Konrad Tademar Allowing the Iranian Islamic Republic the techological and industrial capabity to be a "break out" nuclear bomb delivery state is irresponsible behavior on Washington's side. This has less to do with Israel - it is a security issue for Western and Secular civilization. The only responsible action is to dismantale the entire Iranian nuclear infrastructre. If necessary by outright invasion.

April 6 at 5:52pm · Like

Konrad Tademar Iranian missles are capable of reaching Europe and Mainland China. They either have or will soon posess the ability to reach all of North America. With an industrial manufacturing capability that allows for the creation of multiple nuclear warheads this elevates them from a conventional regional power to a global nuclear power.

April 6 at 5:53pm · Edited · Like

Konrad Tademar If Iran wishes to be a serious global state they must unilaterally abandon any military designs on Israel and appease the United States. This is a power issue. Given the framework of the establishment of the Iranian Islamic Republic this seems unlikely. Not only do they chant "death to America" and "wipe Israel off the face of the Earth" they are a Theocracy that has largely turned those chants into dogma.

April 6 at 5:52pm · Like

Konrad Tademar When confronted with this kind of aggressive cult the only rational response by responsible people in the West and the Secular world is to strike at the very heart of the problem. For Iran to be admitted to the power club of nuclear capable industrial ... See More

April 6 at 5:53pm · Like

Ken Robin I'd rather be Israel with an Agreement with Iran for a "breakout" of more than a year than next month. Besides, it is unrealistic that U.S. could bomb Iran without the support of Europe and other Arab Countries. I don't see that happening unless Iran breaches this formal agreement. Without this formal agreement bombing the facilities and etc. won't happen. With it, I see the possibility.

April 6 at 6:03pm · Edited · Like

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
April 6 •

Roger Scruton > 'We live in a time when honours and praise go only to people on the left, essentially because they seem harmless. And what makes them seem harmless is precisely that they're uttering all the things that have caused so much harm.'

'The truth is hard': an interview with Roger Scruton

To the extent that Britain has philosophers, we do not expect them to address issues of any relevance to the rest of us. They may pursue some hermeneutic byway perhaps,... Read more

SPECTATOR.CO.UK

Like · Comment · Share ·

Gawain de Leeuw and Gabriel Noah Brahm like this.

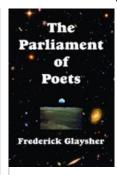

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
April 5 •

"One of the major themes is the power of women and the female spirit across cultures. Another is the nature of science and religion, including Quantum Physics, as well as the "two cultures," science and the humanities.

Frederick Glaysher, books, poems, essays, reviews, interviews, blog

Gazing from the moon, we see one earth, without borders, Mother Earth, her embrace encircling one people, humankind.

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

Mariko Shimizu likes this.

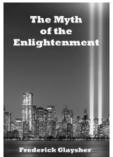

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
April 5 •

"These essays open up Glaysher's own biography and his life-long interest in the writings of Leo Tolstoy, Rabindranath Tagore, John Milton, Saul Bellow, Robert Hayden, and other poets and writers, offering a fresh, new vision of literature and culture...."

Frederick Glaysher, books, poems, essays, reviews, interviews, blog

Gazing from the moon, we see one earth, without borders, Mother Earth, her embrace encircling one people, humankind.

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like . Comment . Share .

Mariko Shimizu likes this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher shared UCubed's photo. April 5  $\cdot$  "If we are to serve as a beacon for human rights, we must continue to perfect here at home the rights and values which we espouse around the world: A decent education for our children, adequate medical care for all Americans, an end to discrimination against minorities and women, a job for all those able to work, and freedom from injustice and religious intolerance."

Jimmy Carter

Like · Comment · Share · 36 8

Richard Cambridge, Lewis Marshall, Patricia Harkin and 33 others like this.

Tina Benson yep

April 5 at 11:39am · Like

Frederick Glaysher Carter got a bum rap from the military-industrial faction... He was one of the best presidents we've had, in my opinion, during my lifetime, thus far...

April 5 at 11:42am · Like · 2

Tina Benson Not only one of the best presidents, but also one of the best ex-presidents we've ever had...a truly unsung hero and humanitarian!

April 5 at 11:48am · Unlike · 2

Frederick Glaysher Exemplary in every way...

April 5 at 11:48am · Like · 2

Frederick Glaysher I also respect him for speaking out against what he considered were the problems with the Southern Baptists, if memory serves, and voting with his feet... It took real courage and conviction for him to do that too.

April 5 at 1:01pm • Edited • Like

David Gay Obama, who is far from perfect, has been framed as either a Jimmy Carter (ineffectual) or an FDR (socialist humanitarian). Carter and FDR are both in the USA trash bin. Either one would be better than being a Ronald Reagan or a Dick Cheney in my opinion. April 5 at 8:50pm · Edited · Like · 3

Boris Bhāskara Marjanovic I don't know what others think but in my opinion one important thing is missing from that list: Getting rid of prison industrial complex.

April 6 at 3:30am · Like

John Pappas Jimmy's also a pretty good fly fisherman, which is like instant soul  $\dots$

April 6 at 4:02pm

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

April 5 •

"One of the major themes is the power of women and the female spirit across cultures. Another is the nature of science and religion, including Quantum Physics, as well as the "two cultures," science and the humanities.

Frederick Glaysher, books, poems, essays, reviews, interviews, blog

Gazing from the moon, we see one earth, without borders, Mother Earth, her embrace encircling one people, humankind.

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

Steven Alvarez and Moyra Irving like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
April 5 •

"These essays open up Glaysher's own biography and his life-long interest in the writings of Leo Tolstoy, Rabindranath Tagore, John Milton, Saul Bellow, Robert Hayden, and other poets and writers, offering a fresh, new vision of literature and culture...."

Frederick Glaysher, books, poems, essays, reviews, interviews, blog

Gazing from the moon, we see one earth, without borders, Mother Earth, her embrace encircling one people, humankind.

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share

Frederick Glaysher

"The tragic Charlie Hebdo attack has thrown into relief what seems to some, like Michel Houellebecq, as the battle between irreligiosity and Islam for the future of France. Nobody seems to envision that France's future instead just might be some of that old-time religion."

Is there a Christian revival starting in France?

An unexpected movement is growing in French cities

THEWEEK.COM

Like · Comment · Share · 2

Giampiero Viezzoli and Ramaswami Subramony like this.

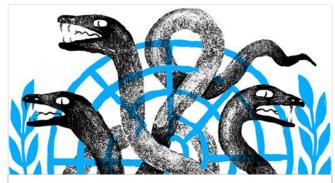

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
April 2 •

The problem for the world at the United Nations is that it can only be what its member-states make and allow it to be... all too often a "tool" of national policy. All nations are at fault.

"The problem with the United Nations is that the leaders of many of its member states do not rule with the consent of the governed. Instead, they use the body as a forum to deflect attention from their own ruthless rule. In so doing, they turn a stage for courageous statecraft into a tragic theater of the absurd."

The U.N.'s War on Israel

A stage for statecraft has become a forum for hate and hypocrisy.  $\mbox{NYTIMES.COM} \ | \ \mbox{BY RON PROSOR}$

Like · Comment · Share · 4 9

Docteur Lou and 2 others like this.

1 share

View 5 more comments

Frederick Glaysher Brad, Though politically incorrect, it makes me think of the old saw about women, "Can't live with 'em, and can't live without 'em!"

April 4 at 12:47pm · Like · 1

Brad Grydzyn perhaps"incorrect" but could not have been put better April 4 at 10:00pm · Like Frederick Glaysher Alas, life!!

April 5 at 9:19am · Like

Frederick Glaysher What is it about taqiyya and Surah 9:29 of the Quran that Americans and others don't understand? The sooner Israel bombs Iran's nuclear facilities, the better... The official King Fuad translation is the best one to consult.

April 5 at 9:28am · Edited · Like

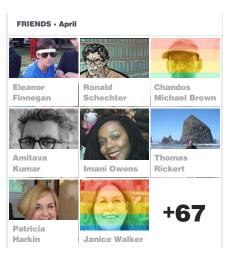

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
April 1 •

"This is a uniquely powerful work that introduces an established and powerful literary tradition to a world that is in desperate need of its essential rhythms and harmonies for spiritual sustenance."

—Spirituality Today

Frederick Glaysher, books, poems, essays, reviews, interviews, blog

Gazing from the moon, we see one earth, without borders, Mother Earth, her embrace encircling one people, humankind.

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

Johnny Stork likes this.

Write a comment...

March

Frederick Glaysher March 31 •

"The purpose of the spiritual journey of the Poet of the Moon is to seek deliverance of the modern human from the captivity of nothingness, nihilism and atheism, and from the resulting chaos and chasm of soul. ...Bravo to the Poet for this toilsome but brilliant endeavour."

—Transnational Literature, Flinders University, Adelaide, Australia

Frederick Glaysher, books, poems, essays, reviews, interviews, blog

Gazing from the moon, we see one earth, without borders, Mother Earth, her embrace encircling one people, humankind.

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

Tex J. G. Albert and Rebecca Schwartz like this.

Krin Van Tatenhove Frederick...perhaps you saw my booklet. It echoes what you are saying.

April 1 at 7:31am · Like

Krin Van Tatenhove http://www.torchoffaith.com/Invitation_to_The_Overview.pdf April 1 at 7:31am • Like Frederick Glaysher Krin, No, I'm not familiar with your prose booklet. Thanks, though, I've downloaded it and will check it out. I began working on my epic poem as far back as 1982, with much of its basic plot outline by 1994. There's a free chapter on my website and Amazon if you'd like read it. Best wishes.

April 1 at 10:50am · Edited · Like

Krin Van Tatenhove I will check it out!

April 1 at 10:49am · Like

Frederick Glaysher Great! Hope you'll consider making the Journey to the Moon...

April 1 at 10:49am · Like

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

March 31 ·

"Saudi Arabia has successfully turned criticism of its brutal version of Islam into an attack on all Muslims, regardless of whether they are Wahhabis or not, and Wallström and her colleagues are clearly unnerved by accusations of Islamophobia. The signs are that she will fold under the pressure, particularly when the rest of liberal Europe shows no interest in supporting her."

Sweden's feminist foreign minister has dared to tell the truth about Saudi Arabia. What happens...

If the cries of 'Je suis Charlie' were sincere, the western world would be convulsed with worry and anger about the Wallström affair. It has all... SPECTATOR.CO.UK

Like · Comment · Share ·

George Perkins, Beverly Allen and 2 others like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
March 30 •

"The main story is an interesting proposition, that maybe it is poets and philosophers, rather than activists and politicians, who can ultimately help transform this world into something better."

-Mr. P. J. Morris, Amazon UK

Frederick Glaysher, books, poems, essays, reviews, interviews, blog

Gazing from the moon, we see one earth, without borders, Mother Earth, her embrace encircling one people, humankind.

FGLAYSHER.COM

 $\textbf{Like} \cdot \textbf{Comment} \cdot \textbf{Share} \cdot \$

Ana Isaac Hall likes this.

Write a comment...

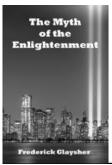

Frederick Glaysher
March 30 •

"Whilst comparatively divergent in their make-up and composition the essays in The Myth of the Enlightenment form an enjoyable collection of insightful and erudite commentaries on spirituality and the nature of being human. ...this book opens up some potentially fascinating and educationally rewarding terrain."

—Spirituality Today

"In an era in which the value of human life has become as precarious and narrow as the study of the humanities itself, we need Glaysher's voice m... See More

Frederick Glaysher, books, poems, essays, reviews, interviews, blog

Gazing from the moon, we see one earth, without borders, Mother Earth, her embrace encircling one people, humankind.

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

Rodger Cunningham and 3 others like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

March 30 ·

"Here are the most shocking allegations put forth in "Going Clear," which made its HBO debut on Sunday night (airs again on Monday, March 30 at 9:00 p.m. ET on HBO.):

...16. If members leave the Church their friends & family are forced to "disconnect"

"The biggest reason to not leave the Church for many Scientologists is fear of "disconnection." This is when all friends and family members still with the Church are told to cut ties with those who leave, or those deemed Potential Trouble Sources (PTS), or Suppressive Persons (SPs). Many former members included in the film haven't seen or spoken to their family or friends since they left."

The Most Shocking Allegations In Scientology Doc 'Going Clear'

The Church of Scientology has long been a controversial institution among both the religious community and entertainment business. But... HUFFINGTONPOST.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

Pauline Harris so like shunning with the Amish and others. March 30 at 7:23pm

Frederick Glaysher Cults always end up coercing their members into conformity. The Mormons, Scientology, etc. The Haifan Baha'i Faith uses basically Islamic takfir, identifying and denouncing the infidel, concealed behind the deceptively Western sounding "shunning," to deceive and brainwash their followers into believing in their fraudulent "will and testament." Much the same tactics used, too, by the communist cadres in Russia, the Stasi in East Germany, etc....
"By their fruits ye shall know them."

March 31 at 7:15am · Edited · Like · 2

Frederick Glaysher The Stasi were known for using at times over 150 agents and people to keep "enemies of the state" under surveillance... trying to force reality into conformance with their Marxist fantasies. The Bahaies have "counsellors" for the "Protection of the Faith," a type of mafia, really, who have a whole cadre of brainless, sycophantic believers under them. The crimes these people are willing to commit would be unbelievable for most Americans. Scientology is almost the perfect analog, but the fanatical Shiism of Iranian Baha'is ends up being even worse, by far... When will Gibney or someone else produce a movie on the Haifan, Iranian, Shiite, Baha'i, would-be theocracy?

March 31 at 11:18am · Edited · Like

Pauline Harris so much propaganda out there. Each story trying to persuade others to their own agenda. sad when their agenda hurts so many.

March 30 at 7:37pm

Frederick Glaysher Typically, for a cult like the Haifan Baha'i Faith, anyone who realizes that their distortion of its early history in the US has indeed been falsified becomes demonized and harassed in much the same way as in Scientology, and others persecuted by authoritarian governments or extreme religious organizations. For those who have drunk the Kool-Aid, as in all cults that isolate followers in order to "love bomb" them into accepting their millennialism, it's virtually impossible to reach them... exacerbated by the fanaticism of the Iranian Shiism underlying the Baha'i Faith, and its taqqiya, lying to and deceiving the infidel. "Going Clear" makes that ssooo clear...

I have a website on the Haifan Baha'is, with dozens of people, including PhDs in Middle Eastern Studies, who discuss their appalling experiences, if interested:

The Baha'i Faith & Religious Freedom of Conscience https://www.fglaysher.com/bahaicensorship/

The Baha'i Faith & Religious Freedom of Conscience

FGLAYSHER.COM

March 31 at 11:17am · Edited · Like · Remove Preview

Frederick Glaysher For further details on the Haifan Baha'i fraudulent "will and testament," see my book Letters from the American Desert, especially for the facsimile of the authentic 1912 covenant by Abdul-Baha, publicly delivered in NYC, but suppressed from Haifan Baha'i "history" ever since 1921:

http://www.amazon.com/Letters-American.../dp/0967042119/

Letters from the American Desert: Signposts of a Journey, a Vision

AMAZON.COM

April 5 at 9:56am • Edited • Like • Remove Preview

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
March 30 · Edited ·

"Here are the most shocking allegations put forth in "Going Clear," which made its HBO debut on Sunday night (airs again on Monday, March 30 at 9:00 p.m. ET on HBO.):

- 1. L. Ron Hubbard's Scientology creation story
- 2. Hubbard spent time in a black magic cult
- ${\bf 3.\ Members\ were\ allegedly\ thrown\ overboard\ as\ punishment}$
- 4. Hubbard told his second wife he murdered their daughter
- 5. There was a Scientology "prison camp"
- 6. The FBI raid on the Church was the biggest in history at the time
- 7. The Church stole government documents
- 8. The Church apparently has a blackmail folder on John Travolta
- 9. The Church investigated the IRS
- 10. Tom Cruise and the Church allegedly wire-tapped Nicole Kidman's phone
- 11. Cruise may have had employees pimp his cars for 40 cents an hour
- 12. The Church supposedly found Cruise a new girlfriend
- 13. Paul Haggis left because of the the Church's homophobic stance
- 14. Scientology's book value is about $1.5 billion

15. Sea Org members were allegedly tortured to the sounds of Queen's "Bohemian Rhapsody"

16. If members leave the Church their friends & family are forced to "disconnect"

"The biggest reason to not leave the Church for many Scientologists is fear of "disconnection." This is when all friends and family members still with the Church are told to cut ties with those who leave, or those deemed Potential Trouble Sources (PTS), or Suppressive Persons (SPs). Many former members included in the film haven't seen or spoken to their family or friends since they left."

The Most Shocking Allegations In Scientology Doc 'Going Clear'

The Church of Scientology has long been a controversial institution among both the religious community and entertainment business. But... HUFFINGTONPOST.COM

Like · Comment · Share · 5

Kenneth Surin, Gillian Davis, Tiger Wiese Jones and 2 others like this.

Gillian Davis Number 15 ?
March 30 at 4:16pm • Like

Frederick Glaysher Like so weird, isn't it?

March 30 at 4:19pm • Edited • Like • 1

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
March 30 •

"About 866,000 people sought asylum in the world's industrialized countries in 2014, growing by 45 percent over 2013, according to numbers released Thursday by the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees. One in five asylum seekers were Syrians, with Iraqis and Afghans the next largest groups."

Applications for Asylum Are Surging, United Nations Says

About 866,000 people sought asylum in 2014, a 20-year high, the United Nations said. The Syrian war has driven up that number.

NYTIMES.COM | BY SOMINI SENGUPTA

Like · Comment · Share

Frederick Glaysher

"Last year, Pakistan had its worst year in more than a decade in terms of polio infections, with at least 306 cases reported, 85.2 per cent of the 359 cases worldwide, according to the Global Polio Eradication Initiative "

Meanwhile, for the teams out in the field, the vaccinations and the dangers that come with it continue."I know that I can be targeted at any time. But I do this because it is a service to the nation, and these children are our own children," said Dawood."So we don't feel afraid, because it is not like we are doing a bad thing. We're doing a good thing."

Pakistan's Polio Problem And Vaccination Danger

Polio is a highly infectious debilitating virus that targets the nervous system of children, causing partial or complete paralysis of their limbs.

Since 1988, reported polio cases worldwide...

LEADERSHIP.NG | BY LEADERSHIP NEWSPAPERS

Like · Comment · Share ·

1

2 2

Saida Nusseibah likes this.

2 share

James Adler thanks for this...

March 30 at 1:13pm

Frederick Glaysher You're more than welcome... a sad story. The world is so close to ending polio... With numbers so low, I hope somehow we can still wipe it out. It's such a debilitating disease. March 30 at 1:19pm · Like

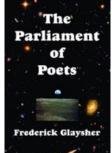

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

March 30 ·

"Awesome is not a grand enough word to describe the timeless brilliance of these words." —Donna Surles, Amazon Review

Frederick Glaysher, books, poems, essays, reviews, interviews, blog

Gazing from the moon, we see one earth, without borders, Mother Earth, her embrace encircling one people, humankind.

FGLAYSHER.COM

 $\mathbf{Like} \boldsymbol{\cdot} \mathbf{Comment} \boldsymbol{\cdot} \mathbf{Share} \boldsymbol{\cdot}$

2 people like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

March 29 · Edited ·

Modern culture is like a piece of plate glass dropped on a cement sidewalk-shattered into thousands of pieces, sharp and jagged, seemingly incapable of ever being put back together... so inured are we to fragmentation.

Melt the pieces down, reconstitute a new piece of glass, as it were, with which to view the wholeness of Mother Earth, from a wider perspective, the Moon...

Frederick Glaysher, books, poems, essays, reviews, interviews, blog

Gazing from the moon, we see one earth, without borders, Mother Earth, her embrace encircling one people, humankind.

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

- 1

Phil Mason likes this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
March 27 •

"Native people are not part of the normal discourse," Chase Iron Eyes said in his interview with Vice. "You don't learn about Indians in American school unless it's Thanksgiving or Native Heritage month or there's some movie that Disney puts out that has some other misinformed representation of Native people. Whether or not there's a deliberate attempt to dehumanize us doesn't matter anymore. The fact is, by and large, the media, the legal institutions, the economic and political institutions; they all dehumanize and oppress indigenous people just by their own force and existence. There is no criminal intent, but the impact is criminal. There is dehumanization when you have all this misinformation. They're teaching us in school that we ourselves are primitive."

Chase Iron Eyes: Traditional media fails Native Americans

Lakota People's Law Project Attorney Chase Iron Eyes is garnering national attention for his relentless and undaunted activism as he...

LAKOTALAWPROJECT.WORDPRESS.COM

Like · Comment · Share · 7 1 2

Frederick Glaysher March 27 · Edited ·

"In short this is a book I'll be returning to for the rest of this year and no doubt afterward. I'm glad it exists and I'm grateful for the wisdom it sends my way."

—Laurence Goldstein, University of Michigan, Department of English

"In an era in which the value of human life has become as precarious and narrow as the study of the humanities itself, we need Glaysher's voice more than ever."

—Phillip M. Richards, Colgate University, Department of English ... See More

Frederick Glaysher, books, poems, essays, reviews, interviews, blog

Gazing from the moon, we see one earth, without borders, Mother Earth, her embrace encircling one people, humankind.

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share

Frederick Glaysher
March 27 •

"He has had what he called "serious involvement" with Jewish literature for decades, which includes Biblical studies. That has manifested in The Parliament of Poets, as it follows the Hebrew poets; there's a canto on the slaughter of the prophets of Baal. So too, we read of the suffering figure of Job, and the Kabbalah, running themes throughout the epic; including an ode to the Shekhinah (276), Zion (167) –and a plea to "Rise with the Jews and pray. Blow the Shofar of the Zohar" (213)."

-Dave Gordon, The Jewish Post and News of Winnipeg, Canada

Frederick Glaysher, books, poems, essays, reviews, interviews, blog Gazing from the moon, we see one earth, without borders, Mother Earth, her embrace encircling one people, humankind.

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

Michael Dorfman and Tony Leuzzi like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher March 26 ·

"That transcendent Rose symbol of our age, the Earth itself, viewed from the heavens, one world with no visible boundaries, metaphor of the oneness of the human race, reflects its bluegreen light into the blackness of the starry universe."

Frederick Glaysher, books, poems, essays, reviews, interviews, blog

Gazing from the moon, we see one earth, without borders, Mother Earth, her embrace encircling one people, humankind.

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share

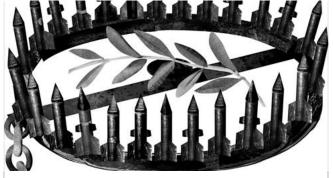

Frederick Glaysher
March 26 •

John R. Bolton >

"Time is terribly short, but a strike can still succeed.

"Rendering inoperable the Natanz and Fordow uraniumenrichment installations and the Arak heavy-water production facility and reactor would be priorities. So, too, would be the littlenoticed but critical uranium-conversion facility at Isfahan. An attack need not destroy all of Iran's nuclear infrastructure, but by breaking key links in the nuclear-fuel cycle, it could set back its program by three to ... See More

To Stop Iran's Bomb, Bomb Iran

Tehran can't be trusted on a nuclear deal. Force is the only option.

NYTIMES.COM | BY JOHN R. BOLTON

Like · Comment · Share · 2

Belinda Subraman likes this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

March 24 ·

David Brooks >

"Confrontational nonviolence is the historically proven method to isolate and delegitimize social evil."

How to Fight Anti-Semitism

We have to understand the many ugly faces of anti-Semitism if we are to effectively stand against it.

NYTIMES.COM | BY DAVID BROOKS

Unlike · Comment · Share ·

You, Heather Mendel, Thomas Rome and 2 others like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

March 24 ·

Saul Bellow >

"As the allure of agreement — or conformism — grows, the perils of independence deepen. To differ is dangerous."

Review: Revisiting Saul Bellow's Words, on Society, Chicago and Other Writers

Political correctness was a challenge to this author, but Twitter would have been much...

NYTIMES.COM | BY DWIGHT GARNER

Unlike · Comment · Share · 1

You like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

March 23

"A timeless cast of characters existing epically. Awesome is not a grand enough word to describe the timeless brilliance of these words."

-- Donna Surles

Frederick Glaysher, books, poems, essays, reviews, interviews, blog

Gazing from the moon, we see one earth, without borders, Mother Earth, her embrace encircling one people, humankind.

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share · 3

Pamela Hollander and Eileen Pardini like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

March 23 · Edited ·

"Given the global challenges humanity faces in the 21st century, we can no longer afford to maintain artificial divisions between peoples and nations. Learning from the indigenous peoples of the world, along with the wisdom-keepers of all cultures and faith traditions, we must begin to understand ourselves as part of a great human family that is itself just one strand in the web of life on our living Earth."

When the Grandmothers Awoke

Becoming a global family, one that unites ancient indigenous wisdom with other faith and cultural traditions, is essential if humanity is to overcome the crises of climate change.

YESMAGAZINE.ORG

Like · Comment · Share ·

Kenneth Surin, Tina Benson, Joshua Grasso and 3 others like this.

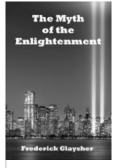

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher March 19 •

Spirituality Today >

"... articulates his belief in the possibilities of a global, postmodernistic society based upon religious values that are acceptable to both the East and the West."

Frederick Glaysher, books, poems, essays, reviews, interviews, blog

Gazing from the moon, we see one earth, without borders, Mother Earth, her embrace encircling one people, humankind.

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

Nick Kondax likes this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

March 19 ·

It takes "glue" to hold civilization together... from the Moon we can see the whole ball of wax.

Like · Comment · Share · 4

Nick Kondax, Anthony Lenaghan and 2 others like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
March 19 · Edited ·

Why Art Cannot Be "Free"

Thanks, Dear FB friend, for your well-intended comments and advice. I would say that, as the actual experience of many musicians, artists, and writers have now proven, during the last decade and a half, "information" cannot be "free," if civilization itself is to thrive and endure.

As I mention in numerous places online, describing my epic poem, I have truly spent "Thirty years in the making," devoting, without exaggeration, my entire adult life to st... See More

The Myth of the Enlightenment: Essays

The Myth of the Enlightenment is Frederick Glaysher's first collection of literary essays since The Grove of the Eumenides in 2007. Divided into three sections, these essays and reviews were all written during the...

AMAZON.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

Sarah White likes this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
March 19 •

Includes the 23-page essay "Post-Gutenberg Revolution: A Manifesto."

"If there are millions of people waiting for a sign, as Allan Bloom is cited as saying, then this book is assuredly evidence of what such a sign looks like."

-Julie Clayton, New Consciousness Review ... See More

The Myth of the Enlightenment: Essays

The Myth of the Enlightenment is Frederick Glaysher's first collection of literary essays since The Grove of the Eumenides in 2007. Divided into three sections, these essays and reviews were all written during the...

AMAZON.COM

Like · Comment · Share

Frederick Glaysher

March 18 ·

New Amazon Review > The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem

"A timeless cast of characters existing epically. Awesome is not a grand enough word to describe the timeless brilliance of these words."

-- Donna Surles ... See More

The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem

The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem, by Frederick Glaysher, takes place partly on the moon, at the Apollo 11 landing site, the Sea of Tranquility. Apollo, the Greek god of poetry, calls all the poets of the...

AMAZON.CO.UK

Like · Comment · Share · 4

Nick Kondax and Michael Nwagbegbe like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher shared Populus Summorum Pontificum's photo.

March 18 ·

"May our hearts be inspired by this place of prayer" -- David E. Dowd

Populus Summorum Pontificum

Abbazia di Sant'Antimo

See Translation

Like · Comment · Share ·

Rodger Cunningham, Tina Benson and Sue Steel like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

March 17 ·

"A timeless cast of characters existing epically. Awesome is not a grand enough word to describe the timeless brilliance of these words."

-- Donna Surles, March 15, 2015

New Amazon Review > The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem

Like · Comment · Share · 5

Amansuka Ubud-Bali Tour and 2 others like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
March 17 •

"It only takes the first few paragraphs of this modern epic poem to feel the mental gush of ideas, fascinating juxtapositionings, and unique symbolism for our time."

—Dave Gordon, The Jewish Post and News of Winnipeg, Canada

"The purpose of the spiritual journey of the Poet of the Moon is to seek deliverance of the modern human from the captivity of nothingness, nihilism and atheism, and from the resulting chaos and chasm of soul. ...Bravo to the Poet for this toilsome but ... See More

Frederick Glaysher, books, poems, essays, reviews, interviews, blog

Gazing from the moon, we see one earth, without borders, Mother Earth, her embrace encircling one people, humankind.

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

2 people like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher March 17 ·

New Amazon Review > The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem

"A timeless cast of characters existing epically. Awesome is not a grand enough word to describe the timeless brilliance of these words."

By Donna Surles, March 15, 2015

Like · Comment · Share · 4

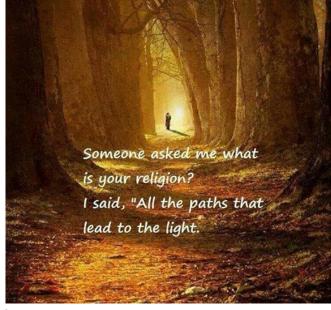

Norvie Bullock and Ola Karolak Krosinska like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher shared The Master Shift's photo.

The Master Shift

Submitted by Brandon Basile @ The Art of Mental Creation

Like · Comment · Share · 63

Nick Kondax, Constance Kellogg, Anna Maranta and 60 others like this.

Anna Rosa Pelayo I agree.

See Translation

Frederick Glaysher Indeed... "Truth is One; sages call it by many names."

March 18 at 4:34pm · Like ·

Nick Kondax shared! March 21 at 10:22am · Like

Nick Kondax "To inquire after the meaning or object of one's own existence or of creation generally has always seemed to me absurd from an objective point of view. And yet everybody has certain ideals which determine the direction of his endeavors and his judgements. In this sense I have never looked upon ease and happiness as ends in themselves--such an ethical basis I call more proper for a herd of swine. The ideals which have lighted me on my way and time and time again given me new courage to face life cheerfully, have been Truth, Goodness, and Beauty." ~ALBERT EINSTEIN, The World as I See It (1934)

March 21 at 10:23am · Like

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher March 16 • Edited •

"A timeless cast of characters existing epically. Awesome is not a grand enough word to describe the timeless brilliance of these words."

New Amazon Review By Donna Surles, March 15, 2015 > The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem

Like · Comment · Share · 1

Bob Dunbar likes this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

March 16 ·

New Amazon Review > The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem

"Awesome is not a grand enough word to describe the timeless brilliance of these words."

By Donna Surles, March 15, 2015... See More

"Awesome is not a grand enough word to describe..." a review of: The Parliament of Poets: An Epic...

Donna Surles says: A timeless cast of characters existing epically. Awesome is not a grand enough word to describe the timeless brilliance of these words.

AMAZON.COM

 $\textbf{Like} \cdot \textbf{Comment} \cdot \textbf{Share} \cdot \$

Tex J. G. Albert likes this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher March 16 ·

Like · Comment · Share · 10 10

Julie Clayton, Jeremy Elbert, Charlene Starek Hancz and 7 others like this.

2 shares

Tina Benson WOW!!!

March 16 at 1:21pm · Like

Frederick Glaysher The Simorg wrought out of cosmic energy. March 16 at 2:53pm · Edited · Like · 1

Frederick Glaysher

March 16 ·

New Amazon Review > The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem

"A timeless cast of characters existing epically. Awesome is not a grand enough word to describe the timeless brilliance of these words."

By Donna Surles, March 15, 2015

Like · Comment · Share · 1 4

Donna Surles

http://www.amazon.com/Parliam.../dp/098267788X/ref=sr_1_1...

The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem

AMAZON.COM

March 16 at 10:17am · Like · Remove Preview

Frederick Glaysher Thanks, Donna Surles, for reading my epic and your review, and link. I'm so glad you enjoyed it! March 16 at 10:19am · Like · 1

Donna Surles sorry it took so long, my plate is quite full March 16 at 10:22am · Like Frederick Glaysher I understand life places many demands on all of us... Happy you made the Journey when you could.

March 16 at 10:25am · Edited · Like ·

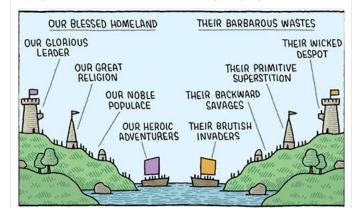

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

March 15 · Edited ·

The global dilemma... the human comedy, tragedy.

Frederick Glaysher

March 15 · Edited ·

Apollo, the Greek god of poetry, calls all the poets of the nations, ancient and modern, East and West, to assemble on the moon to consult on the meaning of modernity. The Parliament of Poets sends the Persona, the Poet of the Moon, on a Journey to the seven continents to learn from all of the spiritual and wisdom traditions of humankind. On Earth and on the moon, the poets teach him a new global, universal vision of life.

Frederick Glaysher, books, poems, essays, reviews, interviews, blog

Gazing from the moon, we see one earth, without borders, Mother Earth, her embrace encircling one people, humankind.

FGLAYSHER.COM

 $\textbf{Like} \boldsymbol{\cdot} \textbf{Comment} \boldsymbol{\cdot} \textbf{Share} \boldsymbol{\cdot}$

Steve Roberts likes this.

Frederick Glaysher Thanks, Steve Roberts. Hope you'll Journey to the Moon... There's a free chapter on Amazon.

http://www.amazon.com/Parliament-Poets.../dp/098267788X/

The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem

AMAZON.COM

March 16 at 10:46am • Edited • Like • Remove Preview

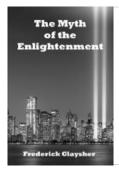

Write a comment...

"In an era in which the value of human life has become as precarious and narrow as the study of the humanities itself, we need Glaysher's voice more than ever."

-Phillip M. Richards, Colgate University, Department of English

Frederick Glaysher, books, poems, essays, reviews, interviews, blog

Gazing from the moon, we see one earth, without borders, Mother Earth, her embrace encircling one people, humankind.

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

3

Anthony Lenaghan and 2 others like this.

Frederick Glaysher Thanks, Arindam. Hope you'll consider reading it. There are other reviews online on my website and Amazon India.

http://www.amazon.in/Myth-Enlightenment.../dp/0982677839/

The Myth of the Enlightenment: Essays

AMAZON.IN

March 15 at 8:21pm · Like · Remove Preview

Write a comment...

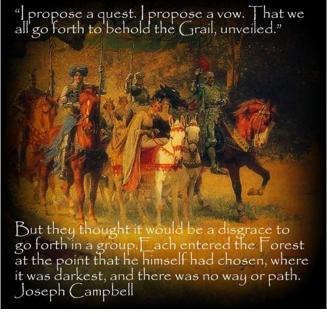

Frederick Glaysher shared Carl Jung & Individuation's photo.

. March 15 ·

"King Arthur's knights were seated at table in the great banquet hall. Arthur said the meal would not be served unless an adventure occurred. (Adventures occurred all the time in those days, so no one was worried.) An adventure did indeed occur. The Grail itself appeared, but covered by a veil. And then it disappeared. Sir Gawain rose and stated, "I propose a quest. I propose a vow. That we all go forth to behold the Grail unveiled." The knights agreed they would do so. But the next morning at they were setting out, "they thought it would be a disgrace to go forth in a group". Each entered the forest of the Adventure at the point that HE HIMSELF had chosen, where it was darkest, and there was no way or path. For if they had followed someone else's path, someone else's footsteps, they would have gone altogether astray."

Joseph Campbell, "Thou Art That"

Carl Jung & Individuation

King Arthur's knights were seated at table in the great banquet hall. Arthur said the meal would not be served unless an adventure occurred. (Adventures occurre...

See More

Like · Comment · Share · 12 6

Michael Maciel, Rosemary Ceravolo, Sharon Powell and 9 others like this.

Brad Grydzyn so right,took me a long time to get a real "grip" on this one

March 15 at 5:28pm · Like

Frederick Glaysher Brad, Yeah, I can understand that. I think it's a human tendency that's encouraged by our history and the general culture, in various ways, to think that someone else has the "answer." Irony of ironies, we've already got it, if we but choose to seek it inside the dark forest of the human heart.

March 15 at 6:36pm · Edited · Like · 1

Brad Grydzyn I'd agree,I have found there are "truths"amongst my own learning and the teachings of others,but they are all ironic,or paradoxes; especially within the context of the self serving society we have created for ouselves.I don't know if it's because I loose the "impatienc" of youth as I get older but it seems to ring truer(/) with the warrors journey myth,especially in the Arthurian legends which I know/gno in my heart were created for us(and I adore)

March 15 at 7:04pm · Like

Frederick Glaysher Yeah, Brad, the Arthurian myths ring eternal on so many levels. I allude to them in several ways in my epic poem The Parliament of Poets. One canto is actually set in Australia, if interested. Hope you'll Journey to the Moon... There's a free chapter on Amazon USA, UK, and INDIA.

http://www.amazon.co.uk/Parliament-Poets.../dp/098267788X/

In Australia, it's printed in Scoresby, Victoria, which must near to you somewhere in Melbourne, and available through Book World (doesn't have the free chapter feature):

http://www.bookworld.com.au/.../the-parliament.../37353686/

The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem

AMAZON.CO.UK

March 15 at 7:42pm · Like · Remove Preview

Brad Grydzyn thanks frederick,will definitely look into it March 15 at 8:23pm · Like Frederick Glaysher Great. Hope you enjoy it. March 15 at 8:24pm · Like

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

March 14 · Edited ·

It was Theseus who killed the Minotaur in the Labyrinth of Crete... and found his way out by following the string he had laid down behind him as he entered... out of the deep cave, if you will, of the mind. So there is a way out, for the hero, guiding the civilization to safety. There's a possibility, I believe, from the Moon... to gain a new perspective and dispel the Shadow, however unlikely it might seem. The myths of the Imagination are the way out of our global dilemmas.

My epic works with the metaphor in many ways... Unfortunately, perhaps, few read the traditional works of literature and myth. Many young people are more interested in popular culture. So they really don't have the depth of knowledge to think deeply with the full wealth of culture, East and/or West. It's an extremely serious problem because it leads to very shallow thinking about the perennial problems of human nature... not to mention on the part of their parents who think they're in control of history and running the world.

Like · Comment · Share · 5 5

5 people like this.

Patricia Ortiz And Ariadna helped him by giving him the yarn (clue) but yet he left her/forgot her at Naxos. I agree these heroes and heroines are so lovely to carry within us. I remind my students of their great significance in literature for example, but imagine understanding polis, loyalty and justice without Antigone. Your comments are so thoughtful and right on..

March 14 at 3:01pm

Frederick Glaysher Patricia, Thanks for accepting my invitation and commenting. I appreciate your good words. Although I don't really want to defend Theseus, some versions claim Athena led him away from Ariadne since she was intended for Dionysus.

Antigone is so central to reflections on the polis and so on, I'm guessing you thought but didn't type "cannot imagine"? Either way, the Greek myths are so full of the most profound insights into human experience and wisdom.

I feel that way, too, about all the great myths and stories around the world, which is why I tried to choose very carefully from them what I reinterpret, to some extent, in an epic poem that I've written. There's a free chapter online if you'd like to check it out, on my website, Barnes & Noble, and Amazon. Best wishes.

http://www.amazon.com/The-Parliament-Poets.../dp/098267788X/

The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem

AMAZON.COM

March 14 at 3:47pm · Like · Remove Preview

Frederick Glaysher Incidentally, Patricia, Cervantes is master of ceremonies on the moon, throughout my epic poem, which includes Octavio Paz, Neruda, and Borges as guides in a chapter set in Latin and South America.

March 14 at 3:51pm · Like

Patricia Ortiz Thank you Frederick. I agree with you completely. I sure look forward to reading the chapter of your book. I will also love to read your chapter on Latin America.

March 14 at 4:07pm

Frederick Glaysher Thanks, Patricia, for saying so. I hope you will... you have an impressive background in Latin American literature and culture and the ability to judge whether my attempt to honor it at Teotihuacan, Machu Picchu, and on the pampas of Argentina are worthy of it. I hope to merit your good opinion.

March 14 at 4:56pm · Edited · Like

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
March 13 •

Pathetic... > "Selbstvernichtung · self-destruction · is the key word. "

"The Shoah was an act of self-destruction by the Jews. This is the view that emerges from the new volume of Heidegger's Black Notebooks, edited by Peter Trawny and soon to be published by Klostermann (Gesamtausgabe 97, Anmerkungen I-V). The 560 pages of new material date from the crucial 1942-1948 period and contain the notebook for 1945-1946, which was thought to have been lost but was in fact located last spring."

Heidegger - "Jews Self-destructed"

New Black Notebooks reveal philosopher's shocking take on Shoah CORRIERE.IT

Like · Comment · Share · 1 7

James Adler This has been just the another part of a long shocking and sad series of revelations. When I was in grad school he was revered as an Eckhartian mystic. It is horrifying what he said, did, and what happened--

March 13 at 9:58pm · 2

Frederick Glaysher Yeah, James, I couldn't agree more... I've followed much of it for years. Heidegger is one of the philosophers in my book-length narrative poem The Bower of Nil, which I wrote in the '90s and surveys in dramatic terms the intellectual and spiritual trajectory of Western philosophy.

March 13 at 10:23pm · Edited · Like ·

Derek Dey An enlightening article here. Cultural Marxism already defines 20th Century European philosophy and early psychological models as being deconstructionist and a product of, what Ken Wilber suggests as, flat world thinking. I think the record is fairly w... See More

March 14 at 7:31am

Frederick Glaysher Derek, Definitely horizontal... in my view too. What's the difference between Marx and the criminals of Wall Street? Can't see it, myself. They both end up leading to oppressing and murdering people in various ways... for filthy lucre.

March 14 at 12:19pm · Like · 1

Derek Dey Yes, its the same difference as they say Frederick. I think the peasant's revolts were a precursor of Marxism and in their general thrust they were correct. Economic injustice is a killer if not the body - it is for the soul. Yet the method applied, re... See More March 14 at 2:15pm

Frederick Glaysher I'm with you on all that, Derek. Much of my book The Myth of the Enlightenment is about that stormy historical and cultural journey and how we can peacefully change the path we're on to one that is truly global and universal, for the benefit of all human beings on this planet.

March 14 at 2:24pm · Edited · Like

Derek Dey I think you have something important there Frederick. I wish you well.

March 14 at 3:03pm · 1

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
March 13 • Edited •

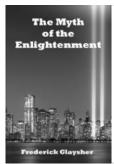

"In short this is a book I'll be returning to for the rest of this year and no doubt afterward. I'm glad it exists and I'm grateful for the wisdom it sends my way."

—Laurence Goldstein, University of Michigan, Department of English

"In an era in which the value of human life has become as precarious and narrow as the study of the humanities itself, we need Glaysher's voice more than ever."

-Phillip M. Richards, Colgate University, Department of English ...

See More

Frederick Glaysher, books, poems, essays, reviews, interviews, blog

Gazing from the moon, we see one earth, without borders, Mother Earth, her embrace encircling one people, humankind.

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

Strider Marcus Jones likes this.

Frederick Glaysher Thanks, Strider. Hope you'll consider reading it. There five reviews online on my website and Amazon.

http://www.amazon.com/Myth-Enlightenment.../dp/0982677839/

March 13 ·

The Myth of the Enlightenment: Essays

AMAZON.COM

March 15 at 8:22pm · Like · Remove Preview

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

Mr. Wright, a staff writer for The New Yorker >

"I've studied Jonestown, radical Islam," Mr. Wright says. "They're oftentimes good-hearted people, idealistic, but full of a kind of crushing certainty that eliminates doubt. You know, my goal wasn't to write an exposé; it was simply to understand Scientology, trying to understand what people get out of it, you know, why do they go into it in the first place."

"...Mr. Gibney, who enters swinging and keeps on swinging, comes across as less interested in understanding Scientology than in exposing its secrets, which makes for a lively and watchable documentary if not an especially enlightening one."

Review: Alex Gibney Takes On Scientology in 'Going Clear'

This documentary by Alex Gibney charts the evolution of Scientology from its outsider beginnings to its current status as that church Tom...

NYTIMES.COM | BY MANOHLA DARGIS

Like · Comment · Share · 1

Sarah McGinley likes this.

Frederick Glaysher Gibney's movie, "Going Clear," plays on HBO March 29.

March 13 at 7:58am · Like

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher shared David McMahan's photo.

March 12

"Cave of Hands" in Argentina. Made by our ancestors 9,000-13,000 years ago.

David McMahan

"Cave of Hands" in Argentina. Made by our ancestors 9,000-13,000 years ago.

Like · Comment · Share · 24

Hans G. Ruprecht, Belteshazzar Ben Yakov Leib, Kenneth Surin and 21 others like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

March 12 ·

"Don't be intimidated by an epic poem. It's really coming back to that image of the storyteller sitting around the campfires of the world, dipping into and weaving the story of humanity, in the most beautiful, mellifluous language." —Miriam Knight, New Consciousness Review radio

"It only takes the first few paragraphs of this modern epic poem to feel the mental gush of ideas, fascinating juxtapositionings, and unique symbolism for our time."

-Dave Gordon, The Jewish Post and... See More

Frederick Glaysher, books, poems, essays, reviews, interviews, blog

Gazing from the moon, we see one earth, without borders, Mother Earth, her embrace encircling one people, humankind.

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

3 6

Michael C. Keith likes this.

Tina Benson Just gave your book to a friend today...another one on the way to the moon

March 12 at 7:54pm · Like

Frederick Glaysher Oh, wow, thanks! I'm so grateful for your help... as always. I'm really happy about a new interview coming out in April. I was able to talk about things I've never been able to before, on various fronts.

March 12 at 8:02pm · Like · 1

Tina Benson Look forward to hearing that Fred!
March 12 at 8:46pm • Like

https://www.facebook.com/fglaysher

Frederick Glaysher It will be a printed interview in a literary journal, Poets' Quarterly. I'd love you to read it sometime, whenever you can... dear friend.

March 12 at 8:53pm · Like · 1

Tina Benson Let me know when it's out, Fred; I'll definitely read it!
March 12 at 9:17pm · Like

Frederick Glaysher Okay, will do! March 12 at 9:18pm · Like · 1

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
March 12 •

We're churning and rechurning the cultural debris... like a Japanese tsunami, grinding it to Nothing. We need to rebuild... From the Moon, we can see what's need, from the foundations up...

Like · Comment · Share · 5

Jennifer Jean, Ann Diamond, Boria Sax and 2 others like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher shared Good News Network's photo.

March 12 ·

Time to go global...

"85 years ago today, Mahatma Gandhi began his historic Salt March to the sea, protesting British salt taxes in India. The crowd of marchers grew as Gandhi walked for 24 days — 240-miles (390 km) — to the beach at Dandi where he produced salt without paying the tax, sparking similar acts nationwide. World media coverage helped to change attitudes towards Indian independence and inspire a nationwide Civil Disobedience Movement." (1930)

WATCH the Newsreel F... See More

Good News Network

85 years ago today, Mahatma Gandhi began his historic Salt March to the sea, protesting British salt taxes in India. The crowd of marchers grew as Gandhi walked...

See More

Like · Comment · Share · 5

Kenneth Surin, Julie Clayton and 2 others like this.

Write a comment...

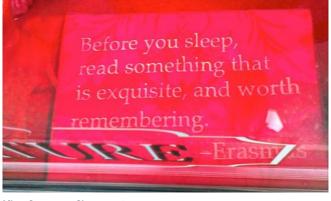

Frederick Glaysher shared Sarah Pearsall's photo.

March 12.

"Before you sleep, read something that is exquisite, and worth

remembering."

-- Erasmus

Like · Comment · Share ·

Frederick Glaysher

March 11 ·

The Ramayana.

A modern prose version by R. K. Narayan >

"Rama never lost sight of his main purpose... he had come to encounter and destroy the asuras, the fiends who infested this area, causing suffering and hardship to all the good souls who only wanted to be left alone to pursue their spiritual aims in peace. Rama's whole purpose of incarnation was ultimately to destroy Ravana, the chief of the asuras, abolish fear from the hearts of men and gods, and establish peace, gentleness, and justice in the world."

Like · Comment · Share · 10 4

Ratul Pal, Julie Clayton, Jerry L Martin and 7 others like this.

Joshua Grasso What a coincidence--I'm teaching Narayan's version of the Ramayana next semester. It's a wonderful little book, capturing Narayan's distinctive sense of storytelling and making the epic story of Rama sound like a grandmother's tale told on quiet summer nights in Malgudi. I know some critics have dinged it for simplifying the epic work and making it too colloquial; nevertheless, it is a valuable way to introduce the work to college students and to enjoy it one's self.

March 11 at 7:55pm · Unlike · 1

Frederick Glaysher Joshua. Yes, Narayan's interpretation is a lovely tale. As you probably know, too, there are so many versions of the Ramayana throughout South Asia. Valmiki's was Narayan's model, if memory serves. I retell part of the Ramayana in my epic poem, with Hanuman the main character from it.

March 11 at 8:07pm · Edited · Like · 1

Ro Hith Hope you have read 300 Ramayanas by AK Ramanujan Frederick.

March 12 at 3:16am · Like

rederick Glaysher I wish I could have read the 300+ Ramayanas, but I had to begin writing my own before I died!

March 12 at 7:03pm · Edited · Like

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher March 10 .

Forthcoming in early April >

Interview with Frederick Glaysher: My Odyssey as an Epic Poet. Poets' Quarterly / Spring 2015

w/ Arthur McMaster, PQ Contributing Editor.

It was a pleasure to reflect on my life as a poet and how I came to write The Parliament of Poems: An Epic Poem, setting out on it as early as the late Seventies, with my earliest plot outline dated

"And a fine major work it is, Frederick...." --- Arthur McMaster

I'm happy to say Mr. McMaster has confirmed that his interview of me will appear in Poets' Quarterly in the forthcoming Spring issue. I thank him and Poets' Quarterly for the invitation. I look forward to it being published.

Poets' Quarterly

POETSQUARTERLY.COM | BY LESLIE L. NIELSEN

Like · Comment · Share ·

Laurie Wells likes this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher March 8 · Edited ·

"The purpose of the spiritual journey of the Poet of the Moon is to seek deliverance of the modern human from the captivity of nothingness, nihilism and atheism, and from the resulting chaos and chasm of soul. ...Bravo to the Poet for this toilsome but brilliant endeavour."

-Transnational Literature, Flinders University, Adelaide, Australia

"A great epic poem of startling originality and universal significance, ingeniously enriching the canon of 'literary epics' while in ev... See More

Frederick Glaysher, books, poems, essays, reviews, interviews, blog

Gazing from the moon, we see one earth, without borders, Mother Earth, her embrace encircling one people, humankind.

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

Jerry L Martin likes this.

Frederick Glaysher Thanks, Jerry. Hope you'll Journey to the Moon... There's a free chapter on Amazon USA, UK, and INDIA: http://www.amazon.com/Parliament-Poets.../dp/098267788X/

The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem

AMAZON.COM

March 15 at 8:15pm · Like · Remove Preview

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

March 8 •

"In an era in which the value of human life has become as precarious and narrow as the study of the humanities itself, we need Glaysher's voice more than ever."

-Phillip M. Richards, Colgate University

"In short this is a book I'll be returning to for the rest of this year and no doubt afterward. I'm glad it exists and I'm grateful for the wisdom it sends my way." ... See More

Frederick Glaysher, books, poems, essays, reviews, interviews, blog

Gazing from the moon, we see one earth, without borders, Mother Earth, her embrace encircling one people, humankind.

FGLAYSHER.COM

 $\mathbf{Like} \boldsymbol{\cdot} \mathbf{Comment} \boldsymbol{\cdot} \mathbf{Share} \boldsymbol{\cdot}$

1 4

Dianna Henning likes this.

Frederick Glaysher Thanks, Dianna. Hope you'll consider reading it. There five reviews online on my website and Amazon.

http://www.amazon.com/Myth-Enlightenment.../dp/0982677839/

The Myth of the Enlightenment: Essays

AMAZON.COM

March 15 at 8:17pm · Like · Remove Preview

Patricia Ortiz I have read the first chapter and the Prefatory Ode and The Argument. I just loved it. I can't wait to read the chapter on Latin America..

March 16 at 9:06am

Frederick Glaysher Patricia, I'm so happy to hear you liked the first chapter and Ode. I'd love for you to make the whole Journey, especially with Paz, Neruda, and Borges... and some other companeros, as someone steeped in Spanish literature.

March 16 at 10:17am · Like

Patricia Ortiz I too look forward to reading them for my Latin American Thought class. I will share my thoughts after reading it, saludos amigablemente.

March 16 at 11:46am · 1

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher March 8 •

"To imagine that things in this life are always to remain as they are is to indulge in an idle dream."

--Cervantes, Don Quixote

Like · Comment · Share · 30 1 4

Ike O'Driscoll, Erland Anderson and 26 others like this.

4 charec

Moira Kowalczyk How true that is! And that's suffering arises as a result of our attachments, love it... And there is a path to the cessation of suffering, how grateful I am to have found it!!!

March 8 at 12:21pm · Like

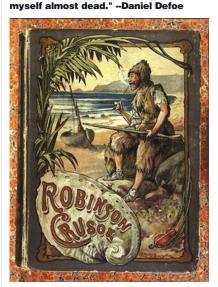

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher March 5 •

September 30, 1659. "I, poor miserable Robinson Crusoe, being shipwreck'd, during a dreadful storm, in the offing, came on shore on this dismal unfortunate island, which I call'd the Island of Despair, all the rest of the ship's company being drown'd, and

Like · Comment · Share ·

15 2

2

Jerry L Martin, Lewis Marshall, Masahide Morita and 12 others like this.

1 share

Joshua Grasso One of my favorite books, and the partial subject of my dissertation. Love passages such as this one, which is crazy enough to write an entire dissertation on: "My island was now peopled, and I thought myself very rich in subjects; and it was a merry reflection which I frequently made, how like a king I look'd. First of all, the whole Country was my own meer Property; so that I had an undoubted right of dominion. 2dly, my people were perfectly subjected: I was absolute lord and lawgiver; they all owed their lives to me, and were ready to lay down their lives, if there had been occasion of it, for me."

March 5 at 9:13pm · Like

Frederick Glaysher Thanks for commenting. One of my favorite books, too, ever since I first read it in middle school, much of it under the covers with a flashlight!!

Fine passage, too, you quote. Quite a tale... Crusoe is a motif throughout my epic poem The Parliament of Poets. March 5 at 9:40pm • Edited • Like • 1

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
March 4 •

Robert Reich > The Democratic nominee...

"But will she (or he) do any of this? Taking on the moneyed interests is risky, especially when those interests have more economic and political power than at any time since the first Gilded Age. These interests are, after all, the main sources of campaign funding.

But a failure to take them on prevents any real change in the prospects of the bottom 90 percent of Americans."

Robert Reich: America's entire political system is rigged

The former secretary of labor on the urgent need for a Democrat to take on the country's moneyed interests

SLNM.US | BY ROBERT REICH

Like · Comment · Share · 3

Kenneth Carroll, Carmelo Militano and Hans G. Ruprecht like this.

1 share

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

"The purpose of the spiritual journey of the Poet of the Moon is to seek deliverance of the modern human from the captivity of nothingness, nihilism and atheism, and from the resulting chaos and chasm of soul. ...Bravo to the Poet for this toilsome but brilliant endeavour."

—Umme Salma, Transnational Literature, Flinders University, Adelaide, Australia

Frederick Glaysher, books, poems, essays, reviews, interviews, blog

Gazing from the moon, we see one earth, without borders, Mother Earth, her embrace encircling one people, humankind.

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

Carmelo Militano likes this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher March 4 · Edited ·

Gustave Dore, Adam and Eve going out into the world.

"The World was all before them, where to choose Thir place of rest, and Providence thir guide:

They hand in hand with wand'ring steps and slow,... See More

Like · Comment · Share ·

Ike O'Driscoll, Annette Marie Hyder, Tina Benson and 5 others like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher March 3 •

My books aren't really about politics... more about literary, cultural, and spiritual values that might help bring the world together in peace....

Like · Comment · Share · 7 4

Carmelo Militano, Norvie Bullock, Fiona Gault and 4 others like this.

Tina Benson Yes indeed! March 3 at 6:34pm • Like

Frederick Glaysher Yay, Tina! ... some good things going on. I just finished a long interview that might be out in a month or two, whatever.

March 4 at 11:42am · Edited · Like · 1

Tina Benson That's FANTASTIC Fred!
March 3 at 8:10pm · Like

Frederick Glaysher

March 3 at 8:12pm · Like · 1

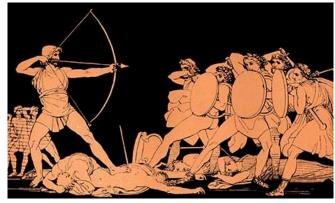

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher shared Kevin Van Anglen's photo. March 3  $\cdot$ Odysseus returning...

Like · Comment · Share · 11 4

Jerry L Martin, Julian De Wette, Peter Y Paik and 8 others like this.

Frederick Glaysher Die, you scoundrels!!
March 3 at 6:13pm · Like · 2

Rodger Cunningham Drawing by Flaxman, I think.

March 3 at 6:32pm · Like

Frederick Glaysher Thanks, Rodger. Looks to me as though he obviously based it on a red-figure Greek vase. ...at least in inspiration.

March 3 at 7:48pm • Edited • Like • 1

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

"... articulates his belief in the possibilities of a global, postmodernistic society based upon religious values that are acceptable to both the East and the West."

Frederick Glaysher, books, poems, essays, reviews, interviews, blog

Gazing from the moon, we see one earth, without borders, Mother Earth, her embrace encircling one people, humankind.

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

Tex J. G. Albert likes this.

Write a comment...

Geoffrey Chaucer, Canterbury Tales...

Portrait of Chaucer as a Canterbury pilgrim, from the Ellesmere manuscript of The Canterbury Tales.

Like · Comment · Share · 4

Carmelo Militano, Tex J. G. Albert and 2 others like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher shared Daniel Cook's photo.

March 1 • Edited •

The only kind of reception one should expect in Lilliput... Jonathan Swift, Gulliver's Travels.

Like · Comment · Share · 1 1

Terry Castle likes this.

Frederick Glaysher What can I say? March 2 at 3:18pm • Like

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

March 1

Many do become inured to soft nihilism... It's the hard nihilism that it can turn into in very unexpected ways that startles a civilization.

Like · Comment · Share · 3

Benjamin Myers and Monika Kosich like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher changed his profile picture.

the possibilities of a global, post-modernistic society based upon religious values that are acceptable to both the East and the West."

Frederick Glaysher, books, poems, essays, reviews, interviews, blog

Fourteen years in the making , The Myth of the Enlightenment is Frederick Glayshers first collection of literary essays since The Grove of the Eumenides in 2007.

Tex J. G. Albert likes this.

Write a comment...

February

International

Day of Peace

Petrovna

Frederick Glaysher February 28 ·

"The purpose of the spiritual journey of the Poet of the Moon is to seek deliverance of the modern human from the captivity of nothingness, nihilism and atheism, and from the resulting chaos and chasm of soul. From the versatile he gets scores of lifeaffirming lessons, yet the core meaning of all is that the Supreme Being as well as the earth is one, and so human beings are one nation irrespective of their clan, class, color, race, religion and gender. In this earth human be... See More

The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem

Thirty years in the making, The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem, by Frederick Glaysher, takes place partly on the moon, at the Apollo 11 landing site, the Sea of Tranquility.Apollo, the Greek god of poetry,...

AMAZON.COM

Like · Comment · Share · 2 1

Patrick Flaherty Emmett and Tex J. G. Albert like this.

1 share

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher February 27 •

"In short this is a book I'll be returning to for the rest of this year and no doubt afterward. I'm glad it exists and I'm grateful for the wisdom it sends my way."

—Laurence Goldstein, University of Michigan, Department of English

"In an era in which the value of human life has become as precarious and narrow as the study of the humanities itself, we need Glaysher's voice more than ever."

—Phillip M. Richards, Colgate University, Department of English  $\dots$  See More

The Myth of the Enlightenment: Essays

The Myth of the Enlightenment is Frederick Glaysher's first collection of literary essays since The Grove of the Eumenides in 2007. Divided into three sections, these essays and reviews were all written during the...

Like · Comment · Share · 1

Julie Clayton likes this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

February 24 ·

"At first, I just thought he was paranoid. But I soon learned that he had come by his paranoia honestly. In May 1991, as a correspondent for Time magazine, Behar had written an exposé of Scientology, calling it a "hugely profitable global racket that survives by intimidating members and critics in a Mafia-like manner."

"...What brings this to mind is Alex Gibney's fine new HBO documentary about Scientology, "Going Clear: Scientology and the Prison of Belief," ...scheduled to air on HBO on March 29."

Scientology's Chilling Effect

It's impossible to tell the story of Scientology without getting into the issue of intimidation and why the church will never turn the other cheek.

NYTIMES.COM | BY JOE NOCERA

Unlike · Comment · Share ·

You and 3 others like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
February 24 •

"A lot of people have blinders on..." "This is their entire world. They don't want to accept that this has happened."

"I was pretty much appalled," she said. "It was very cultish."

Schism Emerges in Bikram Yoga Empire Amid Rape Claims

A day of legal reckoning is drawing closer for the yoga guru Bikram Choudhury, who is facing six civil lawsuits, the latest filed this month.

NYTIMES.COM | BY JACK HEALY

Unlike · Comment · Share · 4 2

You, Wael Moreicheh, Rhea Combs and Ramesh Jain like this.

Ratul Pal I can't understand why some Americans follow such morons blindly. He is not a true yoga master, he is just a moneymonger, trying to make a business out of yoga. Take for granted that whoever tries to sell yoga, is not doing it in the right spirit....Yoga is not a silly thing. Only a few persons can truly master it. Americans should practice it after knowing about it thoroughly. I would like to suggest Sri Aurobindo's books. When it comes to explaining spiritual practices intellectually, he is comparable to none.

February 24 at 7:52am · Like · 3

Frederick Glaysher Thanks, Ratul, for all the good advice, including Sri Aurobindo. Yeah, there are a lot of religious frauds and hucksters around... Here in the US Scientology has gone from scandal to scandal and is in the news again too.

February 24 at 12:12pm · Like

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
February 23 · Edited ·

This morning I finished writing a first draft of an interview with Arthur McMaster on Poets' Quarterly for a forthcoming Spring issue. I thank Arthur and the Poet's Quarterly for the invitation. I look forward to it being published in due time.

It's a pleasure to reflect on how I came to write The Parliament of Poems: An Epic Poem, setting out on it as early as the mid Seventies, with my earliest plot outline dated 1982, and other questions about The Myth of the Enlightenment: Essays, and my #### life as a poet.

Like · Comment · Share · 5

Kizziah Burton, Wael Moreicheh, Arthur McMaster and 2 others like this.

Arthur McMaster I look forward to working with you on this interview, Frederick.

February 23 at 12:36pm · Unlike · 2

Frederick Glaysher Arthur, I look forward to it too and have a start on it, while realizing I've only written a rough draft subject to your editing. Given the opportunity, a lot of pent up ideas came rushing out in a mess this morning!

February 23 at 12:47pm · Like

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

February 22 •

Aldous Huxley Describes Shiva Nataraja

Aldous Huxley Describes the Dancing Shiva Image

The great writer Aldous Huxley (Brave New World, The Perennial Philosophy, The Doors of Perception, Island) describes the "Dancing Shiva" image (Nataraj) of ...

YOUTUBE.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

Carmelo Militano and Raul Alberto Mc Namara like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

February 22 ·

"In short this is a book I'll be returning to for the rest of this year and no doubt afterward. I'm glad it exists and I'm grateful for the wisdom it sends my way."

—Laurence Goldstein, University of Michigan, Department of English

"In an era in which the value of human life has become as precarious and narrow as the study of the humanities itself, we need Glaysher's voice more than ever."

—Phillip M. Richards, Colgate University, Department of English  $\dots$  See More

The Myth of the Enlightenment: Essays

The Myth of the Enlightenment is Frederick Glaysher's first collection of literary essays since The Grove of the Eumenides in 2007. Divided into three sections, these essays and reviews were all written during the...

AMAZON.COM

Like · Comment · Share · 1

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher February 22 • "Very readable and intriguingly enjoyable. Frederick Glaysher's hours of dedication have produced a masterpiece that will stand the test of time."

-Les Merton, Poetry Cornwall, No. 36, England

"The main story is an interesting proposition, that maybe it is poets and philosophers, rather than activists and politicians, who can ultimately help transform this world into something better."

The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem

The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem, by Frederick Glaysher, takes place partly on the moon, at the Apollo 11 landing site, the Sea of Tranquility. Apollo, the Greek god of poetry, calls all the poets of the...

Like · Comment · Share ·

Caroline Oceana Ryan likes this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher shared The Nuclear Resister's photo. February 22 ·

"Our only hope today lies in our ability to recapture the revolutionary spirit and go out into a sometimes hostile world declaring eternal hostility to poverty, racism, and militarism."

-- Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.

The Nuclear Resister

About 25 of us had a peace vigil today at Davis-Monthan drone base in honor of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., after this morning's annual Tucson MLK Day march. N...

See More

Like · Comment · Share · 4

Nick Kondax, Caroline Oceana Ryan and Brad Grydzyn like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

February 22 ·

I'm happy to have three poems accepted for a forthcoming issue of DoveTales, the literary journal of Writing for Peace.

We definitely need all the peace we can get in this day and age. I'm proud to be part of a journal trying to contribute to it.

https://www.facebook.com/pages/Writing-for-

Peace/206031996117573

WWW.Writingtornagea

Writing for Peace

Non-Profit Organization • 1,701 Likes

Liked

Like · Comment · Share ·

Caroline Oceana Ryan, Tina Benson and 2 others like this.

Write a comment...

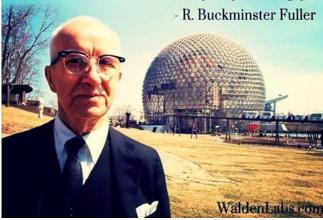

Frederick Glaysher shared Nassim Haramein's photo.

February 22

Wake up world...

"It is now highly feasible to take care of everybody on Earth at a higher standard of living than any have ever known. It no longer has to be you or me. Selfishness is unnecessary. War is obsolete. It is a matter of converting the high technology from weaponry to livingry."

Nassim Haramein

Buckminster Fuller helped pave the way toward innovation and sustainability through technology. His work also inspired and informed Nassim Haramein on his path ...

See More

Like · Comment · Share · 7

Caroline Oceana Ryan, Erland Anderson, Judy Yates Shearer and 4 others like this.

Write a comment...

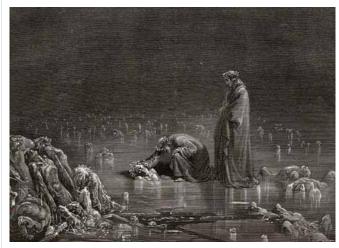

Frederick Glaysher shared Dante Alighieri's photo. February 22 ·

"Too bad this Dante fellow doesn't write anymore."

...Ah, he's alive and well in my epic poem The Parliament of Poets. There's a free chapter on Amazon USA, UK, and INDIA, with about 20 reviews...

http://www.amazon.com/Parliament-Poets-Epic-P.../.../098267788X/

Dante Alighieri

"Midway on our life's journey, I found myself In dark woods, the right road lost." --from INFERNO

Like · Comment · Share · 15

Rebecca Bratten Weiss, Kathleen Keeslar, Rodger Cunningham and 12 others like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
February 21 •

"In an era in which the value of human life has become as precarious and narrow as the study of the humanities itself, we need Glaysher's voice more than ever."

-Phillip M. Richards, Colgate University, Department of English

Earthrise Press. A new global, universal vision of life on this planet. Earthrise Press books evoke a new global, universal vision of life on this planet.

EARTHRISEPRESS.NET

Like · Comment · Share ·

Elaine Stevens and SeaMystic Mary Trainor-Brigham like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
February 20 •

"The paradoxes of quantum physics [can be] a metaphor for the unknown infinite possibilities of our own existence. This is poignantly and elegantly expressed in the Vedas: 'As is the atom, so is the universe; as is the microcosm, so is the macrocosm; as is the human body, so is the cosmic body; as is the human mind, so is the cosmic mind.' Quantum and classical physics can represent the ultimate and relative aspects of Reality, which are co-dependent. Behind these aspects lay... See More

The Reality of Quantum Weirdness

New experiments confirm that nature is neither here nor there.

NYTIMES.COM | BY EDWARD FRENKEL

Like · Comment · Share · 5 5

Pamela Hollander, Deborah DeNicola, Mj Pettengill and 2 others like this.

Frederick Glaysher Cosmic koan...

Deborah DeNicola Thanks for that perspective. It's also Jungian . . . February 21 at 1:08am • Like Frederick Glaysher Deborah, Yeah, and it's basically at the core or in one tradition or another of all the great religions and indigenous wisdoms traditions. There just might be something about it in an epic poem I happen to have written...

February 21 at 9:11am · Like · 1

Stephen Rodgers The absence of presence and absence of absence, neither this or that.....then truth manifests.

February 22 at 2:55am · Like

Frederick Glaysher We human beings do love our neat little formulas...

February 22 at 9:39am · Like

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

February 20 ·

"In short this is a book I'll be returning to for the rest of this year and no doubt afterward. I'm glad it exists and I'm grateful for the wisdom it sends my way."

—Laurence Goldstein, University of Michigan, Department of English

"In an era in which the value of human life has become as precarious and narrow as the study of the humanities itself, we need Glaysher's voice more than ever."

—Phillip M. Richards, Colgate University, Department of English  $\dots$  See More

The Myth of the Enlightenment: Essays

The Myth of the Enlightenment is Frederick Glaysher's first collection of literary essays since The Grove of the Eumenides in 2007. Divided into three sections, these essays and reviews were all written during the...

AMAZON.COM

Like · Comment · Share · 3 4

Deborah DeNicola and Alistair P D Bain like this.

Deborah DeNicola Sounds so interesting, I'll get a copy! February 21 at 1:06am · Like Frederick Glaysher Deborah, Great. Hope you enjoy it. There are some other reviews on Amazon, too, or on my homepage. http://fglaysher.com

Frederick Glaysher, books, poems, essays, reviews, interviews, blog

FGLAYSHER.COM

February 22 at 2:45pm • Edited • Like • Remove Preview

Dow Harris I am intent on reading this one, Frederick. February 21 at 1:54pm · Like Frederick Glaysher Dow, Hope you can get to it soon... I'd like to know what you think of it.

February 21 at 1:59pm · Like · 1

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

February 20 ·

I'm happy to have three poems accepted for a forthcoming issue of DoveTales, the literary journal of Writing for Peace.

We definitely need all the peace we can get in this day and age. I'm proud to be part of a journal trying to contribute to it.

http://writingforpeace.org/1180-2/

DoveTales Literary Journal

DoveTales, An International Journal of The Arts On January 1st, 2013, Writing for Peace launched our new literary journal, DoveTales, an International Journal of the Arts. The journal is

WRITINGFORPEACE.ORG

.ike · Comment · Share ·

Ewa Hryniewicz-Yarbrough, Deborah DeNicola, Norvie Bullock and 5 others like this.

Write a comment...

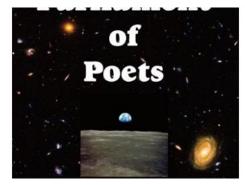

February 20 ·

Frederick Glaysher

"The main story is an interesting proposition, that maybe it is poets and philosophers, rather than activists and politicians, who can ultimately help transform this world into something better."

-Mr. P. J. Morris, Amazon UK

The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem

Thirty years in the making, The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem, by Frederick Glaysher, takes place partly on the moon, at the Apollo 11 landing site, the Sea of Tranquility.Apollo, the Greek god of poetry,...

AMAZON.COM

Like · Comment · Share · 3

Deborah DeNicola, Tex J. G. Albert and Danu Seith-Fyr like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
February 20 •

"Extremism is a spiritual phenomenon, a desire for loftiness of spirit gone perverse. You can't counter a heroic impulse with a mundane and bourgeois response. You can counter it only with a more compelling heroic vision. There will always be alienated young men fueled by spiritual ardor. Terrorism will be defeated only when they find a different fulfillment, even more bold and self-transcending.

"Walt Whitman was inspired by the thought that his country was involved in a great project, "making a new history, a history of democracy, making old history a dwarf ... inaugurating largeness, culminating time."

The Nationalist Solution

Alienated young men will continue to be drawn to violent extremism unless and until we provide a compelling heroic alternative.

NYTIMES.COM | BY DAVID BROOKS

Like · Comment · Share ·

6 6 2

Nick Kondax, Robert L. Rose and 2 others like this.

2 shares

Frederick Glaysher It can't be nationalist. We've been there; done that. As WWI and WWII demonstrated, unrestrained nationalism is out of harmony with the nature of modern life. It has to be global and universal...

February 21 at 9:23am · Like · 1

Frederick Glaysher John, Whitman, ultimately, was not nationalistic in outlook, but working toward *universality*... I understand Brooks' point that the young in Islamic countries need a new vision that helps build up their own nation, but the Quran articulates a *universal* vision of conquest and conversion that has become out of harmony with our time. The wisest Islamic jurisprudents understand that, using ijtihad, classical interpretation, which moderates the extreme impulses...

I discuss *ijtihad* in my book The Myth of the Enlightenment... in the context of a global vision. http://www.amazon.com/Myth-Enlightenment.../dp/0982677839/

The Myth of the Enlightenment: Essays

The Myth of the Enlightenment is Frederick Glaysher's first collection of literary essays...

AMAZON.COM

February 21 at 10:29am ⋅ Edited ⋅ Like ⋅ 1 ⋅ Remove Preview

John Hughes I will get around to your book. Doing research for my own book right now, which entails nature reading, environmental policy, nondual spirituality, and systems thinking.

February 21 at 11:23am · Like

Frederick Glaysher John, Best wishes for your own writing. For a wider scope, read my epic and The Myth...

February 22 at 10:44am · Like · 1

John Hughes Frederick, because you like Tolstoy, whom I love, and Tagore, whose "essential" works I recently bought, and Milton, whom I have been meaning to get to, I will order your essays book next paycheck.

February 22 at 4:24pm · Like

Frederick Glaysher John, Great. Tolstoy and Tagore have been very important to me since the early '70s, so I have many years of reading them, with two essays on each, both with one focusing on their many writings about religion and spirituality... and what they have to say that still speaks to our time. They're also major characters in my epic poem...

February 22 at 5:09pm · Like

Write a comment...

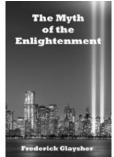

Frederick Glaysher
February 20 •

Write a comment...

The Myth of the Enlightenment: Essays

The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem

Frederick Glaysher, books, poems, essays, reviews, interviews, blog

Gazing from the moon, we see one earth, without borders, Mother Earth, her embrace encircling one people, humankind.

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share

Frederick Glaysher February 18 · Edited ·

Anne Hall > "She expressed regret about how little an English department's offerings today resemble those from the past. "There's a lot of capitalizing on what is fashionable," she said. Survey courses have fallen out of favor, as have courses devoted to any one of the "dead white men," she said.

"Chaucer has become Chaucer and ..." she said. "Chaucer and Women in the Middle Ages. Chaucer and Animals in the Middle Ages. Shakespeare has become Shakespeare and Film, which in my cranky opinion becomes Film, not Shakespeare."

College, Poetry and Purpose

I reconnected with my Shakespeare professor to get her thoughts on the humanities and higher education today.

NYTIMES.COM | BY FRANK BRUNI

Like · Comment · Share · 5

Bruce Stewart, Katherine McNamara, Margaret Mackinnon and 2 others like this.

Chris Gorrie This remind me of something I read recently.

"Yvor Winters's view was liberating because it showed how, without descending to philistinism, the stubborn common sense of the plain man might stand up against flashy but untenable literary ideas. For example, Wiinters had little use for the theory — which has become even more popular recently — that one of the functions of literature is to supply 'fictions' that make tolerable the inherent selflessness of life by imposing a humanly agreeable meaning of things.

"In his book, The Sense of an Ending, Frank Kermode speaks of literature as giving 'fictions of concord' which, if only momentarily and precariously, reconcile us to the otherwise unbearable pointlessness of reality. We understand these fictional 'paradigms' to be purely imaginary constructions, Kermode implies, yet we 'make use of them' somehow as a means of ordering our experience -- as if the usefulness of these paradigms were not vitiated by our awareness of their arbitrariness.

"Winters was at once too shrewd and too naive for such sophisticated credulity. He was shrewd enough to see the futility of trying to satisfy a hunger for metaphysics through ideas admitted to be fictional – a recognition that underlies his critique of the later poetry of Wallace Stevens. Winters would have agreed with the observation of the contemporary philosopher E.M. Cioran that 'a value we know to be arbitrary ceases to be a value and sinks into a fiction. With fictions there is no way of instituting a morality, still less rules of behavior in the present.'

"On the other hand, Winters was naive enough to be shocked by the desperate lengths to which the longing for consolatory fictions could go. I recall one class in which he was lecturing on Hart Crane's The Bridge and came to the following lines:

...Medicine-man, relent, restore--Lie to us.--dance us back the tribal morn!

Although he had certainly read these lines hundreds of times, Winters's face expressed genuine astonishment as he looked up from his text. 'What a terrible thing to say!' he said. He meant that not only was it wrong to ask to be lied to, but it was terrifying that one should be driven to surrender one's intellectual integrity."

-- Gerald Graff, from "Yvor Winters at Stanford"
February 18 at 8:01pm · 2

Bruce Stewart If Eng. Lit. was an ideology, it certainly was more interesting that the the self-indulgent sociologies that passes for literacy today. "So let her think that opinions are accursed" is probably the most hated line in modern poetry yet it doesn't seem entirely such a bad idea at this point - leaving gender out of it. February 19 at 4:44pm - Like Chris Gorrie As you are aware, the full grammatical sentence (that splits across two lines) from A Prayer for My Daughter is "An intellectual hatred is the worst, / So let her think opinions are accursed." Yeats's statement, in my opinion, has absolutely nothing to do with gender. In the first, eponymous poem in the collection that A Prayer for My Daughter appears in, Michael Robartes and the Dancer, "He"'s first line is "Opinion is not worth a rush." I think Yeats means something deeper than gender here, he is expressing what you are expressing when you say " it doesn't seem entirely such a bad idea at this point"...or what Harold Bloom means when he rails against "the ideologues."

February 19 at 4:52pm · Edited · 1

Bruce Stewart Thank you for this, Chris. I wholly agree as regards the gender theme - rather, lack of. My phrase was simply intended to ward off suspicions of misogyny. I have witnessed students and others reviling this poem in completely implacable ways. It is unavoidable that his talk of 'passing round / Magnanimities of sound' - quoting from memory - would sound like young miss handing round the biscuits. But that is not the core of the poem and your adroit cross-reference seals it. I might add that Anne Yeats scoffed at the poem and used to say that Yeats took no such view of her at all. So the daughter was as aetherial as certain swans we know.

February 19 at 4:57pm · Edited · Unlike · 2

Chris Gorrie I can understand your desire to ward off misogyny. I've seen reviews of "Among School Children" on poetry sites where people say that in their medical training they learned to read some of Yeats's expressions as "signals of pedophilic behavior" – I literally (archaic sense [if you didn't know "literally" now means "figuratively"]) laughed out loud.

Could you expound upon Anne Yeats's reaction to the poem? February 19 at 6:04pm · 1

Chris Gorrie Here's a photo you may find amusing.

February 19 at 6:05pm

Bruce Stewart I don't want to 'write the book' on Yeats's parenting. In one anecdotal version, he was the victim of a rude remark from his son Michael when he made one of his somewhat occasional visits home: "who is that man in the drawing-room, Mother," says young Michael. But Anne Yeats has said · or did say, since she's now dead · that Yeats was earnestly interested in her career as an artist and wasn't inclined to let her off because she was a woman. To flesh this out, I will have to talk with an elder relative who knew Anne better than I. She was a very remote figure in my world, closer in hers. As a matter of fact · and please don't think I'm show side · my mother and her siblings passed a nanny on to the Yeatses, their children being younger. I recently found myself telling the story of Yeats and the hoover but in a letter, not online I think. Glad to oblige if there's a demand!

February 19 at 6:45pm · Unlike · 2

Chris Gorrie I'd love to know more, and, like you, I don't really consider myself in a position to judge Yeats's parenting. February 19 at  $7:40 \text{pm} \cdot 1$

Frederick Glaysher Thanks, Chris, for quoting Yvor Winters, whose book The Function of Criticism has always meant something to me, since I read it about the time I reviewed Gerald Graff's Literature Against Itself: Literary Ideas in Modern Society in 1983. Graff is one of the few academic critics that I've read, occasionally, though I've always preferred T. S. Eliot's essays to either one. (Graff link - an old piece that I cite mainly for that reason... i.e., how long I've been working with the material.)

Bruce Stewart, "If Eng. Lit. was an ideology..." Three cheers for heresy!!! At least not systematized... into Utopia. I have an essay on "Yeats' 'Vision of Evil'" in my first collection of essays below, as well as "The Function of Criticism," which is online.

(2nd link) The Grove of the Eumenides: Essays on Literature, Criticism, and Culture,

https://fglaysher.com/grove_of_the_eumenides.html

Gerald Graff, Literature Against Itself, Frederick Glaysher

FGLAYSHER.COM

February 19 at 9:04pm • Edited • Like • 2 • Remove Preview

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
February 18 · Edited ·

A good start, but I think the problems run much deeper...

"In the last few years, conversations have been growing like gathering storm clouds about the ways in which our universities are failing. There is talk about the poor educational outcomes apparent in our graduates, the out-of-control tuitions and crippling student loan debt. Attention is finally being paid to the enormous salaries for presidents and sports coaches, and the migrant worker status of the low-wage majority faculty. There are movements to control tuition, to forgive student debt, to create more powerful "assessment" tools, to offer "free" university materials online, to combat adjunct faculty exploitation. But each of these movements focuses on a narrow aspect of a much wider problem, and no amount of "fix" for these aspects individually will address the real reason that universities in America are dying."

How Higher Education in the US Was Destroyed in 5 Basic Steps

Higher education is not what it used to be, and that's no accident. ALTERNET.ORG

Like · Comment · Share · 2

Katherine McNamara and Mbari Olisa Hogun like this.

Rosa Maria Stoops This is great. Jean-Francois Lyotard mentioned this situation in his famous book The Postmodern Condition, back in in 1979 (which we will discuss tomorrow in my theory class), but it's amazing that no steps were taken to prevent the defunding of public universities, and especially, liberal arts universities. It is a sad reality at this point.

February 18 at 10:50pm · Edited · 1

Bruce Stewart Same problems here. The capture of executive positions by MBAs - often from Business departments in the Universities themselves - and the corporatisation of those universities has been utterly destructive of internal and intrinsic values of education. Instead everything has been tallied in market terms and packaged for students and 'clients' accordingly. But the problem is more profound. For good reasons the idea of 'authority' (auchtor, authorship) has been challenge but there has not emerged an adequate and compelling alternative rationale for real study. Other than the kinds of excellence that MBAs find it so easy to rubbish. In other words, it is actually the civilisation which is in jeopardy, and not simply the institutions. But the language we must use to defend, or recreate, or build anew a conception of higher value has not generally be heard .. if it has even been spoken. Despair is not an unreasonable response to all of this. I have never felt more Spenglerian than I do today, and that is not a reflection on

February 19 at 5:05pm · Unlike · 2

Frederick Glaysher Rosa, Back in about 1981 I had a course at the University of Michigan in Jacques Derrida, Barthes, Lyotard, etc. I realized then the culture was in extreme peril... given their noxious, privileged meta-narrative. Nothing that has happened since has convinced me otherwise. Universities are partly being defunded thanks to the nihilism that deconstruction helped bring into the culture with a vengeance. There seems to be a kind of fog over people's minds from which it is extremely difficult to awaken them...

Bruce, "...there has not emerged an adequate and compelling alternative rationale for real study." They're encased in fog, as it were, like a buoy out there somewhere, ringing for help that it can't see but hopes is there, though many give up and just become accustomed to it. A ship is charting the new course... but they can't recognize it. They expect it will be exactly what they expect... but it never is. It's always a new ship. No longer under sails, or steam, or diesel.. something new, which makes it all the harder... Read my books... what else can I say? I've been waving my arms for over 30 years... Hey, wake up there, snap out of it! I'm over here... and can take you where you need to go, the Moon!! Sounds so simple and incredible no one can believe it, so they continue to cling to the old buoy, rusty as hell, but all they know... so they keep hanging on. They were expecting a conventional ship. Something in accord with their mundane thinking... going back to the same old shore.

Perseus

http://www.odyssey.pm/?p=1771

The old order never recognizes and helps the new... Convention and revolt is the story of cultural change and history...

Start with The Function of Criticism... The Grove of the Eumenides: Essays on Literature, Criticism, and Culture.

https://fglaysher.com/grove_of_the_eumenides.html

"...it is actually the civilisation which is in jeopardy, and not simply the institutions." I couldn't agree more. My essay "Decadence, East and West," in The Myth of the Enlightenment, discusses exactly that fact and the process. There are deeper sources than Spengler.

Historically, though, it's only when things *really* begin to break down, as they are now, that the far-sighted and intelligent, indeed, sensitive souls begin to look for the new... and become open enough, finally, to consider it, as from the Moon...

mediterranean poetry » Frederick Glaysher

Poets/authors who captures the very essence of the Mediterranean world may be enjoyed here!

ODYSSEY.PM

February 19 at 9:58pm · Edited · Like · Remove Preview

Rosa Maria Stoops Wow,Frederick! I think the time was ripe for them all to put their narratives forward. I think their discourse was actually needed at the time. I feel that as all good things, it may have become a force in itself that stopped producing change and many went headfirst into it, sure, but holding Derrida, Barthes, Lyotard et al, responsible for what is happening right now?

February 19 at 8:53pm • Edited • 1

Bruce Stewart I'm ticking Rosa here because I think that postmodernism (or its daddy post-structuralism) is not the problem. But I do endorse the view that the lack of referentiality is the bane of modern literature - or contemporary thought, more like it. Reality ... See More

February 20 at 3:26am · Like

Frederick Glaysher Logorrhea is a hell of a disease... one extremely difficult to shake off once contracted. Poetry is a different order of language.

I have an essay titled "Mimesis" in The Grove of the Eumenides, if interested in what little respect I actually have for deconstruction and those who forced its nihilism down the throat of the culture. (Yes, I have an essay on just about everything.) Facebook chit-chat really isn't fit for discussion of any real depth and range. Cf. ...essay on Saul Bellow's Ravelstein in The Myth of the Enlightenment. Yawn...

Nostalgia? How's that different from the cliches and knee-jerks of deconstruction?

If you read my books, you're headed to the Moon, as sure as Lilliput, whether you like it or not! Haahhaa. What else is there, except the world in which people murder one another? We have to get a perspective on it somehow...

February 20 at 9:38am · Like

Bruce Stewart Okay! I'll take 'logorrhea with a pinch of epsom salts and try not to feel offended! X His sign.

February 20 at 9:49am · Like · 1

Frederick Glaysher No offense intended. One should read Jonathan Swift on this own terms, if one wishes to understand him and not sink his tub before its even launched...

Those buoys are damnable things. The Great Ship of Literature, as Saul Bellow called it, comes from the Moon... and yet they cling to the fog, even as they curse it.

February 20 at 9:54am · Like

Bruce Stewart For some reason Google's links lead from Frederick to Baha'i and beyond. I am not sure if a world religion, new, old or middle-aged, is any use here. We were talking about education. Methinks Jo: Swift wd place Baha'i with the "enthusiasts" rather than the rational houyyhynyms -however it's spelt. Pray take a minute to address the question, are we herewith invited to swing on a moon-shaped star called Baha'i? By the by, Wikipedia has some disconcerting links from Baha'i to a phenomenon called bacha baz about which less said .. or perhaps not - a civil government in Afghan might spell the answer.

February 20 at 10:14am · Like

Frederick Glaysher Glad to see you've got the right word out of Swift-"enthusiasts"!! Hahhahaha! And then there's Yeats' A Vision... Your links seem to be all jumbled up... surely you're not looking for something simplistic, are you? Something about that fog does it ev... See More

February 20 at 10:34am · Edited · Like

Bruce Stewart Yes, my dear, but the question - is the Moon a Bahai province? I am distressed to find that my memory of the narrative of Tale of a Tub is glaringly imperfect. I remember no Leviathan and no buoy. The Leviathan that comes to mind is Hobbes' - ergo, the state - and the buoy puts me in mind of Moby Dick via leviathans of the other sort (or the same). Don't trouble to enlighten me if you don't care to. I am deservedly ignorant. Just straighten me out on the question whether your lucent vision of life and society is based in religious revelation.

February 20 at 10:38am · Like

Frederick Glaysher Your question itself is couched in exclusivism... as is the prevailing secular and nihilistic meta-narrative of the gloriously ascending Enlightenment... to speak blasphemy!! In our extremely, extremely fragmented culture, the terms of cultural conception and discussion are themselves conflicted and have long been part of the problem. You'll have to read The Myth of the Enlightenment for the answer. No FB drivel can address it... Watch out for those knee-jerk assessments and judgements. Literature worthy of the name amounts to more than that, as you know...

Maybe you would find a rereading of Swift's great work instructive... especially if you do choose to Journey to the Moon...

There are, incidentally, several Bahai denominations, so probably whatever you think of as "Bahai" is in itself as debatable as its complex and conflicted history, much suppressed by some of its denominations. Or approach it in this way, what denomination of the 38,000+ Christian denominations was Swift? The categories of thought themselves are the problem, clear to see, secular or religious, from the Moon... a quarter of a million miles out in space. February 20 at 10:54am · Like

Frederick Glaysher As a well-intentioned afterthought, too, I'd say the question is reminiscent of undergraduates or the young, as you know, thinking in terms of the proverbial plum in the pudding approach. Was Shakespeare Christian? There have been people who argue both ways... What do their arguments have to do with Shakespeare? ...either way, it's still exclusivism, etc. Must we be "pagan" (a term completely conflicted in itself) to read Homer? Catholic to read Dante? Arian to read Milton? (if one agrees with that interpretation, again, based ultimately on exclusive labels.) All of which I reject... along with any other tight little box. There's the rub. February 20 at 11:55am · Like Bruce Stewart Was Shakespeare a Catholic, more like ("By St Patrick!") I think you'll find I'm immunised against plummery and am possibly a genetic Swiftian in the sense that his decayed rationalism is my life blood as it is the life blood of all those of Anglo-Irish heritage. On the religious question I'm making a bold exception in declaring a credo as regards the following proposition HK (humankind) was elevated by the incarnation to the condition of higher being, a self-declared condition which he (or she) has rarely managed to live up to - but it is there as an epochal event and a metaphysical extension of the otherwise brutal and triumphant animal we are. I suppose that must seem like more logorrhea. Swift, I think, is the apostle of Nihilism but in the special sense that his evacuation of faith and hope leaves room for a for of divine disappointment which can be construed as more or less a synonym of "saeva indignatio". So, if I am not mistaken, the 7.30 goes to the Moon.

February 20 at 1:49pm · Like

Frederick Glaysher "Decayed rationalism" - I like it! ...in a descriptive sense. "Logorrhea" was not ill-intended nor personal... but descriptive, too, in a sense of the tenor of approach of late modernism, post-modernism, intellectual and otherwise, to the cerebral, to abstractions, at times, versus humane vigor of life, which I believe you were praising, as I do. I respect your conscience and that of people who think similarly.

I would say "immunised against plummery" can be a type of cultural and intellectual indoctrination into plummery in itself, to some extent, leading usually to one habitually conceiving rigidly of various issues, germane, now, to the survival of civilization... history rife with examples. I have met on personal terms with Brits (I know you're Irish) who are proud of such immunization... that it can seems a dis-ease. Just as true of many an American... alas, East and West, is our global plight, locked in our nationalisms and armed to the teeth.

I'm the descendant of people from many a Christian denomination and respect its various creeds, as all religions and wisdom traditions. Some of my people Hugeunot and Catholic ancestors were definitely killing one another in Europe and then marry over here a few decades later. Something about that does good things to one's soul...

If the 7:30 doesn't go to the Moon, it should... but in order to come back to Earth, two feet on the ground. In fact, I can sell you a ticket that can get you there! Haahhaa!! Know of another epic poem in our time that can?

Anyway, I cordially invite you to read the reviews by people who have actually read my epic, on Amazon UK or the homepage of my website. There are a couple by people near your part of the world, Brits. Thanks for chatting. Peace... and best wishes.

http://www.amazon.co.uk/Parliament-Poets.../dp/098267788X/

The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem

AMAZON.CO.UK

February 20 at 2:52pm · Edited · Like · Remove Preview

Bruce Stewart Ah-ha! Well, a parlement of fowles on the moon - that I'll listen to! Good nite! Bruce.

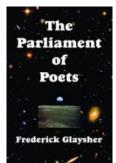

Frederick Glaysher

Write a comment...

The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem
The Myth of the Enlightenment: Essays

Frederick Glaysher, books, poems, essays, reviews, interviews, blog Gazing from the moon, we see one earth, without borders, Mother Earth, her embrace encircling one people, humankind.

FGLAYSHER.COM

 $\textbf{Like} \boldsymbol{\cdot} \textbf{Comment} \boldsymbol{\cdot} \textbf{Share} \boldsymbol{\cdot}$

Mbari Olisa Hogun likes this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher February 18 •

"The purpose of the spiritual journey of the Poet of the Moon is to seek deliverance of the modern human from the captivity of nothingness, nihilism and atheism, and from the resulting chaos and chasm of soul.

- "...Bravo to the Poet for this toilsome but brilliant endeavour."
- —Umme Salma in Transnational Literature, Flinders University, Adelaide, Australia

Like · Comment · Share · 4

Dianna Henning, Amansuka Ubud-Bali Tour and Mbari Olisa Hogun like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
February 17 •

"My concern about modern Christianity? I don't know when, why, or how it happened, but at some time the mainstream denominations put themselves in charge of the Sunday job of accrediting people for admission to Heaven, turning the workdays, the human economy, and the material creation over to the materialists. And so it became possible for people to commit their souls to God while participating in an economy dedicated to the swiftest possible extraction and consumption of everything it values in God's world, with unlimited collateral damage to all creatures, humans included, that it does not value."

Wendell Berry, Burkean

The farmer-novelist on politics, faith, land, and economy

THEAMERICANCONSERVATIVE.COM

Like · Comment · Share · 25 2

Erland Anderson, Rodger Cunningham, Norvie Bullock and 22 others like this.

1 share

Michael Fay As always, an amazing document from Mr. Berry -timely, widely probing, rippling with insight.

February 17 at 2:04pm · Like · 1

Julian De Wette Thank you for posting. Have shared. February 17 at 2:13pm · Like

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
February 17 · Edited ·

Heidegger pathetically betrayed everything of value in metaphysics and culture worthy of respect. >

"According to an article in last week's Italian daily Corriere della Sera by Heidegger expert Donatella Di Cesare, "The Shoah was an act of self-destruction by the Jews. This is the view that emerges from the new volume of Heidegger's Black Notebooks."

Heidegger wrote during the Holocaust in 1942 that the "community of Jews" is "in the age of the Christian West-the age of metaphysics-- the principle of destruction." He wrote further: "Only when what is essentially 'Jewish,' in the metaphysical sense, combats what is Jewish, is the peak of self-destruction in history reached."

Heidegger, a towering figure in the school of continental European philosophy who died in 1976,was the rector at the University of Freiburg and summarily dismissed Jewish professors at the outset of the Nazi movement in the 1930s. He was a member of the Nazi Party."

Ron E. Hecht

According to an article in last week's Italian daily Corriere della Sera by Heidegger expert Donatella Di Cesare, "The Shoah was an act of self-destruction by the Jews. This is the view that emerges from the new volume of Heidegger's Black Notebooks."

Heidegger wrote during the Holocaust in 1942 that the "community of Jews" is "in the age of the Christian West--the age of metaphysics--the principle of destruction." He wrote further: "Only when what is essentially 'Jewish,' in the metaphysical sense, combats what is Jewish, is the peak of self-destruction in history reached."

Heidegger, a towering figure in the school of continental European philosophy who died in 1976,was the rector at the University of Freiburg and summarily dismissed Jewish professors at the outset of the Nazi movement in the 1930s. He was a member of the Nazi Party.

Like · Comment · Share · 1

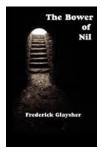

Ron E. Hecht likes this.

Frederick Glaysher I write about Heidegger, along with Derrida, and other philosophers, since Aristotle and Plato, in my book-length narrative poem The Bower of Nil:

"Moving beyond Postmodernism, overturning the nihilism of Nietzsche, Peter Marsh, an academic philosopher, weighs modern life in a conversation with his friend, David Emerson, a businessman. Brought together after long separation by the brutal murder of Mary, Peter's wife, a time of devastating loss and crisis, their friendship inspires a dark night of the soul, during which Peter's meditations range over several hundred years of philosophy, politics, religion, social change, the dilemmas of existence, evoking a vision of the complexities of the 21st Century, the United Nations, and global governance. (Excerpt from Section I of III, below.)"

https://fglaysher.com/bower_of_nil.html

February 17 at 7:14pm · Edited · Like

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher shared Book Riot's photo. February 16 ·

Like · Comment · Share · 52 2

Julie Clayton, John Kenny, Heather Mendel and 49 others like this.

Peter Nicholson Frederick, I think this is a rather old-fashioned view of these two mediums. Wild Strawberries, La Dolce Vita, The Children of Paradise and a list as long as my arm are great works of art, neither better nor worse than any great book of poetry or novel. The picture implies the book always has more depth. Not so, as any number of hundreds of books can testify.

February 16 at 9:56pm · Like · 2

Rebecca Bratten Weiss When it comes to LOTR....so true! February 17 at 12:19am • Like

Bruce Stewart comparing genre on the same scale is inherently flawed but adaptations gives some point to the iceberg image. Still, much of the verbiage in novels is overlay and underlay rather than crystallised insight in any compelling sense. Reading George Eliot's "Adam Bede" on Kindle for fun, I am struck now tiresomely interesting her prating about Saxon and Celt, Anglican and Methodist, peasants and gentry is in relation to the direct thrust of narrative and dialogue. She even references Beethoven and the hymnology to tell us how middle class people and their rural counterparts 'feel'. I really wish she'd hit a few more icebergs. February 17 at 4:04am · Like Derek Dey The iceberg model is a bit Freudian regarding the unconscoius id in relation to the conscious ego. Of course in other models one has to add the totality of the self and a transcendent function. However in Anton Ehrenzweigs book The Hidden Order of Art, he offers a model of creativity arising from the unconscious and being shaped by rational consciousness. The unconscious roots of creativity often viewed as chaotic are actually both patterned and meaningful. In this sense the depth of the creative process is the 'first' principe, or primary process. He then goes on to say, in the arts, both rational and unconscious scanning are necessary to allow the full meaning of a work to take shape in the mind of the viewer or participant.

Creativity holds to this method and the audience participates in much the same way by accepting both the seen and unseen elements presented in the arts. If however rationality or the intellect intervenes in an overwhelming way, works of art become over organized and formulaic and viewing suffers in much the same way; a superficial reading of works becomes pre-eminent. There is quite a bit more but I find his thoughts on creativity to be insightful and relevant to the culture we participate in.

February 17 at 5:39am

Frederick Glaysher I thank everyone for responding to this post and taking the time to share your thoughts about it. I respect the variety of views and am not insensitive to the cultural value of film.

Speaking for myself, my *experience* of reading books all my life and watching some of the best attempts to render them into film is represented well by the iceberg cartoon. In the best literature, there are depths that film cannot even begin to suggest, let alone articulate. It seems to me that if modern culture continues down the road of not appreciating the difference between film and the serious narrative depth of the written word, we're then in dreadful trouble. A quotation from Saul Bellow comes to mind: "I think we're in danger of seeing a new dark age come over the mental life of the country. It is a very serious matter." (The Dean's December)

February 17 at 7:20am · Like · 4

Anthea Haupt Not only the mental life, Friedrich .. the soul is atrophying too.. feeling is dying for many reasons too ,one of them being because we, and particularly the digital age young people, are constantly observers and not participants. any more ... sitting with their laptops on their beds ...who reads books nowadays if you are a youngster...and liking Causes they will never really do anything about...

February 17 at 7:40am · Like · 2

Frederick Glaysher Anthea, All so true... I really like your emphasis on the atrophying of the *soul* and *feeling*. To me, serious, which is to say real, literature worthy of the name explores and develops the inner state of the soul and consciousness where humane feeli... See More

February 17 at 8:18am · Edited · Like · 3

Jim Hart Perhaps they became famous because their work is good And the "likes" are just appreciation for that work

Frederick Glaysher Anthea Haupt was referring to "liking Causes..." without actually doing anything in the real world about them.

February 17 at 8:48am - Like

Rebecca Bratten Weiss A film based on a book is always in danger of looking to the money instead of the art. Then you get a bunch of people referring to the film version as though it were the original... so our cultural reference point ends up being structured simply to entertain, not to challenge or enlighten.

February 17 at 9:08am · Like

John Poolieli Matthew Very true, a book is deeper, searching, finding and exploring than a film.

February 17 at 9:23am · Unlike · 1

Frederick Glaysher Rebecca, Quite true... the book doesn't even exist. How many people read Tolkien now that there are the film versions? The books are vastly deeper than the movies.

February 17 at 9:27am · Like · 1

Bruce Stewart Jim, I am chary of the idea of pure appreciation 'because the work is good' - an oddly Biblical phrase, by the by. Aesthetics and cosmetics, says Joyce, belong in the bedroom. Jokes apart, the category of aesthetic appreciation is something that enters only in the age of galleries when the primary encounter with works as social symbols - communicators in the domain for which they were created - has dissipated. Then we find a higher 'reason' to admire them and constitute that reason as an absolute value: Art.

I suspect that what makes good art 'good' is that it communicates more completely, more lastingly, than lesser art - even when the ostensible message has been forgotten or contradicted. (Perhaps technique is the key.) Most great novels and great films answer to this idea.

This is not cynicism. I think we should get to the grips with the fact that our slender grasp on the absolute is grounded in our decadence and not a remnant from our glory-days as a high civilisation (if ever was). Sadly, the violence of the state and the refinement of the arts are an established twinning. I wonder will we ever see the aesthetic counterpart of a happy society and if so would we like it?

February 17 at 9:28am · Like

Jim Hart Bruce Stewart - I would hit "like" on your "comment" but I am more than a bit chary to do so:)

February 17 at 9:32am · Like ·

Bruce Stewart Jim -February 17 at 9:32am · Like

Frederick Glaysher Bruce, I'm familiar with the argument.... great violent empires beget great art, but, I don't like it. That's about all I can say to deny it!! Hahhaaha. Difficult too to deny that technique accounts for everything in art and artifice... put to good purpose, i.e., working on that "slender grasp." My essay in The Myth of the Enlightenment, "Decadence, East and West," spells it out around the globe and since Plato and company. Let us hold on to the Ideal, the archetype that raises the mind... I believe much can be recovered by those willing to pay the price of sacrifice and long labor... for the good of a happier society, not Utopia.

February 17 at 9:40am · Like

Bruce Stewart I'll go with that. We are betwixt and between - strung out, in a sense. We have a space in mind for higher values, higher meanings, but we are sufficiently of our own age to see these as being generated from 'mire and blood' in another Yeatsian phrase ('old kettles, rags, bones' in another - tho' I think I am misquoting). We accept materialism but postulate ideals. The trick - the conundrum - is to make these work together. I'd hate to say that a violent state is the answer: I don't believe it or desire it. But I do observe that the 'nations' are in a hideously violent phase notwithstanding their pretended pacificism. Don't let me drag you off your topic. X

February 17 at 9:44am · Like

Rebecca Bratten Weiss The digital age ought to provide us with innovative narratives. But with every tekhne comes loss as well as gain. We now have a generation of readers demanding quick entertainment.

My creative writing students are hampered by their own reading (or failure thereof). They have trouble conceiving of conflicts of the heart: it's all external action.

And many never learned to like poetry. It requires reading on different levels. ..too much work. How I shall teach them to write it that's going to be an interesting exercise for us all! What I need to do is go back in time to when they were ten, take away the Nintendo, give them a book.

February 17 at 9:48am · Like · 1

Frederick Glaysher Bruce, Higher values have always have come out of "mire and blood," somehow, inexplicably, despite however unlikely it might seem... "The foul and ragged bone shop of the heart"?

I don't accept materialism. It's one of the wrong turns of modernity, though necessary, at best, for a while, not that Burnt Norton is the solution.... as you say. But we speak in prose about things that only justly can be dealt with in poetry... so the culture goes endlessly in circles, outside the center of the Mystery.

We do seem to be on the edge of many a precipice... all the more that they who possess MEMORY reassess... on their knees, perhaps from the sacred realm of the Moon, viewing anew Mother Earth... February 17 at 9:59am  $\cdot$  Edited  $\cdot$  Like  $\cdot$  2

Bruce Stewart Dead right, Rebecca. I'm sure you've seen the reports coming in about the damaging effect of touch-screens in infant schools and even in early emotional development. The digital age is effecting the sensorium - the way we actually contact the world and the other. Already the 'msg' is the totality of literacy for many - not those who struggled to attain it but those who have fallen back to it from potentially higher levels. I don't mind too much that an undergraduate seminar doesn't know the literal verb "to darn" - their mummies are too young - but when they don't know how to follow a sentence in which a modifier is prefixed to the main statement, then we're in real trouble.

February 17 at 9:54am · Like · 1

Bruce Stewart Frederick Glaysher - now my curiosity really is aroused. Having ruled materialism out of court, how are you going to give us back the transcendent? I'll stick to Yeats on this - with thanks for the correct quotation - is it a matter of the 'artifice of eternity' or the 'artificiality of eternity' but eternity at any cost?

February 17 at 9:57am - Like

Bruce Stewart PS Aristotle founded his Metaphysics on the assertion that nothing can be and not be in a certain state at the same time - the law of non-contradiction. But we are flirting with a law of contradiction unless you say that a non-material dimension actually exists - and if so, in what form? Or am I being pedestrian and crass to ask such a basis question?

February 17 at 10:00am · Like

Frederick Glaysher Prose, prose questions... the wrong language. Poetry is the language of the soul. You'll have to read my epic poem, The Parliament of Poets, for that answer... It and The Myth... were written basically at the same time, in different tongues.

Eternity is the artifice of God... no poet can touch it. All we can do, at best, is evoke it.

February 17 at 7:36pm · Edited · Like · 2

Bruce Stewart Away to read, then! None but poets in my Republic -

February 17 at 10:39am · Unlike ·

Frederick Glaysher Then Plato gets his just deserts in the end... Haahhaa!! Room, though, for everyone... is best. From the Moon, we can see what such a world looks like.

February 17 at 10:47am · Edited · Like

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
February 16 · Edited ·

Our extremely, extremely fragmented culture is all locked up in nihilism and other dehumanizing and narrow forms of exclusivism, secular and religious, at exactly the moment when it needs the most to move further into what is universal in human experience.

Like · Comment · Share · 6 6

Dianna Henning, Rebecca Bratten Weiss, Poulome Mitra Shaw and 3 others like this.

Bruce Stewart Yes but ... humanising culture actually produced the fragmentation as its necessary sequel. Is not UHE the code of our own educational livery? If so, how can we expect others to accept it as the norm? It may be a mistake to seek what is only available at the price of our present decadence - unless we consider it the apogee of human thought and feeling. Better to enjoy the moment? Liberal culture begins to look freakish ... and tenuous at best today. I love it but the historical "masses" - real or hypothetical - might tend to confuse it for 'the desolation of reality' in WBY's phrase. That may depend how much grain you have in your tummy, and how high you have to lift your chin to gaze at the folk in the top seats. Being in the top seats - albeit on a free voucher - does not put us in the strongest position to make accurate ethnographic observations about the underlings. There are certain laws of epistemology which we can't easily scoot around. Unless we abandon our own humanist position like trading Dickens for Finnegans Wake. And then where are we? Certainly not Burnt Norton. But what's to complain about when you think of the times we've seen! I hope all this comes across as amiable mischief. Sartor Resartus.

February 17 at 4:25am · Like

Frederick Glaysher Bruce, UHE? "Liberal culture" has long been "freakish" to me, a stripped-down, distorted form of self-understanding, however one might define the shibboleth "liberal." I love the apropos allusion to Yeats. Carlyle's Sartor Resartus is one of my favorite books, which I happily acknowledge as a lasting influence. I allude to it and Teufelsdröckh in my book-length narrative poem The Bower of Nil. I would say, we're on the Moon... with Jonathan Swift, Thomas More, and Samuel Johnson, among other poets, East and West, in a rollicking Gulliver's Travels.

Bruce Stewart UHE - a happenstance acronym for your "universal human experience". (On the same principle, UHT might be universal human testosterone - if it were not already .. pasteurised milk!) I think we are on the same translunar planet. I've travelled with Jon Swift long enough to understand 'the sweet felicity of being well-deceived". Glad to be on the same page as you, at any rate. Regards - Bruce.

PS Though fundamentally wrong-headed in at least one (Fichtean) regard, Carlyle's "Hero-worship" seems to me almost the text of the moment. Everyone should glean his notion of king, prophet, man of letters ... and the dread demos shaped by those and then perhaps shaped by something worse. It is easy to be mistaken for elitists in proposing that there is a logic to the current figuration of values by media and politics and finance .. but the historical strand is so completely dominant in our affairs that only some conception of upwards transcendence can supply a basis of any higher understanding. Once again, this sounds like code but I think it pretty literal when I am tempted · as now · to engage in metaphysics.

February 17 at 9:04am · Unlike · 1

Frederick Glaysher Melville used the phrase, perhaps writing to Hawthorne, if memory serves, "the superficial skimmer of pages." Alas, it seems perceptive readers are always hard to come by.

I'm not a fan of Carlyle's Hero Worship... that's too Nietzschean for my taste. I'm basically a democrat, small "d," placing my hope in the long run on meritocracy... at least for Stendhal's "happy few," seeded (egads, Goethe and Sartor Resartus!) with something like your fine phrase "only some conception of upwards transcendence." Sounds equivalent to UHE to me... as I think of it. After all, we have to look up to see the Moon...

February 17 at 9:18am · Like

Bruce Stewart I completely agree about the faults of "Heroworship" both Carlyle's book and the pernicious attitude it preaches. That it supports empire and says dirty things about other races (including the Irish) goes without saying. But it does embody a morphological conception of truth which seems valid or at least interesting today. And this is what it has in common with Sartor Resartus, which you like. So we are still on the same planet.

February 17 at 9:31am · Like

Frederick Glaysher Earth... Mother Earth. Two feet on the ground, looking up at the Moon...

February 17 at 9:45am · Like · 1

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

February 16 •

"We have to recognize exactly where the letter — the Qur'an and tradition — predisposes to a fundamentalist reading. We have to rediscover the exegetical and theological tradition in order to unravel the way this letter offers means and encouragement to those who retain from its meaning only what summons them to war."

The Malady of Islam by Abdelwahab Meddeb translated from the French by Pierre Joris and Charlotte Mandell

Abdelwahab Meddeb: The Malady of Islam (1)

The Malady of Islam by Abdelwahab Meddeb translated from the French by Pierre Joris and Charlotte Mandell (French edition published by Editions Seuil in 2002 English edition published by Basic Books in 2003) Table of Contents I.

PIERREJORIS.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

2 2

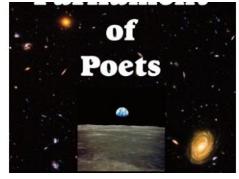

Frederick Glaysher

February 15 •

A modern Journey to the Moon and around the world, evoking the global, universal peace and Unity of all spiritual and wisdom traditions.

"The purpose of the spiritual journey of the Poet of the Moon is to seek deliverance of the modern human from the captivity of nothingness, nihilism and atheism, and from the resulting chaos and chasm of soul. ...Bravo to the Poet for this toilsome but brilliant endeavour."

—Umme Salma in Transnational Literature, Flinders University, Adela... See More

The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem

Thirty years in the making, The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem, by Frederick Glaysher, takes place partly on the moon, at the Apollo 11 landing site, the Sea of Tranquility.Apollo, the Greek god of poetry,...

AMAZON.COM

Like · Comment · Share · 1

Write a comment...

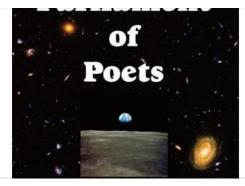

Frederick Glaysher February 15 •

A modern Journey to the Simorg...

"The purpose of the spiritual journey of the Poet of the Moon is to seek deliverance of the modern human from the captivity of nothingness, nihilism and atheism, and from the resulting chaos and chasm of soul. ...Bravo to the Poet for this toilsome but brilliant endeavour."

—Umme Salma in Transnational Literature, Flinders University, Adelaide, Australia ... See More

The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem

Thirty years in the making, The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem, by Frederick Glaysher, takes place partly on the moon, at the Apollo 11 landing site, the Sea of Tranquility.Apollo, the Greek god of poetry,...

AMAZON.COM

Like · Comment · Share · 2

Ola Karolak Krosinska likes this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

February 15 •

It doesn't have to be this way... We choose it. Let's change our choice. Nothing enables the corporatization of everything that is at the core of so many of our global problems as modern materialism and nihilism.

We human beings can draw and drink again from the great fountains of spiritual truth and wisdom that we are all heirs to around the world, reaffirm a humane, moderate, spiritual vision of life on this planet, enabling us to work and live together in peace for the good of all.

Like · Comment · Share · 5

Sher Brisebois, Ron E. Hecht and 2 others like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
February 15 •

It doesn't have to be this way... We choose it. Let's change our choice. Nothing enables the corporate plutocracy that is at the core of so many of our problems as modern materialism and nihilism.

We human beings can draw and drink again from the great fountains of spiritual truth and wisdom that we are all heirs to around the world, reaffirm a humane, spiritual vision of life on this planet, enabling us to work and live together in peace for the good of all.

The Lie We Live

Exposing the truth about our corrupt world and what humanity has become. This is a short documentary film I made and wrote questioning our freedom, the educa...

YOUTUBE.COM

Like · Comment · Share · 3

Belinda Subraman and Ola Karolak Krosinska like this.

Belinda Subraman Powerful......and we still war and pillage just like 1000s of years ago.

February 15 at 1:55pm · Like

Frederick Glaysher Yeah, definitely... All the great sages and teachers said, One and Love... I believe we can recover that Vision from the Moon... global, universal, and moderate for our time. And better than the materialism that we've got, where there are no humane, spiritual values, only what can be put in the bank.

February 15 at 2:13pm · Edited · Like

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

February 14 ·

"Very readable and intriguingly enjoyable. Frederick Glaysher's hours of dedication have produced a masterpiece that will stand the test of time."

-Les Merton, Poetry Cornwall, England

"A great epic poem of startling originality and universal significance."

—Dr. Hans-George Ruprecht, CKCU Literary News, Carleton University, Ottawa, Canada... See More

The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem

Thirty years in the making, The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem, by Frederick Glaysher, takes place partly on the moon, at the Apollo 11 landing site, the Sea of Tranquility. Apollo, the Greek god of poetry,...

AMAZON.COM

Like · Comment · Share · 4 4

Alan Jacobs and John Poolieli Matthew like this.

John Poolieli Matthew Where can i get a copy in india February 15 at 12:49am • Like Alan Jacobs I have now received my copy, and am staggered and bowled over, by the Poet's tremendous erudition. It is a long read and demands a study full of promise. I hesitate to comment before completing this Great Odysey, which may take some time, but it looks like it is going to be a revelation.

February 15 at 4:37am · Like

Frederick Glaysher Thanks for asking, John Poolieli Matthew, In India, you can order my epic on Amazon INDIA or these other Indian online booksellers: BuyHatke, Flipkart, Indiangiftsportal, and uRead. Hope this helps. I'd love to have read it too. Best wishes.

http://www.amazon.in/Parliament-Poets-Epic.../dp/098267788X/

The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem

AMAZON.IN

February 15 at 9:17am · Like · Remove Preview

Frederick Glaysher Alan Jacobs, I'm grateful for your good words and hope you like the rest of your Journey... to the Moon and back. February 15 at 9:19am · Like · 1

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

February 14 ·

Please watch... that maybe out of evil some good can come-a better understanding of what good people most Muslims are.

Fathers of Chapel Hill shooting victims want justice, not revenge

Stay with WNCN.com for the latest Raleigh, Durham, Fayetteville, NC breaking local news, weather forecasts, politics, sports news & things... WNCN.COM

Like · Comment · Share · 7

Tex J. G. Albert and 4 others like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher February 14 • Edited •

Atheists perpetrated the worst violence against other people during the 20th Century, as in the officially atheist state of the USSR. The scholar Robert Conquest, who painstakingly studied the evidence, argued 20 million people died under the USSR, with a total of up to 60 million with those killed in China and other communist states.

"New" atheists don't seem any better than the old ones...

The Chapel Hill shooting: White male atheist murders three Muslim students 46-year-old Craig Stephen Hicks has been arrested and charged.

NEWSTATESMAN.COM

Like · Comment · Share · 5 9

Chigozie Onyenmuo, Gabriella Lettini, Rodger Cunningham and 2 others like this.

1 share

View 5 more comments

Derek Dey I suspect atheism and humanism include Marxists and the communists. From that perspective there is a massive murder count running into the millions. Humanism provides us with many decent and indeed idealistic pe

February 15 at 10:10am · Edited

Frederick Glaysher Derek, Yeah, sad to hear all that... so true. That intolerance is *very much* the situation in academic, literary circles in the USA and elsewhere in Western countries and has been, too, for many decades. It's one of the reasons that I resigned from teaching at Oakland University in 1996. I had to face the fact that the American university had already become intolerance of spirituality in any form, even highly moderate new thought and new age varieties-and still is--caricaturing all religious persuasions as fanatical, as though they alone have the *exclusive* truth in secular nihilism...

I write a lot about all that kind of thing, too, in The Myth of the Enlightenment: Essays...

February 15 at 10:18am · Like · 1

Derek Dey I'm glad to hear you are still active, Frederick, in promoting what I think of as the real - the true and complete nature of humanity. The work of what is called Cultural Marxism i.e. evolution, Freud, deconstruction philosophers and so on, has had a devastating effect on educational institutes and the public at large. A voice in the wilderness however is a rather sweet thing. February 15 at 10:30am

Frederick Glaysher Thanks a lot Derek. I appreciate your encouragement. I believe, in the long run, somehow, there must be a way to break through... and reach humanity, not remain merely a lonely voice in the wilderness, but help to bring humanity together in Unity, its true nature.

February 15 at 10:35am · Like · 1

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
February 14 · Edited ·

The barbarians are already within the gates... have been for a long time, we all are... When *professors* stop pointing the finger and begin to realize that they, too, are barbarians, there will then be a possibility of laying the foundations for a new stage of civilization in this country and around the world.

The Myth of the Enlightenment: Essays

The Myth of the Enlightenment is Frederick Glaysher's first collection of literary essays since The Grove of the Eumenides in 2007. Divided into three sections, these essays and reviews were all written during the...

AMAZON.COM

Like · Comment · Share · 3

Miriam E. Daniel likes this.

1 share

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher February 14 •

My Great-Uncle Bill in India

I've been asked, "Your love and associations with Indian religion and continent is realized...any particular reason Frederick...!"

A flood of memories come back. Too many for a short reply. So I've decide to answer the question here on my blog.

http://fglaysher.com/.../02/13/my-great-uncle-bill-in-india/

Like . Comment . Share .

Frederick Glaysher
February 14 •

Homes...

Scientists Discover Another Earth!

Gregg Prescott, M.S. In5D.com NASA's Kepler Space Telescope recently discovered an Earth-like planet orbiting a nearby star within the habitable zone...

GETRECIPES.US

Like · Comment · Share · 11 7

Hans G. Ruprecht, Mordechai Ben Yosef, Richard Copeland and 8 others like this.

1 share

Frederick Glaysher The second one needs a more human name... Any ideas?

February 14 at 9:10am · Like

John Domini Hearth? February 14 at 9:15am • Like

Frederick Glaysher Wow!! I think that's a great idea! I love that the word *Earth* is within *Hearth* and the associations and nuances as well, of a warm, human hearth, the floor under it, supporting the life-giving fire... For millennia, humanity has warmed and sustained itself at such a flame. Pure poetry, versus the all too technical, scientific numeration of 186F.

Any other supporters of John Domini's suggestion? How do we get it adopted by NASA or whoever it is who decides these things? Hahhaah.

February 14 at 9:29am • Edited • Like • 1

David Grantz Does one need gills to inhabit it? February 14 at 9:49am

February 14 at 9:50am · Like · 1

David Grantz And either way, it is safe from us-hopefully--unless only the highly evolved are allowed admittance there.

February 14 at 9:52am

Frederick Glaysher Hahaaha. We human beings do have our problems... which we need to solve if we're ever going to make it to other planets, not to mention just survive on this one.

February 14 at 10:00am · Like · 1

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

February 14 ·

My fullest response to Islam and modernity is in my epic poem, however unlikely that might seem to some in our culture today, addressing, from the Moon, our current dilemmas...

A couple of cantos in my epic poem are specifically about Islam, attempting to evoke and explore a new way forward for Muslims, as well as the rest of humanity... to come together in peace.

Facebook Posts During January 2015 - The Globe

Given the horrendous events in Paris, I'd like to mention that I have studied Islam all my adult life, with course work back in the 1970s at the University of Michigan, including with one...

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share

Frederick Glaysher shared a link. February 13 ·

JOIN ELIZABETH WARREN FIGHT FOR THE MIDDLE CLASS

Join Senator Warren and Help Protect the Middle Class Join Elizabeth Warren and fight back for the middle class.

WWW.ELIZABETHWARREN.COM

Like · Comment · Share · 3

Surabhi Bhattacharjee, Rodger Cunningham and Jeremy Murray like this.

Write a comment...

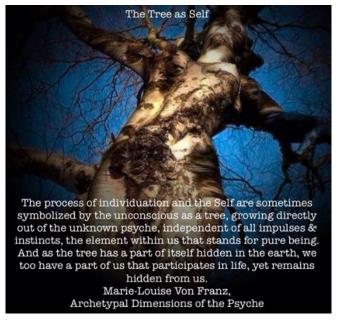

Frederick Glaysher shared Carl Jung & Individuation's photo.

February 13 ·

Von Franz, Marie-Louise. Archetypal Dimensions of the Psyche

"We have seen that the process of individuation is symbolized by the unconscious as a tree, and here we also see a hint of the cosmic man appearing as a plant. The plant represents a lawful process of growth in accordance with a fixed pattern, as well as something that develops directly out of inorganic matter. In a similar fashion, the Self also appears as something that grows objectively in the human psyche, beyond all impulses and instincts, as the psychic element in us that stands for continuity and pure being. The plant always has a part of itself hidden in the earth, and the image of the plant in the human psyche points to the fact that we too have a part of us that participates in life as a whole that remains hidden from us."

Carl Jung & Individuation

This is paraphrased, but with the ideas left intact. Actual text: We have seen that the process of individuation is symbolized by the unconscious as a tree, a...

See More

Like · Comment · Share · 2

Jeremy Murray likes this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
February 13 •

My Great-Uncle Bill in India

I've been asked, "Your love and associations with Indian religion and continent is realized...any particular reason Frederick...!"

A flood of memories come back. Too many for a short reply. So I've decide to answer the question here on my blog.... See More

Like · Comment · Share ·

Vidya Kamat and Mj Pettengill like this.

Frederick Glaysher Hey, thanks, Mj! ...hope the note of the wide-eyed kid comes through! Hahhaha

February 13 at 12:49pm • Edited • Like

Mj Pettengill It did! I enjoyed reading it and can connect the dots. February 13 at 12:54pm · Like

Mj Pettengill What a fascinating journey. February 13 at 12:54pm · Like residuity to de 1210-pin -

Frederick Glaysher Haahha! Great! Yeah, I guess so... when we're living along, though, it can seem otherwise... a hard slog against the storm, struggling to understand. Glad you liked it.

February 13 at 12:57pm • Edited • Like

Mj Pettengill Definitely! I also find it interesting that we can see the value of our past experiences, some of which we were not fully aware of in real time. One of what I considered (at the time) to be the most challenging and dark periods of my life was, in fact, pivotal and a powerful, enlightening experience. When I was in it, it didn't seem so. It felt impossible and unimaginable. I learned that it isn't the actual experience, but what you learn from it, and how you transform 'it' into an opportunity for growth, awareness, and learning.

February 13 at 1:03pm · Like

Frederick Glaysher Yeah, you make such good point! ...only in retrospect can we see then those earlier trials and experiences were leading us somewhere, to a higher level of consciousness and understanding, or we find a way to make order and meaningful sense and patterns out of them, which is maybe saying the same thing. I'm glad you found some solace and peace from your earlier "dark periods." Life must be very painful for people who don't feel such growth...

February 13 at 1:21pm · Like · 1

Mj Pettengill It's amazing. It came to me when I was standing in field of violets · a sea of purple as far as the eye could see. I had been stripped down to my core, which I learned was necessary for tremendous growth. The choices that I made during that period were an essential part of the journey.

I also think that remembering our past (not dwelling, living, or being stuck in it) is of huge value. Sharing our remembrances is a way of others tapping into their own well of memories. It was inspiring. Thank you.

February 13 at 1:28pm · Like

Frederick Glaysher Yes, we human beings need help from one another to blossom. Sounds wonderful. Thank you for reading my piece on my Uncle Bill and India. Glad you enjoyed it.

February 13 at 1:34pm · Like · 2

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
February 12 •

"This is a uniquely powerful work that introduces an established and powerful literary tradition to a world that is in desperate need of its essential rhythms and harmonies for spiritual sustenance."

The Parliament of Poets by Frederick Glaysher

In a modern technological world - one where contemporary spiritual ideas can be shared with the World simply by the click of a button, it is important...

 $\textbf{SPIRITUALITY.TODAY} \mid \textbf{BY SPIRITUALITY TODAY}$

Like · Comment · Share

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

February 12 ·

A couple of cantos in my epic poem are specifically about Islam, attempting to evoke and explore a new way forward for Muslims, as well as the rest of humanity... to come together in peace.

Facebook Posts During January 2015
- The Globe

Given the horrendous events in Paris, I'd like to mention that I have studied Islam all my adult life, with course work back in the 1970s at the University of Michigan, including with one...

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share · 4

Jaydeep Sharangi and Mary Jane Sullivan like this.

Jaydeep Sharangi great! Would love to read it soon...

February 12 at 9:13pm · Unlike · 1

Frederick Glaysher shared Alberto Villoldo's photo.

February 11 •

Alberto Villoldo

May the light of Mama Kia, Grandmother Moon shine upon you and bless you with abundance....in love and light.

Like · Comment · Share · 20

Lewis Marshall, Carmelo Militano, Pamela Hollander and 17 others like

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

February 11 •

Spirituality Today >

"The Myth of the Enlightenment: Essays ... articulates his belief in the possibilities of a global, post-modernistic society based upon religious values that are acceptable to both the East and the West."

The Myth of the Enlightenment by Frederick Glaysher

Today, we live in a culture in which encourages way too many peope too openly voice their ill-considered opinions on some topic or another. Social med...

SPIRITUALITY.TODAY | BY SPIRITUALITY TODAY

Like · Comment · Share · 2

Tex J. G. Albert likes this.

Tex J. G. Albert I feel your opus is pertinent in the context of the International Decade for the Rapprochement of Cultures (2013-2022), of which I've just become aware.

https://en.unesco.org/.../international-decade...

International Decade for the Rapprochement of Cultures (2013-2022)

What it is?

EN.UNESCO.ORG

February 11 at 4:16pm · Like · Remove Preview

Frederick Glaysher Thanks, Tex. I appreciate your mentioning it.

I've had a long interest in the UN, as I've tried to suggest in my Brief Bio: I have been an outspoken advocate of the United Nations, an accredited participant at the UN Millennium Forum (2000), and attended the UNA Members Day 2012 on the Millennium Development Goals, held in the General Assembly Hall. Member/Board Member, UN Association of Greater Detroit UNA-USA. 2000/2012-2013.

https://fglaysher.com/about.html

About Frederick Glaysher, Brief Bio

Frederick Glaysher invokes a global vision beyond postmodernism, beyond postmodernity.

FGLAYSHER.COM

February 11 at 4:32pm · Like · 1 · Remove Preview

Frederick Glaysher Similarly, my book The Grove of the Eumenides: Essays on Literature, Criticism, and Culture has an essay that's largely focused on the UN: The Victory of World Governance... (some religious fanatic has trashed this book on Amazon, which won't do anything about it, but his nasty comment has nothing to do with my book! I don't think the person even read it.)

(13) Frederick Glaysher

http://www.amazon.com/Grove-Eumenides.../dp/0967042186/

The Grove of the Eumenides: Essays on Literature, Criticism, and Culture

AMAZON.COM

February 11 at 4:45pm · Edited · Like · Remove Preview

Frederick Glaysher It occurs to me too that I discuss in the UN in a number of pieces in The Myth of the Enlightenment: Essays.

http://www.amazon.com/Myth-Enlightenment.../dp/0982677839/

The Myth of the Enlightenment: Essays

AMAZON.COM

February 11 at 4:36pm · Like · Remove Preview

Frederick Glavsher Into the Ruins: Poems has several poems about various figures associated with the UN and the development of a global system of governance, e.g., Woodrow Wilson, Eleanor Roosevelt, Dag Hammarskjold.

http://www.amazon.com/Into-Ruins-Frederick.../dp/0967042194/

Into the Ruins

AMAZON.COM

February 11 at 4:40pm · Like · Remove Preview

Frederick Glaysher The Bower of Nil: A Narrative Poem works with UN themes as well... long on my mind, coming to fruition in The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem....

http://www.amazon.com/Bower-Nil-Narrative.../dp/0967042143/

The Bower of Nil: A Narrative Poem

AMAZON.COM

February 11 at 4:42pm · Like · Remove Preview

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher February 11 · Edited ·

"The purpose of the spiritual journey of the Poet of the Moon is to seek deliverance of the modern human from the captivity of nothingness, nihilism and atheism, and from the resulting chaos and chasm of soul."

-Umme Salma, International Islamic University, Department of English Language and Literature, Chittagong, Bangladesh

"A contemporary classic! Highly recommended for reading."

-Nishat Haider, Associate Professor, Lucknow University, India... See More

Frederick Glaysher, books, poems, essays, reviews, interviews, blog

Gazing from the moon, we see one earth, without borders, Mother Earth, her embrace encircling one people, humankind.

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

Krysia Jopek likes this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher shared Olivier Awards's photo.
February 11 ·

Like · Comment · Share · 22

Julie Clayton, Bernice Lever, Pierre Henri Huot and 19 others like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher shared a link.

Lake Huron, Half Way Up the Thumb of Michigan - The Globe

Frederick Glaysher. November 5, 2010. Between working on drafts of my epic poem, clearing out my head with a little contemplation of...

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
February 11 •

Lynching as Racial Terrorism

"...nearly 4,000 lynchings of black people in 12 Southern states from 1877 to 1950. The report focuses on what it describes as "racial terror lynchings," which were used to enforce Jim Crow laws and racial segregation. Victims in these cases were often murdered without being accused of actual crimes but for minor social transgressions that included talking back to whites or insisting on fairness and basic rights."

"Mr. Stevenson's group makes the persuasive argument that this history needs to be properly commemorated and more widely discussed before the United States can fully understand the causes and origins of the racial injustice that hobbles the country to this day."

Lynching as Racial Terrorism

A new report aims to force Southern towns and the nation to confront an era of racial terror directly and recognize its ramifications today.

NYTIMES.COM | BY THE EDITORIAL BOARD

Like · Comment · Share · 8

Margaret Mackinnon, Sherry O'Keefe, Arthur Broomfield and 5 others like this.

Susan Scott no-one wants to revisit even though that's the way to get to the wound and allow it to heal properly ..

February 11 at 9:14am

Frederick Glaysher Susan, Yeah. I think, though, people need to revisit and remember such social crimes and atrocities to learn from them. Otherwise, they're just swept under the rug or the back of the mind, where they fester and continue in other horrible ways. I'd be in favor of commemorative markers and even a museum somewhere appropriate. I think there's a lot that Americans could and need to learn about our racist history against blacks, and others for that matter.

February 11 at 9:45am · Like · 2

Susan Scott and of course to remember, never to forget that mankind has perpetrated terrible atrocities and continues to .. as Freud said, history repeats itself when we don't learn from past 'errors'. Known as the 'repetition compulsion'. Happens on micro scale as well - it's where it starts .. Best, Susan Scott February 11 at 9:55am

Frederick Glaysher Yeah, and it's human that people think it's not us, it's "THEM"! ...whoever. Yet racism goes very deep into American history and culture, festering on... Mr. Stevenson's group offers us a much-needed opportunity to think about it all on a deeper level. I wish them all success on putting it together. They seem to have come up with a very creative way to deepen the dialogue.

February 11 at 10:03am · Like · 1

Susan Scott Excellent. The article doesn't say about how he intends to go about this - not only commemoration of these events, but some real soul searching is surely needed. Acknowledgment of crimes against humanity. Here in South Africa our past is bruised indeed ... 20 years of democracy on, we're still bleeding and the outcomes are not good .. we seem unable to get to the roots of racism. Though we have healthy debates about it all the time on social media etc .. many say put the past behind and get ON with it ... many of us are too stuck and many of us are aware that more exposure of wounding needs to be done. Both sides incidentally, blacks and whites .. February 11 at 10:21am

Frederick Glaysher Yes, this article doesn't say exactly what their plans are, but a number of others have seemed to suggest they're thinking about placing markers and a museum come up. I hope they develop more in both directions...

http://www.nytimes.com/.../history-of-lynchings-in-the...

History of Lynchings in the South Documents Nearly 4,000 Names

NYTIMES.COM | BY CAMPBELL ROBERTSON

February 11 at 10:26am · Like · Remove Preview

Susan Scott will read later thank you .. February 11 at 10:26am

Frederick Glaysher Sure. Sorry to hear things are difficult in South Africa still... I hear reports that suggest as much, and various views on how to heal... deep wounds take a lot of time, it seems, like here. February 11 at 10:28am · Like · 1

Write a comment...

"The purpose of the spiritual journey of the Poet of the Moon is to seek deliverance of the modern human from the captivity of nothingness, nihilism and atheism, and from the resulting chaos and chasm of soul. ...Bravo to the Poet for this toilsome but brilliant endeavour."

 Umme Salma in Transnational Literature, Flinders University, Adelaide, Australia

http://fglaysher.com

Like · Comment · Share ·

Frederick Glaysher
February 10 · Edited ·

Appalling figure... glad it's being documented and remembered. Should help educate people about what really happened.

"She helped set up an exhibit in the county historical museum, the only commemoration of the lynchings she knows of in a town with prominent public memorials to the Confederacy. The prospect of a permanent marker had not occurred to her.

"It would be a fight," she said. "Someone is going to have some resistance to it. But you know, I think it wouldn't hurt to try it."

History of Lynchings in the South Documents Nearly 4,000 Names

After compiling an inventory of 3,959 lynching victims in 12 Southern states from 1877 to 1950, the Equal Justice Initiative wants to erect...

NYTIMES.COM | BY CAMPBELL ROBERTSON

Like · Comment · Share · 2 2 2

Ellie Finlay likes this.

2 shares

Rosa Maria Stoops

February 10 at 9:06pm · Edited

Frederick Glaysher Terrible that it ever happened but then went on for so long... and widespread.

February 11 at 6:35am · Edited · Like

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher February 10 •

There's a way now to reunite humanity in Unity of Being...

Like · Comment · Share · 1

Frederick Glaysher

February 10 ·

"Non-violence, which is a quality of the heart, cannot come by an appeal to the brain." --Gandhi

Like · Comment · Share ·

Jerrilyn Zavada, Cynthia Sue Larson, Regina A Walker and 5 others like this.

Write a comment...

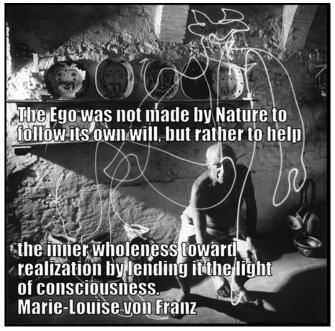

Frederick Glaysher shared Carl Jung & Individuation's photo.

February 10 ·

Von Franz, Marie-Louise, Archetypal Dimensions of the Psyche >

"If I possess an artistic talent of which I am unaware, it might as well not exist; only when my ego perceives it can it be realized. This process only becomes a reality when a person becomes conscious of it. The process of individuation is more than just a collaboration of the core of wholeness and the circumstances of fate. Experientially, it is as though something divine and creative intervenes in the life of the individual, in a personal and individual fashion. We have the feeling that something is watching us, something that we do not see, who communicates his intentions to us in dreams. This creative aspect can only develop if the ego frees itself from all thoughts of gain or achievement in order to get nearer to truer and deeper being; it must give itself over, free of all purpose, to this inner need to grow."

Carl Jung & Individuation

If I possess an artistic talent of which I am unaware, it might as well not exist; only when my ego perceives it can it be realized. This process only becomes a...

See More

Like · Comment · Share · 6

Hilary Heriz-smith and 4 others like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher February 10 · Edited ·

Funny how Scientology, Mormonism, and other organized religions and fanatics often seem to excommunicate alleging "apostasy," trying to prop up their exclusive claim to truth.

Mormon critic John Dehlin is excommunicated for 'apostasy'

Mormon critic John Dehlin is excommunicated for 'apostasy'

Mormon critic and podcaster John Dehlin didn't have to wait long to find out the verdict of Sunday's church disciplinary council — he has been...

SLTRIB.COM | BY THE SALT LAKE TRIBUNE

Like · Comment · Share

Frederick Glaysher

February 10 ·

"Man as animal is violent but as spirit is non-violent. The moment he awakes to the spirit within he cannot remain violent. Either he progresses towards ahimsa or rushes to his doom."

--Gandhi

Like · Comment · Share · 1

John Hughes, Rachel Blum Krauser and 6 others like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

February 10 •

"Ahimsa (non-violence) is the only true force in life." -- Gandhi

Like · Comment · Share · 5

Richard Copeland and 2 others like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher shared The Writer's Circle's photo.

If a story is in you, it has got to come out.

William Faulkner

The Writer's Circle

Another great quote!

Like · Comment · Share · 1

Jerry L Martin, Anna Maranta, Julie-ann Rowell and 11 others like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher February 10 · Edited ·

Frederick Glaysher. November 5, 2010. Between working on drafts of my epic poem, clearing out my head with a little contemplation of eternity... on Lake Huron, half way up the thumb of Michigan.

Like · Comment · Share · 17 14

Victoria Pope, RevTricia Mathews-Lightfoot and 13 others like this.

Tina Benson Beautiful!

February 10 at 10:13am · Like

Frederick Glaysher Hahhaa! Yeah, Michigan November overcast... all the gloom of the soul made manifest.

February 10 at 10:14am · Like · 1

Frederick Glaysher Life on this rock as it is lived... Hahhhaaahhaa.

Tina Benson "All the gloom of the soul made manifest..." Poetry, Fred...you can't help yourself! And, but not for the soul's gloom, many a fine poet would have little to write about!

February 10 at 10:18am · Like

Frederick Glaysher HHaaayaaa!! Ahh, self-dramatization, what else is art? Shakespeare excelled at it, taking on all those marvelous roles of who and what we are. I think, though, Tolstoy was right about Shakespeare that he had too much experience of the gloom and not enough of the spiritual... a note sorely lacking in Shakespeare, to the detriment of his conception of life and art. February 10 at 10:22am · Like · 1

Tina Benson I'd not heard Tolstoy's opinion of Shakespeare...interesting observation I'll have to ponder on... February 10 at 10:25am · Like

Frederick Glaysher Tolstoy wrote a notorious essay on Shakespeare, dismissing him in various ways. Despite its flaws, the essay raises serious questions that those who blindly worship Shakespeare have never convincingly answered, if not unwisely ignored. Shakespeare's da... See More

February 10 at 11:22am · Edited · Like · 1

Tina Benson I've always greatly admired Tolstoy; do you have the name of that essay by any chance?

February 10 at 10:37am · Like

Frederick Glaysher Tolstoy on Shakespeare: A Critical Essay on Shakespeare by Leo Tolstoy. It's on Gutenberg . org

http://www.gutenberg.org/ebooks/27726

Tolstoy on Shakespeare: A Critical Essay on Shakespeare by graf Leo Tolstoy

Free kindle book and epub digitized and...
GUTENBERG.ORG

February 10 at 10:39am · Like · Remove Preview

Tina Benson Ahhh,,, thanks Fred! February 10 at 10:40am • Like

Frederick Glaysher Enjoy! February 10 at 10:41am · Like

Heather Mendel Looks like an image of what Mary Oliver described in her interview with Krista Tippet regarding being out in nature in order to connect:-)

February 10 at 11:02am · Like

Frederick Glaysher Heather, Yeah, I'll go with that. I've spent a lot of time communing with Nature... She speaks to us, if we will listen. And can heal us.

February 10 at 3:48pm · Edited · Like

Frederick Glaysher I am but ephemera like aught else on this planet...

February 10 at 5:00pm · Like · 1

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

February 10 ·

"If you do not change direction, you may end up where you are heading."

10 Lao Tzu Quotes for Healthy Thinking

Lao Tzu: 604 BC -531 BC, Henan, China Lao Tzu ("Old Master") was a philosopher of ancient China. He is best known as the author of ... Continue reading

CATALYZINGCHANGE.ORG

Like · Comment · Share ·

15

Regina A Walker, Kwame Scruggs and 10 others like this.

1 share

View 11 more comments

Frederick Glaysher Are you still simpering over my being almost the only poet in America to call you to account for your adolescent insulting of First Lady Laura Bush?

February 10 at 12:40pm · Like

Sam Hamill You must be the only one who remembers that. I certainly didn't. Still don't.

February 10 at 12:44pm · Like

Frederick Glaysher I can well imagine you'd want to bury that chapter. The link is not to my blog nor did I choose Stephen Mitchell's translation. I clearly said I don't care to be side tracked from the conversation in hand to something you regard as your own turf or grudge you carry with Mitchell. Please choose elsewhere to act out.

February 10 at 12:50pm • Edited • Like

Susan Scott thank you -will share February 11 at 9:02am

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

February 10 ·

We've all seen it, from the moon, the great overview Image of Mother Earth, and feel it to some inarticulate degree and level... yet need a tale to help it come into focus... I believe, in our hearts and souls where real change originates and takes place.

People Around the Globe Must Change their Thinking - The Globe

The first step is people around the globe must change their thinking... That is now in process and can be achieved, with a unifying Vision.

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share · 4

Deborah Tobin and Tex J. G. Albert like this.

1 share

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
February 9 •

Benjamin Myers >

"Floundered around in class for about twenty minutes today just trying to say simply this: Scholars and their students so often try to reduce books to arguments ABOUT life, but great books are so much more. They are arguments WITH life, a kind of lovers' quarrel."

Benjamin Myers

Floundered around in class for about twenty minutes today just trying to say simply this: Scholars and their students so often try to reduce books to arguments ABOUT life, but great books are so much more. They are arguments WITH life, a kind of lovers' guarrel.

Unlike · Comment · Share · 4 1

You, Julie Clayton and Ola Karolak Krosinska like this.

Frederick Glaysher Mmmm... as Robert Frost once wrote in a poem, "I had a lover's quarrel with the world."

February 10 at 8:03am · Edited · Like

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

February 9 •

"The purpose of the spiritual journey of the Poet of the Moon is to seek deliverance of the modern human from the captivity of nothingness, nihilism and atheism, and from the resulting chaos and chasm of soul. ...Bravo to the Poet for this toilsome but brilliant endeavour."

—Umme Salma in Transnational Literature, Flinders University, Adelaide, Australia

Like · Comment · Share · 7 3

Hamish Danks Brown, Erland Anderson, Penn Kemp and 4 others like this.

Frederick Glaysher http://fglaysher.com

Frederick Glaysher, books, poems, essays, reviews, interviews, blog

FGLAYSHER.COM

February 9 at 7:46am · Like · 1 · Remove Preview

Erland Anderson Nice to know there are so many wonderful readers in Australia and New Zealand!

February 9 at 11:00am · Like

Frederick Glaysher Yeah!! I'm proud of being reviewed "down under." ...especially for me since one canto is set in Australia, with aborigine Zapara, "moon man"! hhhaaha

February 9 at 11:02am · Like ·

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

February 8 ·

How to recognize a decadent cultural period? It repeats the wheel over and over and over and over and over and over and over... again. And calls it art.

Like · Comment · Share · 6 3

Helena Kerekhazi and 5 others like this.

Mary Madec Glad you like the Greeks! February 8 at 8:55pm • Like

For dealer Olevek on Many are in my epic poem, Homer, Demodocus, Sappho, etc., Roman Virgil, and so forth, East and West. There's a free chapter on my homepage or on Amazon UK.

February 8 at 9:54pm · Edited · Like · 1

Frederick Glaysher If interested...

http://www.amazon.com/Parliament-Poets.../dp/098267788X/

The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem

AMAZON.COM

February 8 at 9:13pm · Edited · Like · Remove Preview

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
February 8 • Edited •

Calliope

Calliope Poetry Series

https://www.facebook.com/CalliopePoetrySeries?ref=profile

Like · Comment · Share ·

Hans G. Ruprecht, Richard Copeland, Hune Margulies and 4 others like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher February 8 · Edited ·

Spirituality Today >

"The story begins with Apollo, the Greek God of poetry, calling together all the poets of the nations of the East and West - both ancient and modern, to a meeting on the Moon. Here, they are charged with the task of considering 'modernity' - or to put it another way, the plight of the human in an essentially non-spiritual world."

Like · Comment · Share · 4

Michael Buchanan and Ola Karolak Krosinska like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
February 8 •

This planet needs a major cultural shift to a new stage of global civilization, as I discuss in "Decadence, East and West," in The Myth of the Enlightenment: Essays. Hope you'll consider reading it.

Like · Comment · Share · 10 7 1

Helena Kerekhazi, Michael Buchanan, Mj Pettengill and 7 others like this.

1 share

Timothy Cooper Completely and utterly agree.

February 8 at 10:09am · Like

Frederick Glaysher Nice hearing from you, Timothy. My epic poem and collection of essays are all about laying the foundations for and evoking such a global civilization. I hope you might consider reading both. See http://fglaysher.com

Frederick Glaysher, books, poems, essays, reviews, interviews, blog

Gazing from the moon, we see one earth, without... FGLAYSHER.COM

February 8 at 10:11am · Like · Remove Preview

Timothy Cooper Absolutely.

Frederick Glaysher Great. Hope to hear back from you... stay in touch.

Timothy Cooper My pleasure. Fellow spirit!

February 8 at 10:34am · Like

Frederick Glaysher
February 8 at 10:34am • Like

Steven Deedon @Frederic: My very favorite quote of Francis' -- well, along with par. 4 of his response to David Cameron's invitation to address a 2013 meeting of the G8: bit.ly/1zPN4OP. Viva Francisco!

@Bob: To say the Pope Francis has begun to clean up the Vatica... See More

Pope to G8: Money, politics and economics must serve, not rule

NEWS.VA

February 9 at 3:07pm · Remove Preview

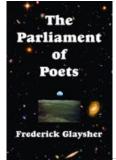

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
February 7 •

Spirituality Today >

"Frederick Glaysher is a poet, contemporary spiritual thinker and truth-seeker who has embraced the epic poem as a way of expressing his deeply-held concern for the spiritual future of humanity."

Frederick Glaysher, books, poems, essays, reviews, interviews, blog

Fourteen years in the making , The Myth of the Enlightenment is Frederick Glayshers first collection of literary essays since The Grove of the Eumenides in 2007.

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

3

Moyra Irving, Michael Buchanan and Gabriella Finberg Nagata like this.

Frederick Glaysher Thanks, friends. I talk about the need for a major cultural shift to a new stage of global civilization, in "Decadence, East and West." Hope you'll consider reading it.

February 8 at 8:37am · Like

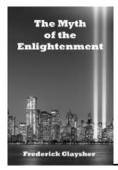

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
February 7 •

Spirituality Today >

"The Myth of the Enlightenment: Essays ... articulates his belief in the possibilities of a global, post-modernistic society based upon religious values that are acceptable to both the East and the West."

Frederick Glaysher, books, poems, essays, reviews, interviews, blog

Fourteen years in the making , The Myth of the Enlightenment is Frederick Glayshers first collection of literary essays since The Grove of the Eumenides in 2007.

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

Michael Buchanan and Donna Surles like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

February 7 •

"Poetry creates the myth; the prose writer draws its portrait."

--Jean-Paul Sartre

Like · Comment · Share · 9

Kizziah Burton, Humera Afridi, Michael Buchanan and 6 others like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

February 6 •

Spirituality Today >

"Frederick Glaysher is a poet, contemporary spiritual thinker and truth-seeker who has embraced the epic poem as a way of expressing his deeply-held concern for the spiritual future of humanity."

The Parliament of Poets by Frederick Glaysher

In a modern technological world - one where contemporary spiritual ideas can be shared with the World simply by the click of a button, it is important...

SPIRITUALITY.TODAY | BY SPIRITUALITY TODAY

Like · Comment · Share ·

Michael Buchanan, Norvie Bullock and Monika Kosich like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
February 6 •

Spirituality Today >

"The Myth of the Enlightenment: Essays ... articulates his belief in the possibilities of a global, post-modernistic society based upon religious values that are acceptable to both the East and the West."

The Myth of the Enlightenment by Frederick Glaysher

Today, we live in a culture in which encourages way too many peope too openly voice their ill-considered opinions on some topic or another. Social med...

SPIRITUALITY.TODAY | BY SPIRITUALITY TODAY

Like · Comment · Share · 4 1

Michael Buchanan, Dani Greer and Monika Kosich like this.

1 share

Frederick Glaysher Thanks, Dani, for your good opinion, & the share! February 6 at 4:56pm • Like

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

February 6 ·

Jesus Christ did not create denominations. Neither the Christianity of consubstantiation nor the Christianity of transubstantiation.

Like · Comment · Share · 1 3

Michael Buchanan likes this.

Frederick Glaysher If you really want to understand what I'm saying above, you'll have to read both my epic poem and The Myth of the Enlightenment. Any knee-jerk reaction will get it wrong...
February 6 at 10:26am · Like

Erland Anderson And didn't John Calvin invent a third one? "Subsubstantiation"

February 6 at 2:14pm · Like

Frederick Glaysher Hey, thanks, Erland. That's a new one on me! Hahhaa. With over 38,000 denominations, according to Patheos. com, there must be others... I vote for 7 billion denominations, equaling One.

February 6 at 4:31pm • Edited • Like • 1

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
February 6 •

Excerpts from The Gospel of Thomas, from The Nag Hammadi Scriptures, ed. Marvin Meyer, 2007

"Jesus said, 'I am the light that is over all things. I am all: from me all has come forth, and to me all has reached. Split a piece of wood; I am there. Lift up the stone, and you will find me there."

The Gospel of Thomas, from The Nag Hammadi Scriptures - The Globe

Excerpts from The Gospel of Thomas, from The Nag Hammadi Scriptures, ed. Marvin Meyer, 2007

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

Michael Buchanan and Brad Grydzyn like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

February 6 ·

"In the era of the Jewish state, anti-Semitism . . . seeks the restoration of the status quo that prevailed before World War II, when there was no Jewish state, and when Jews were by definition a minority at the mercy of others."

Confronting Anti-Semitism at the United Nations

With the exception of speeches by the Israel and the U.S., and by the French philosopher Bernard-Henri Lévi, the session amounted to a gathering of foxes discussing how best to guard the hen house.

MOSAICMAGAZINE.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

Jehanne Dubrow likes this.

Frederick Glaysher " And so, if there is a future meeting about anti-Semitism at the UN, or at a national parliament, or any similar body, let's state at the beginning that the movement to destroy Israelwhich spans Middle Eastern governments, Middle Eastern terrorist groups, and assorted Western activists brandishing signs in favor of anti-Israel boycotts—is the greatest concern and the greatest threat."

February 6 at 8:13am · Like

Rodger Cunningham That's spelled "Lévy." February 6 at 8:31am · Like Frederick Glaysher Thanks for correcting apparently the journalist. February 6 at 8:33am · Like ·

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher shared Collective Evolution's video. February 5 ·

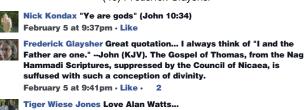

After al-Hallaj, some Sufi poets were wont to say that some things are best said in poetry... humility and discretion before the Beloved being virtues. Naqshbandi Sufis distinguish between perception and identity...

Collective Evolution with Patrick Jackson and 18 others

In under 4 minutes, Alan Watts changes your life. Collective Evolution

Like · Comment · Share · 13 7

Ann Simko, RevTricia Mathews-Lightfoot, Liv Evensen and 10 others like this.

February 5 at 9:47pm · Unlike · 2

Jon Mason Poetry is next to godliness.

February 5 at 10:01pm · Like · 1

Frederick Glaysher Ambrosia of the gods...
February 5 at 10:04pm · Like · 2

Jon Mason Light not that match.
February 5 at 10:08pm · Like · 1

RevTricia Mathews-Lightfoot I never tire of hearing this and watching the beautiful pictures of the Mother. Deep breath and sigh.

February 6 at 7:26am · Unlike · 2

Frederick Glaysher shared Rome Sims-Author's photo. February 5 · to live more amply, with greater vision, with a finer spirit of hope and achievement.

You are here to enrich the world."

Like · Comment · Share · 2 2

Brad Grydzyn likes this.

Frederick Glaysher Woodrow Wilson, one of my heroes... February 5 at 9:58pm • Like Frederick Glaysher ...he never ceased from trying to reach humanity. February 6 at 10:36am • Like

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher shared NASA - National Aeronautics and Space Administration's photo.

February 5 ·

The inscrutable blackness of space...

NASA - National Aeronautics and Space Administration

Forty-Four Years Ago Today: Apollo 14 Touches Down on the Moon: On Feb. 5. 1971, the Apollo 14 crew module landed on the moon. The crew members were Captain Ala...

See More

Like · Comment · Share

Frederick Glaysher
February 5 •

"All of my past plays, even when most materialistic, are...in their spiritual implications a search and a cry in the Wilderness protesting against the fate of their own faithlessness."

-- Eugene O'Neill, 1934 letter

 $\textbf{Like} \cdot \textbf{Comment} \cdot \textbf{Share} \cdot \textbf{4} \quad \textbf{3}$

Norvie Bullock, Hamish Danks Brown and 2 others like this.

Frederick Glaysher O'Neill is a marvelous writer no matter how dark... My poem "Long Journey Through Night," in INTO THE RUINS, alludes to his play of that vintage.

February 5 at 7:34pm · Like · 1

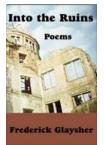

John Poolieli Matthew Where an i read it? February 8 at 1:56am • Like Frederick Glaysher John, My book Into the Ruins: Poems is available in various ebook editions, hardcover, and softcover, on Amazon, and elsewhere, including Earthrise Press. Hope you enjoy it.

https://earthrisepress.net/into_the_ruins.html

February 8 at 8:01am • Edited • Like

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
February 5 •

Naseer Ahmed Nasir >

Wounds in the souls go deeper each moment; and life is between the day and night... See More

Naseer Ahmed Nasir

Wounds in the souls go deeper each moment; and life is between the day and night like crawling and swaying shadows --moves from one direction to the other;...

See More

Like · Comment · Share

Frederick Glaysher
February 5 •

My essay "The Post-Gutenberg Revolution: A Manifesto," in my book The Myth of the Enlightenment: Essays, goes much deeper into the issues only briefly and superficially covered on NPR's recent debate "Is Amazon the Reader's Friend?"

The Myth of the Enlightenment: Essays

The Myth of the Enlightenment is Frederick Glaysher's first collection of literary essays since The Grove of the Eumenides in 2007. Divided into three sections, these essays and reviews were all written during the...

AMAZON.COM

Like · Comment · Share · 2

Carmelo Militano and Bethany Campbell like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
February 5 •

"...in the most beautiful, mellifluous language." —Miriam Knight, New Consciousness Review radio

"the poetry and language is rather beautiful. ...it's really very readable." —Chris Hislop, Savage, London

"...in beautiful verse form." —Dr. Hans-George Ruprecht, Carleton University, Canada... See More

Like · Comment · Share · 2 2

Tex J. G. Albert likes this.

Donna Reczek mellifluous.... what a wonder word!

February 5 at 12:46pm · Like

Frederick Glaysher Yes, it is a beautiful word! The sound of it flows along so nicely with the meaning... I was overjoyed that Miriam Knight would use it to describe my poetry.

February 5 at 12:49pm · Like · 1

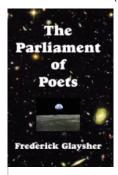

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

February 5 ·

Selected Reviews of The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem in Brief to February 5, 2015

Reviews in Brief to February 5, 2015 - The Globe

Reviews of The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem in Brief to February 5, 2015

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

Daniela Zurfluh and Laurinda Moraes like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
February 5 •

Selected Reviews in Brief...

Reviews in Brief to February 5, 2015 - The Globe

Reviews of The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem in Brief to February 5, 2015

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
February 5 · Edited ·

"Beautiful poem...an excellent piece of poetry." —Nana Fredua-Agyeman, Ghana, Africa

"A great epic poem..." —Dr. Hans-George Ruprecht, Carleton University, Canada

"Bravo to the Poet for this toilsome but brilliant endeavour."

—Umme Salma, International Islamic University, Bangladesh, in Transnational Literature, Australia

"A uniquely powerful work...." —Spirituality Today, UK

"...maybe it is poets and philosophers, rather than activists and politicians, who can ultimately help transform this world into something better." —Mr. P. J. Morris, Amazon UK

"A masterpiece that will stand the test of time." —Poetry Cornwall

"Don't be intimidated by an epic poem. ...in the most beautiful, mellifluous language." —Miriam Knight, New Consciousness Review radio, Portland, Oregon

"Beautiful book." —Dr. Catherine Al-Meten, The Examiner, Portland, Oregon

- "Like being enfolded into a glorious, celestial, orchestral song... A worthy literary masterpiece... Amazing, wonderful book." —Julie Clayton, New Consciousness Review
- "...the poetry and language is rather beautiful. ...it's really very readable." —Chris Hislop, Savage, London
- "...a very important book for our time." —Tina Benson, Amazon Review, California
- "A contemporary classic! Highly recommended for reading." Nishat Haider, Lucknow University, India
- "...fascinating juxtapositionings, and unique symbolism for our time." —Dave Gordon, The Jewish Post and News of Winnipeg, Canada
- "I found this book to be up to the standards set by Homer." LibraryThing

Like · Comment · Share

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

February 5 ·

"He is the epic poet and visionary, and the author of two extraordinary books, The Myth of the Enlightenment and The Parliament of Poets. I recommend both."

WSRadio Interview of Frederick Glaysher, January 11, 2015

Includes a reading of Black Elk on the Moon, discussion of consciousness, world religions, and the universe becoming aware of itself.

—Mike Schwager, The Enrichment Hour, POETRY, PEACE, ENLIGHTENMENT... WSRadio 23 minutes.

WSRadio Interview of Frederick Glaysher, January 11, 2015

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share

Frederick Glaysher

February 5 ·

Tolstoy's Green Stick, upon which is written the secret of how all men may live as brothers, on the Moon...

Like · Comment · Share

Frederick Glaysher

February 4 ·

Times Literary Supplement (TLS) Feb. 19, 2010

MISCELLANEOUS

Patron Sought

In the tradition of Maecenas and Can Grande della Scala, to support poet with global vision, for completion of a universal epic poem.

Details, contact:

www.fglaysher.com

Like · Comment · Share · 6

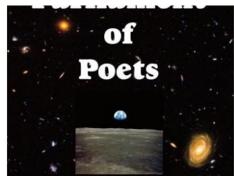

Frederick Glaysher

February 4 ·

Apollo, the Greek god of poetry, calls all the poets of the nations, ancient and modern, East and West, to assemble on the moon to consult on the meaning of modernity. The Parliament of Poets sends the Persona, the Poet of the Moon, on a Journey to the seven continents to learn from all of the spiritual and wisdom traditions of humankind. On Earth and on the moon, the poets teach him a new global, universal vision of life.

"A great epic poem of startling originality and unive... See More

The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem

Thirty years in the making, The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem, by Frederick Glaysher, takes place partly on the moon, at the Apollo 11 landing site, the Sea of Tranquility.Apollo, the Greek god of poetry,...

AMAZON.COM

Like · Comment · Share · 1

Jim Hart likes this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
February 4 •

"In an era in which the value of human life has become as precarious and narrow as the study of the humanities itself, we need Glaysher's voice more than ever."

-Phillip M. Richards, Colgate University, Department of English

"In short this is a book I'll be returning to for the rest of this year and no doubt afterward. I'm glad it exists and I'm grateful for the wisdom it sends my way."

—Laurence Goldstein, University of Michigan, Department of English ... See More

The Myth of the Enlightenment: Essays

The Myth of the Enlightenment is Frederick Glaysher's first collection of literary essays since The Grove of the Eumenides in 2007. Divided into three sections, these essays and reviews were all written during the...

AMAZON.COM

Like · Comment · Share

Frederick Glaysher

February 4 ·

Tolstoy's Green Stick, on the Moon... upon which is written the secret of how all men may live as

Like · Comment · Share

Frederick Glaysher

February 3 · Edited ·

A writer is a world trapped in a person... who no matter what has to put it into words. --FG, with kudos to Victor Hugo

Like · Comment · Share · 4

Hamish Danks Brown, Abdullah Khan and 2 others like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

February 3 ·

"So long as religion is only faith and outward form, and the religious function is not experienced in our own souls, nothing of any importance has happened."

~Carl Jung, Psychology and Alchemy, Page 12. (From Derek Dey)

Like · Comment · Share · 10

Dorothy Farr, Tex J. G. Albert, Kenneth Carroll and 7 others like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

February 3 •

The Myth of the Enlightenment: Essays. Hardcover ISBN: 9780982677834. Earthrise Press, 230 pages.

"In an era in which the value of human life has become as precarious and narrow as the study of the humanities itself, we need Glaysher's voice more than ever." —Phillip M. Richards, Colgate University

Free USA and worldwide shipping processed within 24 hours from Earthrise Press, with printers also in Milton Keynes, UK, and Scoresby, Australia. Barnes & Noble ships in 24 hours... See More

Frederick Glaysher, books, poems, essays, reviews, interviews, blog

Gazing from the moon, we see one earth, without borders, Mother Earth, her embrace encircling one people, humankind.

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share · 1

Arthur McMaster likes this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

February 3 ·

Like · Comment · Share

Frederick Glaysher

February 3 · Edited ·

Islam, too, is an interpretation of life predicated on exclusivism...

with a call to *return* to it, or "ascend" to it. Then everything will be Peace on Earth...

Like · Comment · Share ·

Katherine Rosen and Brad Grydzyn like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher February 2 ·

Worth watching... English begins two or three minutes into his

Introduced by Lee Weissman as "What do Muslims REALLY think? Here's an example."

My Thoughts on Paris Shooting -Khutbah by Nouman Ali Khan My thoughts about the shooting in Paris and Charlie Hebdo.

YOUTUBE.COM

Like · Comment · Share

1 share

Brad Grydzyn thanks, definiteley worth listening to February 2 at 11:21pm · Like Frederick Glaysher Islam, too, is an interpretation of life predicated on exclusivism... a call to *return* to it, or "ascend" to it. Then everything will be Peace on Earth... February 3 at 10:54am · Edited · Like ·

Write a comment...

Frederick Glavsher

February 2 ·

This is now basically much of the trouble around the globe... so, I said to myself, long ago, perhaps a poet's shaman tale of a Journey to the Moon... might help the world heal.

"It happens sometimes that I must say to an older patient: "Your picture of God or your idea of immortality is atrophied, consequently your psychic metabolism is out of gear." ~Carl Jung, CW 8, Pages 399-403.

It happens sometimes that I must say to an older patient: "Your picture of God or your idea of immortality is atrophied, consequently your psychic metabolism is out of gear."

Carl Jung, CW 8, Pages 399-403.

Like · Comment · Share · 6

Ike O'Driscoll, Robert L. Rose and 3 others like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher February 2 ·

This is now basically much of the trouble around the globe... so, I said to myself, long ago, perhaps a poet's shaman tale of a Journey to the Moon... might help the world heal.

"It happens sometimes that I must say to an older patient: "Your picture of God or your idea of immortality is atrophied, consequently your psychic metabolism is out of gear." ~Carl Jung, CW 8, Pages 399-403.

It happens sometimes that I must say to an older patient: "Your picture of God or your idea of immortality is atrophied, consequently your psychic metabolism is out of gear."

Carl Jung, CW 8, Pages 399-403.

Laura Shepard Townsend poet's shaman take of a Journey to the Moon...might help the world heal. Love this!

February 2 at 5:56pm · Like

Frederick Glaysher Welcome, Laura. Thanks for accepting my invitation and your goodwill. I've written an epic poem that builds on that idea... partly set on the moon. There's a free chapter on Amazon, if you'd like to check it out. Just skim down a little on my timeline for a link. Best wishes. February 2 at 6:05pm · Like

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

February 2 ·

"Poetry heals the wounds inflicted by reason." ~Novalis

Like · Comment · Share · 6

John Poolieli Matthew, Anthea Haupt, Jesse Zuba and 3 others like this.

John Poolieli Matthew Yes it does

February 4 at 2:35am · Like

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher February 2 · Edited ·

It is now possible to move beyond modern Nihilism and recover Unity of Being... global now.

Like · Comment · Share · 3

Lewis Marshall and Norvie Bullock like this.

Chris Gorrie I agree. I first found the term "Unity of Being" in the writing of William Butler Yeats, but I'm curious as to where you first found it. This is a short excerpt from his essay "Subject Matter," where I first found it:

"I was born into this faith, have lived in it, and shall die in it; my Christ, a legitimate deduction from the Creed of St. Patrick as I think, is that Unity of Being Dante compared to a perfectly proportioned human body, Blake's "Imagination", what the Upanishads have named "Self": nor is this unity distant and therefore intellectually understandable, but imminent...

February 2 at 7:53pm

Frederick Glaysher Welcome, Chris. Thanks for accepting my invitation. "Unity of Being" is a term Yeats often used, as in his book A Vision, where it's a key concept, which is probably where I first met it in his books. But it is found throughout many Christian and Muslim mystics and theological works... even back to Aristotle.

Much modern thought has revolved around the notion, in one way or another, of the loss of Unity of Being...

Are you referring to Yeats' essay "The Subject Matter of Drama"? February 2 at 8:03pm • Like Frederick Glaysher It occurs to me that it's quite possible that Aristotle was the source of Unity of Being for both Christians and Muslims, as the latter had of course preserved so many Greeks texts in translation.

February 2 at 9:15pm · Edited · Like

Chris Gorrie Hi Frederick, I was referring to Yeats's essay "Subject-Matter" from his "A General Introduction for My Work."

Could you direct me toward Aristotle's work(s) where he discusses Unity of Being?

February 5 at 2:27pm

Frederick Glaysher Okay, thanks. It's been a long time, but I believe it's in Aristotle's essay on Metaphysics.

February 5 at 2:36pm · Like

Chris Gorrie I'm curious about why you believe that it is now possible to move beyond modern Nihilism and recover Unity of Being. I have the same intuitive feelings, but I don't know if my understanding is as developed as your own.

February 5 at 3:44pm

Frederick Glaysher As you realize, such a possibility would mark a tremendous change in the tenor of civilization around the globe, not only in the West. Here on FB we chit-chat a lot... but it's taken me forty years of study to understand where we are historically and why this is now possible, so it's hard to sum up in a pithy way that would do justice to the issue. All my books are working with this theme in various ways, especially my epic poem and new collection of essays The Myth of the Enlightenment, especially the piece "Decadence, East and West." I invite you to read it.

http://www.amazon.com/Myth-Enlightenment.../dp/0982677839/

The Myth of the Enlightenment: Essays

AMAZON.COM

February 5 at 7:20pm • Edited • Like • Remove Preview

Chris Gorrie I would love to, I'm only 25, and I've been studying since age 10. I started with the Bible and with Shakespeare, but moved through world mythologies, wisdom texts, poetry, psychology, biology, occultism, and anthropology. This looks like something I need to read. Thanks a lot, Frederick.

February 5 at 8:31pm · Edited

Frederick Glaysher Sounds like you're ready for it. Hope you enjoy it. I'd love to hear back from you if you feel so moved.

February 5 at 8:40pm · Like

Chris Gorrie It may take me some time, but I will try to work through the book and give you a response worthy of your efforts.

February 6 at 12:28am · 1

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher shared Lewis Lafontaine's photo. February 2 · Edited ·

This is now basically much of the trouble around the globe... so, I said to myself, long ago, perhaps a poet's shaman tale of a Journey to the Moon... might help the world heal.

"It happens sometimes that I must say to an older patient: "Your picture of God or your idea of immortality is atrophied, consequently your psychic metabolism is out of gear." ~Carl Jung, CW 8, Pages 399-403.

It happens sometimes that I must say to an older patient: "Your picture of God or your idea of immortality is atrophied, consequently your psychic metabolism is out of gear."

Carl Jung, CW 8, Pages 399-403.

Lewis Lafontaine Carl Jung Depth Psychology

It happens sometimes that I must say to an older patient: "Your picture of God or your idea of immortality is atrophied, consequently your psychic metabolism is out of gear." ~Carl Jung, CW 8, Pages 399-403.

Like · Comment · Share · 2

Marissa Joilette Goettling and Brad Grydzyn like this.

Write a comment...

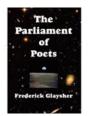

Frederick Glaysher
February 2 •

INDIA > A modern Journey to the Simorg...

Book IV is set entirely in India, taking place at the ashram of Vyasa, at the field of Kurukshetra, in the Himalayan foothills with a darsan of Shiva Nataraja, and a journey with Hanuman from the Ramayana.

Book IX takes place in Konya, Turkey, with a meeting with Rumi, a flight with Attar through seven valleys to Fahtehpur Sikri, India, where various Hindu and Sufi poets congregate in front of Emperor Akbar's Ibadat Khana.... See More

The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem

Thirty years in the making, The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem, by Frederick Glaysher, takes place partly on the moon, at the Apollo 11 landing site, the Sea of Tranquility. Apollo, the... AMAZON.IN

Like · Comment · Share

Frederick Glaysher

Apollo, the Greek god of poetry, calls all the poets of the nations, ancient and modern, East and West, to assemble on the moon to consult on the meaning of modernity. The Parliament of Poets sends the Persona, the Poet of the Moon, on a Journey to the seven continents to learn from all of the spiritual and wisdom traditions of humankind. On Earth and on the moon, the poets teach him a new global, universal vision of life.

With Du Fu and Bai-Juyi, Basho and Saigyo, Rumi and A... See More

The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem

Thirty years in the making, The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem, by Frederick Glaysher, takes place partly on the moon, at the Apollo 11 landing site, the Sea of Tranquility.Apollo, the Greek god of poetry,...

AMAZON.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

Hune Margulies and Tom Snow like this.

Write a comment..

Frederick Glaysher February 1 •

— George Orwell, 1984 >

"So long as they (the Proles) continued to work and breed, their other activities were without importance.... Heavy physical work, the care of home and children, petty quarrels with neighbors, films, football, beer and above all, gambling filled up the horizon of their minds. To keep them in control was not difficult."

Like · Comment · Share · 4

Julian De Wette and 3 others like this.

Gary Howard How appropriate for this afternoon... February 1 at 8:05pm · Like Frederick Glaysher Unfortunately...

February 1 at 8:06pm · Like

Stuart Schreiber Right?
February 1 at 8:27pm · Like

Rosa Maria Stoops I am temporarily under their control... happily partying with the proles, lol.

February 1 at 8:41pm

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

February 1 •

We ourselves have to change in order to save life on this planet...

Like · Comment · Share ·

Norvie Bullock, Anthea Haupt, Julie Clayton and 6 others like this.

Gary Howard What might you suppose motivates some to propel change while others resist change? A macroeconomic reason providing extrinsic motivation is often given, but evidence suggests something more intrinsic.

February 1 at 9:30pm · Like

Frederick Glaysher Maybe like the ebb and flow of the tide, and so many other natural cycles... Some of the ancient kings of the Old Testament would have "readers of guts" to advise them, necromancers and prognosticators of the future, somewhat like modern talking-heads and economists... The Hebrew prophets all railed against them as leading the kings astray, away from moral, religious ethic, though usually it was too late. There were times, though, when recover was possible, so one must never despair, but, to use an old phrase from the KJV, "gird up the loins of endeavor," seek always to find a way to reach humanity...

February 1 at 10:18pm · Like · 1

Write a comment...

A modern Journey to the Simorg... with Rumi and Attar, Tolstoy and Whitman, Krishna and Arjuna at Kuruskshetra, Hanuman, Shiva Nataraja, Lalan and Kabir at Fatehpur Sikri, and many more poets, East and West.

-Umme Salma, International Islamic University >

"The purpose of the spiritual journey of the Poet of the Moon is to seek deliverance of the modern human from the captivity of nothingness, nihilism and atheism, and from the resulting chaos and chasm of soul. From the versatile he gets scores of lifeaffirming lessons, yet the core meaning of all is that the Supreme Being as well as the earth is one, and so human beings are one nation irrespective of their clan, class, color, race, religion and gender. In this earth human beings are part of the Great Mystery's creation and their duty is to keep the balance and harmony of the universe, to achieve union, to choose sacrifice, and to be selfcontrolled. In this manner Glaysher sings the song of 'one Earth, without borders, Mother Earth, her embrace encircling one people, humankind' (19).... Bravo to the Poet for this toilsome but brilliant endeavour." —Umme Salma, International Islamic University, Department of English Language and Literature, Chittagong, Bangladesh, in Transnational Literature Vol. 7 no. 1, November 2014, Flinders University, Adelaide, Australia http://dspace.flinders.edu.au/.../35084/1/Salma_Parliament.pdf

- -Nishat Haider, Associate Professor, Lucknow University, Lucknow, India > "A contemporary classic! Highly recommended for reading.
- -Poetry Cornwall, England > "A masterpiece that will stand the test of time."
- -Spirituality Today > The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem >

"The power of a mythological tale is interwoven into the fabric of its narrative. The crescendo that builds, and which ultimately leads the reader to its climax of revelation, is the key ingredient that makes the epic poem so seductive as a literary form. With this in mind I shall not comment overly on the story in The Parliament of Poets for fear of spoiling its essential spiritual message and core dynamic for potential readers. This is more than simply trying to avoid ruining its 'plotline' or fear of introducing a 'spoiler' into the equation but is, instead, my way of safe-guarding the inherent esoteric value of the work for a reader - one which is invariably expressed within its whole rhythmic phrasing and textual structure....'

http://www.spirituality.today/.../the-parliament-of-poets-by-...

Read a free chapter on Amazon USA, UK, and INDIA: http://www.amazon.com/Parliament-Poets-Epic-P.../.../098267788X/

Like · Comment · Share ·

FRIENDS · February

Caroline

Huntington

Frederick Glavsher February 1 ·

A modern Journey to the Simorg... with Rumi, Attar, and Hafez.

-Umme Salma, International Islamic University >

"The purpose of the spiritual journey of the Poet of the Moon is to seek deliverance of the modern human from the captivity of nothingness, nihilism and atheism, and from the resulting chaos and chasm of soul. From the versatile he gets scores of lifeaffirming lessons, yet the core meaning of all is that the Supreme Being as well as the earth is one, and so human b... See More

American

Write a comment...

January

Frederick Glaysher January 31 ·

I ask all blessings, I ask them with reverence, Of my mother the earth, Of the sky, moon, and sun my father. I am old age: the essence of life, I am the source of all happiness. All is peaceful, all in beauty, all in harmony, all in joy.

~ Anonymous Navaho, 19th Century

Like · Comment · Share · 7

Frederick Glaysher January 31 ·

"Creator bless my eyes that I may see with love, bless my mouth that I may speak with love, bless my heart that I may give and receive love, bless my hands that all that I touch feels love, bless my feet that my walk may be a prayer upon Mother Earth."

-Grace Alvarez Sesma, Curanderismo, the Healing Art of Mexico

Like · Comment · Share · 14 2

Frederick Glaysher

January 31 ·

U.N. Rights Chief Says He'll Shine a Light on Countries Big and Small

"If all of us stuck rigidly to mandates given us by governments, there would be no peace on this planet."

"Everything we see in agreements across the spectrum comes from the space between where your instructions end and you as a thinking negotiator invest your own thought," he said.... See More

U.N. Rights Chief Says He'll Shine a Light on Countries Big and Small

Four months into his new job, Prince Zeid Ra'ad Zeid al-Hussein of Jordan is resisting the efforts of some nations to hold his office to a...

NYTIMES.COM | BY NICK CUMMING-BRUCE

Like · Comment · Share · 2

Richard Bohn and Tex J. G. Albert like this.

Frederick Glaysher In his autobiography, Dag Hammerskjold makes a similar observation as the second one quoted above about how he came to create the notion of "peacekeeping," which was never mandated by the nations nor the UN security council.

January 31 at 10:27am · Like

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher January 30 •

A modern Journey to the Simorg...

Like · Comment · Share · 1

Tasnim Hermila Fernandez likes this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
January 30 •

The Moon reflects the Light of the Sun... without the Sun, it is dark, as dark as men's minds without the love of God.

"Without vision, the people perish." An ancient adage that still holds a perennial truth. I have nothing against atheists or anyone else. In our extremely, extremely fragmented cultural landscape, it has become almost impossible to conceive of the Unity that all cultures independently enjoyed at their best. Together, from the Moon, we can see it, global and universal... expanded now to the entire planet.

Auschwitz: the men behind the mass murder  $\mid$  History Extra

What sort of man was capable of creating the site of the largest recorded mass murder in history, where acts of atrocity were everyday occurrences?

HISTORYEXTRA.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

Mucunda Gotami likes this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

January 30 ·

The Moon reflects the Light of the Sun... without the Sun, it is dark, as dark as men's minds without the love of God.

Like · Comment · Share · 2

Mucunda Gotami likes this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher January 30 •

"Without vision, the people perish." An ancient adage that still holds a perennial truth. I have nothing against atheists or anyone else. In our extremely, extremely fragmented cultural landscape, it has become almost impossible to conceive of the Unity that all cultures independently enjoyed at their best. Together, from the Moon, we can see it, global and universal... expanded now to the entire planet.

Like · Comment · Share · 5

Robert L. Rose and 3 others like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
January 30 •

"Readers are transported into the heart and mind of Cervantes, the wisdom of Job, to the ancient cave of Lascaux and the Valley of a Thousand Temples, from riding moonbeams to the redstained stream of human civilization clogged with bodies; we greet Virgil and Homer, Dante and Milton, Rumi and Hafiz, Du Fu and Basho, poets of the Ramayana and griots from Africa, shamans from Indonesia and Australia, Murasaki Shikibu, Emily Dickenson and Jane Austen, Hayden and Tennyson, Chie... See More

"A Literary Masterpeice For Modernity" a review of: The Parliament of Poets: An Epic...

Julie Clayton "Julie ... says: The Parliament of Poets is an exquisitely rendered epic poem that weaves ancient and contemporary vision into the heart of modern darkness and the light of eternal hope. The author writes himself into the

AMAZON.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

2 1

Strider Marcus Jones likes this.

1 share

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

January 30 ·

"The main story is an interesting proposition, that maybe it is poets and philosophers, rather than activists and politicians, who can ultimately help transform this world into something better."

-Mr. P. J. Morris, Amazon UK

Like · Comment · Share · 7

Tasnim Hermila Fernandez, Carol Sill, Marissa Joilette Goettling and 4 others like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher January 30 •

-Spirituality Today > The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem

"The power of a mythological tale is interwoven into the fabric of its narrative. The crescendo that builds, and which ultimately leads the reader to its climax of revelation, is the key ingredient that makes the epic poem so seductive as a literary form. With this in mind I shall not comment overly on the story in The Parliament of Poets for fear of spoiling its essential spiritual message and core dynamic for poten... See More

The Parliament of Poets by Frederick Glavsher

In a modern technological world - one where contemporary spiritual ideas can be shared with the World simply by the click of a button, it is important...

SPIRITUALITY.TODAY | BY SPIRITUALITY TODAY

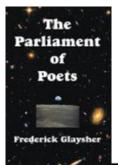

Like · Comment · Share

Frederick Glaysher
January 29 •

"This is a uniquely powerful work that introduces an established and powerful literary tradition to a world that is in desperate need of its essential rhythms and harmonies for spiritual sustenance."

—Spirituality Today

The Parliament of Poets by Frederick Glaysher

In a modern technological world - one where contemporary spiritual ideas can be shared with the World simply by the click of a button, it is important...

SPIRITUALITY.TODAY | BY SPIRITUALITY TODAY

Like · Comment · Share ·

Tex J. G. Albert and Alan Jacobs like this.

1 share

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

January 29 ·

"The purpose of the spiritual journey of the Poet of the Moon is to seek deliverance of the modern human from the captivity of nothingness, nihilism and atheism, and from the resulting chaos and chasm of soul."

—Umme Salma, International Islamic University, Department of English Language and Literature, Chittagong, Bangladesh, in Transnational Literature Vol. 7 no. 1, November 2014, Flinders University, Adelaide, Australia

Review of The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem. A New Global, Universal Vision of Life

DSPACE.FLINDERS.EDU.AU

Like · Comment · Share · 2

2 people like this.

Frederick Glaysher Thanks, Chandra. Hope you can make a Journey to the Moon... There are over 20 reviews excerpted on Amazon and a free chapter, if you'd like to check it out.

http://www.amazon.com/Parliament-Poets.../dp/098267788X/

The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem

AMAZON.COM

January 29 at 2:39pm · Like · 1 · Remove Preview

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher January 29 •

Earthrise Press Ships free in the USA in 24 hours.

Free worldwide shipping processed within 24 hours.

https://earthrisepress.net... See More

Earthrise Press. A new global, universal vision of life on this planet.

Earthrise Press books evoke a new global, universal vision of life on this planet.

EARTHRISEPRESS.NET

Like · Comment · Share

Frederick Glaysher
January 28 · Edited ·

Lamenting the appallingly insane murder of 6 million Jews is not enough. We human beings must change the order of life on this planet.

To my mind, much of the root problem stems from the failure to remain committed to the vision of international order and human rights at the core of the League of Nations and the United Nations.

The world has long been slipping back into the delusions of aggressive nationalism and schemes of the balance of power instead of further developing a rapid-action force under the UN, as advocated by Boutros Boutros-Gali and many other far-sighted people. The USA as the world's super-cop doesn't work, nor is any nation fit for the job. There has to be an effective Force of at least 5,000 voluntary and disciplined career military professionals under the control of the UN Security Council, per the UN Charter.

I believe there is now a way to bring that about... and the time is right.

What the nations have put together as a so-called UN Force of peacekeepers is a "spent force," guaranteed to be ineffectual since it is hamstrung by the very nature of its composition and the rules of engagement. Underlying all of that is actually the failure of vision on the part of all nations, East and West, as to the seriousness of what is at stake. All the petty squabbles must be transcended for the sake of humanity, requiring a new vision of life in order to bring the antagonistic parties together.

The alternative to developing the UN so that "mounting military operations inside the UN" is not "next to impossible" is a repetition of WWI and WWII. Each time the lesson sank in a little deeper... If we have to relearn the lesson the hard way, woe unto humanity. The underlying problem is a failure of vision and political will.

Only then will "Never Again" truly mean never again.

Like · Comment · Share · 10

John Poolieli Matthew, Strider Marcus Jones, Julian De Wette and 7 others like this.

Frederick Glaysher Alice Bach, Gary Introne, UniversalPeace Plan, Chuck Robison, Sarah Arvio, Harry Penders, Susana Bastarrica, Lesley Vann, Jodi Serota

January 28 at 7:25pm · Like

Frederick Glaysher Jeff Gburek, FYI January 28 at 7:40pm · Like

Frederick Glaysher Some suggest creating other limited organizations like NATO. I understand that there have been from time to time such suggestions. In my opinion, such an approach would constitute a further decline from the concerted Force of the United Nations that WWII produced. The world must renew and deepen its commitment to developing the UN, not seek to destroy by reverting to such schemes of woefully ineffective balances of power and ad hoc coalitions. The legal framework is in the UN Charter. The Will must be summoned before the world tips over again into the abyss...

January 30 at 11:31am · Like

Frederick Glaysher We the People of Planet Earth MUST Demand it... and support those politicians who will act on our Concerted Will.

January 30 at 12:09pm • Like • 1

John Poolieli Matthew right and truly said Frederick Glaysher. Unless the UN is powerful in these matters, things will be status quo.

February 1 at 5:57am · Like

Frederick Glaysher Thanks, John, for commenting. Yeah, and we know what "status quo" looks like... not going so well for humanity. Worth trying at last the best advice of many outstanding people from around the world... before it's too late.

February 1 at 10:22am · Like

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

January 28 · Edited ·

Lamenting the appallingly insane murder of 6 million Jews is not enough. We human beings must change the order of life on this planet.

To my mind, much of the root problem stems from the failure to remain committed to the vision of international order and human rights at the core of the League of Nations and the United Nations.

The world has long been slipping back into the delusions of aggressive nationalism and schemes of the balance of power instead of further developing a rapid-action force under the UN, as advocated by Boutros Boutros-Gali and many other far-sighted people. The USA as the world's super-cop doesn't work, nor is any nation fit for the job. There has to be an effective Force of at least 5,000 voluntary and disciplined career military professionals under the control of the UN Security Council, per the UN Charter.

I believe there is now a way to bring that about... and the time is right.

What the nations have put together as a so-called UN Force of peacekeepers is a "spent force," guaranteed to be ineffectual since it is hamstrung by the very nature of its composition and the rules of engagement. Underlying all of that is actually the failure of vision on the part of all nations, East and West, as to the seriousness of what is at stake. All the petty squabbles must be transcended for the sake of humanity, requiring a new vision of life in order to bring the antagonistic parties together.

The alternative to developing the UN so that "mounting military operations inside the UN" is not "next to impossible" is a repetition of WWI and WWII. Each time the lesson sank in a little deeper... If we have to relearn the lesson the hard way, woe unto humanity. The underlying problem is a failure of vision and political will.

Only then will "Never Again" truly mean never again.

Like · Comment · Share · 2 9

Tex J. G. Albert and Susan Nason like this.

Robert Levin There's a lot to disagree with here, and I suppose I disagree with all of it. The Holocaust was not the start of a problem but the culmination of the joining of strong forces driving civilization -- the darkness of the human soul combined with the precision of science and technology. The best place to begin is with the illumination of the soul -- which can only happen with a spark of free choice.

January 28 at 2:19pm · Like · 1

Frederick Glaysher Where did I say the Holocaust was the start of a problem? The problem long precedes it, precedes even the Congress of Vienna, running rife throughout human history. Arnold Toynbee's books are particularly insightful in that regard.

Where did I say anything against free choice? To the contrary, humanity has a choice before it and is foolishly making the wrong one, over and over and over... Now is the time to make the right one. January 28 at 2:25pm · Like · 1

Robert Levin "To my mind, much of the *root problem* stems from the failure to remain committed to the vision of international order and human rights at the core of the League of Nations and the United Nations." How did you mean 'root problem'? As in 'root of the problem'?

January 28 at 2:29pm · Like

Robert Levin If you believe that is the root, in a conventional sense, implying a beginning, then everything that follows will not address the problem.

January 28 at 2:30pm · Like

Frederick Glaysher A colloquialism... Not so. If the world had chosen to remain committed to the "vision of international order and human rights at the core of the League of Nations," WWII would not have happened.

January 28 at 2:34pm · Like · 1

Susan Scott It begins with each individual ...

January 28 at 2:39pm · 2

Robert Levin I still don't know what you mean by 'root problem'. How did the League of Nations dissipate? Specifically, what happened, and why? I mean, there are strong socio-economic forces at play here, along with cultural and psychological forces -- forces which easily overwhelm what amounts to a homily.

January 28 at 2:40pm · Like

Frederick Glaysher Thanks, Susan, for commenting. I agree its about the individual, the individual soul, of course. To the extent that a community is predicated on protecting the individual, on the basis of an implied social contract or real democratic constitution, the will of the people can influence life for the benefit of all on both the national and global level.

For historical background, I'd again recommend Arnold Toynbee. HIs book MANKIND AND MOTHER EARTH (1976) is a good place to start. January 28 at 2:45pm · Edited · Like Susan Scott thank you ..

January 28 at 2:47pm • 1

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher January 28 · Edited ·

Earthrise Press

Ships free in the USA in 24 hours.

Free worldwide shipping processed within 24 hours.

https://earthrisepress.net... See More

Earthrise Press. A new global, universal vision of life on this planet.

Earthrise Press books evoke a new global, universal vision of life on this planet.

EARTHRISEPRESS.NET

Like · Comment · Share ·

Frederick Glaysher January 27 •

hune margulies >

today i remove my picture. today i will remain faceless, like my grandma hanna and my aunt frida and my other relatives who were assassinated during the european holocaust. today i will write words of prayers to celebrate the loving lives of six million of my extraordinary people. today i will sing to life and to love and to peace, just like the one million beautiful children did on their way to the gas chambers. today i will die with them, but i will keep my name, for tomorrow i will be born again. yes, i want to live, for i still believe in a god who believes in us. may their names endure. may their memories be a blessing.

Hune Margulies

today i remove my picture. today i will remain faceless, like my grandma hanna and my aunt frida and my other relatives who were assassinated during the europea...

See More

Like · Comment · Share · 6

Julie Clayton, Margaret Mackinnon and 2 others like this.

Hune Margulies

January 27 at 4:32pm · Like

Frederick Glaysher Hune, Given our discussion of Nietzsche and Karl Marx on my timeline on January 22 (under " Idealism is the only truly realistic position"), can you explain to me why you seem to care about the lives of 6 million Jews but are or were apparently indifferent to the lives of 60 million Russians, murdered undeniably as partly the result of the influence of Marx's ideology? Why do you not stand with all the murdered millions? How before the deaths of so many could you chant the cult mantra of much of the American academy? > "marxism has never been implemented anywhere." — Hune Margulies

The Communist Manifesto, Part II:

"Communism abolishes eternal truths, it abolishes all religion, and all morality, instead of constituting them on a new basis; it therefore acts in contradiction to all past historical experience."

The last paragraph states, "The Communists... openly declare that their ends can be attained only by the forcible overthrow of all existing social conditions. Let the ruling classes tremble at a Communistic revolution." etc...

What Thomas Mann called "Nietzsche's glorification of savagery" took a different route but produced basically the same result—the murder of millions of human beings. According to Robert Conquest, 120 million if we include the numbers of people also murdered in China and throughout the various Marxist-inspired debacles.

January 28 at 12:53pm · Edited · Like

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
January 27 •

"...its founder, L. Ron Hubbard, said that all of the church's attackers were criminals whose own misdeeds should be exposed."

Sundance 2015: Scientology Documentary Draws Crush of Festgoers

Hundreds lined up for the film by Alex Gibney, who said he was quietly pleased that Scientologists had taken out ads decrying the film.

CARPETBAGGER.BLOGS.NYTIMES.COM | BY CARA BUCKLEY

Like · Comment · Share

Frederick Glaysher

January 27 ·

"Scientology...tortured some of its members in a prison known as "the hole" and subjected others to hard labor; it harassed those who left the organization and forced their family members to cut off all contact."

"You're so thoroughly indoctrinated, deluded and not questioning anything because (Hubbard) had all the answers," said Taylor. "So you continue to believe all the nonsense."

"I want to emphasize what a tremendous amount of courage it took for people to come out," he said. "The goal was to get as many people to talk so they'd feel safe in numbers."

Scientology doc 'Going Clear' shocks Sundance filmgoers

'Going Clear' depicts Scientology as a secretive and vindictive group as it chronicles its inner workings and origins. It explores the life of L. Ron Hubbard as well as the current leadership of Scientology.

USATODAY.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

Gillian Davis, Heather Mendel, Gary Anderson and 2 others like this.

Write a comment...

In my essay "The American Scholar and the Decline of the English Department," in The Myth of the Enlightenment, I discuss the trivialization of English studies and many of the other problems this article is about, including the lame and seemingly endless attempt to shore up the value of an English major by such platitudes as "analytical thinking skills." The problems involved run much deeper into our culture and ourselves.

http://www.amazon.com/The-Myth.../dp/0982677839

Where have all the English majors gone? @insidehighered

Humanities advocates sometimes dispute data about declining numbers of majors in their disciplines: they don't always reflect double majors, or overall enrollment in courses, or...
INSIDEMIGMERED.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

9

Ewa Hryniewicz-Yarbrough, Gabriel Noah Brahm, Bibi Gaston and 6 others like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher shared Robert Strock's photo. January 26 ·

Robert Strock

Here's a wonderful start-of-the-week quote from our beloved Thay:

We need enlightenment, not just individually but collectively, to save the planet. We need to  $\dots$

See More

Like · Comment · Share ·

Frederick Glaysher January 26 ·

[Americans have] "forgotten what measles deaths look like."

Melinda Gates has the perfect response to the antivaccine movement

Americans have "forgotten what measles deaths look like."

VOX.COM | BY GERMAN LOPEZ

Like · Comment · Share · 3

Bruce Morrow and 2 others like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher January 26 ·

"He is bringing together in beautiful verse form. . .diverse visions of humanity from all over the world. Frederick Glaysher's poetic imagination is frequently casting them in the form of spatial and cosmic imagery. That is very exalting to the reader's spirit."

—Dr. Hans-George Ruprecht, CKCU Literary News, Carleton University, Ottawa, Canada

Like · Comment · Share · 6

Suzanna Brown, Julie Clayton, Hune Margulies and 3 others like this.

Marissa Joilette Goettling

January 26 at 10:16am · Like

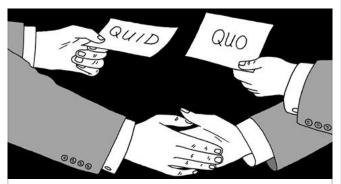

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
January 26 •

Legalized Bribery >

"But legal campaign contributions can be as bad as bribes in creating obligations. The corruption that hides in plain sight is the real threat to our democracy."

Zephyr Teachout on Sheldon Silver, Corruption and New York Politics

The campaign finance system means politicians come pre-corrupted.  $\mbox{NYTIMES.COM} \ | \ \mbox{BY ZEPHYR TEACHOUT}$

Unlike · Comment · Share · 1

You like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher January 26 ·

"In effect the poet wants to see the unity of what he calls 'false dichotomies': science and religion, reason and intuition, material and spiritual, white and black, and others."

-Nana Fredua-Agyeman, Ghana, Africa ImageNations

Like · Comment · Share · 5

Suzanna Brown, Mary Jane Sullivan, Marissa Joilette Goettling and 2 others like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher shared Gurdjieff - Becoming Conscious's photo.

January 26 · Edited ·

"If a man gives way to all his desires, or panders to them, there will be no inner struggle in him, no 'friction,' no fire. But if, for the sake of attaining a definite aim, he struggles with desires that hinder him, he will then create a fire which will gradually transform his inner world into a single whole."

- Gurdjieff, quoted by Ouspensky
- "Very few can sit down in the middle of the fire itself."
- -- Rumi (13th c. Sufi mystic and poet)

Gurdjieff - Becoming Conscious

If a man gives way to all his desires, or panders to them, there will be no inner struggle in him, no 'friction,' no fire. But if, for the sake of attaining a d...

See More

Like · Comment · Share · 9 4

Mordechai Ben Yosef, Marissa Joilette Goettling, Tina Benson and 6 others like this.

Marissa Joilette Goettling synchronicity

January 26 at 10:17am · Like

Frederick Glaysher Marissa, Thanks for commenting. I'm not sure myself that I'd call this anything like Jungian synchronicity, which is usually more happy coincidences, the causality of which is difficult to impossible to strictly define.

To my mind Gurdjieff is descri... See More
January 26 at 10:37am • Edited • Like • 1

Marissa Joilette Goettling No, it was a synchronicity for me to pay attention to you. It wasn't about the content. "To my mind is Gurdjieff Describing the inner Struggle to resist and surmount the worst human impulses for more spiritual and selfless inner transformation, creating a more unified sense of consciousness." AGREE

January 26 at 10:38am · Like

Frederick Glaysher Oh, okay. Sorry. I wasn't sure what you meant.

Frederick Glaysher
January 26 •

"Whilst not grandiose in its execution it does deal with one of the greatest challenges to face humanity at this moment in its history - namely the desperate need for a spirituality context that serves humanity going forward."

-Mr. P. J. Morris, Amazon UK

Like · Comment · Share · 1

Johnny Stork likes this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

January 25 ·

"It is a tale of, and about, our age of modernity and several contemporary themes have been woven into its narrative in such a way that remind us that perhaps the spiritual crisis humanity faces is an extension of the technological age that we now live in."

-Spirituality Today

Like · Comment · Share · 1

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

January 25 ·

"With this in mind I shall not comment overly on the story in The Parliament of Poets for fear of spoiling its essential spiritual message and core dynamic for potential readers..."

—Spirituality Today

Like · Comment · Share · 2

Eileen Pardini likes this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

January 25 ·

"What attracted me was the ambition in this work, which attempts to look at what poetic traditions, ancient and modern might have to offer to a world which perhaps has lost touch with its spiritual and ecological centre of gravity...."

-Graham Mummery, Amazon UK Review

Like · Comment · Share · 9 5

Tex J. G. Albert, Ewa Hryniewicz-Yarbrough, Julie Clayton and 6 others like this.

Ani Williams Troubadours, Troba d'Or, Finders of gold...that goes for poets, musicians, muses of a certain persuasion. The muse finds the gems and even creates new ones that evoke new horizons for the masses.

January 25 at 8:06pm · Like

Frederick Glaysher Thanks, Heather and Ani. "Spiritual" has unfortunately often become a banished word in the modern Kingdom of Nihilism, so I appreciate your goodwill a lot...

January 25 at 8:08pm · Like · 1

Frederick Glaysher Ani, Appreciate the lines, too. Hope I've lived up to those words, metaphorical, of course, "Finders of gold." There's a free chapter of my epic poem online at Earthrise Press, if you'd like to check it out...

Download a free PDF of chapter I, on the Moon > Here... See More

Earthrise Press. A new global, universal vision of life on this planet.

EARTHRISEPRESS.NET

January 25 at 8:20pm · Edited · Like · Remove Preview

Ani Williams I'm incredibly moved by the first section of Parliament of Poets. Thank you! You are reminding me that I must post my Ode to Orpheus on my pilgrimage page....a poem that rushed in at 4 am a few months back. The world should be hungry for your words.

January 25 at 8:38pm · Like

Frederick Glaysher Ani, I'm delighted that you enjoyed Book I. There have been about 22 reviews so far, since late 2012, when it was published. I'm hoping it's hungry!! ....after the 30 year journey studying and writing the epic. Some good things are slowly coming along, I hope. I'd love to have you read and review it, wherever you'd like, if you feel so inclined. Even a few words on Amazon would be appreciated and might help others decide whether to read it...

A poem in the night... I like that. Many lines came to me in that way, from Muse, Calliope. Let me know when you have your Ode to Orpheus online.

January 25 at 8:45pm · Like · 1

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher January 25 •

"The purpose of the spiritual journey of the Poet of the Moon is to seek deliverance of the modern human from the captivity of nothingness, nihilism and atheism, and from the resulting chaos and chasm of soul."

—Umme Salma, International Islamic University, Department of English Language and Literature, Chittagong, Bangladesh, in Transnational Literature Vol. 7 no. 1, November 2014, Flinders University, Adelaide, Australia

Like · Comment · Share

Frederick Glaysher

January 25 ·

"This is a uniquely powerful work that introduces an established and powerful literary tradition to a world that is in desperate need of its essential rhythms and harmonies for spiritual sustenance."

—Spirituality Today

Like · Comment · Share ·

Johnny Stork likes this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher January 25 ·

"It is a pleasure to absorb his perspective in a wide range of issues, both spiritual and political, through this book, and his observations on such subjects as democracy in China and race issues in America are interesting."

-Mr. P. J. Morris, Amazon UK

Like · Comment · Share

Frederick Glaysher January 25 •

—Spirituality Today >

"Whilst comparatively divergent in their make-up and composition the essays in The Myth of the Enlightenment form an enjoyable collection of insightful and erudite commentaries on spirituality and the nature of being human. ...this book opens up some potentially fascinating and educationally rewarding terrain. The Myth of the Enlightenment is a rich tapestry of insight and personal reflection which many poets and lovers of a free world will gladly embrace."

The Myth of the Enlightenment by Frederick Glaysher

Today, we live in a culture in which encourages way too many peope too openly voice their ill-considered opinions on some topic or another. Social med...

SPIRITUALITY.TODAY | BY SPIRITUALITY TODAY

Like · Comment · Share

Frederick Glaysher January 25 ·

"A marvelous book of eloquent essays, one that honors the old literary masters, East and West, while exploring the deepest corners of spirituality and the implications for ameliorating the conditions of modern humanity."

-Julie Clayton, New Consciousness Review

Like · Comment · Share

Frederick Glaysher

January 25 ·

Earthrise Press (Free Worldwide Shipping)

From the printers in the USA, the UK, and Australia

The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem ... See More

Earthrise Press. A new global, universal vision of life on this planet. Earthrise Press books evoke a new global, universal vision of life on this planet.

EARTHRISEPRESS.NET

Like · Comment · Share ·

2

Jaydeep Sharangi and Dylan Morrison like this.

Ani Williams Bravo to the Troubadour!

Frederick Glaysher With the winding sound of Roland's horn, as from the Moon...

Frederick Glaysher Disintermediate...

Frederick Glaysher Rocinante, leaping apace, raising her forelegs... January 25 at 11:20am • Like Frederick Glaysher In the USA ships within 24 hours. Save as much as $4.98 on Amazon shipping.

January 25 at 11:25am · Edited · Like

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
January 25 •

"Whilst comparatively divergent in their make-up and composition the essays in The Myth of the Enlightenment form an enjoyable collection of insightful and erudite commentaries on spirituality and the nature of being human. At times the essays reveal the author's clearly deep emotional and philosophical beliefs and the passion that oozes from out of the text is thoroughly commendable. ...this book opens up some potentially fascinating and educationally rewarding terrain. The ... See More

The Myth of the Enlightenment: Essays

The Myth of the Enlightenment is Frederick Glaysher's first collection of literary essays since The Grove of the Eumenides in 2007. Divided into three sections, these essays and reviews were all written during the...

AMAZON.COM

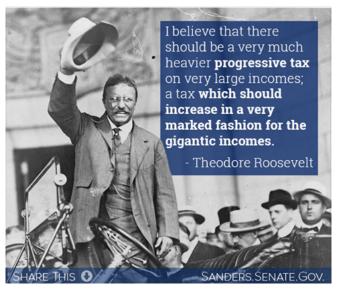

Like · Comment · Share

Frederick Glaysher shared U.S. Senator Bernie Sanders's photo.

January 24 · Edited ·

Long past time to do it all again... 70% +

Like · Comment · Share · 5

Charlie Ellis and 3 others like this.

Write a comment...

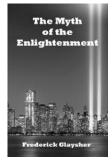

Frederick Glaysher January 24 ·

The Myth of the Enlightenment: Essays. Hardcover "ships free in the USA."

Free shipping in the UK (from the printer in Milton Keynes) and to anywhere in the European Union, and in Australia (from the printer in Scoresby, Victoria), if purchased from Earthrise Press.

Includes "The Post-Gutenberg Revolution: A Manifesto." City Lights Books once asked me for a mission statement...... See More

Like · Comment · Share ·

1

Gillian Davis likes this.

Frederick Glaysher https://earthrisepress.net/

"ships free in the USA." ... See More

Earthrise Press. A new global, universal vision of life on this planet.

EARTHRISEPRESS.NET

January 24 at 4:29pm · Like · Remove Preview

Write a comment...

Frederick Glavsher

January 24 ·

The companies that want to get in between the reader and the writer are most often crooked, and they're costing both the reader and the writer money, while damaging the relationship! So why do so many continue to use them? That's not a rhetorical question... I'm trying to figure it out. Any answers?

Like - Comment - Share - 1

Michael Rothenberg II likes this.

Frederick Glaysher Michael Rothenberg II? January 24 at 3:23pm · Edited · Like

Martin Liebermann I've worked as an editor - for non-fiction. A good editor can become a partner, a touchstone, for the writer. It's a process of refinement. We all are blind to certain flaws in what we create.

January 24 at 3:34pm

Frederick Glaysher I'm not really thinking of editors... I've worked with good and bad editors. I'm thinking of the various distributors, publishers, and online booksellers, large and small. The dynamics of distribution have radically changed, but habits seem to change very slowly...

January 24 at 3:41pm · Edited · Like · 1

Frederick Glaysher For example, Martin, I've sold books in Germany https://earthrisepress.net/order_books.html... See More

Order Books, Earthrise Press

Earthrise Press books evoke a new global. universal vision of life on this planet.

EARTHRISEPRESS.NET

January 24 at 4:02pm · Edited · Like · 1 · Remove Preview

Martin Liebermann This discussion is around for quite some time. New roles for writers, publishers and distributors are emerging in an amazing pace - but not for all, and slower than many hope. Especially when you look at the tiny percentage authors usually get in reven... See More

January 24 at 4:12pm

Frederick Glaysher Martin, I'm familiar with all that thinking... As ideas and explanations, nothing personal, I reject it. Such thinking fails to understand the Post-Gutenberg Revolution... which is very much still under way. Basically, such thinking considers the current stalemate as the end game... when it's not. Rather, all of it is the continuing groping through the morass of the gatekeepers, who are working just as hard, to hold on to and transfer what they had or have onto the Internet. It is blatantly clear that only the same sad results for readers and writers will come from their efforts...

The question that I asked remains. Why do so many continue to use them? Why do both readers and writers believe the old order.

essentially, both online and off, serves their best interest? ...when neither does.

January 24 at 4:30pm · Edited · Like

Michael Rothenberg II slaves and masters...it is like the music industry or the film industry, if you want to suck at the teat of the powerbrokers then you take what you get, something like that, if i understand you correctly

January 24 at 6:15pm · Like

Michael Rothenberg II i don't think the size of the powerbroker really matters, maybe you call them gatekeepers

January 24 at 6:25pm · Edited · Like

Michael Rothenberg II if you don't like to be abused and you opt out and then complain about it people dismiss you and say it is sour grapes

January 24 at 6:26pm · Like

Frederick Glaysher Michael Rothenberg II, Thanks for commenting. I appreciate hearing from you. Yeah, I think you're right that that's all there... If I understand all your comments correctly, they're all basically referring to the artists and writers, not really the listeners/readers/buyers, which it seems to me are often simply deceived, usually by all the propaganda of the industries, whether music or publishing, about how essential they are, assuring quality, publishing the best, etc., and those who reject all that as a corrupt racket, like me, are accused of, as you say, "sour grapes"! And so I'm following you carefully on all this, Michael, in terms of your

The question that I'm still trying to answer and understand is Why do people, the consumers, continue to go along with all that? Especially when they and artists are so unhappy and abused by the both the old and now long-emerging status quo? How can artists shift or inspire their clientele to skip the gatekeepers and purchase directly from them? ...then there would be a profit for musicians and writers that sustain them and their families, and the arts in general.

What's the missing link? Any ideas out there?

January 24 at 7:21pm · Like

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher January 24 • Edited •

The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem

-Spirituality Today >

"The power of a mythological tale is interwoven into the fabric of its narrative. The crescendo that builds, and which ultimately leads the reader to its climax of revelation, is the key ingredient that makes the epic poem so seductive as a literary form. With this in mind I shall not comment overly on the story in The Parliament of Poets for fear of spoiling its essential spiritual message and core dynamic for pote... See More

The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem. "A masterpiece." --Poetry Cornwall

EARTHRISEPRESS.NET

Like · Comment · Share

Frederick Glaysher
January 23 •

-Spirituality Today

"In this regard The Parliament of Poets - both as a story and as an independently-produced publication, is a success on many levels. It is a tale of, and about, our age of modernity and several contemporary themes have been woven into its narrative in such a way that remind us that perhaps the spiritual crisis humanity faces is an extension of the technological age that we now live in. On the other hand, the poem, it should be stated, is not without its odd flashes of humour and dry irony which, once again enriches its overall value as a dynamic and engaging piece of art rather than a dry academic exercise....

Like · Comment · Share ·

-Spirituality Today

"The power of a mythological tale is interwoven into the fabric of its narrative. The crescendo that builds, and which ultimately leads the reader to its climax of revelation, is the key ingredient that makes the epic poem so seductive as a literary form. With this in mind I shall not comment overly on the story in The Parliament of Poets for fear of spoiling its essential spiritual message and core dynamic for potential readers. This is more than simply trying to avoid ruining its 'plotline' or fear of introducing a 'spoiler' into the equation but is, instead, my way of safe-guarding the inherent esoteric value of the work for a reader - one which is invariably expressed within its whole rhythmic phrasing and textual structure...."

Like · Comment · Share

Frederick Glaysher

January 23 ·

Toronto Review > Modern epic poem reaches for the moon -- Dave Gordon

(reprint from The Jewish Post and News of Winnipeg, Canada)

"He has had what he called "serious involvement" with Jewish literature for decades, which includes Biblical studies. That has manifested in The Parliament of Poets, as it follows the Hebrew poets; there's a canto on the slaughter of the prophets of Baal. So too, we read of the suffering figure of Job, and the Kabbalah, running themes throughout the ... See More

Modern epic poem reaches for the

In 1969, Frederick Glaysher, while watching the televised broadcast of the first lunar landing, was bewildered when an anchorman touted the scientific accomplishments of the day, wryly stating that there were no poets on the moon. It

LANDMARKREPORT.COM

Like · Comment · Share

Frederick Glaysher

January 23 ·

Includes a reading of Black Elk on the Moon, discussion of consciousness, world religions, and the universe becoming aware of itself.

"He is the epic poet and visionary, and the author of two extraordinary books, The Myth of the Enlightenment and The Parliament of Poets. I recommend both."

—Mike Schwager, The Enrichment Hour, POETRY, PEACE, ENLIGHTENMENT... WSRadio 23 minutes. Interview of Frederick Glaysher, January 11, 2015... See More

Interview of Frederick Glaysher, POETRY, PEACE, ENLIGHTENMENT, WSRadio, January 11, 2015

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share

Frederick Glaysher

January 23 ·

"We've all seen it, from the moon, the great overview Image of Mother Earth, and feel it to some inarticulate degree and level... yet need a tale to help it come into focus... I believe, in our hearts and souls where real change originates and takes place."

People Around the Globe Must Change their Thinking - The Globe

The first step is people around the globe must change their thinking... That is now in process and can be achieved, with a unifying Vision.

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

Deepak R Prasad likes this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher January 23 ·

"The purpose of the spiritual journey of the Poet of the Moon is to seek deliverance of the modern human from the captivity of nothingness, nihilism and atheism, and from the resulting chaos and chasm of soul. From the versatile he gets scores of life-affirming lessons, yet the core meaning of all is that the Supreme Being as well as the earth is one, and so human beings are one nation irrespective of their clan, class, color, race, religion and gender. In this earth human be... See More

"The review has evocatively summed up the stylistic and thematic magnificence of 'The Parliament...

DSPACE.FLINDERS.EDU.AU

Like · Comment · Share ·

Sher Brisebois and Michael Rehling like this.

Dirk Gysels great

January 23 at 2:40pm · Like

Frederick Glaysher Thanks, Dirk. Hope you'll consider making a Journey to the Moon... It's had over 20 reviews, many are on Amazon.de if you'd like to check it out.

http://www.amazon.de/.../dp/098267788X/ref=ntt_at_ep_dpt_2

The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem

AMAZON.DE

January 23 at 3:27pm · Like · Remove Preview

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
January 23 •

-Mr. P. J. Morris, Amazon UK

"Frederick Glaysher is a man of passion and commitment to both poetry and classic literature. His immense knowledge on these subjects reveal themselves throughout the collection of essays contained within his book The Myth of the Enlightenment. It is a pleasure to absorb his perspective in a wide range of issues, both spiritual and political, through this book, and his observations on such subjects as democracy in China and race issues in America are interesting. As a book that weaves its way through a lot of terrain it will be enjoyed by those who like to take philosophical commentary one piece at a time. Recommended reading!"

"An Interesting Collection of Essays" a review of: The Myth of the Enlightenment:...

Mr. P. J. Morris "Pet... says: Frederick Glaysher is a man of passion and committment to both poetry and classic literature. His immense knowledge on these subjects reveal themselves throughout the collection of essays contained within his book 'The Myth of the Enlightenment'. It is a...

AMAZON.CO.UK

Like · Comment · Share

Frederick Glaysher

January 23 ·

"The main story is an interesting proposition, that maybe it is poets and philosophers, rather than activists and politicians, who can ultimately help transform this world into something better. Recommended reading for those who enjoy the tradition of mythological story-telling through rhythm and allegory."

-Mr. P. J. Morris, Amazon UK

"To the Moon and Back in one Epic Tale" a review of: The Parliament of Poets: An Epic...

Mr. P. J. Morris "Pet... says: 'The Parliament of Poets' is, in the truest sense of the word, an epic poem. Whilst not grandiose in its execution it does deal with one of the greatest challenges to face humanity at this moment in its history.

AMAZON.CO.UK

Like · Comment · Share

Frederick Glaysher

January 23 ·

Is it any wonder that the Council of Nicaea sought to destroy the teachings of Christ?

Little did Constantine and the bishops know that quantum physics would restore them...

Like · Comment · Share

Frederick Glaysher
January 23 •

-Spirituality Today >

"...This is a uniquely powerful work that introduces an established and powerful literary tradition to a world that is in desperate need of its essential rhythms and harmonies for spiritual sustenance."

The Parliament of Poets by Frederick Glaysher

In a modern technological world - one where contemporary spiritual ideas can be shared with the World simply by the click of a button, it is important...

SPIRITUALITY.TODAY | BY SPIRITUALITY TODAY

Like · Comment · Share

Frederick Glaysher January 23 ·

-Spirituality Today >

"Whilst comparatively divergent in their make-up and composition the essays in The Myth of the Enlightenment form an enjoyable collection of insightful and erudite commentaries on spirituality and the nature of being human. At times the essays reveal the author's clearly deep emotional and philosophical beliefs and the passion that oozes from out of the text is thoroughly commendable. ...this book opens up some potentially fascinating and educationally rewarding terrain. The Myth of the Enlightenment is a rich tapestry of insight and personal reflection which many poets and lovers of a free world will gladly embrace."

The Myth of the Enlightenment by Frederick Glaysher

Today, we live in a culture in which encourages way too many peope too openly voice their ill-considered opinions on some topic or another. Social med...

SPIRITUALITY.TODAY | BY SPIRITUALITY TODAY

Like · Comment · Share ·

Sher Brisebois likes this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher January 22 ·

Idealism is the only truly realistic position, as has often been said. It can recognize that the heart of the human being harbors great evil, but also great good. Those like Nietzsche, Freud, Marx, and the whole modern pantheon of cynics have taken civilization in the wrong direction... The influence of the great German writers were in the hearts and minds, in the pen of Thomas Mann, Hermann Hesse, Isaiah Berlin, and many others, from all walks of life, who opposed, as best they could, the fascists, triumphed against them, as Mann did in Dr. Faustus. They definitely were not in the work of Heidegger and Paul de Mann and other fascist writers who brought the dregs of their relativism, nihilism, and despair into American culture through Deconstruction and its sundry sophistries that have corrupted the writing of many since the 1970s.

W. H. Auden's stricture that poetry makes nothing happen is false, as is all of its derivations. Poetry does make something happen-civilization, by elevating the thinking of the people. Without it, without the real thing, there is nothing but bestiality and despair. Idealism *affirms* what is best in the human being in order to call it into being, as Julian Benda wisely observed in The Treason of the Clerks. I *choose* to affirm what is best in human nature because I have experienced it, know its reality, as well as the bestiality and banality that result without it. No ideology could more perfectly dovetail with the greed of the mega-wealthy and the lust for power of politicians than nihilism. Idealism has always whipped them out of the temple and treated them with unmitigated contempt.

Like · Comment · Share · 6 23

Hune Margulies and 3 others like this.

James Doyle I have to say, you aren't reading Nietzsche the same way I am if you consider him a cynic. He had nothing to do with nihilism, and even less to do with fascism. I challenge anyone to read his exhortations to the free spirit and Amor Fati and not feel a tingle of excitement at the possibilities of life; there is nothing as uplifting in poetry or prose since. Idealism at its purest.

January 22 at 9:59pm · Like · 2

Frederick Glaysher Thus Spake Zarathustra tells a different tale, I'd say. His glorification of brutality and power was essentially a cynical reading of human nature, as was the Uber Mensch... etc., leading to and justifying the devaluation of values that became Hitler.

January 22 at 10:10pm · Edited · Like · 1

Hune Margulies the concept of the über mensch was the precise opposite to the concept of the über race. in a sense it democratized superiority. nietzche spoke of the human condition in general and his ideas were both misappropriated and purposely distorted by nazism. January 22 at 10:17pm · Like · 2

James Doyle Nietzsche also expressly disavowed racism and lamented the rise of German nationalism in the Prussia of his time. Expressly. His idea of the Ubermensch was as a cultural strong man, not a physical one, one who could take the tragic aspects of life and make them beautiful.

January 22 at 10:30pm · Like · 3

Laura McKee Neither was Marx a cynic, if you read him fully. He talked about sensuousness and alienation.

January 22 at 10:57pm · Like · 2

Derek Dey The basic premise of Marx regarding the absence of social justice is obviously not wrong but his methods were reprehensible. If one does read Marx one might notice he advocated murder in his texts. That is simply replacing one crime with another.In fac... See More

January 23 at 6:54am · Edited · 1

Derek Dey Nietszche was considered by Jung but Jung gave up. The point being that Nietzsche pointed to will as being the primary drive and definition of man. He then went on to say the purpose of life was Dioysian and or Bacchanalian. Those definitions fail to t... See More January 23 at 6:52am · Edited Frederick Glaysher I agree with the views expressed by Derek, regarding the materialism of Marx and Nietzsche. The reduction of life to materialism is essentially cynical, as done by Karl Marx, in The Communist Manifesto, Part II, "Communism abolishes eternal truths, it abolishes all religion, and all morality, instead of constituting them on a new basis; it therefore acts in contradiction to all past historical experience." The last paragraph states, "The Communists... openly declare that their ends can be attained only by the forcible overthrow of all existing social conditions. Let the ruling classes tremble at a Communistic revolution." etc... Nietzsche took a different route but produced about the same result.

I'm not interested in rehabilitating either one. The further they're both repudiated, as they have been by lived life, the better... Let the dead bury the dead.

January 23 at 9:35am · Like

Hune Margulies that is not exactly correct frederick. marx wanted to abolish the sources, or the reasons, from which we have derived the false religions and hypocritical moral values. for him the sources and reasons were the material interests of the ruling classes. ...

See More

January 23 at 9:46am · Like · 1

Derek Dey Materialists invent their own philosophies and belief systems so I don't see that much difference there January 23 at 9:52am · 1

Frederick Glaysher While I respect your conscience, Hune, I don't share it. The analysis and prognostications of Marx are false and proven as such by lived life, subsequent history, and the destruction of the lives of millions of people around the world... In the end, to me, Marx is no better than the capitalists he loathed.

January 23 at 9:54am • Like

Hune Margulies it's not "materialists", whatever you mean by that terms. it is the praxis of culture that creates values, and for marx, the class society created wrong values. a classless society will create the right culture and from it the right values will be derived. January 23 at 9:54am. Like

Hune Margulies frederick, i agree. i am only pointing at a more accurate understanding of marx's philosophy. but i must again point out that marxism, as opposed to capitalism, has never been implemented anywhere. stalinism is not marxism.

January 23 at 9:55am · Like

Derek Dey Marxism is not functional - the economic ideas and substructure have been applied and led to shambles January 23 at 9:58am - 1

Derek Dey Thats why China gave up on it for one January 23 at 9:58am

Frederick Glaysher Derek, They're all squabbling over and killing for the coins... so what's the difference?

I've heard the argument a million times, "Marxism has never been tried." ...argued the most vehemently by those who want to try it in the USA. No thanks. It RUINED every country that ever tried it!! Like Scientology, Marxism is an evil cult....

January 23 at 9:59am · Like

Hune Margulies no, marxism has never been applied. stalinism is not marxism. but that is a different discussion. i thought frederick was speaking of philosophic values. and capitalism has also created shambles everywhere. wars, poverty and oppression are hallmarks of both stalisnism and capitalism.

January 23 at 10:00am · Like

Derek Dey There's a lot of problems with both Marxism and cultural marxism which is now well embedded in the western value system but I think this is another debate so I'll leave it there including Darwins theory of evolution which is not science just faith of sorts January 23 at 12:25pm · Edited

Frederick Glaysher Oh, God, Derek, China!! I have years of mourning China behind me... a couple of reviews in my book The Myth of Fang Lizhi and Harry Wu, if you're familiar with them.

January 23 at 10:01am · Like · 1

Hune Margulies capitalism is a cult too. god replaced by mamon. pope francis and the dalai lama both agree. the point is not to issue slogans, is to look at the basis of the proposals. yes, marxism has never been implemented anywhere. there is no one example of a marxist society in the world. to say that china or others like it were marxist is almost like saying that germany was national "socialist". January 23 at 10:03am · Like Frederick Glaysher Here's where I began: "Idealism is the only truly realistic position, as has often been said..." God save us from Nietzsche and Marx... and unrestrained capitalism.

January 23 at 10:04am · Like · 2

Frederick Glaysher A Cult mantra >>> "marxism has never been implemented anywhere." One I don't belong to or chant, and the "reasons" for which I don't share... I can't waste any more time today beating a dead cow.

January 23 at 10:06am · Like · 1

Hune Margulies i agree. i thought your post was poetic, not ideological. i also rarely engage in political discussions. in those type of discussions all rationality is always left outside the door. my applicates.

January 23 at 10:16am · Like

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher January 22 •

We human beings, we're in a mess... The Emperor is bare naked, and the peasants are starving, half of them out of their minds. There are a lot of rocks in this universe with no life on them, as far as we can tell. We might want to hold on to this one...

I have an idea, as a poet, I think, let's sing them a tale, take their minds off killing one another for a while, at least, lull them with song, and then work on rearranging their soul into something more human... before they notice it, and start killing one another again in the aisles... but, it seems, few of the barbarians any longer know how to read, or want to read, a serious book on an adult level... Thoughts of a new Dark Age, shake them off.

I refuse to give up, being a fool, Shakespearean!!! ...in a tragic tale. Perhaps a little catharsis will help, especially from the Moon, from where the entire pageant play can be seen. Worth a try...

Like · Comment · Share · 6 14 1

Frederick Glaysher January 22 •

"In 2015, unchecked climate change, global nuclear weapons

modernizations, and outsized nuclear weapons arsenals pose extraordinary and undeniable threats to the continued existence of humanity," the group said in a statement.

"World leaders have failed to act with the speed or on the scale required to protect citizens from potential catastrophe. These failures of political leadership endanger every person on Earth."

Doomsday Clock moved forward 2 minutes, sits only 3 minutes from midnight - AOL.com

By RYAN GORMAN Humans are inching closer to a doomsday scenario, experts believe. The Bulletin of Atomic Scientists (BAS) moved the...

AOL.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

• 1

Gary Howard likes this.

David Grantz Perversity, it seems, cannot be thrown from the saddle. January 22 at 8:13pm

Frederick Glaysher It sometimes seems we human beings are intent on killing ourselves. I don't get it, myself.

January 22 at 8:18pm · Like

David Grantz I get it, I just do not like to admit it. As a race, for all our creativity, we are just as abundantly perverse. Few even recognize even this, even as the charlatans spoon down their throats the many varieties of snake oil. Asimov gave us a 50/50 chance. Some would say he was an optimist.

January 22 at 8:22pm

David Grantz It does not keep me from hoping, even for intervention, like the monkeys at the monolith.

January 22 at 8:23pm

Frederick Glaysher 49.9/50.1 Call me a fool...

January 22 at 8:23pm • Like

David Grantz Being hopeful is not being foolish, imo. January 22 at 8:24pm

Frederick Glaysher And so, as a poet, I think, let's sing them a tale, take their minds off killing one another for a while, at least, lull them with song, and then work on rearranging their soul into something more human... before they notice it and start killing one another in the aisles once again.... but, it seems, few of the barbarians any longer know how to read, or want to read, a serious book written on an adult level... Hahhaa. But I refuse to give up, being a fool, Shakespearean!!! ...in a tragic tale.

David Grantz Frederich, we really can only glimpse indeterminately at what is in store for us, physically or spiritually. I look at my poetry as my spirit trying to find the words-passing its luminous hands beyond the veil. It serves so many purposes: to purge,... See More January 22 at 8:48pm

Frederick Glaysher I agree with all that... and am not a Prognosticator or prophet in the end, just happily a would-be poet.
As long as we're not dead yet, there's hope!! Maybe something will work...

January 22 at 8:52pm · Like

January 22 at 8:30pm · Edited · Like

Write a comment...

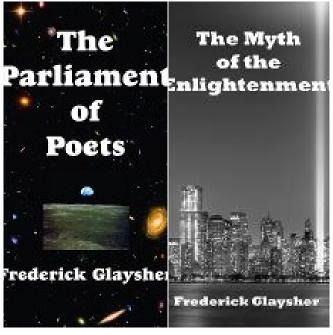

Frederick Glaysher added 2 new photos. January 22 ·

The first step is people around the globe must change their thinking... That is now in process and can be achieved, with a unifying Vision. When that happens, the "corrupt politicos" will have to change sufficiently if they want power, and they will, because they do, which now can only be held at the indulgence of the people.

For people around the globe to truly change their thinking, and this may be very difficult to understand, but I ask you to think of shamans telling a ta... See More

Like · Comment · Share · 1

Hans G. Ruprecht likes this.

Frederick Glaysher Hans, Thank you, sir. Good to know you've seen my latest cri de coeur.

January 22 at 8:37pm · Edited · Like

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher January 22 · Edited ·

What the world gets without latitude for *interpretation*...

"...as the formula has it, "closed the gates of ijtihad".

http://www.independent.co.uk/.../islamic-history-is-full-of-f...

Islamic history is full of free thinkers - but recent attempts to suppress critical thought are...

"This has nothing to do with Islam," say the imams. "These callous and fanatic murders have nothing to do with us," say the mullahs. "Islam... INDEPENDENT.CO.UK

Like · Comment · Share · 2

Carmelo Militano and Irene Hahn like this.

Frederick Glaysher "Yet this is an Islam of manufactured dogma which relies on neither the Koran nor the example of the Prophet Mohamed."

An interesting article but for what to me is this flawed statement, which glosses over the several passages in the Quran calling for domination of the "dhimmis," People of the Book, and their conquest and subordination. Muhammad's murder of hundreds of Jews in Medina is a historical fact, according to the Quran itself, so antisemitism, to say the least, has a long history in Islam. Such facts cannot be glossed if one is serious about "opening the gates of ijtihad" and finding genuine resolutions.

I discuss dhimmitude in my book The Myth of the Enlightenment, in a wider context, which I argue is essential for understanding and coming to grips with all of the implications that are involved for both the Middle East and the rest of the modern world.

Write a comment...

January 22 at 5:02pm · Edited · Like

Frederick Glaysher
January 22 · Edited ·

Alex Gibney > Going Clear: Scientology and the Prison of Belief

"...he feels that the message of this film applies well beyond Scientology or any one organization. "You can see how abusive institutions get when they have a lot of power and money and when they become guided by a small group of people at the top, perhaps even one person," he says. And then there's a theme that resonates across any number of religions: "It's really hard-wired into all of us, the psychology of wanting to find certainty in faith that allows you to do the most reprehensible things because you believe the ends justify the means."

Bombshell Scientology Film Revealed: Alex Gibney on Cruise, Travolta and 'the Prison of Belief' This story first appeared in the Jan.

HOLLYWOODREPORTER.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

2

Hune Margulies likes this.

Gary Howard "...the psychology of wanting to find certainty in faith that allows you to do the most reprehensible things because you believe the ends justify the means."

I would like to think that not all of us are susceptible to these dangers, since some of us can pick the fruit from the trees of religions without ingesting the toxicity.

January 22 at 2:58pm · Like

Frederick Glaysher As a life-long student of many religions and wisdom traditions, I'm all for savoring the "fruit" too. ...but spit out the toxic seeds. ...usually involving "organizations" and "institutions" whose "ends justify the means." The problem with cults is that cult members, often deceived into drinking the koolaid, through "lovebombing," always think they're not in one, but everyone else should be in their with them, as well as willing to commit all manner of crimes to force Reality to conform to their conceptions.

Under the vast expanse of the millennia, given the comparatively ephemeral, parochial, corrupt organizations, God seems to have made the human soul sufficient and serenely universal... without them.

January 22 at 4:11pm · Edited · Like

Gary Howard Cult behavior seems to begin with the unquestionable leadership or philosophy. That weeds out most religions along with the collective mentioned in the linked article.

January 22 at 8:00pm · Edited · Like

Frederick Glaysher Good point. Funny how the leadership never wants to be questioned or have the dogma questioned. Those human beings with their independent minds... who the hell do they think they are?!

January 22 at 8:02pm · Like · 1

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

January 22 ·

"In this regard The Parliament of Poets - both as a story and as an independently-produced publication, is a success on many levels. It is a tale of, and about, our age of modernity and several contemporary themes have been woven into its narrative in such a way that remind us that perhaps the spiritual crisis humanity faces is an extension of the technological age that we now live in. On the other hand, the poem, it should be stated, is not without its odd flashes of humour and dry irony which, once again enriches its overall value as a dynamic and engaging piece of art rather than a dry academic exercise....

-Spirituality Today

Like · Comment · Share ·

Frederick Glaysher
January 22 •

"The power of a mythological tale is interwoven into the fabric of its narrative. The crescendo that builds, and which ultimately leads the reader to its climax of revelation, is the key ingredient that makes the epic poem so seductive as a literary form. With this in mind I shall not comment overly on the story in The Parliament of Poets for fear of spoiling its essential spiritual message and core dynamic for potential readers. This is more than simply trying to avoid ruining its 'plotline' or fear of introducing a 'spoiler' into the equation but is, instead, my way of safe-guarding the inherent esoteric value of the work for a reader - one which is invariably expressed within its whole rhythmic phrasing and textual structure...."

-Spirituality Today

Like · Comment · Share ·

Frederick Glaysher

January 22 •

"This is a uniquely powerful work that introduces an established and powerful literary tradition to a world that is in desperate need of its essential rhythms and harmonies for spiritual sustenance."

-Spirituality Today

Like · Comment · Share · 4

Frederick Glaysher January 22 •

Perseus (Cellini)

Winged sandals strapped to my feet,
I stand in the piazza of Florence, holding in my out-stretched left hand
the Gorgon-head of nihilism, its putrid guts and black blood dripping from its severed neck, severed by the sword of my pen,
standing over the corpse of Medusa,
over the corpse of Nietzsche's Zarathustra.

Copyright © 2010 Frederick Glaysher

https://www.facebook.com/notes/frederick-glaysher/perseus/141618579201998

Like · Comment · Share · 5

Erland Anderson and 3 others like this.

Rosa Maria Stoops At the loggia of the Uffizi! The most incredible place, such a nice poem!

January 22 at 11:03am

Frederick Glaysher Yes! ...open to the piazza.

January 22 at 11:04am • Like • 1

Rosa Maria Stoops I sat at the steps, oh, so many times with my gelato in hand, looking at Perseus and feeling the magic, the horror, the excitement. This is a most beautiful place. I almost got Stendhal's Syndrome!

January 22 at 1:59pm · Edited

Frederick Glaysher Hahhaaha! Alas, I've only traveled there in my imagination... But I like to think it was a worthwhile trip.

January 22 at 11:33am · Edited · Like · 2

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
January 22 •

"The main story is an interesting proposition, that maybe it is poets and philosophers, rather than activists and politicians, who can ultimately help transform this world into something better. Recommended reading for those who enjoy the tradition of mythological story-telling through rhythm and allegory." —Mr. P. J. Morris, Amazon UK

Like · Comment · Share · 5 4

January 22 at 10:47am · Like

Carole Young, Mark E. Hoelter, Bibi Gaston and 2 others like this.

Jefferson Carter WOULDN'T THAT BE PRETTY....

Frederick Glaysher Cynicism is a deadening narcotic that the small little world of American poetry has often heavily drugged itself with for decades, indeed, for over a century... The Tradition stands witness to both the greatness of the human soul and the art.

January 22 at 10:53am · Edited · Like · 1

Jefferson Carter I'm not being cynical; I'm being realistic. Poets and philosophers have never had the power to change the world into something better, maybe to open the individual to a richer mental/emotional life but NEVER to replace activists and politicians. Where was the influence of all those great German poets and philosophers during Hitler's rise to power?

January 22 at 12:00pm · Like

Frederick Glaysher Jefferson, Idealism is the only truly realistic position, as has often been said. It recognizes that the heart of the human being harbors great evil, but also great good. Those like Nietzsche, Freud, Marx, and the whole modern pantheon of cynics have taken civilization in the wrong direction... The influence of the great German writers were in the hearts and minds, in the pens of Thomas Mann, Hermann Hesse, Isaiah Berlin, and many others, from all walks of life, who opposed, as best they could, the fascism of spirit, triumphed against them, as Mann did in Dr. Faustus. They definitely were NOT in the work of Heidegger and Paul de Mann and other fascist writers who brought the dregs of their despair into American culture through Deconstruction and its sundry sophistries that have corrupted the writing of many artists since the 1970s.

W. H. Auden's stricture that poetry makes nothing happen is false, as is all of its derivations. Poetry does make something happen-civilization, by changing and elevating the thinking of the people. Without it, without the real thing, there is nothing but bestiality and despair. Idealism *affirms* what is best in the human being in order to call it into being, as Julian Benda observed in The Treason of the Clerks. I *choose* to affirm what is best in human nature because I have experienced it, know its reality, as well as the bestiality and banality that result without it. No ideology could more perfectly dovetail with the greed of the mega-wealthy and the lust for power of the politicians than nihilism. Idealism has always whipped them out of the temple...

January 22 at 12:42pm · Edited · Like · 1

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
January 22 · Edited ·

The problem is people must *feel* it and prose is ultimately based only on the reason of the head, not the heart, as poetry is, which is why historically, prior to modern times, it was always considered a form of epistemology, knowledge, a way of knowing that ran deeper than the intellect... It's why I chose epic poetry because it can speak to the deepest regions of the soul.

The old paradigm of publishing and promotion is still very much in control of the major publications and levers of dissemination of new ideas and books. Unfortunately, most of it, is in the control of corporations that are thoroughly suffused with the atrophied vision of life from modern nihilism and materialism, the latter from both Marxism and capitalism. The world has truly been struggling throughout the last hundred years to achieve another vision of life beyond those old contentious ideologies, truly global and universal in outlook.

We've all seen it, from the moon, the great overview Image of Mother Earth, and feel it to some inarticulate degree and level... yet need a tale to help it come into focus... I believe, in our hearts and souls where real change originates and takes place.

Then, it will be easy to transform life on this planet... and care for the needs of all the people of Mother Earth. An epochal shift is what is required, a very deep change or clarification of Vision, which civilization on this planet has repeatedly demonstrated, in the past, when necessary, it is capable of making...

Like · Comment · Share · 2 1

Frederick Glaysher

January 22 ·

"Temporarily out of stock" on Amazon. They recommend just ordering and as soon as they receive new copies in a few days they'll ship to you or order through Earthrise Press which "Ships free in the USA within 24 hours (save $4.98 on Amazon shipping)." Free shipping in the UK (from the printer in Milton Keynes) and to anywhere in the European Union, and in Australia (from the printer in Scoresby, Victoria), if purchased from Earthrise Press.

The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem

Earthrise Press books evoke a new global, universal vision of life on this planet.

EARTHRISEPRESS.NET

Like · Comment · Share ·

Moyra Irving and Donna Reczek like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher January 21 •

The first step is people around the globe must change their thinking... That is now in process and can be achieved, with a unifying Vision. When that happens, the "corrupt politicos" will have to change sufficiently if they want power, and they will, which now can only be held at the indulgence of the people.

For people around the globe to truly change their thinking, and this may be very difficult to understand, but I ask you to think of shamans telling a tale that brings the tribe together in a new understanding or Vision, helps them *feel* it, people need to read the epic poem that I have spent 30 years studying for and writing, a tale of humanity throughout the ages, in the vast expanse of time and space, in global and cosmic Unity, viewing Mother Earth from the Moon... united in a commonly shared Vision of Love.

Everything else has been tried and failed... now trust and mount the shaman path Heavenward to the Moon...

Like · Comment · Share · 3 6

Hans G. Ruprecht and Julie Clayton like this.

Frederick Glaysher Sher Brisebois FYI Mike Schwager Arthur McMaster Hans G. Ruprecht Phillip Richards Tina Benson Julie Clayton Miriam Knight Graham Mummery Nana Fredua-Agyeman Nishat Haider Susannah Greenberg William Pitt Root ML Liebler Zacharv Bos Aaron Barlow

January 22 at 10:24am · Edited · Like · 2

Sher Brisebois thank you
January 21 at 9:57pm • Unlike •

Frederick Glaysher ...The problem is people must *feel* it and prose is ultimately based only on the reason of the head, not the heart, as poetry is, which is why historically, prior to modern times, it was always considered a form of epistemology, knowledge, a way of knowing that ran deeper than the intellect... It's why I chose epic poetry because it can speak to the deepest regions of the soul.

January 21 at 10:19pm · Edited · Like · 2

Tina Benson And that is exactly what your beautiful epic poem does, Fred; just gave a copy of it to a friend for his birthday! Doing my part dear friend to spread your word around as best I can!

January 21 at 10:54pm · Like

Frederick Glaysher Thanks, Tina! I appreciate it. The old paradigm of publishing and promotion is still very much in control of the major publications and levers of dissemination of new ideas and books. Unfortunately, most of it, is in the control of corporations that are thoroughly suffused with the atrophied vision of life from modern nihilism and materialism, the latter from both Marxism and capitalism. The world has truly been struggling throughout the last hundred years to achieve another vision of life beyond those old contentious ideologies, truly global and universal in outlook. We've all seen it, from the moon, the great overview Image of Mother Earth, and feel it to some inarticulate degree and level... yet need a tale to help it come into focus... I believe, in our hearts and souls where real change originates and takes place.

Then, it will be easy to transform life on this planet... and care for the needs of all the people of Mother Earth. An epochal shift is what is required, a very deep change or clarification of Vision, which civilization on this planet has repeatedly demonstrated, in the past, when necessary, it is capable of making...

January 22 at 10:07am · Edited · Like · 2

Tina Benson I'm with you, Fred...standing on the Moon, looking down...knowing what is possible, and speaking for and about it, wherever and whenever I can...

January 22 at 8:58am · Like · 1

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher shared Vhong Navarro's photo.
January 21

Reason #1 that all of the mega-wealthy on this planet must be taxed at 70% minimum.

Like · Comment · Share · 39 17

Dirk Gysels, Yvonne Owens, Reg Darling and 36 others like this.

Dani Greer

January 21 at 9:20pm · Like

Frederick Glaysher Sad and shocking... and obscene that we human beings have yet to get our act together on this planet.

January 21 at 9:21pm · Like · 1

Frederick Glaysher The first step is people around the globe must change their thinking... That is now in process and can be done. When that happens, the "corrupt politicos" will have to change sufficiently if they want power, and they will, which now can only be held at the indulgence of the people.

January 21 at 9:31pm · Edited · Like ·

Sher Brisebois This is unbearable. We have to raise awareness, motivate leaders. FIX it. Im going to copy/paste this picture on my site. What else can I do?

January 21 at 9:34pm · Like

Frederick Glaysher Sher, For people around the globe to truly change their thinking, and this may be very difficult to understand, but I ask you to think of shamans telling a tale that brings the tribe together in a new understanding or vision, helps them *feel* it, people need to read the epic poem that I have spent 30 years studying for and writing, a tale of humanity throughout the ages, in global and cosmic Unity, viewing Mother Earth from the Moon...

January 21 at 9:41pm · Edited · Like ·

Frederick Glaysher ...united in a commonly shared Vision of Love.

January 21 at 9:41pm · Like · 1

Frederick Glaysher Everything else has been tried and failed... now trust and mount the shaman path Heavenward to the Moon...

January 21 at 9:47pm · Edited · Like · 1

Sher Brisebois I try in my own small way, started a segment on money and power a few months ago. Facts, figures, stats, images, who's who, etc. and occasionally, like today, something on altruism. I doubt if it has any effect, but maybe. A picture like this is worth the 1000 screaming words. Perhaps you are right, the way is through poetry, shamanism, mythology, Gaia.

January 21 at 9:56pm · Like

Frederick Glaysher I respect what you're doing. The problem is people must *feel* it and prose is ultimately based only on the reason of the head, not the heart, as poetry is, which is why historically it was always considered a form of epistemology, knowledge, a way of knowing that ran deeper than the intellect... It's why I chose epic poetry because it speaks to the deepest regions of the soul.

January 21 at 10:00pm · Like · 2

Ani Williams Frederick Glaysher, This imbalance is becoming so extreme. It's bound to flip just based on the laws of nature. My modus is music....more beauty, harmony to sway the pendulum. January 21 at 10:43pm · Like Frederick Glaysher Ani, Yes, music reaches deep in there somewhere too! ...where the music of spheres can be heard, as on and from the Moon.

I prefer to think that it is not "bound to flip," lest I and others not take the *action* necessary to help life along... Otherw... See More January 22 at 9:42am · Edited · Like Ani Williams Frederick, the 'flip' I'm referring to is not a doomsday attitude. It just seems like the out of control power/greed and economy/politics based on false principles shift out of necessity. I actually respond to the chaos with more momentum and energy to create solutions, inspiration, new visions. Unfortunately, there are too many who become fearful and disempowered by the unpredictability.

January 22 at 8:34pm · Like

Frederick Glaysher I agree we're in a mess... we human beings. The Emperor is bare naked, and the peasants are starving, half of them out of their minds. A lot of rocks in this universe with no life on them. as far as we can tell. We might want to hold on to this one...

I have an idea, as a poet, I think, let's sing them a tale, take their minds off killing one another for a while, at least, lull them with song, and then work on rearranging their soul into something more human... before they notice it, and start killing one another again in the aisles... but, it seems, few of the barbarians any longer know how to read a serious book written on an adult level... Hahhaa. But I refuse to give up, being a fool, Shakespearean!!! ...in a tragic tale. Perhaps a little catharsis will help, especially from the Moon, from where the entire pageant play can be seen. Worth a try...

January 22 at 8:47pm · Edited · Like · 1

Ani Williams Ha, agreed, it's up to the troubadours of the world to trick at least the ones listening, into a new dream...it has always been our work/play, to weave an unknown tapestry of words and notes...and no, never giving up, giving in, life after life.

January 22 at 11:16pm - Like

Frederick Glaysher A lot of troubadours on the Moon...
January 23 at 9:45am · Like · 1

Ani Williams Earth has quite a few actually.

January 23 at 11:15am · Like

Frederick Glaysher That's where they all came from.... January 23 at 3:14pm • Like

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
January 21 •

-Spirituality Today >

"The power of a mythological tale is interwoven into the fabric of its narrative. The crescendo that builds, and which ultimately leads the reader to its climax of revelation, is the key ingredient that makes the epic poem so seductive as a literary form. With this in mind I shall not comment overly on the story in The Parliament of Poets for fear of spoiling its essential spiritual message and core dynamic for potential readers. This is more than simply trying to avoid ruining its 'plotline' or fear of introducing a 'spoiler' into the equation but is, instead, my way of safe-guarding the inherent esoteric value of the work for a reader - one which is invariably expressed within its whole rhythmic phrasing and textual structure....

"In this regard The Parliament of Poets - both as a story and as an independently-produced publication, is a success on many levels. It is a tale of, and about, our age of modernity and several contemporary themes have been woven into its narrative in such a way that remind us that perhaps the spiritual crisis humanity faces is an extension of the technological age that we now live in. On the other hand, the poem, it should be stated, is not without its odd flashes of humour and dry irony which, once again enriches its overall value as a dynamic and engaging piece of art rather than a dry academic exercise....

"This is a uniquely powerful work that introduces an established and powerful literary tradition to a world that is in desperate need of its essential rhythms and harmonies for spiritual sustenance."

The Parliament of Poets by Frederick Glavsher

In a modern technological world - one where contemporary spiritual ideas can be shared with the World simply by the click of a button, it is important...

SPIRITUALITY.TODAY | BY SPIRITUALITY TODAY

Like · Comment · Share

Frederick Glaysher
January 21 · Edited ·

Muslims cannot alone reform Islam. It has become a global problem and needs the help of the entire world. We are all human beings on this planet. We must help one another.

Like · Comment · Share · 8

Traci Gourdine, Ariadne Green, Erland Anderson and 5 others like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

January 21 •

Though many are waving their arms about and shouting at one another, eager to climb the barricades, a trip together to the Moon... is what is actually needed, and the only thing that will help bring us together on this planet.

Like · Comment · Share · 3

Frederick Glaysher

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

January 21 at 12:00pm · Like

January 21 · Edited ·

Is it any wonder that the Council of Nicaea sought to destroy the teachings of Christ?

Little did Constantine and the bishops know that quantum physics would restore them...

Like · Comment · Share · 3

Michael Feeney likes this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

January 21 •

"His disciples said to him, 'When will the kingdom come?' 'It will not come by watching for it. It will not be said, 'Look, here it is,' or 'Look, there it is.' Rather, the Father's kingdom is spread out upon the earth, and people do not see it.'"

—The Gospel of Thomas, from The Nag Hammadi Scriptures, ed. Marvin Meyer, 2007.

 $\textbf{Like} \cdot \textbf{Comment} \cdot \textbf{Share} \cdot \textbf{ 4}$

Michael Feeney and Donna Reczek like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

January 21 ·

"Jesus said, 'Woe to the flesh that depends on the soul. Woe to the soul that depends on the flesh.'"

—The Gospel of Thomas, from The Nag Hammadi Scriptures, ed. Marvin Meyer, 2007.

Like · Comment · Share · 3

Michael Feeney and Roger Loveday like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

January 21 ·

"Jesus said, 'Whoever drinks from my mouth will become like me. I myself shall become that person, and the hidden things will be revealed to that person."

—The Gospel of Thomas, from The Nag Hammadi Scriptures, ed. Marvin Meyer, 2007.

Like · Comment · Share · 3

Michael Feeney likes this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

January 21 ·

"Jesus said, 'When you make the two into one, you will become children of humanity, and when you say, 'Mountain, move from here, it will move.'"

—The Gospel of Thomas, from The Nag Hammadi Scriptures, ed. Marvin Meyer, 2007.

Footnote #184: "Or 'sons of man."

Like · Comment · Share · 3

Michael Feeney likes this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

January 21 ·

"Jesus said, 'One who seeks will find; for one who knocks it will be opened."

—The Gospel of Thomas, from The Nag Hammadi Scriptures, ed. Marvin Meyer, 2007.

Like · Comment · Share · 4

Michael Feeney and Roger Loveday like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
January 21 •

"Jesus said, 'If they say to you, 'Where have you come from?' say to them, 'We have come from the light, from the place where the light came into being by itself, established itself, and appeared in their image.'"

—The Gospel of Thomas, from The Nag Hammadi Scriptures, ed. Marvin Meyer, 2007.

Like · Comment · Share · 6 8

Michael Feeney, Kenneth Carroll and 4 others like this.

Ariadne Green One of my favorite sayings in GTh. Here is the entire saying: Saying 50. Jesus said, "If they say to you, 'Where have you come from?' say to them, 'We have come from the light, from the place where the light came into being by itself, established [i... See More

January 21 at 11:26am · Unlike · 1

Ariadne Green I don't know why you would redact the saying by offering nothing more that the first stanza. But history has proved that this was exactly the behavior of the Church fathers when putting together the new testament. Censorship and misrepresenting the words of a Master to present an altogether different ideology. The Gospel of Thomas is so important to understanding Jesus' message. bless you.

January 21 at 11:32am · Unlike · 1

Frederick Glaysher Oh, I so agree with you, Ariadne. I thought the whole passage would be a little long for FB, that's all. Otherwise, I love the whole passage too... Nothing there, or anywhere, in the Gospel of Thomas about all the hocus-pocus of 'organized' Christianity...

January 21 at 11:35am · Like · 2

Frederick Glaysher The editor argues it dates in the early to mid first century.

January 21 at 11:37am · Like · 1

Frederick Glaysher What Tolstoy called "sorcery" is perfect if you want to use "religion" to control the people... as Dostoevsky also understood in his chapter The Grand Inquisitor...

January 21 at 11:40am · Like

Ariadne Green I write it was composed in 43 AD and therefore is the oldest Gospel and if you really read it carefully you can't help but recognize that the sayings couldn't have been passed through an oral tradition. The sayings were composed. Who composed them. Jesus himself. In my book, Jesus Mary Joseph I have a chapter on the topic. Here is an old article you may be interested also. http://newagejournal.com/2007/the-secret-sayings-of-jesus

The Secret Sayings of Jesus | New Age Journal

NEWAGEJOURNAL.COM

January 21 at 11:47am · Unlike · 2 · Remove Preview

Ariadne Green http://www.amazon.com/dp/B00GJW47I4

Jesus Mary Joseph: The Secret Legacy of Jesus and Mary Magdalene

AMAZON.COM

January 21 at 11:48am · Unlike · 1 · Remove Preview

Frederick Glaysher Oh, thanks so much! I'll enjoy checking out your understanding of the Gospel of Thomas, etc. I'm saving your links and info so I can explore later and get back to you, in time.

Perhaps you're familiar with the Sufi saying that somethings are best written about in poetry... my bias, in a sense, as a poet, but prose is good too!

January 21 at 11:59am · Like

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
January 21 •

"Jesus said, 'Be passersby.'"

—The Gospel of Thomas, from The Nag Hammadi Scriptures, ed. Marvin Meyer, 2007.

There's a very choice footnote on the text, #79: "Cf. an Arabic inscription at the site of a mosque at Fatehpur Sikri, India..."

Like · Comment · Share · 2

Frederick Glaysher

January 21 · Edited ·

"Jesus said, 'Blessed are those who are alone and chosen, for you will find the kingdom. For you have come from it, and you will return there again."

—The Gospel of Thomas, from The Nag Hammadi Scriptures, ed. Marvin Meyer, 2007.

A fine footnote here, too, #91: "Or 'solitary' (Coptic monakhos)."

Like · Comment · Share · 3

Frederick Glaysher

January 21 •

"Jesus said, 'If you bring forth what is within you, what you have will save you. If you do not have that within you, what you do not have within you will kill you.'"

—The Gospel of Thomas, from The Nag Hammadi Scriptures, ed. Marvin Meyer, 2007.

Like · Comment · Share · 2

Frederick Glaysher

January 21 ·

"Jesus said, 'I am the light that is over all things. I am all: from me all has come forth, and to me all has reached. Split a piece of wood; I am there. Lift up the stone, and you will find me there."

-The Gospel of Thomas, from The Nag Hammadi Scriptures, ed.

Marvin Meyer, 2007.

Like · Comment · Share · 3

Jerrilyn Zavada likes this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
January 21 •

-Spirituality Today, new review yesterday, too (brief excerpt):

"The power of a mythological tale is interwoven into the fabric of its narrative. The crescendo that builds, and which ultimately leads the reader to its climax of revelation, is the key ingredient that makes the epic poem so seductive as a literary form. With this in mind I shall not comment overly on the story in The Parliament of Poets for fear of spoiling its essential spiritual message and core dynamic for p... See More

The Parliament of Poets by Frederick Glaysher

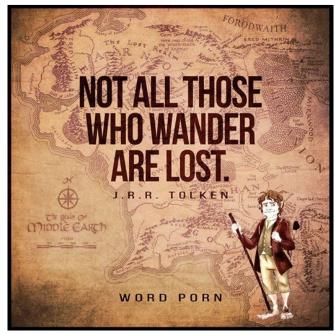

In a modern technological world - one where contemporary spiritual ideas can be shared with the World simply by the click of a button, it is important...

SPIRITUALITY.TODAY | BY SPIRITUALITY TODAY

Like · Comment · Share

Frederick Glaysher shared Word Porn's photo. January 21 ·

Like · Comment · Share · 6 8

Carmelo Militano, Mordechai Ben Yosef and 4 others like this.

Frederick Glaysher *Tolkien*!!
January 21 at 9:11am · Like

이은심 *Tolkien*!! January 21 at 10:00am

Frederick Glaysher Circuitous routes are often the best!! One gets to see more of the countryside that way!! Hhhaaaha! January 21 at 12:38pm · Edited · Like Rosa Maria Stoops I love this. I love to travel and wander, but only for fun!

January 21 at 1:04pm

Frederick Glaysher Rosa Maria, Yeah! Travel is fun!! Talking of travel and fun, Love your new Don Quixote picture on your timeline!
Cervantes was a man who really knew how to travel... a man after my own heart, I dare say. Hahhaa

January 21 at 1:14pm · Edited · Like · 2

Rosa Maria Stoops Such a nice thing to say, Frederick. I have gotten all kinds of inspiration from Don Quixote.

January 21 at 1:27pm

Frederick Glaysher Rosa, I can understand why. Me too. January 21 at 1:33pm · Edited · Like · 1

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

January 21 ·

Another review out just yesterday, too, a long one on Spirituality Today - (brief excerpt):

"...This is a uniquely powerful work that introduces an established and powerful literary tradition to a world that is in desperate need of its essential rhythms and harmonies for spiritual sustenance."

—Spirituality Today

The Parliament of Poets by Frederick Glaysher

In a modern technological world - one where contemporary spiritual ideas can be shared with the World simply by the click of a button, it is important...

SPIRITUALITY.TODAY | BY SPIRITUALITY TODAY

Like · Comment · Share ·

Sher Brisebois, Hune Margulies and David Sanders like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
January 20 •

New UK Review *just today* > An Interesting Collection of Essays (one on my epic, one on my essays)

"Frederick Glaysher is a man of passion and commitment to both poetry and classic literature. His immense knowledge on these subjects reveal themselves throughout the collection of essays contained within his book The Myth of the Enlightenment. It is a pleasure to absorb his perspective in a wide range of issues, both spiritual and political, through this book, and his observations on such subjects as democracy in China and race issues in America are interesting. As a book that weaves its way through a lot of terrain it will be enjoyed by those who like to take philosophical commentary one piece at a time. Recommended reading!"

-Mr. P. J. Morris, Amazon UK

Like · Comment · Share · 4

Taoli-Ambika Talwar, Surabhi Bhattacharjee and Eileen Pardini like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
January 20 •

New UK Review Today > To the Moon and Back in one Epic Tale

"The Parliament of Poets is, in the truest sense of the word, an epic poem. ...it does deal with one of the greatest challenges to face humanity at this moment in its history - namely the desperate need for a spirituality context that serves humanity going forward. ...Indeed the story is grounded in contemporary issues and includes moments of humour and sardonic wit which are enjoyable. The main story is an interesting proposition, that maybe it is poets and philosophers, rather than activists and politicians, who can ultimately help transform this world into something better. Recommended reading for those who enjoy the tradition of mythological story-telling through rhythm and allegory."

-Mr. P. J. Morris, Amazon UK

Like · Comment · Share · 5 6

Julie Clayton, Maxine Therese, Surabhi Bhattacharjee and 2 others like this.

1 share

Frederick Glaysher Thanks, Alistair. I appreciate your interest... It's actually printed in Australia, in Scoresby, Victoria... if you want a hardcover copy.

January 20 at 7:47pm · Edited · Like

Frederick Glaysher Hope you can read my epic, somehow, in Korea... It's in different ebook editions, too, Kindle, Kobo, and Google Play, plus PDF from Earthrise Press http://earthrisepress.net

Earthrise Press. A new global, universal vision of life on this planet.

Earthrise Press books evoke a new global,...
EARTHRISEPRESS.NET

January 20 at 7:46pm · Like · Remove Preview

 $\mathrm{OI}$ 은심 thanks for your kindness

January 20 at 7:47pm

Frederick Glaysher Thank you for your kindly interest... I miss Asia... I used to live in Japan for a few years.

January 20 at 7:49pm · Like

이은실 Welcome to Korea. Mayby in korea, your traslation press, thoughtful religious leaders , Human science, and me academy will greet you very well.

January 20 at 7:55pm

Frederick Glaysher Oh, that would be wonderful! ...who knows, life can amaze us all. Thanks.

January 20 at 7:57pm · Edited · Like

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
January 20 · Edited ·

New UK Review > To the Moon and Back in one Epic Tale

"The Parliament of Poets is, in the truest sense of the word, an epic poem. Whilst not grandiose in its execution it does deal with one of the greatest challenges to face humanity at this moment in its history - namely the desperate need for a spirituality context that serves humanity going forward. The style of the narrative is engaging and flows with colour and descriptive intent whilst not being overly 'flowery' in a wa... See More

The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem

The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem

AMAZON.CO.UK

Like · Comment · Share · 3

Surabhi Bhattacharjee and Anthony Lenaghan like this.

New UK Review > An Interesting Collection of Essays

"Frederick Glaysher is a man of passion and commitment to both poetry and classic literature. His immense knowledge on these subjects reveal themselves throughout the collection of essays contained within his book The Myth of the Enlightenment. It is a pleasure to absorb his perspective in a wide range of issues, both spiritual and political, through this book, and his observations on such subjects as democracy in China and race issues in America are interesting. As a book that weaves its way through a lot of terrain it will be enjoyed by those who like to take philosophical commentary one piece at a time. Recommended reading!" —Mr. P. J. Morris, Amazon UK

The Myth of the Enlightenment: Essays

The Myth of the Enlightenment: Essays

AMAZON.CO.UK

Like · Comment · Share · 2

Surabhi Bhattacharjee likes this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
January 20 •

Will Steffen, Australian National University and the Stockholm Resilience Center >

"It's clear the economic system is driving us towards an unsustainable future and people of my daughter's generation will find it increasingly hard to survive," he said. "History has shown that civilizations have risen, stuck to their core values and then collapsed because they didn't change. That's where we are today."

We're destroying the planet in ways that are even worse than global warming

4 ways humans are endangering life on Earth MOTHERJONES.COM

Like · Comment · Share · 1

Surabhi Bhattacharjee likes this.

Frederick Glaysher Yeah, inflexibility is one of the classic signs of doom, historically speaking...

January 20 at 7:41pm · Like

이은심 flexible movement vs hard congregation. January 20 at 7:49pm

January 2

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher January 20 • Edited •

New UK Review > To the Moon and Back in one Epic Tale

"The Parliament of Poets is, in the truest sense of the word, an epic poem. Whilst not grandiose in its execution it does deal with one of the greatest challenges to face humanity at this moment in its history - namely the desperate need for a spirituality context that serves humanity going forward. The style of the narrative is engaging and flows with colour and descriptive intent whilst not being overly 'flowery' in a wa... See More

The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem

The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem

AMAZON.CO.UK

Like · Comment · Share

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher January 20 • Edited •

New UK Review > An Interesting Collection of Essays

"Frederick Glaysher is a man of passion and commitment to both poetry and classic literature. His immense knowledge on these subjects reveal themselves throughout the collection of essays contained within his book The Myth of the Enlightenment. It is a pleasure to absorb his perspective in a wide range of issues, both spiritual and political, through this book, and his observations on such subjects as democracy in China and ... See More

The Myth of the Enlightenment: Essays

The Myth of the Enlightenment: Essays

AMAZON.CO.UK

Like · Comment · Share

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
January 20 •

Includes a reading of Black Elk on the Moon, discussion of consciousness, world religions, and the universe becoming aware of itself.

"He is the epic poet and visionary, and the author of two extraordinary books, The Myth of the Enlightenment and The Parliament of Poets. I recommend both."

—Mike Schwager, The Enrichment Hour, POETRY, PEACE, ENLIGHTENMENT... Interview WSRadio 23 minutes.... See More

Interview of Frederick Glaysher, POETRY, PEACE, ENLIGHTENMENT, WSRadio, January 11, 2015

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

Surabhi Bhattacharjee likes this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

January 20 ·

My epic poem addresses and resolves precisely the problems at the core of the conflict between Islam and the rest of the world, modernity broadly, as attested by two Muslim scholars:

"The purpose of the spiritual journey of the Poet of the Moon is to seek deliverance of the modern human from the captivity of nothingness, nihilism and atheism, and from the resulting chaos and chasm of soul. From the versatile he gets scores of life-affirming lessons, yet the core meaning of ... See More

My epic poem addresses and resolves precisely the problems at the core of the conflict between Islam

DSPACE.FLINDERS.EDU.AU

Like · Comment · Share · 1

Surabhi Bhattachariee likes this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

My epic poem addresses and resolves precisely the problems at the core of the conflict between Islam and the rest of the world, modernity broadly, as attested by two Muslim scholars:

"The purpose of the spiritual journey of the Poet of the Moon is to seek deliverance of the modern human from the captivity of nothingness, nihilism and atheism, and from the resulting chaos and chasm of soul. From the versatile he gets scores of life-affirming lessons, yet the core meaning of ... See More

My epic poem addresses and resolves precisely the problems at the core of the conflict between Islam DSPACE.FLINDERS.EDU.AU

Like · Comment · Share · 2

Frederick Glaysher January 19 •

- --Martin Luther King, Jr. A Testament of Hope: The Essential Writings and Speeches of Martin Luther King, Jr. (632), 1987.
- "A genuine revolution of values means in the final analysis that our loyalties must become ecumenical rather than sectional. Every nation must now develop an overriding loyalty to mankind as a whole in order to preserve the best in their individual societies."

"This call for a world-wide fellowship that lifts neighborly concern beyond one's tribe, race,... See More

Like · Comment · Share · 3

Surabhi Bhattacharjee and 2 others like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
January 19 •

January 19 ·

--Martin Luther King, Jr. - A Testament of Hope: The Essential Writings and Speeches of Martin Luther King, Jr., 1987, (628).

"Truth is found neither in traditional capitalism nor in classical communism. Each represents a partial truth. Capitalism fails to see the truth in collectivism. Communism fails to see the truth in individualism. Capitalism fails to realize that life is social. Communism fails to realize that life is personal. The good and just society is neither the thesis of capitalism nor the antithesis of communism, but a socially conscious democracy which reconciles the truths of individualism and collectivism."

Like · Comment · Share · 6 5

Erland Anderson, Surabhi Bhattacharjee, Tim Johnston and 3 others like this.

Stuart Schreiber Wow!

January 19 at 10:15pm · Like

Frederick Glaysher Yes. One can understand why J. Edgar Hoover, and those like him, thought MLK was a communist. There's a way now to achieve a "socially conscious democracy." Paradoxically, It begins with a flight to the Moon...

January 19 at 10:40pm · Edited · Like

이은심 Frederick Glaysher! but a socially conscious democracy which reconciles the truths of individualism and collectivism." Your's all truth.I choose to stand near you.

January 19 at 11:39pm • Edited

Frederick Glaysher Those are the words of MLK... though I agree with the general idea. Both communism and capitalism are built squarely on materialism, dehumanizing people into things.

January 20 at 8:25am • Like • 1

Susan Scott Excellent thank you January 21 at 10:07am · 1

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

January 19 ·

--Martin Luther King, Jr. - A Testament of Hope: The Essential Writings and Speeches of Martin Luther King, Jr., 1987, (628).

"The United Nations is a gesture in the direction of nonviolence on a world scale. There, at least, states that oppose one another have sought to do so with words instead of with weapons. But true nonviolence is more than the absence of violence. It is the persistent and determined application of peaceable power to offenses against the community-in this case the world community. As the United Nations moves ahead with the giant tasks confronting it, I would hope that it would earnestly examine the uses of nonviolent direction action."

Like · Comment · Share · 3

Surabhi Bhattacharjee and Lynn Hennelly like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
January 19 •

--Martin Luther King, Jr. - A Testament of Hope: The Essential Writings and Speeches of Martin Luther King, Jr., 1987, (627).

"One of the most persistent ambiguities we face is that everybody talks about peace as a goal, but among the wielders of power peace is practically nobody's business. Many men cry 'Peace! Peace!' but they refuse to do the things that make for peace."

Like · Comment · Share · 2 1

이은심 estrangement between ideal and reality January 19 at 9:24pm

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
January 19 · Edited ·

--Martin Luther King, Jr. - A Testament of Hope: The Essential Writings and Speeches of Martin Luther King, Jr., 1987, (626).

"But the real reason that we must use our resources to outlaw poverty goes beyond material concerns to the quality of our mind and spirit. Deeply woven into the fiber of our religious tradition is the conviction that men are made in the image of God, and that they are souls of infinite metaphysical value. If we accept this as a profound moral fact, we cannot be content to see men hungry, to see men victimized with ill-health, when we have the means to help them. In the final analysis, the rich must not ignore the poor because both rich and poor are tied together. They entered the same mysterious gateway of human birth, into the same adventure of moral life."

Like · Comment · Share · 3 3

Surabhi Bhattacharjee and 2 others like this.

Eileen Pardini Marvelously stated!

January 19 at 10:52pm · Like

Frederick Glaysher Eileen, Yes, I so agree, a strongly moral vision simply but firmly put. There's a way now to achieve it. Paradoxically as it may seem, It begins with a flight to the Moon...

January 19 at 11:00pm · Edited · Like · 2

이은심 our religious tradition is the conviction that men are made in the image of GOD .God Bless You!

January 19 at 11:30pm · 1

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
January 19 · Edited ·

--Martin Luther King, Jr. - A Testament of Hope: The Essential Writings and Speeches of Martin Luther King, Jr., 1987, (623).

"This is a treacherous foundation for a world house. Racism can well be that corrosive evil that will bring down the curtain on Western civilization. Arnold Toynbee has said that some twenty-six civilizations have risen upon the face of the earth. Almost all of them have descended into the junk heaps of destruction. The decline and fall of these civilizations, according to Toynbee, was not caused by external invasions but by internal decay. They failed to respond creatively to the challenges impinging upon them. If Western civilization does not now respond constructively to the challenge to banish racism, some future historian will have to say that a great civilization died because it lacked the soul and commitment to make justice a reality for all men."

Like · Comment · Share · 2

Surabhi Bhattacharjee likes this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
January 19 •

"Racism is no mere American phenomenon. Its vicious grasp knows no geographical boundaries."

--Martin Luther King, Jr. - A Testament of Hope: The Essential Writings and Speeches of Martin Luther King, Jr., 1987, (620).

Like · Comment · Share · .

Surabhi Bhattacharjee, Catherine Metzger, Bevel Dauforth and 2 others like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
January 19 •

"We must work passionately and indefatigably to bridge the gulf between our scientific progress and our moral progress. One of the great problems of mankind is that we suffer from a poverty of the spirit which stands in glaring contrast to our scientific and technological abundance. The richer we have become materially, the poorer we have become morally and spiritually."

--Martin Luther King, Jr. - A Testament of Hope: The Essential Writings and Speeches of Martin Luther King, Jr. (620), 1987.

Like · Comment · Share · 6

Surabhi Bhattacharjee and 2 others like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

January 19 ·

Wow!! The best photo of Indra's Net ever taken...

NASA Has Released The Largest Picture Ever Taken And It Will Shake Up Your Universe

Warning: You will feel tiny. Teensy. Minuscule. Non-existent.

SCOOPWHOOP.COM | BY MAANYA SACHDEVA

Like · Comment · Share · 14 4 11

Maura Lynch, Surabhi Bhattacharjee, Penny Andrews and 11 others like this.

11 shares

Amy Sprague reminds me of The Golden Compass

January 19 at 10:48pm · Like · 1

Susan Scott I feel like a speck of dust - star dust ... thank you .. January 20 at 5:42am

Frederick Glaysher Susan, Me too!! ...humbling, awesome. January 20 at 8:32am · Like Thom Cavalli mind-blowing!

January 21 at 12:47am • Edited • Like

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
January 19 · Edited ·

"A genuine revolution of values means in the final analysis that our loyalties must become ecumenical rather than sectional. Every nation must now develop an overriding loyalty to mankind as a whole in order to preserve the best in their individual societies. This call for a world-wide fellowship that lifts neighborly concern beyond one's tribe, race, class and nation is in reality a call for an all-embracing and unconditional love for all men."

--Martin Luther King, Jr. - A Testament of Hope: The Essential Writings and Speeches of Martin Luther King, Jr. (632), 1987.

Like · Comment · Share · 6 2

Christopher McNeese, Surabhi Bhattacharjee, Mordechai Ben Yosef and 3 others like this.

Frederick Glaysher From Where Do We Go from Here? (1967) --Martin Luther King, Jr., included in The Essential Writings... January 19 at 6:08pm · Like

Dow Harris We are both One and Many..."Refreshingly, Dr. Polome was not a "standard-issue academic" when it came to his approach to life outside academy, or in his attitudes about how, and whether, the ideas he explored could, or should, be applied to the greater... See More

January 19 at 7:11pm · Like

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

January 19 ·

"I refuse to accept the view that mankind is so tragically bound to the starless midnight of racism and war that the bright daybreak of peace and brotherhood can never become a reality... I believe that unarmed truth and unconditional love will have the final word." --Martin Luther King, Jr.

Like · Comment · Share · 15 1

Surabhi Bhattacharjee, Colin Owen Ricketts, Erland Anderson and 12 others like this.

1 share

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

January 19 ·

Includes a reading of Black Elk on the Moon, discussion of consciousness, world religions, and the universe becoming aware of itself.

"He is the epic poet and visionary, and the author of two extraordinary books, The Myth of the Enlightenment and The Parliament of Poets. I recommend both."

-Mike Schwager, The Enrichment Hour, POETRY, PEACE, ENLIGHTENMENT... Interview WSRadio 23 minutes.... See More

Interview of Frederick Glaysher, POETRY, PEACE, ENLIGHTENMENT, WSRadio, January 11, 2015

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share · 2

Surabhi Bhattacharjee likes this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

January 19 ·

They have to be taxed at 70%+ in order to begin to restore a balance of fairness for the majority.

Half global wealth held by the 1%

Oxfam warns of widening inequality gap, days ahead of Davos economic summit in Switzerland  $\,$

THEGUARDIAN.COM | BY LARRY ELLIOTT

Like · Comment · Share · 8 2

Surabhi Bhattacharjee, Larry Crist, Sarah Fletcher and 5 others like this.

1 share

Gawain de Leeuw Or, have a war.

everyone else.

January 19 at 9:59pm · Like · 1

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

January 19 ·

"We can't slow up because of our love for democracy and our love for America. Someone should tell Faulkner that the vast majority of the people on this globe are colored." --Martin Luther King Jr.

Like · Comment · Share · 7

Surabhi Bhattacharjee, Linda Charnes, Annette Marie Hyder and 4 others like this.

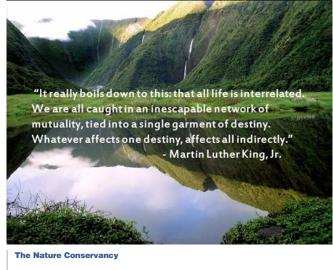

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher shared The Nature Conservancy's photo.

January 19 ·

Happy MLK Day!

Thank you, MLK!

Unlike · Comment · Share · 11

You, Margaret Mackinnon, Leigh Melander, Zina Anisimoviene and

7 others like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher January 19 •

Journey to the Moon... with all the great poets, shamans and storytellers, East and West. There are over 20 reviews on Amazon, though it's again "temporarily out of stock." Earthrise Press can ship free in the USA in 24 hours, and process your order in the UK, Europe, and Australia within 24 hours for local printing and shipping.

EARTHRISEPRESS.NET

The Parliament of Poets: An Epic

"It's really coming back to that image of the storyteller sitting around the campfires of the world, dipping into and weaving the story of humanity, in the most beautiful, mellifluous...

Like · Comment · Share

Frederick Glaysher
January 18 •

Toronto Review > Modern epic poem reaches for the moon --Dave Gordon

(reprint from The Jewish Post and News of Winnipeg, Canada)

"It only takes the first few paragraphs of this modern epic poem to feel the mental gush of ideas, fascinating juxtapositionings, and unique symbolism for our time. ... See More

Modern epic poem reaches for the moon

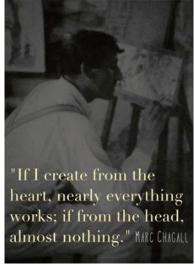

In 1969, Frederick Glaysher, while watching the televised broadcast of the first lunar landing, was bewildered when an anchorman touted the scientific accomplishments of the day, wryly stating that there were no poets on the moon. It

LANDMARKREPORT.COM

Like · Comment · Share

Frederick Glaysher shared Marie Forleo's photo. January 18 ·

Marie Forleo

This is so true for me.

Like · Comment · Share · 10

Julie Clayton, Surabhi Bhattacharjee, Zina Anisimoviene and 7 others like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

January 18 ·

"...the author of two extraordinary books, The Myth of the Enlightenment and The Parliament of Poets. I recommend both."

—Mike Schwager, The Enrichment Hour, POETRY, PEACE, ENLIGHTENMENT... Interview WSRadio 23 minutes.

"...the author of two extraordinary books, The Myth of the Enlightenment and The Parliament of Poets

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share · 2

Surabhi Bhattacharjee likes this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
January 18 •

Includes a reading of Black Elk on the Moon, discussion of consciousness, world religions, and the universe becoming aware of itself.

Interview of Frederick Glaysher, POETRY, PEACE, ENLIGHTENMENT, WSRadio, January 11, 2015

"He is the epic poet and visionary, and the author of two extraordinary books, The Myth of the Enlightenment and The Parliament of Poets. I recommend both."... See More

Interview of Frederick Glaysher, POETRY, PEACE, ENLIGHTENMENT, WSRadio, January 11, 2015

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share · 1

Surabhi Bhattacharjee likes this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
January 17 •

"He is the epic poet and visionary, and the author of two extraordinary books, The Myth of the Enlightenment and The Parliament of Poets. I recommend both."

—Mike Schwager, The Enrichment Hour, POETRY, PEACE, ENLIGHTENMENT... Interview WSRadio 23 minutes.

Interview of Frederick Glaysher, POETRY, PEACE, ENLIGHTENMENT, WSRadio, January 11, 2015

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

Surabhi Bhattacharjee likes this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
January 17 •

"He is the epic poet and visionary, and the author of two extraordinary books, The Myth of the Enlightenment and The Parliament of Poets. I recommend both." -Mike Schwager, The Enrichment Hour, POETRY, PEACE, ENLIGHTENMENT... Interview WSRadio 23 minutes. (Link on my timeline)

Like · Comment · Share ·

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher January 17 ·

Fred Maroun >

"You know that hating Israel is just an excuse and a distraction from the horrendous Arab failures of the past and present. You know that the conflict with Israel was born from antisemitism and will only be resolved through an end to antisemitism."

To my fellow Arabs: Yes, anti-Zionism is antisemitism

I am not addressing this to hard-core Arab antisemites, who I think are in the minority. I am addressing.....

BLOGS.TIMESOFISRAEL.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

Jonathan Wells and 3 others like this.

이은심 If you care at all about the future of your own children and the future of the children of your Arab brothers and sisters

Read more: To my fellow Arabs: Yes, anti-Zionism is antisemitism Fred Maroun | The Blogs | The Times of Israel http://blogs.timesofisrael.com/to-my-fellow-arabs-yes.../... ... See More

To my fellow Arabs: Yes, anti-Zionism is antisemitism

BLOGS.TIMESOFISRAEL.COM

January 17 at 6:51pm · Remove Preview

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher January 17 •

Toronto Review > Modern epic poem reaches for the moon -- Dave Gordon

(reprint from The Jewish Post and News of Winnipeg, Canada)

"It only takes the first few paragraphs of this modern epic poem to feel the mental gush of ideas, fascinating juxtapositionings, and unique symbolism for our time. ... See More

Modern epic poem reaches for the

In 1969, Frederick Glaysher, while watching the televised broadcast of the first lunar landing, was bewildered when an anchorman touted the scientific accomplishments of the day, wryly stating that there were no poets on the moon. It

LANDMARKREPORT.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

이은심 "the Lunar Module behind me to the right, and there I saw Tolstoy standing with a group of Russian and French writers, Milosz nearby, and Bellow with a group of Jewish writers, - See more at: http://landmarkreport.com/.../modern-epic-poem-reaches...

Modern epic poem reaches for the moon

LANDMARKREPORT.COM

January 17 at 6:47pm · Remove Preview

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

January 16 ·

"He is the epic poet and visionary, and the author of two extraordinary books, The Myth of the Enlightenment and The Parliament of Poets. I recommend both."

—Mike Schwager, The Enrichment Hour, POETRY, PEACE, ENLIGHTENMENT... Interview WSRadio 23 minutes.

Interview of Frederick Glaysher, POETRY, PEACE, ENLIGHTENMENT, on WSRadio, Sunday, January 11, 2015

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share · 2

Eileen Pardini likes this.

Frederick Glaysher Thanks, Eileen. Hope you enjoyed it! January 17 at 11:47am • Edited • Like

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

January 16 ·

"He is the epic poet and visionary, and the author of two extraordinary books, The Myth of the Enlightenment and The Parliament of Poets. I recommend both."

—Mike Schwager, The Enrichment Hour, POETRY, PEACE, ENLIGHTENMENT... Interview WSRadio 23 minutes.

Interview WSRadio, 23 minutes, Epic poet and visionary, Frederick Glaysher

FGLAYSHER.COM

Like · Comment · Share · 2

Hune Margulies likes this.

Frederick Glaysher Thanks, Hune and James. Hope you enjoyed it. January 17 at 11:47am · Like · 1

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher January 16 • Edited •

"In an era in which the value of human life has become as precarious and narrow as the study of the humanities itself, we need Glaysher's voice more than ever."

-Phillip M. Richards, Colgate University

Like · Comment · Share · 4 2

Tina Benson and Poet Kishor Jangda like this.

이은삼 City's experiences hinder our view .It could be deeper and wider, if near nature. I think, in youth education, they need more nature experience.to be natural, to live in nature.

January 16 at 9:55am

Frederick Glaysher Yeah, nature does something for the soul... I've been blessed to have been able to spend a lot of time throughout my life in the beauty of the natural world.

January 16 at 4:53pm · Like

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

January 15 ·

"He is the epic poet and visionary, and the author of two extraordinary books, The Myth of the Enlightenment and The Parliament of Poets. I recommend both."

--Mike Schwager, The Enrichment Hour, WSRadio . com (see my Timeline for link to interview)

Like · Comment · Share · 5 5

Donna Surles and 2 others like this.

Donna Reczek I love the unabashedness!!! Is that even a word???? okay, OKAY! I'll break down and order a copy.... yeesh. January 15 at 9:14pm • Like Frederick Glaysher Haahhhaa! Donna, "The Post-Gutenberg Revolution" has changed everything, making you, the reader, all readers, the real judge of what is worth reading or not. That's a tremendous difference from the old regime, which justly continues to lose ground, as the judge and gatekeeper, now mostly owned by mega-media corporations.

I have a twenty-page essay, The Post-Gutenberg Revolution," in The Myth of the Enlightenment, that goes much deeper into this transformation.

January 15 at 9:30pm • Edited • Like • 2

Donna Reczek hmmmmm..... alrighty, then.... I am intrigued, my liege.... intrigued....

January 15 at 10:48pm - Like

Frederick Glaysher Oh, I make no claim to the high title of liege. Epic poet is the only one I have ever longed for, and perhaps a student of our existence on this planet, sharing what I think of it all, as a writer.

January 16 at 9:44am · Like · 1

이은심 ALL READERS. That's a tremendous difference from the old regime, which justly continues to lose ground, as the judge and gatekeeper, now mostly owned by mega-media corporations.

January 17 at 6:43pm

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

January 15 · Edited ·

Unfortunately, the trivial culture of modernity, with few reading the great traditional works of literature, poetry, and myth, around the world, leaves many young people unprepared for the profundity and complexity of life. Many really don't have the depth of knowledge to think deeply with the full wealth of culture, East and/or West. It's an extremely serious problem because it leads to very shallow thinking about the perennial problems of human nature.

Many of their elders are to be blamed for bringing about this situation, in our now extremely, extremely fragmented culture, which endangers us all, at exactly the time when we need the most the great visions of human struggle, endurance, tragedy and triumph from the past, the great tales of what it means to be human.

Like · Comment · Share · 18 6 2

Julian De Wette, Marlena De Fabrizio, Stephen C. Galleher and 15 others like this.

2 shares

Martin Liebermann I especially like the richness of cartoon versions of ancient mythologies...

January 15 at 1:02pm

Frederick Glaysher Definitely speaks to the banal level of what passes for culture.

January 15 at 1:06pm · Like · 3

이은심 by bad influence of superficial socialism...capitalism...total materialism

January 15 at 4:24pm · 2

Frederick Glaysher 이문성 So true... along with the inability of modernism to up hold a serious vision of life, meaning death... January 15 at 4:54pm · Like · 1

Donna Reczek okay, okay... we're getting a bit dark here, gentlemen..... banality can be rectified with clever impressionism... to the degree that one wishes to educate with.... There's always more than one way to skin a cat I have found that most young people are craving answers. People like you, have the power, compassion, intellect, passion, and desire to make an impression that will last an eternity....

January 15 at 9:00pm · Like · 2

Frederick Glaysher Thanks, Donna, for commenting. The problem runs much deeper into the culture... East and West, leaving most with an insufficient historical and cultural perspective with which to understand our current problems, such as with fanatical Islam, attempting to respond and answer it with sentimentality... which can't possibly help, making matters worse, I'd argue, in fact do, in "Decadence, East and West" in The Myth of the Enlightenment.

http://www.amazon.com/Myth-Enlightenment.../dp/0982677839/

The Myth of the Enlightenment: Essays

AMAZON.COM

January 15 at 9:35pm ⋅ Edited ⋅ Like ⋅ 2 ⋅ Remove Preview

Write a comment...

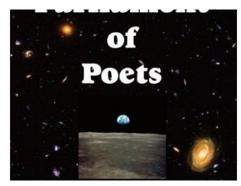

Frederick Glaysher
January 15 · Edited ·

A couple of cantos in my epic are specifically about Islam, attempting to evoke and explore a new way forward for Muslims, as well as the rest of humanity... to come together in peace.

My fullest response to the problems of Islam and modernity is in my epic poem, however unlikely that might seem to some today in our predominantly materialistic culture, addressing, from the Moon, our current dilemmas... evoking a global, universal vision of life on this planet.

With Rumi and A... See More

The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem

Thirty years in the making, The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem, by Frederick Glaysher, takes place partly on the moon, at the Apollo 11 landing site, the Sea of Tranquility.Apollo, the Greek god of poetry,...

AMAZON.COM

Like · Comment · Share · 2

Kay Impson likes this.

이은삼 Apollo, the Greek god of poetry, calls all the poets of the nations, ancient and modern, East and West, to assemble on the moon to consult on the meaning of modernity

January 17 at 6:41pm

Frederick Glaysher

January 15 ·

NEW Radio Interview > Epic poet/visionary Frederick Glaysher...
01/11/2015

"Frederick Glaysher, he is the epic poet and visionary, and the author of two extraordinary books, The Myth of the Enlightenment and The Parliament of Poets. I recommend both."

-- Mike Schwager, The Enrichment Hour, WSRadio . com POETRY, PEACE, ENLIGHTENMENT... Sunday, January 11th, Starts at minute 3:40+ (Easy to skip the ads, Segments 1, 2, and four minutes of 3)... See More

01/11/15 Poetry, Peace, Enlightenment and Insights into Brain Mapping - wsRadio.com

On THE ENRICHMENT HOUR for Sunday, January 11th, my guest in the first half hour is epic poet/visionary Frederick Glaysher, and in the...
WSRADIO.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

이은심 he further explored the conflicts between the traditional regional civilizations of Islamic and Hindu cultures and modernity.

January 17 at 6:41pm

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

January 15 ·

Bhagavad-Gita, (tr. Sir Edwin Arnold) >

"Krishna.

Thou seest Me as Time who kills, Time who brings all to doom,... See More

Like · Comment · Share · 5

Tina Benson and 3 others like this.

Tina Benson Ahhh, Fred...a little Gita to start the morning...lovely; thank you!

January 15 at 11:20am · Like

Frederick Glaysher One of my favorite passages... as metaphor of course!

January 15 at 12:05pm · Like

Tina Benson of course...! January 15 at 12:08pm · Like

Frederick Glaysher
January 15 at 12:11pm · Like · 1

Tina Benson and one of my favorite passages too... of course January 15 at 12:11pm • Like

이은성 few victorious man over time...life is short,but art is long. January 15 at 4:30pm

Frederick Glaysher Krishna's scale of value is transcendent... indicating to Arjuna how to live and participate with the divine, giving meaning to all and his actions.

January 15 at 4:57pm · Like

Frederick Glaysher

January 14 · Edited ·

NEW Radio Interview > Epic poet/visionary Frederick Glaysher... 01/11/2015

"Frederick Glaysher, he is the epic poet and visionary, and the author of two extraordinary books, The Myth of the Enlightenment and The Parliament of Poets. I recommend both."

-- Mike Schwager, The Enrichment Hour, WSRadio . com POETRY, PEACE, ENLIGHTENMENT... Sunday, January 11th, Starts at minute 3:40+ (Segments 1, 2, and four minutes of 3)... See More

01/11/15 Poetry, Peace, Enlightenment and Insights into Brain Mapping - wsRadio.com

On THE ENRICHMENT HOUR for Sunday, January 11th, my guest in the first half hour is epic poet/visionary Frederick Glaysher, and in the... WSRADIO.COM

Like · Comment · Share

Frederick Glaysher

January 14 · Edited ·

A very important, if not major, new direction has been set with this Open Letter to Al-Baghdadi by Muslim Scholars. I make exactly the same point they do in their opening paragraph, in my book The Myth of the Enlightenment, regarding the fullness of the context of the Quran, using the classical principles of ijtihad (interpretation). There's a link in the article to an English translation of their entire letter, well worth reading:

"It is forbidden in Islam to issue fatwas ... See More

Muslim Scholars To Islamic State: You Don't Understand Islam

WASHINGTON (RNS) More than 120 Muslim scholars from around the world joined an open letter to the "fighters and followers" of the Islamic...
HUFFINGTONPOST.COM

Like · Comment · Share · 7 1:

Margaret Mackinnon, Belteshazzar Ben Yakov Leib, Hune Margulies and 4 others like this.

13 share

NEW Radio Interview > Epic poet/visionary Frederick Glaysher... 01/11/2015

"Frederick Glaysher, he is the epic poet and visionary, and the author of two extraordinary books, The Myth of the Enlightenment and The Parliament of Poets. I recommend both."

-- Mike Schwager, The Enrichment Hour, WSRadio . com POETRY, PEACE, ENLIGHTENMENT... Sunday, January 11th, Starts at minute 3:40+ (Segments 1, 2, and 3)... See More

01/11/15 Poetry, Peace, Enlightenment and Insights into Brain Mapping - wsRadio.com

On THE ENRICHMENT HOUR for Sunday, January 11th, my guest in the first half hour is epic poet/visionary Frederick Glaysher, and in the...
WSRADIO.COM

Like · Comment · Share · 1

Hune Margulies likes this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher January 14 •

John Lennon sang an Imaginative song that brought the world together... I believe an Imaginative epic song, a tale about humanity's Journey through time and space, can help us to see the great Image of Mother Earth as never before... our common humanity, before the cosmos, find our way to peace on Earth... helping to change life on this planet!!

Like · Comment · Share · 3

Dhammaratana Carey Collins and Charmaine Armatas like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

January 14 · Edited ·

"He is the epic poet and visionary, and the author of two extraordinary books, The Myth of the Enlightenment and The Parliament of Poets. I recommend both."

--Mike Schwager, The Enrichment Hour, WSRadio . com (see my Timeline)

Like · Comment · Share · 1

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

January 14 •

NEW Radio Interview > 01/11/2015 Epic poet/visionary Frederick Glaysher...

"Frederick Glaysher, he is the epic poet and visionary, and the author of two extraordinary books, The Myth of the Enlightenment and The Parliament of Poets. I recommend both."

-- Mike Schwager, The Enrichment Hour, WSRadio . com POETRY, PEACE, ENLIGHTENMENT... Sunday, January 11th, Starts at minute 3:40+ (Segments 1, 2, and 3)... See More

01/11/15 Poetry, Peace, Enlightenment and Insights into Brain Mapping - wsRadio.com

On THE ENRICHMENT HOUR for Sunday, January 11th, my guest in the first half hour is epic poet/visionary Frederick Glaysher, and in the...

WSRADIO.COM

Like · Comment · Share

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
January 14 •

NEW Radio Interview > 01/11/2015 Epic poet/visionary Frederick Glaysher...

"Frederick Glaysher, he is the epic poet and visionary, and the author of two extraordinary books, The Myth of the Enlightenment and The Parliament of Poets. I recommend both."

--Mike Schwager, The Enrichment Hour, WSRadio . com POETRY, PEACE, ENLIGHTENMENT... Sunday, January 11th, Starts at minute 3:40+ (Segments 1, 2, 3)... See More

01/11/15 Poetry, Peace, Enlightenment and Insights into Brain Mapping - wsRadio.com

On THE ENRICHMENT HOUR for Sunday, January 11th, my guest in the first half hour is epic poet/visionary Frederick Glaysher, and in the...
WSRADIO.COM

Like · Comment · Share · 2

Cathy Strisik and Lynn Hennelly like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
January 14 •

Carl Jung and Marie-Louise von Franz... "The World Hangs on a Thin Thread."

Carl Jung: "The world hangs on a thin thread...."

Video of Carl Jung's famous statement: "The world hangs by a thin thread, and that thread is the psyche of man.... Nowadays, we are not threatened by element...

M.YOUTUBE.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

Hans G. Ruprecht, Belteshazzar Ben Yakov Leib, Marlena De Fabrizio and 8 others like this.

4 shares

Donna Reczek Thank you for sharing this Frederick.

January 14 at 12:18pm · Unlike · 1

Frederick Glaysher Sobering... especially now, given of late. We're headed in the wrong direction.

January 14 at 2:32pm · Edited · Like

Susan Scott thank you - will check it later ..

January 14 at 2:42pm

이은심 from before Minos labyrinth myth...

January 14 at 6:26pm · Edited

Frederick Glaysher It was Theseus who killed the Minotaur in the Labyrinth of Crete... and found his way out by following the string he had laid down behind him as he entered... out of the deep cave, if you will, of the mind. So there is a way out, for the hero, guiding the civilization to safety. There's a possibility, I believe, from the Moon... to gain a new perspective and dispel the Shadow, however unlikely it might seem to ordinary minds. The myths of the Imagination are the way out of our global dilemmas.

January 14 at 7:33pm · Like

이은심 out of the deep cave, if you will, of the mind January 14 at 7:34pm

Frederick Glaysher Yes, exactly... My epic works with the metaphor in many ways...

January 14 at 7:52pm · Like

이은심 I know that nowdays' young here lack for recognition of myth.ls there, too?

January 14 at 7:57pm

Frederick Glaysher Yes, unfortunately. Few read the traditional works of literature and myth. As in Japan and probably Korea, young people are more interested in Anime and popular culture. So they really don't have the depth of knowledge to think deeply with the full wealth of culture, East and/or West. It's an extremely serious problem because it leads to very shallow thinking about the perennial problems of human nature.

January 14 at 8:33pm · Like · 1

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

January 13 ·

John Lennon sang an Imaginative song that brought the world together... I believe an Imaginative epic song, a tale about humanity's Journey through time and space, can help us to see the great Image of Mother Earth as never before... our common humanity, before the cosmos, find our way to peace on Earth.

Like · Comment · Share ·

Jim Moore likes this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher January 13 · Edited ·

What the world cannot but ask > Are the apologies taqiyya? I.e., lying to infidels. How can we know but by the *actions* of Muslims?

Words aren't good enough... East and West, we need to reform ourselves.

"By their fruits ye shall know them." -- Matthew 7:20 KJV

Is ijtihad (moderate interpretation) a solution or partial solution? The emphasis on universality by Sufi and Indian poets, indeed world poets, on tawhid, the spiritual unity and oneness of God?

Is it too naively hopeful to think that most Muslims at least can come together with others from such a spiritual perspective, be energized by it?

Like · Comment · Share · 3

Hune Margulies and Jocelyne Colin Klasen like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
January 13 •

A couple of cantos in my epic are specifically about Islam, attempting to evoke and explore a new way forward for Muslims, as well as the rest of humanity... to come together in peace.

"Bravo to the Poet for this toilsome but brilliant endeavour."... See  $\operatorname{\mathsf{More}}$

The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem

Thirty years in the making, The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem, by Frederick Glaysher, takes place partly on the moon, at the Apollo 11 landing site, the Sea of Tranquility.Apollo, the Greek god of poetry,...

AMAZON.COM

Like · Comment · Share

Frederick Glaysher shared The Museum Without Walls/Le Musée Imaginaire's photo.

January 13 •

Rembrandt van Rijn (Dutch, 1606-1669) Jeremiah Lamenting the Destruction of Jerusalem (1630) Oil on panel, 58.3 x 46.6 cm. Rijksmuseum, Amsterdam

The Museum Without Walls/Le Musée Imaginaire

Rembrandt van Rijn (Dutch, 1606-1669) Jeremiah Lamenting the Destruction of Jerusalem (1630) Oil on panel, 58.3 x 46.6 cm. Rijksmuseum, Amsterdam

... See More

Like · Comment · Share · 3

Wael Moreicheh and Caroline Peacock like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
January 13 · Edited ·

These essays and reviews were all written during the 21st Century, with many of them central to his evolving intellectual and spiritual struggle to write his epic poem, The Parliament of

They open up Glaysher's own biography and his life-long interest in the writings of Leo Tolstoy, Rabindranath Tagore, John Milton, Saul Bellow, Robert Hayden, and other poets and writers, offering a fresh, new vision of literature and culture.

"In an era in which the value of human lif... See More

The Myth of the Enlightenment: Essays

The Myth of the Enlightenment is Frederick Glaysher's first collection of literary essays since The Grove of the Eumenides in 2007. Divided into three sections, these essays and reviews were all written during the...

AMAZON.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

Wael Moreicheh likes this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher January 13 •

(13) Frederick Glaysher Love is indeed the theme, what we need more of on this planet... Like · Comment · Share · 6 Wael Moreicheh and 3 others like this. Write a comment... Frederick Glaysher shared Melissa Martin Ellis's photo. A dreamer is one who can only find his way by moonlight, and his punishment is that he sees the dawn, before the rest of the world. Oscar Wilde Like · Comment · Share · Judy Yates Shearer, Anthea Haupt and 8 others like this. Donna Reczek Yes..... January 13 at 1:33pm · Like Frederick Glaysher January 13 at 1:37pm · Like

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

January 13 ·

All the old visions are shot to hell...

We need a new vision of life on this planet.

Gazing from the moon, we see one Earth, without borders, Mother Earth, her embrace encircling one people, humankind.

Like · Comment · Share · 13 1

Maxine Therese, Pamela Hollander, Kate Campbell and 10 others like this.

Donna Reczek

January 13 at 10:26am · Like

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher January 12 ·

Think about it >

"Bravo to the Poet for this toilsome but brilliant endeavour."

-Umme Salma, International Islamic University, Department of English Language and Literature, Chittagong, Bangladesh

"A contemporary classic! Highly recommended for reading." -Nishat Haider, Associate Professor, Lucknow University, Lucknow, India

Like · Comment · Share · 2

2 people like this.

Frederick Glaysher

January 12 · Edited ·

However unlikely it might seem, I invite you to consider that one of the best responses to the terrorism we now face around the world might indeed be a trip to the Moon...

"Bravo to the Poet for this toilsome but brilliant endeavour."

—Umme Salma, International Islamic University, Department of English Language and Literature, Chittagong, Bangladesh...

See More

Like · Comment · Share · 1

Poet Kishor Jangda likes this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

January 12 •

Daniel Bell, (2006-09-07). Liberation Theology after the End of History: The refusal to cease suffering (Routledge Radical Orthodoxy) (p. 11). Taylor and Francis. Kindle Edition.

"While savage capitalism's advocates say they are anti-statist, in truth, what they favor is a "small-state, strong-state." 6 That is, they are advocates of a state that is long on repressive capability and short on social assistance. What is forsaken, in other words, is not intervention, but intervention that obstructs the free operation of the market. The neoliberal state is a police state or anti-state, the function of which is essentially negative. It exists as a repressive tool of the market, used to deliver society to the market."

John Médaille

" While savage capitalism's advocates say they are anti-statist, in truth, what they favor is a "small-state, strong-state." 6 That is, they are advocates of a ...

See More

Like · Comment · Share · 1

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

January 12 •

A couple of cantos in my epic poem are specifically about Islam, attempting to evoke and explore a new way forward for Muslims, as well as the rest of humanity... to come together in peace.

John Lennon showed that an Imaginative song can bring the world together around the globe; I believe an Imaginative epic song, a tale about humanity's Journey through time and space, can help us see the great Image of Mother Earth as never before... feel again our common humanity in the depths of our souls.

Like · Comment · Share · 8 2

Tina Benson, Meena Chopra, Anthea Haupt and 5 others like this.

Frederick Glaysher Thanks, Anna. I invite you to consider that one of the best responses to the terrorism we now face around the world might indeed be a trip to the Moon...

"Bravo to the Poet for this toilsome but brilliant endeavour." ... See More

January 12 at 3:41pm · Edited · Like

Frederick Glaysher Thanks, friends. I have a new interview online that some might find interesting.

NEW Radio Interview > 01/11/2015 Epic poet/visionary Frederick Glaysher... "Frederick Glaysher, he is the epic poet and visionary, and the author of two extraordinary books, The Myth of the Enlightenment and The Parliament of Poets. I recommend both." — Mike Schwager, The Enrichment Hour, WSRadio.com POETRY, PEACE, ENLIGHTENMENT... Sunday, January 11th, Starts at minute 3:40+ (Segments 1, 2, 3) http://wsradio.com/011115-poetry-peace-enlightenment.../

wsRadio.com - The World Wide Leader in Internet Talk

WSRADIO.COM

January 14 at 10:51am · Like · Remove Preview

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

January 12 ·

A couple of cantos in my epic poem are specifically about Islam, attempting to evoke and explore a new way forward for Muslims, as well as the rest of humanity... to come together in peace.

Like · Comment · Share ·

Frederick Glaysher

January 11 ·

John Lennon showed that an Imaginative song can bring the world together around the globe; I believe an Imaginative epic song, a tale about humanity's Journey through time and space, can help us see the great Image of Mother Earth as never before... feel again our common humanity in the depths of our souls.

Like · Comment · Share · 11 2

John Poolieli Matthew, Anthea Haupt, Hamish Danks Brown and 8 others

Pamela Hollander In ancient and living indigenous cultures, the song is a magical alchemical prayer...thank you... the more we pray the better

January 11 at 10:16pm · Like

Frederick Glaysher Pamela, Thanks for commenting. I so agree! Prayer plays an important role in my epic, throughout the journey back and forth to the Moon and the seven continents, many civilizations and religions around the world.

January 12 at 1:25pm · Like

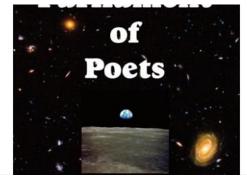

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher January 11 · Edited ·

A couple of cantos in my epic are specifically about Islam, attempting to evoke and explore a new way forward for Muslims, as well as the rest of humanity... to come together in peace.

"Bravo to the Poet for this toilsome but brilliant endeavour." -Umme Salma, International Islamic University, Department of English Language and Literature, Chittagong, Bangladesh... See More

The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem

Thirty years in the making, The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem, by Frederick Glaysher, takes place partly on the moon, at the Apollo 11 landing site, the Sea of Tranquility. Apollo, the Greek god of poetry,...

AMAZON COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

이은심 really want I keep it.

January 11 at 7:38pm

Frederick Glaysher If you can't get it in Korea, at http://www.yes24.com/24/goods/7472023?scode=032&OzSrank=5

It is in Japan and China, though I realize they're different countries, not really in your neighborhood... ... See More

The Parliament of Poets

YES24.COM

January 11 at 7:50pm · Like · Remove Preview

이은심 Thank you! In 7 days they 'll publish 7 sell in korea. January 11 at 7:52pm

Frederick Glaysher Great! I evoke Korea with the ancient name of the Kingdom of Silla in the canto on Japan. Hope you enjoy it! January 11 at 7:55pm • Like 이은심 Japan's king's family came from Gaya, a branch of Sillla. they serve our ancester as GOD nowadays also. I like reading ancient history. Kempell's 'myth' was my scripture.

January 11 at 8:07pm · Edited

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

January 11 · Edited ·

I can't be the only person in America who has actually read the Quran, but sometimes it feels like it when one of these horrendous attacks occur.

The Quran (9:29) says,

"Fight those who believe not in Allah, nor the Last Day, nor hold that forbidden which hath been forbidden by Allah and His Messenger, nor acknowledge the Religion of Truth, from among the People of the Book, until they pay the Jizya [tax] with willing submission and feel themselves subdued." (King Fahd Holy ... See More

The Myth of the Enlightenment: Essays

The Myth of the Enlightenment is Frederick Glaysher's first collection of literary essays since The Grove of the Eumenides in 2007. Divided into three sections, these essays and reviews were all written during the...

AMAZON.COM

Like · Comment · Share · 1

Erik Raschke likes this.

이 은심 moderate interpretation of the Quran have always known the best way to deal with these problems

January 11 at 7:24pm

Frederick Glaysher Yes, I agree. Islamic fanaticism has become a problem not only for Muslims but for much of the rest of the world, unveiling how deep run the problems of modernity.

January 11 at 7:35pm · Like · 1

100

Anthea Haupt But that above quote is quite disturbingly open to radical misinterpretation don't you think?

January 12 at 12:34am · Like

Frederick Glaysher Anthea, Yes. That's definitely the point that I'm making and that a very long line of traditional Muslim jurisprudents have made for centuries and still do make today. The several passages in the Quran like it are what the fanatics, though, use to justify their violence. We ignore or gloss over the seriousness of that to our peril.

January 12 at 8:37am · Like

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
January 11 •

We need to take the next step toward a new vision of life on this planet, a new attitude about what it means to be a human being in our time, to bring us together, across our many divides, to unify

I believe an Imaginative story, like John Lennon's Imaginative song, can help do just that... hope you'll read it! ...make the Journey.

Like · Comment · Share · 4 1

Michael Rothenberg II and 2 others like this.

Frederick Glaysher Thanks, Friends. Beth Keegan, One whole chapter of my epic poem is set in China, at the Mogao Caves, with Sun-Wukong, the Monkey King; Chang-an, with DuFu; Taishan, with Bai-Juyi... Hope you'll read it.

January 11 at 5:52pm · Like · 1

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

January 11 •

Starts LIVE in 10 minutes > Frederick Glaysher >>> On THE ENRICHMENT HOUR for Sunday, January 11th, epic poet/visionary Frederick Glaysher....

Show airs at 1 PM Eastern; 12 Noon Central; 11 AM Mountain; and 10 AM Pacific, etc. To listen, go to: http://wsradio.com/, then click on STUDIO B/Live at designated time zone.

 $\begin{tabular}{ll} ws Radio.com - The World Wide Leader in Internet Talk \\ \begin{tabular}{ll} wsradio.com \\ \end{tabular}$

Like · Comment · Share · 1 1

Monika Kosich likes this.

Frederick Glaysher I'll post a link to the recording on Tuesday. January 11 at 2:30pm · Like · 1

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

January 11 ·

We need a new vision of life on this planet, a new attitude about what it means to be a human being in our time, to bring us together, across our many divides, to unify humankind.

Like · Comment · Share · 6

Dorothy Farr, Robert L. Rose, Gary Margolis and 3 others like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher January 11 •

"The purpose of the spiritual journey of the Poet of the Moon is to seek deliverance of the modern human from the captivity of nothingness, nihilism and atheism, and from the resulting chaos and chasm of soul. From the versatile he gets scores of life-affirming lessons, yet the core meaning of all is that the Supreme Being as well as the earth is one, and so human beings are one nation irrespective of their clan, class, color,race, religion and gender. In this earth human beings are part of the Great Mystery's creation and their duty is to keep the balance and harmony of the universe, to achieve union, to choose sacrifice, and to be self-controlled. In this manner Glaysher sings the song of 'one Earth, without borders, Mother Earth, her embrace encircling one people, humankind' (19).... Bravo to the Poet for this toilsome but brilliant endeavour."

—Umme Salma, International Islamic University, Department of English Language and Literature, Chittagong, Bangladesh, in Transnational Literature Vol. 7 no. 1, November 2014. Flinders University, Adelaide, Australia.

dspace.flinders.edu.au

DSPACE.FLINDERS.EDU.AU

Like · Comment · Share · 2

Monika Kosich likes this.

이은심 Supreme Being as well as the earth is one...!! January 12 at 8:37am 이은심 one Earth, without borders, Mother Earth, her embrace encircling one people, humankind' ... Bravo to the Poet--very nice of you!

January 12 at 8:39am

Frederick Glaysher 이문성 Thank you for saying so... That quotation is the epigraph for my epic. It might be seen as the short version. The full version is the epic poem itself...

January 12 at 8:47am · Like

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

January 11 •

Frederick Glaysher >>> On THE ENRICHMENT HOUR for Sunday, January 11th, my guest in the first half hour is epic poet/visionary Frederick Glaysher.... Show airs at 1 PM Eastern; 12 Noon Central; 11 AM Mountain; and 10 AM Pacific. To listen, go to: http://wsradio.com/, then click on STUDIO B/Live at designated time zone.

FREDERICK GLAYSHER is the author of "The Myth of the Enlightenment" and "The Parliament of Poets". He is an epic poet and poet-critic. He studied writing unde... See More wsRadio.com - The World Wide Leader in Internet Talk wsradio.com

Like · Comment · Share · 1

Katherine Rosen likes this.

Frederick Glaysher I'll post a link to the recording on Tuesday. January 11 at 2:30pm · Like

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
January 11 •

"Bravo to the Poet for this toilsome but brilliant endeavour."

—Umme Salma, International Islamic University, Department of English Language and Literature, Chittagong, Bangladesh

Like · Comment · Share · 3

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher January 11 •

"...the stylistic and thematic magnificence of 'The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem.' A contemporary classic! Highly recommended for reading."

—Nishat Haider, Associate Professor, Lucknow University, Lucknow, India

Like · Comment · Share · 3

Michael Buchanan and Ro Hith like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
January 11 •

What the world cannot but ask > Are the apologies taqiyya? I.e., lying to infidels. How can we know but by the *actions* of Words aren't good enough... reform yourselves.

"By their fruits ye shall know them." -- Matthew 7:20 KJV

Paris attacks: No, Mr Murdoch. I am not responsible

This week, I'm told I haven't apologised enough. Not nearly enough – being a British Muslim, and confining my expressions of disbelief, alarm and anger, to only my circle of friends, colleagues and family – when in... INDEPENDENT.CO.UK

Like · Comment · Share · 5

Simhan Yesyelyen But u silently allow things to grow out of its size.. silent passive supportttttttttttttt

January 11 at 10:40am · Like

Frederick Glaysher Who's u? I'm not silent. I just reposted this. Read my books, not just FB chatter. Please explain yourself further.

January 11 at 10:42am · Like

Simhan Yesyelyen I am talking about those who [ moslems , silent 89%] are slow the breeeding ground for the Tr=erroru=ists recryuitment...

January 11 at 10:46am · Like

Frederick Glaysher Okay, I can agree with that. To my mind, the silent do indeed aid and abet the terrorists, no matter how difficult and dangerous it is to oppose them, whether Muslim or other malefactors. Muslims must confront the implications of terrorism at a deeper level. And so must the West and other countries around the world.

January 11 at 10:57am · Edited · Like

Bob Koppel https://www.facebook.com/StandWithUs/photos/a.350931762688.151 625.19459912688/10152641091817689/?type=1&theater

صورة منتشرة عبر صفحات التواصل الإجتماعي عن منفذي عملية الصحيفة الفرنسية والذين قتلوا مساء السع

من اليمين امادوا كويبالي ، شريف وسعيد كواشي.

StandWithUs

How did Hamas respond to the horrific terror attacks in France? By publicly praising the terrorists responsible for the Charlie Hedbo attack and the murder ...

See More

January 11 at 11:25am · Like · 1 · Remove Preview

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
January 11 • Edited •

"I was wrong about satire. There are some things in that world only fit for satire."

-- Cervantes, from the Moon...

Like · Comment · Share · 6

George Malko and 4 others like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher shared Hans G. Ruprecht's photo. January 11 ·

Hans G. Ruprecht

Solidarité avec vous en France / in ganz EUROPA / and worldwide. /

See Translation

Like · Comment · Share

Frederick Glaysher January 11 · Edited ·

"There is something deeply corroded and flaccid about the Left now. It is clapped out, morally. It cannot be the custodian of Western civilization any longer."

East and West, it should be noted... much of it at least, clings to the old paradigms of the last century and a half, when only a new vision can help us, built on and incorporating the past, yet responding to the fullness of what our experience on this planet has now become.

Why Paris is even more shocking than Peshawar - The Times of India

Terrorists massacre satirists in Paris to avenge a mocking of the prophet, Mohammad, and the usual earnest chorus of Muslim...

TIMESOFINDIA.INDIATIMES.COM

Like · Comment · Share · 1

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher January 10 · Edited ·

Frederick Glaysher >>> On THE ENRICHMENT HOUR for Sunday, January 11th, my guest in the first half hour is epic poet/visionary Frederick Glaysher.... Show airs at 1 PM Eastern; 12 Noon Central; 11 AM Mountain; and 10 AM Pacific. To listen, go to: http://wsradio.com/, then click on STUDIO B/Live at designated time zone.

Mike Schwager

On THE ENRICHMENT HOUR for Sunday, January 11th, my guest in the first half hour is epic poet/visionary Frederick Glaysher, and in the second half hour my guest...

See More

Like · Comment · Share ·

Frederick Glaysher I'll post a link to the recording on Tuesday. January 11 at 2:31pm · Like

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher January 10 ·

Barbarians of the faith: They are at the gates of both Peshawar and Paris

"Another barbaric chapter of an epic conflict between the presence and promise of modernity, and the bitter, toxic romance of regression was written on January 7 in Paris.

"This war, raging across the world, is a confrontation between the lethal adrenalin of faith supremacy and belief that faith equality is the basis of civilised political and social stability. The epicentre of this war is within the Mu... See More

Barbarians of the faith: They are at the gates of both Peshawar and Paris

Another barbaric chapter of an epic conflict between the presence and promise of modernity, and the bitter, toxic romance of regression was written on January 7 in Paris....

Like · Comment · Share ·

2

Donna Reczek likes this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
January 10 •

"Muslim scholars responded quickly to the attack on the French satirical magazine Charlie Hebdo which killed 12 and injured 10. Slamming the incident as un-Islamic, scholars express anger towards the perpetrators who "betrayed and tainted" Islam rather than defended it. In addition to vehemently condemning the attack, the scholars' comments reflected a concern about the damage it causes to the image of Islam and Muslims."

What Muslim scholars have to say about the Charlie Hebdo attack

Speaking up.

QZ.COM

Like · Comment · Share · 6

Ken Robin and 4 others like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
January 10 •

Juan Cole >

"The problem for a terrorist group like al-Qaeda is that its recruitment pool is Muslims, but most Muslims are not interested in terrorism. Most Muslims are not even interested in politics, much less political Islam..

Al-Qaeda wants to mentally colonize French Muslims, but faces a wall of disinterest. But if it can get non-Muslim French to be beastly to ethnic Muslims on the grounds that they are Muslims, it can start creating a common political identity around grievance against discrimination.

The only effective response to this manipulative strategy (as Grand Ayatollah Ali Sistani tried to tell the Iraqi Shiites a decade ago) is to resist the impulse to blame an entire group for the actions of a few and to refuse to carry out identity-politics reprisals."

Sharpening Contradictions: Why al-Qaeda attacked Satirists in Paris

By Juan Cole | (Informed Comment) The horrific murder of the editor, cartoonists and other staff of the irreverent satirical &helip;

JUANCOLE.COM

Like · Comment · Share · 8 1

Bruce Morrow, Sher Brisebois, Nishat Haider and 5 others like this.

Frederick Glaysher On this reading, very evil and calculating political dynamics involved, with nothing to do with any proper definition of religion and spirituality, Islamic or otherwise.

January 10 at 11:40am · Edited · Like

Patrick O'neill the i think the motovation of these attacks is a few people seeing themselves as leaders of a great movement. I believe many of thiose carrying out the attacks do see these ot as an event that will wake people up to follow them. The only solution is to control the extremists while engaging the moderates.

January 10 at 1:34pm · Like

Frederick Glaysher Thanks, Patrick, for commenting. I agree with you that the individual terrorists see themselves "as leaders of a great movement," in some kind of fantasy redemption for the whole world, unfortunately, to be ushered in through bloodshed. Their particular misinterpretation of the Quran underlies their thinking, as many Muslims have said. See the post on my timeline along those lines by Muslim clerics denouncing them. Great advice! ... "control the extremists while engaging the moderates."

January 10 at 1:43pm · Like

Frederick Glaysher I think, though, too, around the world, East and West, we must all go deeper into our own hearts and souls, confront what modernity has become, and reassess where were going, making some necessary adjustments. While much of the Enlightenment thinking was salutary, it has produced some things that are leading to our own destruction on this planet...

January 10 at 1:47pm · Like

Patrick O'neill i think its a mistake to focus on religion we need to look at wider groups i mean if they werent focusing on islam it would be something else such as the national front/KKK/black panthers etc. Although in Europe we do need to address the difficulties of cultural assimilation.

January 10 at 1:50pm · Like

Frederick Glaysher Who is doing the focusing? None of the other sometimes problematic groups are anywhere near what's taking place in fundamentalist Islamic circles. Government authorities around the world are not making that up, but are inescapably faced with having to deal with it. As an American, where there is a lot more cultural respect and understanding in my opinion than people in other countries often appreciate, "assimilation" and such European vocabulary are the wrong way of thinking about what's needed-real respect and full citizenship for all citizens, regardless of their cultural background and religion. Admittedly, it's an ideal, that all people struggle for, all over this world... but we have to see and love one another as fellow human beings if we're ever to have a more peaceful world, caring for all peoples.

January 10 at 2:02pm · Edited · Like

Patrick O'neill when I say assimilation I meant overcoming the barriers between new arrivals and citizens. Too often Britain's version of assimilation is expecting new arrivals to live up to standards that most citizens fail to. though I do find myself questioning the... See More

January 10 at 2:08pm · Like

Frederick Glaysher I see now what you mean and can understand that, all of which is true too, by report, of France, it seems, in terms of the ghettoization of most Muslims-a big mistake in my view, along with the headscarf ban, and so on.

January 10 at 2:13pm · Like atrick O'neill I do wonder if Americas success with immigrants owes itself to the fact that there are very few true Americans. So the attachment is to universal values and institutions. I mean there are some that wont even see 3rd or 4th generations as truly British which is pretty shocking.

January 10 at 2:16pm · Like

Frederick Glaysher Yes, that attitude in the UK and Europe is very hard for me to understand. My own background is English, German, French Huguenot, Croatian, Irish... very typical for probably most Americans. So the emphasis does and has become universal values and equa... See More

January 10 at 2:22pm · Like

Patrick O'neill there are frequent examples of people being very accepting to the singular migrant but resistant to the idea of the group its quite odd. Although i think the biggest stumbling block is the focus on migration as the scapegoat of choice for any economic

January 10 at 2:24pm · Like

Frederick Glavsher Yeah, that happens all around the world with migrants... unfortunately. They're inevitably seen as outsiders. I lived in Japan for a few years when young, and really experienced what it *feels* like to be the outsider.

January 10 at 2:28pm · Edited · Like

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher January 9 · Edited ·

A very disturbing turn of events for France and the whole world,

SPIEGEL ONLINE >

including most Muslims.

Assaulting Democracy: The Deep Repercussions of the Charlie Hebdo Attack - SPIEGEL ONLINE - News...

The terrorists in Wednesday's attack on Charlie Hebdo in Paris had a much broader target in mind: Western values. Will the attacks bring...

M.SPIEGEL.DE | BY SPIEGEL ONLINE, HAMBURG, GERMANY

Like · Comment · Share · 4 1

Corvalan Jaime and 2 others like this.

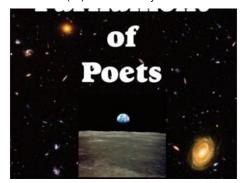

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

Amazon France > Given the horrendous events in Paris, I invite you to consider reading my epic poem. Available in France, Germany, throughout Europe and the world, on all Amazon and other book sites.

With Cervantes, Dante, Goethe, Rabelais, Indian poets and so many others as guides and masters, East and West, I attempt to evoke the deep Unity of the Soul from the global perspective of the Moon... that humanity might come together in peace and a deeper understanding of what i... See More

The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem

The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem

AMAZON.FR

Like · Comment · Share · 4

Alan Jacobs, Al Davis and Monika Kosich like this.

Frederick Glaysher Thanks, Al. A couple of cantos in my book are specifically about Islam, attempting to evoke and explore a new way forward for Muslims, as well as the rest of humanity... to come together in peace.

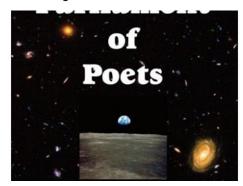

Frederick Glaysher January 9 •

Amazon France > Given the horrendous events in Paris, I invite you to consider reading my epic poem. Available in France, Germany, throughout Europe and the world, on all Amazon and other book sites.

With Cervantes, Dante, Goethe, Rabelais, Indian poets and so many others as guides and masters, East and West, I attempt to evoke the deep Unity of the Soul from the global perspective of the Moon... that humanity might come together in peace and a deeper understanding of what i... See More

The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem

The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem

AMAZON.FR

Like · Comment · Share · 4

Cordelia Hudson, Ray Norsworthy and Arthur McMaster like this.

Frederick Glaysher Thanks, Arthur. Hope you're enjoying your journey to the moon... France today is in the hearts and minds of people all around this planet.

January 9 at 9:50am · Like · 1

Arthur McMaster Very true, Frederick.

January 9 at 9:51am · Unlike · 1

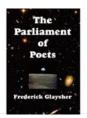

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher January 9 •

Set partly in India at Kurukshetra, Fatehpur Sikri, the Himalayan foothills, and elsewhere, with Vyasa, Kalidasa, Kabir, Tagore, and other poets and sages, my epic poem evokes a global, universal vision of life on this planet. My fullest response to problems of Islam and modernity is in my epic poem, however unlikely that might seem to some in our materialistic culture today, addressing, from the Moon, our current dilemmas...

Amazon India has a free chapter online if you'd li... See More

The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem

Thirty years in the making, The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem, by Frederick Glaysher, takes place partly on the moon, at the Apollo 11 landing site, the Sea of Tranquility. Apollo, the...

AMAZON.IN

3

Like · Comment · Share ·

Cordelia Hudson and Johnny Stork like this.

Frederick Glaysher Cordelia, Hope you can read it... January 9 at 8:10pm • Like

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

January 9 ·

"I and my Father are one." --Jesus Christ, Gospel of John 10:30 (KJ)

Like · Comment · Share

Frederick Glaysher

January 8 •

Gazing from the moon, we see one Earth, without borders, Mother Earth, her embrace encircling one people, humankind.

Like · Comment · Share · 8

Natasha Adrastea, Corvalan Jaime and 4 others like this.

Donna Reczek

January 10 at 11:16am · Like

Frederick Glaysher
January 10 at 11:16am • Like

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher shared Pandit Gopi Krishna's photo. January 8 ·

"If we examine the religious scriptures of mankind, the real testament of Christianity, Buddhism, Shintoism, Islam, Judaism, indigenous teachings and all of the faiths and creeds, we find a basic similarity in the tenets of these creeds. What the Sermon on the Mount says is said in other words in the Gita, in the discourses of the Buddha, in the Ten Commandments and in the Koran. The basic directions are all the same and these basic directions prescribe humility, love of thy neighbor, compassion, truth and faith in God."

Pandit Gopi Krishna

GOPI KRISHNA'S TALK AT THE UNITED NATIONS

Gopi Krishna was asked to speak to a gathering of Native Americans of many tribes. This request was made due to the p...

See More

Like · Comment · Share · 4

3 people like this.

Frederick Glaysher Together, from the Moon, we can see it... a new global, universal vision of life on this planet.

http://www.amazon.com/Parliament-Poets.../dp/098267788X/

The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem

AMAZON.COM

January 8 at 9:52pm · Like · Remove Preview

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
January 8 • Edited •

I can't be the only person in America who has actually read the Quran, but sometimes it feels like it when one of these horrendous attacks occur.

The Quran (9:29) says,

"Fight those who believe not in Allah, nor the Last Day, nor hold that forbidden which hath been forbidden by Allah and His Messenger, nor acknowledge the Religion of Truth, from among the People of the Book, until they pay the Jizya [tax] with willing submission and feel themselves subdued." (King Fahd Holy ... See More

The Myth of the Enlightenment: Essays

The Myth of the Enlightenment is Frederick Glaysher's first collection of literary essays since The Grove of the Eumenides in 2007. Divided into three sections, these essays and reviews were all written during the...

AMAZON.COM

Like · Comment · Share · 3

Margaret Mackinnon and 2 others like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
January 8

Like · Comment · Share · 10 2

Erel Shalit, Josephina Orchard, Corvalan Jaime and 7 others like this.

1 share

Frederick Glaysher Here it is. The Quran (9:29) says,

"Fight those who believe not in Allah, nor the Last Day, nor hold that forbidden which hath been forbidden by Allah and His Messenger, nor acknowledge the Religion of Truth, from among the People of the Book, until they pay the Jizya [tax] with willing submission and feel themselves subdued." (King Fahd Holy Qur'an, official translation)

As long as countries around the world continue to try to ignore, if not evade, the real problem, it will not be possible to begin to actually confront and resolve it. I discuss this and related issues in my book The Myth of the Enlightenment: Essays.

http://www.amazon.com/Myth-Enlightenment.../dp/0982677839/

The Myth of the Enlightenment: Essays

AMAZON.COM

January 8 at 6:31pm · Like · Remove Preview

Frederick Glaysher Note bene: "with willing submission and feel themselves subdued" is the official Saudi translation into modern English. Charlie was not *willing* to submit but heroically chose even to die to remain the born joker he apparently was.

After the great jurists who practiced and practice *itjihad*, a form of moderate interpretation of the Quran, the great poets of India's past, and elsewhere, have always known the best way to deal with these problems, global now, is a Journey into the Soul... which is universal and the very definition of Love.

The problem that confronts modernity extends far beyond Islamic terrorism, which is only a symptom of it.

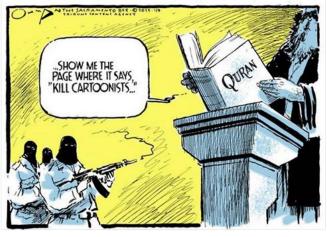

January 8 at 6:32pm · Edited · Like

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher shared The Sacramento Bee's photo. January 8 ·

Like · Comment · Share · 21 13

Ewa Hryniewicz-Yarbrough, Raul Alberto Mc Namara, Margaret Mackinnon and 18 others like this.

Frederick Glaysher Here it is. The Quran (9:29) says,

"Fight those who believe not in Allah, nor the Last Day, nor hold that forbidden which hath been forbidden by Allah and His Messenger, nor acknowledge the Religion of Truth, from among the People of the Book, until t... See More

The Myth of the Enlightenment: Essays

The Myth of the Enlightenment is Frederick
Glaysher's first collection of literary essays...

AMAZON.COM

January 8 at 4:54pm · Edited · Like · 1 · Remove Preview

Frederick Glaysher Note bene: "with willing submission and feel themselves subdued" is the official Saudi translation into modern English. Charlie was not *willing* to submit but heroically chose even to die to remain the born joker he apparently was.

After the great jurists who practiced and practice *itjihad*, a form of moderate interpretation of the Quran, the great poets of India's past, and elsewhere, have always known the best way to deal with these problems, global now, is a Journey into the Soul... which is universal and the very definition of Love.

The problem that confronts modernity extends far beyond Islamic terrorism, which is only a symptom of it.

January 8 at 7:40pm · Edited · Like ·

Frederick Glaysher Liberals who blame the victims of murder saying they should have exercised "restraint" demonstrate they are uninformed about the actual teachings in the Quran, specifically what I have quoted. Why is there no request among many "progressives" for terrorists to exercise "restraint"? One reason is that many "progressives" are radicals and Marxists who are salivating for any social disruption that might bring down the status quo so that they, in their delusions of "progress," can somehow eventually take over as the merciless atheists Lenin and Stalin did.

I'd be happy to explain further the history and implications of the passage that I have quoted above.

January 8 at 10:00pm · Edited · Like · 1

Frederick Glaysher I didn't label you. I addressed what many liberals often claim. 12 human beings were murdered... by fanatics, who found their inspiration in the several passages of the Quran that call for dhimmitude, the demeaning oppression of the "People of the Book," i.e., Jews and Christians. If that doesn't bother you, please explain why.

January 8 at 10:07pm · Edited · Like

Frederick Glaysher Accepting the violence of Muslim fanatics and blaming their victims is an illogical, if not misguided, way of responding to things you disapprove of by our government. It actually plays right into the hands of the terrorists. They get what they want. Control over others, "submission." I invite you to read that passage again and think about it.

January 8 at 10:16pm · Edited · Like ·

Frederick Glaysher Above > "would a bit of restraint be so bad for charlie hebdo and others?" Yes, it would. And bad for civilization on this planet, because there is then no end to what someone will think someone else should exercise "restraint" over... and violence ultimately comes about in endless ways. John Milton got it right in 17th Century England, "Let truth and falsehood struggle" and free and open printing and publishing are essential for that to happen.

January 9 at 7:40am · Edited · Like ·

Frederick Glaysher While there is a place for the individual to exercise "restraint," your original comment confused it by calling for restraint in the context of an act of terrorism and murder of 12 people. Liberals who argue this way are extremely naive about what is i... See More

January 9 at 9:42am · Edited · Like · 1

Frederick Glaysher In my opinion, you express largely cliches that continue to ignore what your words were and what they legitimized. If " this wanton display of violence" refers to the terrorists and their ideology, which comes out of the Quran, that's an improvement.

January 9 at 10:47am • Like

Frederick Glaysher Speak for yourself. The Islamo-fascists in France today are clearly intent on murdering other innocent people. If you don't understand that and are an American, then perhaps you've been brainwashed by a deficient education. You're the one justifying "m... See More

January 9 at 10:59am · Like

Frederick Glaysher The subject in this thread is "would a bit of restraint be so bad for charlie hebdo and others?" and is Islamofascism. You've yet to adequately address your irresponsible comment. Trying to change the subject is not an intellectually respectable form of argumentation.

January 9 at 11:35am · Like

Frederick Glaysher I take it you don't wish to take responsibility for your obscene comment justifying the murder of now at least 14 innocent people in France, so in desperation you keep trying to change the subject >>> "would a bit of restraint be so bad for charlie hebdo and others?"

January 9 at 12:00pm · Like

Marlena De Fabrizio A bit of restraint in the press defeats the purpose of a free press.

January 9 at 12:34pm · Unlike · 1

Frederick Glaysher Thanks, Marlena, for commenting. I think you're so right... We need a vigorous press to ferret out things no one wants to face or whatever. David Brooks has an editorial today in The New York Times worth reading along these lines:

http://www.nytimes.com/.../david-brooks-i-am-not-charlie...

I Am Not Charlie Hebdo

NYTIMES.COM | BY DAVID BROOKS

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
January 8 •

From "Decadence, East and West," in The Myth of the Enlightenment: Essays:

January 9 at 3:19pm · Like · 1 · Remove Preview

"The Quran (9:29) says,

"Fight those who believe not in Allah, nor the Last Day, nor hold that forbidden which hath been forbidden by Allah and His Messenger, nor acknowledge the Religion of Truth, from among the People of the Book, until they pay the Jizya [tax] with willing submission and feel themselves subdued." (King Fahd Holy Qur'an)... See More

The Myth of the Enlightenment: Essays

The Myth of the Enlightenment is Frederick Glaysher's first collection of literary essays since The Grove of the Eumenides in 2007. Divided into three sections, these essays and reviews were all written during the...

AMAZON.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

Hune Margulies likes this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
January 8 · Edited ·

Given the horrendous events in Paris, I invite you all the more to consider reading my epic poem. Available in France, Germany, and throughout Europe and the world.

With Goethe, Rabelais, Dante, Kabir and so many other poets as my exemplars and masters, East and West, I attempt to evoke the deep Unity of the Soul from the global perspective of the Moon... that humanity might come together in peace and a deeper understanding of what it means today to be human.

My fullest resp... See More

The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem

The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem

AMAZON.FR

Like · Comment · Share

Write a comment...

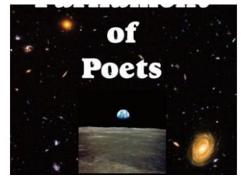

Frederick Glaysher January 8 · Edited ·

My fullest response to the problems of Islam and modernity is in my epic poem, however unlikely that might seem to some in our culture today, addressing, from the Moon, our current dilemmas... evoking a global, universal vision of life on this planet.

"Bravo to the Poet for this... brilliant endeavour."

—Umme Salma, International Islamic University, Department of English Language and Literature, Chittagong, Bangladesh ... See More

The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem

Thirty years in the making, The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem, by Frederick Glaysher, takes place partly on the moon, at the Apollo 11 landing site, the Sea of Tranquility.Apollo, the Greek god of poetry,...

AMAZON.COM

Like · Comment · Share · 3 4

Konrad Tademar and Dan Husain like this

Frederick Glaysher Thank you, Dan. I hope you might consider making a Journey to the Moon...

January 8 at 10:45am · Like

Dan Husain I shall soon. With earth a puss fest now, a sea of tranquility might be a great refuge. Thanks Frederick for this.

January 8 at 10:46am • Unlike • 1

Frederick Glaysher Great! Yeah, it's a mess. I think, though, that the great poets of India's past, and elsewhere, have always followed the best way to deal with these problems, global now. I'd love to hear from you when you return to Earth... here on Facebook, Amazon India, wherever.

January 8 at 10:51am · Like

Peter J. King Only Facebook is a puss fest, I think. Cats still have their proper place in the real world.

January 8 at 11:00am · Like

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
January 8 • Edited •

Given the horrendous events in Paris, I invite you all the more to consider reading my epic poem. With Kabir and so many other Indian poets as my exemplars and masters, East and West, I attempt to evoke the deep Unity of the Soul from the global perspective of the Moon... that humanity might come together in peace and a deeper understanding of what it means today to be

Like · Comment · Share · 9

Erland Anderson, Nishat Haider, Jaydeep Sharangi and 6 others like this.

Erland Anderson We definitely need that perspective.

January 8 at 11:30am • Unlike • 1

Frederick Glaysher Erland, I appreciate your saying so... Have you had a chance to read my epic? I'd love to have you review it somewhere, let other people know what you think of it.

January 8 at 11:32am • Edited • Like

Erland Anderson Yes, I read it and enjoyed it immensely. Not sure I can get to a review right now. I am still working on getting my translations of Ulf Peter Hallberg reviewed.

January 8 at 11:35am · Unlike · 1

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
January 8 •

Given the horrendous events in Paris, I'd like to mention that I have studied Islam all my adult life, with course work back in the 1970s at the University of Michigan, including with one scholar from Al-Azhar University of Cairo. Both of my recent books respond to the dire nature of the threat that faces world civilization around the globe, especially in "Decadence, East and West."

My fullest response to Islam and modernity is in my epic poem, however unlikely that might seem to some in our culture today, addressing, from the Moon, our current dilemmas...

Like · Comment · Share · 4 6

Erland Anderson, Sher Brisebois and 2 others like this.

이은심 "Decadence, East and West!

January 8 at 9:04am
Frederick Glaysher!

January 8 at 9:05am · Like

이은심 So, we need calling for Apollon January 8 at 9:07am · Edited

Frederick Glaysher As in the Invoation...

https://www.facebook.com/notes/frederick-glaysher/from-the-invocation-the-parliament-of-poets-an-epic-poem/718388928191624? pnref=lhc

FROM The Invocation, The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem

FROM The Invocation, The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem

"O Muse, O Maid of Heaven, O Circling Moon, O lunar glory of the midnight sky, I call on thee to bless thy servant's tongue, descend upon thy pillar of light, moonbeam blessings, that from my mouth may pour out at least a fraction of the love I hold for thee, sweet blessings, for service to God's creation, and His Creative Word, the Bible's thundering verses, Brahma of the Upanishads, Allah, the Compassionate, Buddha's meditative mystery, Confucius and the Dao. O Great Spirit of the many peoples and the tribes, if I have ever sacrificed for thee, long years, drinking water from a wooden bowl, hear my appeal and inspire me to sing the tale supernal, upon the moon, The Parliament of Poets, assemblage of thy devoted ones, God intoxicated, survey the cosmos and the centuries."

All world rights reserved. Copyright (c) 2012 by Frederick Glaysher

Earthrise Press https://earthrisepress.net/parliament_of_poets.html

January 8 at 9:30am · Like · 3 · Remove Preview

이은심 Awakening light! History of christianism is not fleeting, As I read part of yours, I guess nothingness of human pride . Thanks for your masterpiece.

January 8 at 9:46am

Frederick Glaysher Thank you. Hope you can make the Journey to the Moon...

January 8 at 9:53am · Like

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
January 8 •

Set in India at Kurukshetra, Fatehpur Sikri, the Himalayan foothills, and elsewhere, with Vyasa, Kalidasa, Kabir, Tagore, and other poets and sages, my epic poem evokes a global, universal vision of life on this planet.

Amazon India has a free chapter online if you'd like to read it. There have been three reviews in India and Bangladesh, with some long quotations from them also on Amazon India.

"Bravo to the Poet for this... brilliant endeavour." —Umme Salma, International ... See More

The Parliament of Poets: An Epic

Thirty years in the making, The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem, by Frederick Glaysher, takes place partly on the moon, at the Apollo 11 landing site, the Sea of Tranquility. Apollo, the...

Like · Comment · Share

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher January 7 •

Nothing is impossible for the Imagination with which humanity is endowed... From time to time, we human beings need to look afresh at what we're doing, who and what we are, I believe, and I hope that my epic poem might help all of us around the globe do just that, reflecting on our human fragility a little more, and what we have in common, before the mystery of life in this cosmos, a quarter million miles away, from Tranquility Base. I hope you'll consider taking a flight to the Moon...

Like · Comment · Share · 7

Judyth Hill, Corvalan Jaime, Tina Benson and 4 others like this.

이은심 I hope that your epic poem might help all of us around the globe do just that, reflecting on our human fragility a little more. ThankS for your honorable ment!

January 7 at 7:41pm · Edited

Frederick Glaysher Thanks, EunSim. My epic poem is steadily finding readers around the world, with reviews now in several countries, so I'm encouraged that word is spreading... The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem is available in Korea, if you'd like to read it. If you can't get it there, Amazon Japan has it, too, so I mention it just in case, or it's in Kindle.

http://www.yes24.com/24/goods/7472023?scode=032&OzSrank=5

The Parliament of Poets

YES24.COM

January 7 at 8:10pm ⋅ Like ⋅ 1 ⋅ Remove Preview

이은심 very kind of you. thanks!

January 8 at 8:07am · Like

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

January 7 · Edited ·

"Jesus said, 'I am the light that is over all things. I am all: from me all has come forth, and to me all has reached. Split a piece of wood; I am there. Lift up the stone, and you will find me there."

—The Gospel of Thomas, from The Nag Hammadi Scriptures, ed. Marvin Meyer, 2007 (149).

Like · Comment · Share · 7 1

Archana Bhattacharjee, Corvalan Jaime and 3 others like this.

Frederick Glaysher "I and my Father are one." --Jesus Christ, Gospel of John 10:30 (KJ)

January 9 at 7:38am • Edited • Like

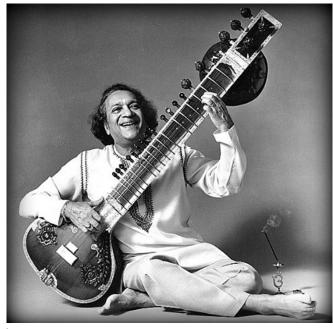

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher shared Pandit Ravi Shankar's photo.
January 7 ·

"The music that I have learned and want to give is like worshipping God. It's absolutely like a prayer".

Ravi Shankar

Pandit Ravi Shankar

"The music that I have learned and want to give is like worshipping God. It's absolutely like a prayer".

Ravi Shankar

Like · Comment · Share · 3

Corvalan Jaime and Judy Yates Shearer like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
January 7 · Edited ·

What's needed is a new work of literature that revives and teaches the value of the humanities to people in all walks of life... including those in the university. Then, all will understand why the humanities are so important to the health of the individual and the community-global now.

Like · Comment · Share · 15 10

Janet Fraser, John E. Chadwick, Archana Bhattacharjee and 12 others like this.

Jeannie Claire I agree! Such a brilliant mind you have, Frederick Glaysherick!

January 7 at 11:14am · Edited · 1

Arthur McMaster I am enjoying The Parliament of Poets!

January 7 at 11:19am · Unlike · 2

Derek Dey I agree, otherwise we have cultural Marxism which only extinguishes the light of the soul.

January 7 at 11:26am ·

Frederick Glaysher Thank you so much, friends... Your good words mean so much to me, I feel I can't even begin to tell you. Sincerely. January 7 at 11:57am • Like Archana Bhattacharjee I fully agree with you. I think it would be a great idea to create a piece of literature which would help humanity to bridge all the differences which is responsible for all kinds of fragmentations.

January 8 at 7:42am · Like · 1

Manjinder Kaur Wratch Good literature needs great number of sensible readers too....for scholars of humanity, there is enough in our literature that can bring healing, still look forward to a colossal lightning bolt that takes all in its embrace.

January 8 at 8:19am · Like

Frederick Glaysher Namaste Archana, Thanks for commenting. My epic poem The Parliament of Poets attempts to do exactly that. Two chapters are set in India, at Kurukshetra, Fatehpur Sikri, and elsewhere, with Vyasa, Kalidasa, Kabir, Tagore, and other poets of India. Amazon India does have a free chapter online if you'd like to look at it. It's had three reviews in India and Bangladesh, with some long quotations from them on Amazon India. I'd love for you to read it...

http://www.amazon.in/The-Parliament-Poets.../dp/098267788X/

The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem

AMAZON.IN

January 8 at 8:20am · Like · 2 · Remove Preview

Frederick Glaysher Manjinder, I invite you, too, to read the free chapter on Amazon India.

January 8 at 8:33am · Like · 2

Manjinder Kaur Wratch Sure.....I wd love to read the complete book but due to my research area constraints, I have postponed it for future....seems very promising

January 8 at 8:58am · Like

Frederick Glaysher Thanks.

January 8 at 8:59am • Like

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

January 7 •

John Lennon did it in song... I want to do it in epic song!!

 $\ldots$  \*reach humanity\* with a new global, universal vision of life on this planet!

Like · Comment · Share · 8

Mutiu Olawuyi, Corvalan Jaime, Erland Anderson and 5 others like this.

이문성 Thank you! Just before I read part of your book. Thankful. Definately your work is a kind of crystalization of determinaion for keeping Purity and Beauty and Peace, Earth itself. thank you! My proffessor!

January 7 at 8:39am · 1

Emanuel Pastreich so incredibly impossible and yet so very simple and close at hand

January 7 at 8:42am · Unlike · 1

Frederick Glaysher Thanks 이은심 for the invitation! I'm so glad you like what you've read so far. Hope you can make the entire Journey to the Moon... where the Poet of the Moon sees the Kingdom of Silla from afar.

January 7 at 8:45am · Like

Frederick Glaysher Thank you, Emanuel, for accepting my invitation. Indeed, it seems impossible, but nothing is impossible for the Imagination with which humanity is endowed... From time to time, we human beings need to look afresh at what were doing, who and what we are, I believe, and I hope that my epic poem might help all of us around the globe do just that, reflecting on our human fragility a little more and what we have in common, before the mystery of life in this cosmos. Sir, I hope you'll consider a flight to the Moon...

I recognize your background in Asian studies makes you an exceptionally qualified reader of my chapter set in China, drawing on Wu Cheng'en's Journey to the West and Sun Wukong. People with a background in English and American literature have usually not done the reading that I have to understand the cultural importance to China of all that, the Three Vinegar Drinkers, and so on. I had attended a few lectures by Anthoy Wu, translator of Wu Cheng'en, at the University of Chicago in the mid '90s.

If you, or anyone you know might have more of a background in Chinese literature, I'd love to have you consider reading and reviewing it somewhere, even on Amazon would be a great help, to bring it to the attention of other readers around the world, East and Incidentally, I lived and taught in Japan and was a Fulbright-Hays scholar to China many years ago.

January 7 at 8:58am • Edited • Like • 1

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

January 6 ·

A New Global, Universal Vision of Life on this Plant...

2012 to 2014 > 20 reviews in 7 countries--Ghana, Africa (1), Australia (1), Bangladesh (2), Canada (3), India (1), United Kingdom (3), and the USA (9). Excerpts from all of them now on Amazon USA, Amazon Canada, Amazon UK, Amazon France, and Amazon India. Search The Parliament of Poets.

Help me DOUBLE that to 40 reviews in 14 countries by... June

Download a Free PDF review copy of the entire book for evaluation at Earthrise Press. Please considering reading and reviewing my epic poem wherever you want, a print publication, Amazon, whatever!

The Parliament of Poets: An Epic

Thirty years in the making, The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem takes place partly on the moon, at the Apollo 11 landing site, the Sea of Tranquility, a Journey toward healing the...

EARTHRISEPRESS.NET

Like · Comment · Share · 3 1

Hans G. Ruprecht and Corvalan Jaime like this.

Frederick Glaysher Take a Journey to the Moon... and if you think it was worth the trip, let your friends and others know.

Please Share this post... if you download my epic poem, to let your friends know where they can get it to read too.

Thanks, Johnny, David! Any chance you can Share this post, with the text copied and pasted at the top? Help me reach my audience, the WHOLE PLANET!!

January 6 at 9:10pm · Like

Johnny Stork I had planned on writing something more in depth as well Frederick (when I am done), and then sharing across all my social-media feeds and spiritual/transpersonal communities.

One of my favourite books is Black Elk Speaks and I have read it many time... See More

January 6 at 9:37pm · Edited · Unlike ·

Frederick Glaysher Thanks so much, Johnny! I feel the same way about Black Elk Speaks... and mulled it over for so long how to make it a part of my epic poem. Your words help me feel it was worth it all... I wonder if you'd post here the top two paragraphs from your timeline too? It help others to have more of a sense too of the poem. January 6 at 9:29pm • Like • 1

Johnny Stork Although I have only just started this truly "Epic Poem" by Frederick Glaysher, every page so far is a literary and poetic treat - spiritual candy for the heart and soul. This is a unique and powerful read. A poetic lunar fantasy where the likes of Bla... See More January 6 at 9:32pm • Edited • Unlike • 2

Frederick Glaysher Johnny, You say "prose"? I'm assuming you mean poetry, right? The poetry is not run together like prose in your copy?

January 6 at 9:35pm · Like ·

Johnny Stork Missed that. Had to look up the meaning of "prose". I have been using it incorrectly - learn something new every day! Thanks Frederick.

January 6 at 9:40pm · Unlike · 1

David Grantz Frederick Glaysher is among the modern visionaries. If there exists any deliverance for the world, it lives through the eyes of those who can imagine it. I look forward to more.

January 6 at 9:43pm •

Frederick Glaysher Thanks, David and Johnny! I really appreciate your good words... I believe together we can imagine a better world, to help us create one...

January 6 at 9:51pm · Edited · Like · 2

Lynn Hennelly Until this point, I haven't known about your work. But have looked up your book and am going to order it on Amazon. Am delighted to know about this. I love the way facebook continues to

Like · Comment · Share · 22 6

Josephina Orchard, Liv Evensen, John E. Chadwick and 19 others like this.

Judy Yates Shearer Rumi also January 6 at 11:55am · Like

Frederick Glaysher Judy, Thanks for mentioning Rumi! He's a character in an entire canto of my epic poem. Hope you can read it... January 6 at 12:40pm · Like · 2

Ursula Duba looks like good old socrates knew or thing or two. January 6 at 7:47pm · Edited · Like François Clément de Blois You realise, surely, that these facebook "inspirational quotes" are always fake.

January 6 at 5:57pm · Unlike ·

Frederick Glaysher François, Ahhh, for this one, you're right! Thanks. ...though I still like the sentiment, and for an image, wow, psychedelic. Hahhaa

"In conclusion, the quotation is from a character named Socrates who was a gas-station attendant in a book published in the 1980s by Dan Millman. The quote was not from the renowned Greek philosopher." http://quoteinvestigator.com/2013/05/28/socratesenergy/

The Secret of Change Is to Focus All of Your Energy, Not on Fighting the Old, But on Building...

QUOTEINVESTIGATOR.COM

January 6 at 7:47pm · Like · Remove Preview

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher January 6 ·

"It only takes the first few paragraphs of this modern epic poem to feel the mental gush of ideas, fascinating juxtapositionings, and unique symbolism for our time...."

-Dave Gordon, The Jewish Post and News, Winnipeg, Canada

The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem

Thirty years in the making, The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem, by Frederick Glaysher, takes place partly on the moon, at the Apollo 11 landing site, the Sea of Tranquility.Apollo, the Greek god of poetry,...

AMAZON.COM

Like · Comment · Share · 1

Monika Kosich likes this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher January 5 •

If you want it, all of the great cultural divides can now be healed... Catholicism and Protestantism, Sunni and Shia, Muslim and Hindu, science and religion, religious and secular, Marxism and Capitalism, East and West, North and South... The alternative to healing these divides is more reactionary nostalgia and violence... global now.

"Not just for academics, but a voice for all, and one that speaks to our time. ...if there are millions of people waiting for a sign, as Alla... See More

The Myth of the Enlightenment: Essays

The Myth of the Enlightenment is Frederick Glaysher's first collection of literary essays since The Grove of the Eumenides in 2007. Divided into three sections, these essays and reviews were all written during the...

AMAZON.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

3 people like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher January 4 •

If you want it, all of the great cultural divides can now be healed... Catholicism and Protestantism, Sunni and Shia, Muslim and Hindu, science and religion, religious and secular, Marxism and Capitalism, East and West, North and South... The alternative to healing these divides is more reactionary nostalgia and violence... global now.

Like · Comment · Share · 4 1

Michael Andre and 2 others like this.

Zachary Bos Perhaps you'd like to send a review copy (for possible review, or recommendation for placement in periodicals) to Pen & Anvil Press?

January 4 at 9:04pm · Unlike · 1

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher shared Imagine Peace Tower's photo.

"Imagine all the people living life in peace." John Lennon, 1971.

Imagine Peace Tower

"Imagine all the people living life in peace." John Lennon, 1971.

Send your wish at imaginepeacetower.com

Like · Comment · Share · 12

Linda Charnes, Tina Benson and 8 others like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher shared Katherine McNamara's photo. January 4 ·

Katherine McNamara

On a wall near Cambridge University

Like · Comment · Share · 4 4

Erland Anderson, Hilary Heriz-smith and 2 others like this.

Frederick Glaysher In Robert Hayden's Collected Prose, he recounts W. H Auden saying that poetry was like solving for X. This is the formula.

January 7 at 9:30am · Like ·

이은심 New challenge...As going toward Milton with Blake in me January 7 at 5:48pm · 1

Frederick Glaysher A great formula, though, for an epic poem...
January 7 at 7:31pm • Like

이은심 Thank you! Sir! January 7 at 7:36pm •

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
January 4 •

In all the great religions and indigenous wisdom traditions, duality and exclusivism ultimately resolve and clarify into Unity. One of the marks of Enlightenment thinking is the loss of that realization and its replacement with the meta-narrative of its own myth. With nihilism now a global myth, it can now be overturned once again, East and West, through mimesis, from a universal perspective, driven back like a scapegoat into the wilderness or substratum, as from the Moon... an Imaginative realm and act of the soul, as in Dante, achieved through sacrifice.

Both nihilism and the modern reactions to it can in this way be resolved, as well as through lived life, which continues, leading to a higher resolution of the traditional conflicts that have absorbed humanity for most of the last 500 years.

The Myth of the Enlightenment: Essays explains all this and more in detail, often through the lives and writings of John Milton, Tolstoy, Tagore, Saul Bellow, and other writers and cultural critics, for example, Julien Benda and Jacque Barzun.

Like · Comment · Share · 9

Frederick Glaysher
January 4 •

Nota Bene: Prose is NOT the language of the soul...

Like · Comment · Share · 8 16

5 people like this.

Cathy Derow Yes it is art. Poetry if words, painting, sculpture etc.. if visual, music if auditory sounds. Bringing us back to aesthetics. January 4 at 10:08am

Frederick Glaysher While I agree with the sense in which you mean it, the modern tendency since Baumgarten to think of art as "aesthetics", ideational and merely emotional, distorts its true nature at the deepest level and is part of our continuing problem.

January 4 at 10:23am • Like • 1

Cathy Derow Yes art as the language of the soul is objective when it conveys objective artistic meaning. Aesthetics can be perhaps thought of as a study of how different pieces of art tend to appeal to different people even though in some cases they may be able to appreciate the form art they do not have a sense of affinity with in form and may be able to appreciate the content of art when valid even if the form does not so much appeal to them subjectively.

January 4 at 10:26am

Frederick Glaysher I'm thinking more in terms that we have too many "ideas." They're killing us on all sides... The slightest syllable that doesn't conform now to someone else's "idea" becomes the bases for the closing of hearts and minds, i.e., the acceptable "ideas" are extremely narrow and out of touch and harmony with what human beings have been and are for at least the last 200,000 years... according to the archaeological record, if nothing else.

Another way of saying it is the modern university has debased everything into an "idea" to be annotated, whether "content" or "form," a division real art proves academic at best.

January 4 at 10:34am • Like • 2

Cathy Derow Sorry I think I am not very modern - perhaps why I like the structure of Aristotle versus Plato, although I love Plato's very modern hypothesis of do we know we are not just in dark caves with unseen beings projecting images on the walls. Sartre avoids this kind of problem by saying we are beings in a world with others a priori as it were.

January 4 at 10:39am

Frederick Glaysher Illustrates well what I mean... in the sense that I'm more with Pascal in some ways, in terms of fire-but even then no one's inner sense of consciousness can be known or experience by another... so all "ideas" prove inadequate in the end, whether Western Job or Eastern Arjuna.

January 4 at 10:45am · Like · 1

Cathy Derow Yes but I think we need stories (fictional and from history) and ideas and theories to communicate and try to get to understnaing and reconciliation and peace.

January 4 at 10:48am

Frederick Glaysher I'm not really, in that sense, suggesting otherwise. Rather, our stories and ideas have become too narrow, out of harmony with our experience, around the globe... that's modernity's endemic problem before which all minds too often close. January 4 at 10:53am · Edited · Like

Cathy Derow I have noticed that as there is now so much to learn and know about our world and human experience, people soemtimes become a little too 'synthetic' and gloss over too much or have to be too specialist. But that is probably not related I was just thinking. Yes closed minds and dogma are very much at odds with people reaching peace, love and understnading

January 4 at 11:15am

Cathy Derow Christianity is just my 'metaphor' for striving for a spiritual reality.

January 4 at 11:50am

Frederick Glaysher Actually, I think it is related, if I follow what you're grappling to say. Specialization has reached such an extreme that very little common culture, meaning, and purpose seems to remain, lost in the tide of relativism, if not nihilism. That invariably frays the social fabric further...

Poetry must embrace the whole of human experience, not a mere part, to be genuinely felt and true, open to everything that is human to speak to the soul.

January 4 at 11:51am · Like · 1

Cathy Derow You say it so well.. yes. I am a more a specialist an artscientist - a scientist who has done philosophy and who does some drawing and painting and poetry - you are a true philosopher and poet and artist and so more synthetic than me. Sorry I hope that makes sense. We have only had FB conversations.

January 4 at 11:54am

Cathy Derow Sorry meant artu-scientist. January 4 at 11:54am

Cathy Derow arty-scientist.

January 4 at 11:54am

Cathy Derow I am a Bioinformatician/Systems Biologist and teach Biology and Chemistry but have always had an artistic side to me. But felt I was too structural to succeed as an artist.

January 4 at 11:55am

Cathy Derow If you must know I am an absrudist. I think all suffering and death are absurd. No matter what good must prevail or all is absurd. But this does not make me want to be an absurdist as I think in the face of it all one must live one's life according to the disunitable principles of love, truth, justice and goodness and hope for the best.

January 4 at 12:53pm

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher January 3 ·

If you want it, all of the great cultural divides can now be healed... Catholicism and Protestantism, Sunni and Shia, Muslim and Hindu, science and religion, religious and secular, Marxism and Capitalism, East and West, North and South... The alternative to healing these divides is more reactionary nostalgia and violence... global now.

"In an era in which the value of human life has become as precarious and narrow as the study of the humanities itself, we need Glaysher's voi... See More

The Myth of the Enlightenment: Essays

The Myth of the Enlightenment is Frederick Glaysher's first collection of literary essays since The Grove of the Eumenides in 2007. Divided into three sections, these essays and reviews were all written during the...

AMAZON.COM

Like · Comment · Share · 3 10

Donna Reczek likes this.

Cathy Derow All religions worship the same God so the divides should be healed with not too much difficulty but has not proved that way so far.

January 4 at 4:08am ·

Frederick Glaysher Alas, I would say, with all too much difficulty, judging from the experience of humanity... but I believe achievable in the end

In all the great religions and indigenous wisdom traditions, duality and exclusivism ultimately resolve and clarify into Unity. One of the marks of Enlightenment thinking is the loss of that realization and its replacement with the meta-narrative of its own myth. With nihilism now a global myth, it can now be overturned once again, East and West, through mimesis, from a universal perspective, driven back like a scapegoat into the wilderness or substratum, as from the Moon... an Imaginative realm and act of the soul, as in Dante, achieved through sacrifice.

Both nihilism and the modern reactions to it can in this way be resolved, as well as through lived life, which continues, leading to a higher resolution of the traditional conflicts that have absorbed humanity for most of the last 500 years.

The Myth of the Enlightenment: Essays explains all this and more in detail, often through the lives and writings of John Milton, Tolstoy, Tagore, Saul Bellow, and other writers and cultural critics, for example, Julien Benda.

January 4 at 9:14am · Like

Cathy Derow Yes i think that it might seem obvious people should find it easy to get along as those that worship God all worship the same God and all religions are religions of love and peace and all humans share some core of humanity but as you say from what we actually observe it seems a very difficult problem to reconcile all people.

January 4 at 9:17am

Frederick Glaysher All of the great religions have declined into organized, institutional forms with time and have residues and histories that are most emphatically not about peace but dominating others and the social sphere, none of which should be misconstrued as "religion," the connecting of the soul with the Divine. To that extent the critique of the Enlightenment was and has been much needed... and salutary.

One of the endemic problems impacting all sides is the tendency to think in terms of exclusivism, not universality, whether religious or secular, and attempt to defend and force their exclusivity on others, in ideational terms, New Jerusalems leading to Hell.

Beethoven understood so well that the art of music resolves conflict at a deeper spiritual level in the psyche, as he once wrote. So all the great epic poets understood that poetry is a form of epistemology, which has been utterly repudiated by modernity with pathetically sad results, with only the meta-myth allowed. We have the culture it created.

January 4 at 9:36am · Like · 1

Cathy Derow In a way it is some kind of conflict between the different subjective view and objective understanding of Unity that stops reconciliation.

January 4 at 9:36am

Cathy Derow Yes we are talking along the same lines. Betthoven's music is objectively great aesthetically although he does not appeal to all subjective palates but most do recognize that his music is great even if not to their individual taste.

January 4 at 9:38am

Cathy Derow It is when religion becomes exclusive instead of recognizing all individuals have a right to have an individual as long as acceptable way to worship God or at least a moral code that is acceptable.

January 4 at 9:40am

Frederick Glaysher Exactly, it's not an *experience* but and *idea*... We're dying on all sides, drowning under the dead weight of theories and ideas, for lack of Unifying experience. Everything stated in this thread is in prose... which is the problem.

I'll defend Beethoven until the day I die. The Fifth Symphony is a Revelation from God!!

How ironic that we modern human beings are so deeply traumatized by "religion," yet realize it is exactly experience of real religion that we need... if we could just get beyond its organized, institutional forms, at least its traditional forms. Cathy, you need to take a trip to the Moon... Here, inevitably, we're speaking the wrong language... January 4 at 9:47am · Like

Cathy Derow I am going soon to read some of your work. From what I have read of reviews and your posts it sounds very interesting and important. When I was younger I did not go to church although nominally Christian as I felt organized religions caused wars. I do now go for the personal spiritual experience although I still have qualms about organized religion. I like taking Communion as it brings a sense of renewal and cleansing and peace.

January 4 at 9:50am

Frederick Glaysher I respect your experience and conscience. Actually, in the canto set in England, the Poet of the Moon is guided to a village church...

January 4 at 9:57am · Like

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher shared Chinua Achebe's photo. January 3 ·

~ Chinua Achebe

"Diversity is not an abnormality but the very reality of our planet. The human world manifests the same reality and will not seek our permission to celebrate itself in the magnificence of its endless varieties. Civility is a sensible attribute in this kind of world we have; narrowness of heart and mind is not."

Chinua Achebe

"Diversity is not an abnormality but the very reality of our planet. The human world manifests the same reality and will not seek our permission to celebrate it...

See More

Like · Comment · Share · 13

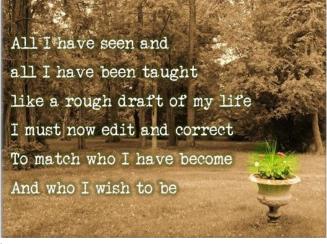

Linda Charnes, Mordechai Ben Yosef and 9 others like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher shared The Master Shift's photo. January 3 ·

The Master Shift

Submitted by Rachelle Rose @ Beautiful You Meditations

Like · Comment · Share · 17

Kathleen Keeslar, Mordechai Ben Yosef, Bibi Gaston and 14 others like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher shared The Master Shift's photo. January 3 ·

If you can't change the outside, change the inside.

If you can't change the situation, change the attitude.

Like · Comment · Share · 7

5 people like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher shared The Master Shift's photo. January 3 ·

Like · Comment · Share · 9

Mordechai Ben Yosef, Robert L. Rose and 6 others like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher shared Grammarly's photo.

Grammarly

I hate this feeling, don't you?

Like · Comment · Share · 35 4

Mali Martha Lightfoot, Vikki Kath and 31 others like this.

Frederick Glaysher Ah, it's so true... yet on the other hand, I would argue, it's actually the moment when one begins to realize that awesome book has changed one's consciousness at a very deep psychic level...

January 3 at 9:56am · Edited · Like · 3

Bob Fahey Especially if it's your own, has changed your consciousness along with countless others; but now they can stay lost in it, while you must work your way out of its fictional world to begin finding and developing your next book.

January 3 at 11:27am · Like

Frederick Glaysher Bob, I'd agree with you to some extent, but for I would not use the phrase "work your way out of it." I think there's more of an absorption, integration, for both reader and writer, through which the book becomes, in a way that is difficult to define, a lasting part of us, out of which the next book can evolve.

January 3 at 11:38am · Like

Bob Fahey The characters in each of my books are rich and multidimensional. They live in very different worlds, one book/reality from the other. They move with me through mine, and chat with me as they develop, but to some extent I must live in theirs. Not one... See More

January 3 at 11:45am · Like

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher January 2 •

"...Always the world awaits the poet who can find the right words, more so now than ever," says Tolstoy, final words of counsel to Persona after his many crossings. In this book are such words and the author, like Gandhi, must surely be "wrapped in selfless practice"—dedicating thirty years of his life to finding them on our behalf. Parliament of Poets is a worthy literary masterpiece, the author a curator of the human story, and the book a living cultural artifact. Once read... See More

"A Literary Masterpeice For Modernity" a review of: The Parliament of Poets: An Epic...

Julie Clayton "Julie ... says: The Parliament of Poets is an exquisitely rendered epic poem that weaves ancient and contemporary vision into the heart of modern darkness and the light of eternal hope. The author writes himself into the

AMAZON.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

Belteshazzar Ben Yakov Leib, Hune Margulies and Tiffany Dawn Haynie like this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher January 2 ·

"Although the cast of characters is primarily disembodied spirits, this epic presents wholly perceptible concerns about the meaning of modernity ("a shallow culture undermines everything"), as well as the flourishing of the human spirit, using modern and accessible language and traditional iambic verse. However, the experience of reading this book defies attempts to describe it: poetry, like any art, means many things to many people. For this reader it was like being enfolded... See More

"A Literary Masterpeice For Modernity" a review of: The Parliament of Poets: An Epic...

Julie Clayton "Julie ... says: The Parliament of Poets is an exquisitely rendered epic poem that weaves ancient and contemporary vision into the heart of modern darkness and the light of eternal hope. The author writes himself into the

AMAZUN.CUM

Like · Comment · Share ·

Julian De Wette likes this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher
January 2 •

"Readers are transported into the heart and mind of Cervantes, the wisdom of Job, to the ancient cave of Lescaux and the Valley of a Thousand Temples, from riding moonbeams to the redstained stream of human civilization clogged with bodies; we greet Virgil and Homer, Dante and Milton, Rumi and Hafiz, Du Fu and Basho, poets of the Ramayana and griots from Africa, shamans from Indonesia and Australia, Murasaki Shikibu, Emily Dickenson and Jane Austen, Hayden and Tennyson, Chie... See More

https://www.facebook.com/fglaysher

"A Literary Masterpeice For Modernity" a review of: The Parliament of Poets: An Epic...

Julie Clayton "Julie ... says: The Parliament of Poets is an exquisitely rendered epic poem that weaves ancient and contemporary vision into the heart of modern darkness and the light of eternal hope. The author writes himself into the narrative, a present-day unsung poet spirited to the moon...

AMAZON.COM

Like · Comment · Share · 1

Cynthia Nuncio White Rutter likes this.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher shared The People's Voice's photo. January 2 ·

Plato at his most cheerful...

Like · Comment · Share · 43

Masahide Morita, Kendra Hamilton, Erland Anderson and 40 others like this.

Cathy Derow Yes cultural relativism is a terrible thing. January 2 at 2:59pm

Frederick Glaysher To my mind it is the duty of the artist never to give up trying to serve and reach the people in language and form that they can understand while demanding they rise to a higher level of consciousness.

January 2 at 3:06pm · Like · 1

Cathy Derow Yes languages are subjective but morals/ethics are objective.

January 2 at 3:07pm

Frederick Glaysher Plato is not beyond criticism. He got a lot wrong especially when it came to poets, though a lot of them were apparently poets who had accepted a shoddy bill of goods as aesthetics... during a declining age.

January 2 at 3:11pm · Edited · Like · 1

Cathy Derow Yes but a great original thinker. I am also a big fan of Aristotle and the Nichomachean Ethics but not perfect but a great thinker. And so before their time. Founders of the tradition of Western Philosophy along with Socrates.

January 2 at 3:13pm

Frederick Glaysher We share a respect for the Nichomachean Ethics... so in that regard, I would agree that "morals/ethics are objective" on that level. Actually my narrative poem The Bower of Nil mulls over Aristotle repeatedly... Plato's criticism of poets is that they lead the youth astray, so it is an ethical concern, usually left out by many of his modern critics. My criticism of him is that he's too broad in his dismissal of the art, lacking nuance, though I highly revere him in every other way.

January 2 at 3:16pm · Like · 1

Cathy Derow I am glad we seem to agree in important respects. I must have a look at your work.

January 2 at 3:19pm

Frederick Glaysher Any person who thinks highly of the Nichomachean Ethics in this day and age is an exceptional person in my opinion. It would be an honor to have you read The Bower of Nil or any of my books. I mean that...

Ultimately, I must admit, I'm more with the Plato of The Symposium and The Republic than Aristotle, except for his Poetics, of which I've written in The Myth of the Enlightenment.

January 2 at 3:23pm · Like

Cathy Derow It's quite q while since I've looked at Plato so I must have a look at all of this again. Most recently looked at the Nichomachean ethics and so agree love, truth, justice and goodness are concepts which should never be disunited when being thought about or applied.

January 2 at 3:25pm

Frederick Glaysher I so agree with you, Cathy. Poets and people who defend and serve such values serve civilization itself, and I think Plato understood that but was more intent on lacerating the poetasters of his day who failed to take their duties seriously enough to help build social order, not tear it down, as is so often done again today...

January 2 at 3:29pm · Like

Cathy Derow Yes Plato, Socrates and Aristotle most definitely are interlinked and great moral thinkers whatever their flaws.

January 2 at 3:31pm

Frederick Glaysher I definitely have always thought so too... touchstones forever of how astray the times might be. For me it's more a matter of temperament. Even when very young I've always felt the numinous in a way similar to Plato's "first a shudder and then the old awe." There's a place, though, for Aristotle's more rational approach, I realize.

January 2 at 3:37pm · Edited · Like · 1

Cathy Derow Thank you for making me relaize it might be time to look at Plato again.

January 2 at 3:37pm

Frederick Glaysher I recommend reading The Republic... and then my essay in The Myth of the Enlightenment, "Decadence, East and West." Or, if you want the short course, skip Plato for the time being and read my essay... and book. hhaahaha

January 2 at 3:39pm · Like

Frederick Glaysher As well as Plato's Republic, I discuss Vico, Ibn Khaldun (A Muslim Plato of sorts), Julien Benda, etc., more contemporary thinkers on social order.

January 2 at 3:41pm · Like · 1

Cathy Derow Sounds really interesting  $\boldsymbol{\cdot}$  will put that on my to read list.

January 2 at 3:53pm · 1

Frederick Glaysher No one has yet reviewed The Myth of the Enlightenment in the UK. You could be first. Haahhaa. I fear both sides of the pond have lost touch with the ancients... their wisdom, various enthusiasms, innovations, and ersatzes ruling the day... high and low.

January 2 at 4:01pm · Like · 1

Cathy Derow My Dad was a Classicist and I studied philosophy as an undergraduate and did a post-graduate course in ethics so I am very much interested in philosophers. It is a sahame more people don't do some philosophy as it is thinking about how to think.

January 2 at 4:04pm ·

Marie Elliot Gartner a bit depressing, no?

January 2 at 4:06pm · Like

Marie Elliot Gartner memories of studies at Mac Master Hamilton Ontario, we looked , read those great old guys Augustine, Machieveilla, yes yes thse guys too, what fun what learning!! January 2 at 4:09pm · Like Frederick Glaysher Oh, my, how wonderful! The Bower of Nil is a narrative survey of Western philosophy from the Greeks through Wittgenstein and Derrida, etc., in three movements... as a narrative poem. Synopsis on Amazon UK. It's printed, too, in the UK, so it shouldn't take as long as Amazon claims, especially now after the holidays.

http://www.amazon.co.uk/The-Bower-Nil.../dp/0967042143/

The Bower of Nil: A Narrative Poem

The Bower of Nil: A Narrative Poem

AMAZON.CO.UK

January 2 at 4:09pm · Like · 2 · Remove Preview

Cathy Derow My Dad taught at U of T and my Mom taught Sociology at Mc Master. Excellent.

January 2 at 4:10pm · 1

Cathy Derow I look forward to reading The Bower of Nil. I will order it soon.

January 2 at 4:11pm · 1

Frederick Glaysher Marie, I would NOT want to write off Plato as depressing... or in any way. I'd say he's more sober, reflecting on the collapse, as he was, of Athenian democracy twenty-give years after the fact. Glad you enjoy philosophy too.

January 2 at 4:22pm · Edited · Like · 1

Marie Elliot Gartner Cathy I was a sociology student of Cyril Levitt January 2 at 4:12pm · Like

Cathy Derow We are all a product of our times. As the Anceint Chinese curse goes 'May you live in interesting times' and Plato certainly did.

January 2 at 4:12pm · 1

Marie Elliot Gartner Cathy when was your Mom at McMaster?

January 2 at 4:13pm • Like • 1

Cathy Derow My Mom was a Sociology professor there then.
January 2 at 4:13pm

Cathy Derow She was there 76 to 78 and then we moved to England. January 2 at 4:14pm

Cathy Derow I think.
January 2 at 4:14pm

Frederick Glaysher There are a number of sociologists I write about too in The Myth... Pitirim Sorokin, a Russian at Harvard who went through the 1917 debacle...etc. and Philip Rieff--author of a number of very profound critiques of modernity, in my Decadence essay.. January 2 at 4:15pm · Like Cathy Derow No she had my last name. You must have come across here.

January 2 at 4:16pm

Marie Elliot Gartner I was a graduate student from 1977 to 1982 at Mc

January 2 at 4:17pm · Like · 1

Cathy Derow If you want you can get in touch as she is one of my friends. Her first name is Ellan and her maiden name Odiorne. January 2 at 4:18pm

Cathy Derow Yes she has dark brown hair and it may have been shortish but it is usually around just above shoulder length. But such a long time ago.

January 2 at 4:20pm

Marie Elliot Gartner yes yes I think I remember, sent her a message! WOW!!

January 2 at 4:21pm · Like ·

Cathy Derow That's great. One of my other friends on FB has a friend who was one of my late father's students and does a written impression of him saying 'That's guuud...' after someone read an essay which was so familar. So lovely to meet someone who knew my Mom at Mac.

January 2 at 4:23pm ·

Ursula Duba i much prefer this to "everything happens for a reason". "life is good". blahblahblah.

January 3 at 12:08am · Unlike · 1

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher January 2 ·

"The parliament agrees they will help "Persona," the would-be poet, by guiding him on his journey of seeking and questions—to learn from the spiritual and wisdom traditions the global vision that will remind Mankind how to "walk the good road again." Persona departs from the moon and traverses the multiverse, returning four times to Earth's seven continents, escorted by and peopled with "old friends, long known, but never met face to face." The author's intimate encounters wi... See More

"A Literary Masterpeice For Modernity" a review of: The Parliament of Poets: An Epic...

Julie Clayton "Julie ... says: The Parliament of Poets is an exquisitely rendered epic poem that weaves ancient and contemporary vision into the heart of modern darkness and the light of eternal hope. The author writes himself into the

AMAZON.COM

Like · Comment · Share

Frederick Glaysher January 2 •

A Literary Masterpeice For Modernity, June 5, 2014

By Julie Clayton "Julie Clayton ~New Consciousness Review"

The Parliament of Poets is an exquisitely rendered epic poem that weaves ancient and contemporary vision into the heart of modern darkness and the light of eternal hope. The author writes himself into the narrative, a present-day unsung poet spirited to the moon, where poets, bards, and minstrels (major and minor) from all cultures and ages have convened, called by Lo... See More

"A Literary Masterpeice For Modernity" a review of: The Parliament of Poets: An Epic...

Julie Clayton "Julie ... says: The Parliament of Poets is an exquisitely rendered epic poem that weaves ancient and contemporary vision into the heart of modern darkness and the light of eternal hope. The author writes himself into the

AMAZON.COM

Like · Comment · Share ·

John E. Chadwick, Michael Dorfman and 2 others like this.

1 share

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher shared Hune Margulies's photo. January 1 ·

Fine words on the Shema and New Year by hune margulies > when the torah speaks of loving god "with all your heart, with all your soul, and with all your will", it is saying that true love is a deed of the whole-being. the love we feel inside is the love we do outside. the love of the whole-being is always a radical call. it transforms a human being into an "instrument" for deeds of peace and compassion. what else should we wish for the new year other than to be blessed with even a measure of such wonderful a transformation? yes, we will be betrayed. and yes, not always we will be reciprocated for our work of gifting creation and healing. but challenges we face, are also opportunities to practice equanimity and compassion. in a sense, what else should anyone wish for the new year but to be grateful for the goodness received and the goodness given. and, yes, should that be the case, may we also have the strength to practice compassion in the face of hurts and disappointments. may we always learn to forgive, it is important. and as the poet martin buber said, we must always choose to love powerfully! may this be my wish for a happy new year to all.

Hune Margulies

See More

Like · Comment · Share · 12 3

Nick Kondax, John E. Chadwick, Natasha Adrastea and 9 others like this.

Anna Novikov

January 1 at 9:47pm · Unlike · 2

Hune Margulies

January 1 at 10:02pm · Unlike · 2

Write a comment...

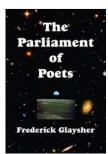

Frederick Glaysher

January 1 ·

The Jewish Post and News of Winnipeg, Canada

Modern epic poem reaches for the moon -- Dave Gordon

A Journey to the Moon... and the Simorgh, with Attar, Rumi, Hafez, Emerson, Tolstoy, Whitman, and other poets, East and West, toward what is universal in all spiritual and wisdom traditions. ... See More

Like · Comment · Share ·

9

Anna Novikov, Hune Margulies and 5 others like this.

Frederick Glaysher Thanks, friends. I'm grateful for your interest in my writing. I hope you find everything you wish in 2015.

Write a comment...

Frederick Glavsher

January 1 at 10:11pm · Like

A Journey to the Moon... and the Simorgh, with Attar, Rumi, Hafez, and other poets, East and West. (Free PDF at second link)

"The purpose of the spiritual journey of the Poet of the Moon is to seek deliverance of the modern human from the captivity of nothingness, nihilism and atheism, and from the resulting chaos and chasm of soul. From the versatile he gets scores of lifeaffirming lessons, yet the core meaning of all is that the Supreme Being as well as the earth is one, a... See More

A Journey to the Moon... and the Simorgh, with Don Quixote, Emerson, Whitman, Tolstoy, Attar, Rumi, Hafez, and other poets, East and West, toward what is universal in all spiritual and

"The purpose of the spiritual journey of the Poet of the Moon is to seek deliverance of the modern human from the captivity of nothingness, nihilism and atheism, and from the resulting chaos and chasm of soul. From the versatile he gets scores of li...

Like · Comment · Share

Write a comment...

Frederick Glaysher

January 1 · Edited ·

Kang-i Sun Chang

FRIENDS · January

John Griswold

Tyler Mills

Erica Kaufmar

Ron E. Hecht

LIKES · January

Anna Maranta

Pir Zia Inayat-

Meyleyi Order of America /

EVENTS · January

Khan

RADIO: Cynthia Hogue on Poets Cafe -Wed. January 14 @ 8:30 p.m. PST With 47 other guests wisdom traditions.

(Free PDF at second link)

Like · Comment · Share ·

Frederick Glaysher

Corvalan Jaime and Fred Maroun like this.

2014 HIGHLIGHTS -

MOMENTS FROM THE YEAR

Frederick Glaysher shared Thrive's photo. December 31, 2014 ·

Add a life event from 2014

PHOTOS · 2014

FRIENDS · 2014

LIKES • 2014

Like · Comment · Share · 40

Let 2015 bring peace

...and smiles!

Eleni Miltsakaki

Happy New Year to those who have welcomed 2015 and those of us still waiting

Like · Comment · Share · 13

Frederick Glaysher
December 31, 2014 • Edited •

Frederick Glaysher, December 31, 2014, sitting in my greatgrandfather's rocking chair, Carl Vugrenic, b. October 7, 1878 in Varazdin, Croatia. After demobbing from the Austro-Hungarian Army, Carl left Croatia November 24, 1920, with his wife and then three children, entering the USA at Ellis Island.

Like · Comment · Share · 38 1

Frederick Glaysher

December 31, 2014 ·

2012 to 2014 > 20 reviews in 7 countries-Ghana, Africa (1), Australia (1), Bangladesh (2), Canada (3), India (1), United Kingdom (3), and the USA (9).

Excerpts from all of them now on Amazon USA, Amazon Canada, Amazon UK, Amazon France, and Amazon India.

Just search for The Parliament of Poets. ... See More

The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem

Thirty years in the making, The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem ♦takes place partly on the moon, at the Apollo 11 landing site, the Sea of Tranquility, a Journey toward healing the... EARTHRISEPRESS.NET

Like · Comment · Share ·

Frederick Glaysher

December 30, 2014 · Edited ·

20 reviews in 7 countries-Ghana, Africa (1), Australia (1), Bangladesh (2), Canada (3), India (1), United Kingdom (3), and the USA (9).

Excerpts from all of them now on Amazon USA, Amazon Canada, Amazon UK, Amazon France, and Amazon India

Just search for The Parliament of Poets ... See More

The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem

The Parliament of Poets: An Epic Poem

AMAZON.CO.UK

Like · Comment · Share · 2 2

See More 2014 Stories ▼